F-Senate urges Leasure termination

By Gary Houy
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Faculty Senate requested Tuesday that Keith Leasure not be reappointed as vice president for academic affairs and provost.

The request was in an amended report by the senate's Faculty Status and Welfare Committee. The senate adopted the report by a vote of 20-8.

Changes were made in an original committee report presented at last week's senate meeting. At the meeting, acting SIV President Brian Lesar suggested there were "inaccuracies" in the report. He agreed to meet with the committee, and spent time over the weekend going over the report.

The amended report states Lesar "acknowledged" that many of the disparities could be attributed to differences in sources and interpretation. Points made by Lesar are included in the report.

After members of the senate read the report, committee chairman Harriett Ammon read a lengthy letter from Keith Leasure responding to the charges. At certain instances, Ammon dispensed remarks made by Leasure.

"Ammon acknowledged that assistant professors be the object of the response to the letter he submitted the report. He cited Ammon's personal differences and not those between him and the senate. Ammon said he had discussed Leasure's letter with the committee, and was voicing the remarks. The final draft of the report contained some "changes in wording" plus Lesar's responses, Ammon said.

An unchanged portion of the report states the committee believes that under Leasure's administration the "rights and responsibilities" guaranteed by the laws and statutes of the Board of Trustees are "abrogated". It also says the statutes have been violated and an atmosphere of "tension and distrust" has been created on the campus.

The senate also approved a motion that copies of the report be sent to the President and the Board of Trustees.

A progress report by the standing committee on budget also was amended and approved at the meeting.

George Mace, committee chairman, said there are "alternatives and opinions" available in the budget next year and there are "some flexible dollars."

Credit union directors explain new program

By Debbi Ratermann
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Several members of the newlyformed Carbondale University and Community Federal Credit Union's board of directors met with about twenty interested students and townpeople Tuesday night to discuss the benefits of credit union membership.

"Credit unions can be a basis for expansion; they spawn new businesses and new activities," Charles Ekker, who helped form credit unions in Latin America, now is a foreign language instructor at SIU, told the group.

"It depends on us—our brainpower and what ideas we have," Ekker said. "The people you know how is provided by friends, and all members of a credit union are friends. That's what we all belong for—to help others."

Ekker said a credit union is "more than dollars and cents—it's the contacts, the people you meet."

Board Chairman Lou Cerutti, better known as "Papa Caesar," agreed: "I'm in the food game," Cerutti said. "If you're having a big affair, you can call old Lou and ask where you can get 60 cases of this or 200 pounds of that. It's friendship."

The paths of John Suguitan, a sophomore majoring in cinema and photography, and SIU patrolman Robert Henderson cross temporarily Tuesday in front of the Student Center during downpour. (Staff photo by Steve Sumner.)

Rise expected in new student enrollment

By Jeff Jouett
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

New student enrollment for fall semester 1974 should show an increase over fall quarter 1973. Director of Admissions Jerre Pfaff said Tuesday.

Figures from the Admissions Office show 5,948 new students have been admitted so far for fall semester. Fall quarter 1973 totals showed 5,699 new students were admitted by May.

Pfaff estimated that 55 per cent of new freshmen admitted will actually enroll. Matriculation rates for new transfer students are somewhat higher, Pfaff added, about 70 per cent.

Gaining admission to SIU does not require a commitment on the student's part, Pfaff explained. If the student could be admitted and decide not to attend SIU, he said.

As of May 3 there were slightly fewer freshmen admitted than last year, Pfaff pointed out. However transfer and graduate student admissions have increased, Pfaff said.

While enrollment at SIU-C has decreased over the last three years, Pfaff said the number of new students enrolled has remained stable or increased slightly during the same period.

Overall enrollment decreases reflect drops in continuing student enrollment, Pfaff said.

SIU Office of Admissions deals only with new students, Pfaff said. "To my knowledge there is no program or division responsible for improving retention of continuing students," he added.

Admission of new students for summer quarter 1974 is down from summer 1973 for freshmen, transfers and graduate students, Pfaff said.

A probable reason for this decline is SIU's conversion to the semester system in the fall, Pfaff speculated. Few new students seem to want to take one quarter and then convert to semesters, he said.

Conversion to semesters may also adversely affect fall enrollment, Pfaff said. Under the quarter system of the latest beginning dates of schools in Illinois, he explained. Students who hadn't decided whether to attend college by September could still enroll at SIU without missing classes, he said. Fall semester 1974 will begin August 27.

Pfaff said requests for admissions information fluctuate in frequency over the year but increase steadily from January to May. Thomas McGinnis, director of Communications, did a "frantic business" at the SIU information office last weekend, Pfaff said.

"McGinnis talked to between 50 and 75 potential students and answered 200 to 300 phone calls concerning SIU," Pfaff said.

"No question about it, the Chicago Admissions Office has been a real asset for us," he continued.

Pfaff said SIU's greatest asset in attracting new students is its comprehensive academic program.

Pfaff added that the SIU geographic location being isolated and all but inaccessible to major population centers, according to Pfaff.

Although he has received several inquiries from students and parents concerning the affect of curricular terminations on SIU's academic programs, Pfaff said this concern was not affected the number of admissions.

Recruiters from SIU's Admissions Office attended nearly 600 high schools and every college and community college in Illinois this year, Pfaff said.
University Museum moving out, looking up

By Rich Lohman
Student Writer

The University Museum has had its ups and downs in the past few years, but now is preparing to open into the second floor of the regional museum in the state, second only to Springfield.

The museum will move to new quarters in the Framer Building, which will provide the most modern and versatile facilities the museum has occupied since it was founded in 1969, said C. Hedrick, dean of International Education, said.

"Up is the future for the University Museum. Everything is intact, everything is here, and we just have to work out the logistics of exhibits in the Framer Building," Hedrick said.

The museum was established in 1969, marking the oldest public museum in Illinois. Carroll, R. Riley, museum director, said when the University of Illinois was established a few years later, he said.

The museum is expected to move into the "C Section" of Framer toward the end of the year. The museum will occupy the wing’s entire first floor which will be the exhibit space, and half of the second floor which will provide office space, Riley said. The move to Framer was planned in 1979.

"It will be quite impressive for a museum, and we are looking for the operating space Riley said.

The museum is now spread over various locations in the community. Its offices are in the Parrish Building, the Mobile Exhibits Hall just behind the Parrish Building, and the main building around the community. Hedrick said.

The North American archaeology lab is out on McCafferty Road, along with the Mann Museum, he said.

The museum is so scattered because it was housed in Old Main which burned down in 1969. Before the fire, plans were being made for the museum to take over the entire building, Hedrick said.

"The museum was just changing exhibits when the fire started, and most of the artifacts, were taken out of the building. The losses were lost in the fire," Hedrick said.

Hedrick said Old Main was a great loss to the museum and sent it to the lowest point of its history.

Another factor which has hurt the museum was recent personnel cutbacks which hit the museum hard, Hedrick said.

The museum’s community outreach programs have been affected, and the staff member in charge was terminated. Other members expressed political allegations.

The museum, and The Museum Society, never got off the ground because of the cuts.

The museum has the support of the University, but there is a desire by everyone involved to see the University Museum grow stronger and bigger, Hedrick said.

"Last year the University Museum Mobile Exhibits Hall moved to the Du Quoin Fair, and 10,000 people went through the museum," Hedrick said.

The mobile unit goes to different areas at the request of area civic groups, he said.

University Museum gets most of its money from the University. If approved by the majority committee, the museum will receive $200,000 for the next fiscal year.

"The approval should come before July 1, and the budget will help us to increase enrollment to 14 full-time members," Hedrick said.

The Museum received more money

The weather:

Mostly cloudy, cooler

Wednesday: Mostly cloudy and cooler with a 60 per cent probability of showers and thunderstorms. The high temperature will be in the upper 60s to lower 70s and will be out of the west at 9 to 15 mph. Relative humidity 95 to 100 per cent.

Wednesday night: Mostly cloudy but clearing with the low temperature in the upper 50s to lower 60s.

Thursday: Partly sunny and warmer with the high around 73 degrees. Tuesday's high on campus 76, 10 a.m., low 68, 5 p.m.

(Information supplied by SIU Geology Department weather station.)

Grand jury investigating Ogilvie aid

CHICAGO (AP) - The Chicago Daily News said Tuesday that a federal grand jury is investigating a charge that former Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie gave former U.S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell to kill an income tax fraud case against Ogilvie.

Ogilvie, now a Chicago attorney, was quoted in a newspaper as saying: "I assure you I didn't fix any tax case."

The grand jury in Springfield is trying to determine whether the state Revenue Department ordered an investigation by Thomas Brennan, a Chicago public relations and advertising man, the Daily News reported.

The newspaper said the U.S. attorney's office in Chicago and the IRS had recommended an investigation of Drennan, who was Ogilvie's top political campaign worker.

Ogilvie, Jeremiah Marsh, a lawyer on his staff, and Chicago attorney Joseph Lamendella went to Washington June 12, 1970, shortly after the federal officials recommended the Drennan investigation, the Daily News said.

The state Revenue Department was attacked by a advertising firm in which Drennan held an interest, the Daily News reported. The Daily News also said the focus of the investigation was the firm's handling of political campaign accounts.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Two members of the House tax-writing committee, unhappy with its version of a windfall tax on oil companies are seeking the help of the Democratic caucus to enact a B pit out of energy-crisis profits.

Reps. William J. Green (D-III.) and Charles A. Vanik (D-Ohio) members of the Ways and Means Committee, challenged the decision of Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-N.Y.) to seek a rule barring the offering of any amendments to the bill.

The House is expected to consider the measure next week.

Using recently adopted and still not completely tested party procedures, Green and Vanik successfully petitioned for a special caucus Wednesday. They will ask for a resolution binding the Democratic majority of the Rules Committee to make their amendments in order for House consideration.

Green's amendment would cut off the oil and gas depletion allowance as of Jan. 1, 1974. This allowance permits producers to charge off against taxable income 25 per cent of the value of oil or gas produced.

The bill as approved by the committee provides for a two-year phase-out of the allowance beginning in 1975.

Green says his amendment would result in the oil industry paying nearly $2 billion more in taxes during 1974.

The majority committee position is that the more gradual elimination of the allowance is needed to avoid a cut down in exploration and development of new oil reserves.

Vanik contends that his amendment also would result in about $2 billion additional annual revenue for the treasury.

Present law allows the driller of a well to charge off as a current expense most of the cost, instead of treating the well as a capital asset to be depreciated over years. Vanik would eliminate this expense treatment of so-called intangible costs on foreign oil and gas wells.

His amendment also would go farther than the committee did in reducing the allowable use of foreign taxes to reduce a company's U.S. tax liability. He would tax the foreign taxes as deduction rather than a direct offset against U.S. taxes.

Two House members seek oil profits action

Published in the Journalism and Egyptian Laboratory Monitor Thursday through Thursday throughout the school year as part of the University Museum, Examining examination, and legal holidays by Southern Illinois University, Communications Building, Carbondale, Illinois, 9567 First class postage paid at Carbondale, Illinois.

Subscription rates are $10.00 per year or $1.75 for six months in Jackson and the surrounding counties, $1.00 per year or $0.50 per six months in the rest of the United States, $20.00 per year or $1.10 per six months for all foreign countries.

Policies of the Daily Egyptian are the responsibility of the editors. Statements published do not reflect the opinion of the administration or any department of the University.

Editorial and business offices located in Communications Building, North Wing, Phone 926.3317.

Howard R. Long, Editor and Photo Editor, Adriane Stone, Business Manager; Edward Hom, Managing Editor; Larry Marder, Night Editor; Carole Weisend, Advertising Manager; Sharon Washler, Classified Advertising Manager; Jean Car- man, Office Manager; Phil Roche, Production Manager; Anne Robinson, Ad Production Supervisor.

Graduate Assistants: Dave Eason, Robert Evans, Bruce Garrison, Richard Lentz and C. Anne Sumner.

Student News Staff: David Ambrose, Carol Court- ner, Tracie Dunbar, Don Halter, Mike Hawley, Glen Hoage, Charlotte Jones, Joel Jozef, David Kamrath, Dick McCoy, Peter McCarthy, Carol Ann Allen, Diane Niehaus, Steve Ochoa, Brenda Penland, Ken Pilarski, Daley Raderman, John Russell, Bruce Shope, Daisy Stuehler, Julia Thune, Mark Tupper, Mary Tupper, Photographers: Jack Cross, Dennis Wallis, Steve Sumner.

Museum Director Carroll R. Riley holds a curving bundle used by New Mexico Medicine Men. (Staff Photo by Steve Sumner.)
Subpoenas for 10 tapes urged

House finds gaps in Nixon transcripts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee, digging deeper into the Watergate cover-up as part of its impeachment hearings, found more gaps in the evidence in the July 25 impeachment charges that flowed from City Hall for challenges to Nixon's reign.

Chief counsel John Doar recommended the committee consider issuing subpoenas, even from City Hall for challenges to Nixon's reign.

Chairman Peter Rodino (D.N.J.) said the request will be considered at a 9 a.m. meeting. He added that the committee resumes hearing evidence gathered on a fact-finding mission to Washington, D.C., by staff.

A legal brief opposing Doar's request, prepared by President Nixon's chief Watergate lawyer, James St. Clair, was rejected by the committee on the grounds it contained confidential material.

St. Clair's brief had been distributed when objections were raised that it dealt with secret grand jury evidence covered in a closed-door session last week.

The committee is conducting this phase of the inquiry in secret to protect individuals mentioned in that evidence. For that reason Rodino ruled St. Clair's memo was unacceptable.

One member said St. Clair's brief also concluded that the committee had no need to subpoena an April 4, 1972, tape in an effort to discover whether Nixon had prior knowledge of the Watergate break-in.

St. Clair said evidence furnished by the White House makes it clear he (St. Clair) was wrong.

The April 4 conversation took place four days after the plan for the Watergate break-in had been approved by Nixon's re-election committee, according to testimony by committee official Jeb Stuart Magruder.

In addition to that conversation, Doar cited nine other gaps in the evidence he is presenting to the committee.

Six of the gaps deal with meetings and telephone conversations on June 26, 1972, between Nixon and his former aides, H.R. Haldeman and Charles Colson. Doar also said tapes of meetings between Nixon and Haldeman on June 23, 1972, were not supplied to the committee.

In material justifying a request for a subpoena, Doar noted that the June 20 tapes contained conversations took place after Nixon had conferred by telephone with former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell.

The White House has said this conversation, the first between Nixon and Mitchell after the break-in, took place on a telephone not included in the White House recording system.

A recording of Nixon's recollection of that conversation with Mitchell was played for the committee Tuesday. It was the committee's first opportunity to hear any of the tapes or Dictabelt it has received.

Doar's justification for needing tapes of the three June 23 meetings notes that previous testimony in Watergate trials and investigations indicates the White House was concerned that the FBI investigation of Watergate might disclose a secret CIA operation.

Members described the material as interesting and illuminating.

Rep. Jerome Waldie (D-Calif.) asked whether he had heard tended toward impeachment rather than away from it, answered, "Yes. I wish I could say more."

Daley illness sparks talk on successor

CHICAGO (AP)—For the first time in 30 years, Democrats are talking about a successor to Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The disclosure that Daley's current hospital stay resulted from a mild stroke and that the mayor will undergo surgery in the near future to prevent a recurrence, has sent shivers of ambition through several Democrats. But none is openly saying so.

Since Daley took command of the Democratic party in Chicago more than 20 years ago, there have been no challenges to his status as mayor and few to his leadership. No one broaches along with a large G. the position of Daley, not even when Daley went to the hospital May 4 and his condition—was first described as a minor illness.

Now, with the prospect of Daley, who will be 72 Wednesday, being absent from City Hall for several weeks and a mayoral election next year, Democrats are thinking seriously about a successor to the man who has controlled and shaped the political machine long after those in other cities collapsed.

Rep. Daniel Rostenkowski, the mayor's long-time voice among Illinois Democratic congressmen, said Tuesday: "We've got to start more actively grooming a successor for whenever one is needed."

Rostenkowski, who has a strong political base on Chicago's Northwest Side, is among those once considered as heir to Daley.

Others who could gain support include Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, whom Daley handpicked for the office; Thomas Tully, who recently won nomination to the powerful assessor's post with Daley's blessing; Roman C. Pucinski, who, in 1972, followed Daley's wishes and gave up a comfortable U.S. House seat to unsuccessfully challenge Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) and George Dunne, president of the Cook County Social Security Commission, who was once considered the prime heir to the Irish grip on City Hall which has existed for 40 years.

If Daley should decide against seeking a sixth term, Alderman William Sawyer, who has a leg up on other potential successors. An independent who has opposed Daley in the past, Sawyer declared his candidacy for the Democratic mayoral nomination in September and has been campaigning since.

Another factor that could ruffle Democrats would be the candidacy of a black in the February mayoral primary. One name being checked is that of Sen. Richard Newhouse, whom, "I don't want to rule out," Newhouse's junior to Daley's problem, I want to face the strongest there is if I run."

DETROIT (AP)—The auto makers are putting the financial squeeze on consumers who are switching to smaller cars. In the past year, prices on domestic compacts and subcompacts have gone up between 15 and 25 per cent, more than double the hikes on the big gas guzzlers.

On Monday, General Motors completed the third round of major price increases since last September by scheduling an average $135 price boost on cars and trucks, effective Wednesday.

The increase rounds out to an average 1.9 per cent, GM said, and the firm won plaudits from John T. Dunlop, the Council of Labor's Director, for "showing restraint."

Most of GM's restraint affects its smallest; large-car market.

The latest price boosts on GM's big cars averaged little more than 1 per cent. The price of GM's subcompact Vega, however, went up $125, or 5.3 per cent.

A year ago the lowest priced 1973 Vega sold for $2,097. Today it lists for $2.505, a $418, or 20 per cent, increase. By contrast, the cheapest-priced full-size Chevrolet has gone up only $145, or 4 per cent, since May 1973.

At Ford, which raised car and truck prices an average $163 last week, the cheapest subcompact Pinto costs $2,402, a $292 per cent hike from a year ago when it sold for $2,211. The compact Maverick has gone up 22 per cent, from $2,554 to $3,273 during the same period.

Ford's cheapest priced full-sized models, however, has gone up only 8.4 per cent, since May 1973, from $3,208 to $3,511.

The Gremlin now costs $2,409, up $311 or 1 per cent since May 1973.

American Motors, with 90 per cent of its sales in the small-car market, hit its sticker price an average $75 less per car, and applied the entire increase to its smallest cars, raising the price of its cheapest full-size Plymouth has been boosted only 8 per cent, from $2,109 to $2,188.

The Gremlin now costs $2,409, up $311 or 1 per cent since May 1973.

The auto makers have applied the sharper price increases to small cars, which are selling better than any other segment of the market, in hopes of improving their profitability, which dropped dramatically in the first quarter of 1974 as auto sales plummeted in the face of the energy crisis.

Symmetric spheres

Small car prices developing size

Design students Bill Lester (left) and Bill Short display convex polyhedra on exhibit in the student center through Saturday. The models were constructed by students in a Design 351 class to illustrate the concept of symmetry. (Staff photo by Steve Sumner.)
No fault needed

The existing system of automobile insurance in Illinois and other states is in desperate need of reform, and no-fault insurance could be the answer. Although some might argue that this type of insurance benefits the person in the wrong, or may result in more reckless driving, the no-fault system has proven good in many instances.

A two-year $2 million study on existing automobile insurance ended in early 1973 with a report that concluded: "...the existing system ill serves the accident victim, the insuring public and society. It is ineffectual in that it allocates losses and it allocates benefits poorly, discourages rehabilitation and encourages litigation and the courts to become a partisan element. Both on the record of its performance and on the logic of its operation, it does little if anything to maximize crash losses."

The Transportation Department made a supplementary study on the average, about one-half of the total personal and family economic loss from serious crashes was collected. But when the loss was less than $500, more than twice the amount was recovered, on the average; when it was more than $25,000, recovery only averaged 30 per cent of the total losses.

Although no-fault plans would eliminate the right to sue for general damages, that elimination would be conditional. In late 1972 a no-fault plan called the Camelback Agreement was formulated. It contained the following major components:

Letters

"Pre-recorded oinking"

To the Daily Egyptian:

The Black Affairs Council (BAC) represents black student programming for black students on campus who are not currently individuals of the SU student population (and not 600-700 people maximum) Mr. Sheridan. Of this number, during Fall 1972, some 560 black freshmen and 300 black grad students. Black enrollment was over one thousand in developed in 1971-1972 and began increasing again in 1973.

SU is a microcosm of the macrocosm -American society. Let me show you why. That is to say that SU is a white-oriented institution that services the white-oriented society. White-oriented Illinois political institutions give white-oriented SIU millions of dollars each year to produce white lawyers, doctors, technicians and other assoctated white middle class personnel to take care of the needs of white-oriented Illinois society. All students are allowed to pool a minute part of their tuition to entertain themselves with upper middle class elite oriented programming such as parachute clubs, sailing clubs, etc., surely the things they will find available in the white oriented middle class society when they eventually get out of school.

But what's this, poor oppressed black students coming from decadent urban black reservations wanting to be white-oriented with a lousy $20,000? "Out of the question! (That isn't the American way! What are poor blacks doing in a white-middle class institution like SIU anyway? You know how hard it is for SU to turn out All-American white carbon-copied, middle class Negroes when it has to work with large numbers of black poor. Its hard when working with poor whites and foreigners)"

It is very peculiar that blacks in the state of Illinois compose more than 15 per cent of the 11,135,976 state population but their proportionate number in Illinois universities is only 1.3 per cent, especially in university departments of science and technology. Very peculiar since the most serious problems in housing, health, unemployment, urban decay, etc., are located in Illinois black communities. Does SIU speak to these problems? No! Not all at least.

For whites who want to play with themselves and their racism—keep blindly looking at the issue as being solely centered around the inability of black supporters to control their anger or outbreaks and dismiss their "terrible double talk!"

As for blacks and any sensitive whites—check out how a racist backlash and political conservatism are creating the postures of the macrocosm (American society) eliminating all those "designated to serve the people" (Cis, Js, etc.) for the poor and building maximum "police state" structures and "police state mentalities." Above all, that "Loosely Ordered" legislation and propaganda. Compare this with the rampant "cultural explosion" of racist and political conservatism in the microcosm (SIU).

Black students realize through experience that SIU does not discuss these problems and by the same token that it does not speak to the needs of the black community, it is too white-oriented to do something like that. So we see how SU being what it is, can easily recover millions of allocated monies toward white-oriented student programming, career and vocational development, and cultural entertainment and enrichment. But when it comes to black student programming, all white Joint Fees Allocation Board with no black representation on it cut their funding in another $1,000. To Mr. Sheridan, Mr. Courtnier and Mr. Yaseen it was another "African life''.

The Camelback Agreement was just one example of numerous no-fault plans formulated. There needs to be some uniformity, or the result will be conglomeration. But a no-fault plan is needed, simply because the present system all too often either benefits the wrong party, or does not fully compensate the wronged party.

Jim Starnes
Student Writer

Terrible double standard

To the Daily Egyptian:

As a student senator myself, I would like to speak on the May 1 student senate meeting. What about people who make outward disturbances at such meetings? One must first define what an outward disturbance means. When a senator says something stupid or derogatory, is this a such a disturbance? No, because that ill-mouthered person is one of 30 people on the senate. This policy is only applied to outsiders (people who are not senators). Thus, with a roomful of black students, there was bound to be some out of place comments by senators, but only until the black replies, did the senate find it necessary to go into executive session. I might say also, that anyone on campus can presently attend any senate meeting of choice and see what really goes on by my fellow senators. You will not be able to hold your comments quietly and be witnessing such a display of aspiring bureaucrats.

As for Deonath's letter concerning black and white activities held on campus separately. He calls this racist, only when the black student start to program for themselves. Is it not racist to have a roomful of whites plan movies that are of no concern to blacks? Well, this is the point at which SCAG has been operating and can likewise be attacked. We have to recognize the fact that blacks are a minority in this country. When it is too often than the majority, blacks are a minority. The reasons for this are numerous. They stem from the national government's lack of interest in giving everyone full and equal right to an education as for other areas. Another reason can be that blacks see the odds against them, when it comes to anything. Why should a black spend four years in college when he/she will make the same amount as a white high school graduate? This is the REAL situation.

Blacks have been paying their share of student activities money in the past at any given university. Did they get anything from it? Only until the last five years have blacks gotten their fair share. This meaning the money they've payed at present and all the money they wasted on white programs in the past. When the blacks did get their money, they didn't just passively get it by asking politely. They had to fight for it. Almost every penny they got and now are getting was fought.

Blacks and women have been put down and suffered for such a long time, that when they finally fight against this inferior role, they are labeled racist or sexist. Two hundred years of oppression can not be forgotten in five or ten years through pleasantries. Our society has to give more attention to these minorities if it wants to keep their understanding. This attention can be in the form of preferential hiring. But, don't lay any reverse racism on me. I can't but it.

One other comment for Donath, You and I share the same Jewish culture. Neither you nor I should be asked to replace this all important background for one which is vague and all encompassing. Why, then, do you ask blacks to give up their rich identity? This is what you mean when you say that being a human being is more important than being black or white. This is a terrible double standard.

Larry Ira Roth
Young Socialist Alliance
Student Senator

When I WolIer 'Abas cadabra',
you fly out, OK?"
By Thomas W. Ortenad
A Washington Correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch
Pilot of three articles

The United States and its European allies probably will not be able this week to form a working team without a quarterback or coach.

No one is calling signals. Even if someone were, there is neither a game plan nor a battle plan.

At a time when powerful economic forces threaten serious international political instability in the world, the only playing field is the one of free world is founding nations whose governments are lacking in popular support.

But since the immediate necessity of World War II there has been such widespread political instability throughout the world, especially in the non-Communist world. Virtually unprecedented, too, is the broadscale crisis of leadership, with only timed or discredited faces where there should be leadership.

"The big problem," remarked one American diplomat, "is that the leadership is exercising a leadership to deal with the most severe economic and political problem since the post-World War II reconstructions of Europe.

"The wish of the problem is that it is not determined by Europe's own community itself. At the heart of it is the question of how we are to share the resources and burdens.

"In Europe the feeling of apprehension appears to be running unchecked through both Western and Eastern Europe. The reasons are plenty: gasoline is being held up in inflation-creating fear, and at rates that are much higher elsewhere. Combining with a slow-down in economic growth this has produced the anomaly of "sagflation." "

"Food and commodity prices are soaring. If anything, the situation may be worse. If food and commodity prices are, we will never be able to afford them. The financial and economic dislocations expected from the recent energy crisis are awaited with dread. At the same time, little or no progress is being made toward remedial measures such as international action, in solving the problem of inflation and the domino effect in Europe or elsewhere."

Some Europeans feel that this nation's effect that is falling on the economic order that has charmed the world with its "economic miracle."" "Maybe the game is up," muses a young Frenchman. "More and more we will be dealing with the economic problems and dreams but who cannot be identified because of the position he now holds."

"Pointing to the effects of the recent oil crisis, with oil suppliers raising the price in billions of dollars, he suggested that the world may be moving toward a world of new set of economic conditions: "Some of these who will be the outcome of the future" have left the world. Most of these have either become owners, but not without a few, and the old have been worse off. So there is little reason to be thankful in getting it."

"In his judgment the current period is a time of experience. It is a time when he launched it on the uncertain basis of the Atlantic Charter. In the future of Europe, but he remains op· portrait of the present-day European Community," he fathered, will survive."

"Major governments, too, are hobbled. The most powerful, West Germany, found its stability en· national independence is far less meaningful than it was a few years ago."

"In addition, Rippone spoke for many when he said that Europe has lost its sense of purpose. Those who discussed the problems with the Post-Dispatch repeatedly cited a lack of urgency. Despite difficulties ahead, Rippone, like Monnet, remained basically optimist that the European Community eventually could move on toward some form of political unity. On the broader international front, he suggested: "We must take a fresh look at the whole basis of the Atlantic alliance. Half the populations of the states of the alliance were born after the signing of the Atlantic Charter. They are both more and less idealistic. The old sense of fear is gone, but, unfortunately, so little in sense of purpose."

"He saw some value in formulating a new joint declaration of purpose. A proposal for a new Atlantic Charter was put forward by Secretary of State Kissinger a year ago. The idea met a cool reception and has largely been abandoned. Unlike Rippone, a number of Europeans saw no need for a new for· mal statement of purpose."

"Europeans who spoke with the Post-Dispatch believe a new declaration of purpose would be essential if the Western World is to break out of its current period of drift and stagnation," he added."
City Council waits on grants for Teen Center, Free Clinic

The Carbondale City Council decided Monday to put off a decision on granting funds to the Carbondale Free Clinic and the Carbondale Teen Council. The two organizations, along with the Carbondale Senior Citizens Council and the Bureau of Employment Security, are part of a budget approved Tuesday that represents funds available for allocation by the council to "non-agency agencies and organizations."

The total requests come to $4,350 but only $5,800 has been made available under the city's recently approved budget.

Mayor Neal Eckert said he could not generate much enthusiasm for the Teen Council's request because the area teens don't seem to be interested.

"Eckert said he had talked to eight "responsible high school students and they just don't seem interested. Before you can have a viable teen program there must be an interest shown on the part of the teenagers."

Eckert brought up the possibility of the teens raising the money themselves if they felt it was important enough.

The Free Clinic also had a difficult time in convincing the council that its request should be unconditionally granted. Councilwoman Helen Weisberg said she would "have to see the service provided by the Free Clinic terminate," but she would grant money, only for the continuation of presently run services. The clinic said, in an earlier report, that they had plans to expand their services.

New Anglican leader urges Christian unity

By Graham Heathcote
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Donald Coggan, named to be the next Archbishop of Canterbury, said Tuesday that the Anglican Church must address itself more to the problems of the world, particularly the "appalling destitution" in big cities.

Dr. Coggan's appointment, which had been widely expected, was announced Tuesday by Prime Minister Harold Wilson. The announcement said Queen Elizabeth II had nominated Dr. Coggan for election by the dean and chapter of Canterbury to succeed the retiring Dr. Michael Ramsey.

Now Archbishop of York, he will be the 163rd Archbishop of Canterbury when Dr. Ramsey steps down Nov. 13 on his 70th birthday. Dr. Coggan will be the spiritual head of 44 million Anglicans throughout the world, including Episcopalians in the United States.

Dr. Coggan is 64, married with two grown daughters, and is an expert on Bible studies and in the administration of the Church of England.

He will be enthroned at the end of the year in Canterbury Cathedral in the traditional chair of St. Augustine, the first man to hold the post in the year 597.

Dr. Coggan, speaking at a news conference, expressed hope that if Roman Catholic and Protestant children could be educated together in Northern Ireland it might be the start of a "healing operation" in the bomb-and-bullet-scared province.

Dr. Coggan, tall and gray-haired, fielded reporters' questions at Church House, headquarters of the Church of England.

He said the Church of England will continue to work for Christian unity, and that this would develop along two lines: conferences will continue and collaboration "at the grass roots— in the communities" will go forward.

He said Britain will only have a healthy society "when it starts living by some rules again. And there's a lot to be said for the Ten Commandments."

Dr. Coggan said that the Church has been too involved in its own affairs in recent years and must look outward to the problems of the world—evangelism, social problems and church unity.

Dr. Coggan was born in London in 1906. He won honors in Oriental languages at Cambridge and trained for the ministry at Oxford.
Stiff curbs on strip mining passed by House committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Interior Committee approved a far-reaching strip-mining control bill Tuesday that would impose strict environmental controls on the surface mining of coal and require mining companies to fully restore the land they disturb.

The 26-15 vote eliminated three previous defeats before the panel. A similar bill already has been passed by the Senate.

House sponsors said they hoped to bring the legislation to a floor vote by Rep. Craig Hatcher, the committee's ranking Republican, vowed to "do everything within my power to keep this bill from being passed."

Hosmer said the bill goes "ludicrous and ridiculous extremes in the name of protecting the environment" and said it would restrict the surface mining of coal at a time when the nation's energy needs are steadily mounting.

41 grants open to SIU majors in special education

The Illinois Office of Superintend-ent of Public Instruction has an- nounced that a total of 41 senior year traineeships will be available to SIU undergraduates majoring in special education during 1974-75.

The traineeship will provide a $500 stipend and full tuition and fees. Face fellowships will be reserved for those who plan to teach the mentally retarded, seven for those who will teach the emotionally disturbed or socially maladjusted and ten each in the areas of the learning disabled, secondary education of the handicapped and early childhood education of the handicapped.

The only condition for receipt of the awards is that the student promise to teach in an Illinois special education program for six months or repay the $500 stipend.

Further information and application forms are available at the Offices of the Department of Special Education, Pulliam room 127.

Deadline for receipt of applications is May 27.

Illinois stays in running for VW auto plant

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Illinois has a good chance of winning at least one of the auto plants that the Volkswagen company will build in the U.S., a state official said Tuesday.

"There's every reason to believe we're still in the running," said Howard R. Pricke, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development.

Volkswagen, Chairman Rudolph Leding said Monday current plants will be at least two assembly plants and possibly a factory for complete production.

VW officials said sites have not been chosen although Illinois will be to have been wooed by "every state in the Union except Hawaii."

Pricke said Illinois is actively seeking VW plants, but he said no specific negotiations have been held.

He said his department discussed several plant locations with VW officials, including sites in the Chicago and East St. Louis areas.

He said the company might well decide on East Coast locations for its assembly plants because of easier shipping access. But he said Illinois would be a prime location for a complete production facility because "we're in the center of the country, geographically, we're a major transportation center, we have a pool of trained labor and we're close to steel production centers and other raw materials."

S. Senate to meet

Recognition of the Kol Shalom Journalism Club is scheduled to be debated when the Student Senate meets at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center Ballrooms.

Student Government secretary Marie Careck said no other items are on the agenda for Wednesday's meeting.

Members Night at The CLUB

Wednesday Night 9-11 p.m.
2 for 1 Bud Drafts $35c

also Fri., May 17 Kubrick's "LOLITA"
The Southern Illinois Film Society

Look great... feel marvelous! Do yourself a favor. Come exercise... it's easy! Call 457-2119

S.I.O.H. HORSE SHOW AT THEATER GROUNDS MAY 24, 25, 26 8-5 p.m. Everyone Invited!

Limber Up And Slim Down... At Our Salon!

Jeri Lynn

Look great... feel marvelous! Do yourself a favor. Come exercise... it's easy! Call 457-2119

S.I.O.H. HORSE SHOW AT THEATER GROUNDS MAY 24, 25, 26 8-5 p.m. Everyone Invited!
'Blazing Saddles' adds twist to typical stereotype jokes

By Michael Hawley
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

At a time when most good comedies have escaped the need to tell tired jokes about stereotypes, comedic actor Cleavon Little makes fun of one, which is usually a collection of tired jokes about stereotypes.

Little ladies who wear men's hats and voices, and homosexuals who swap and lip fill Brooks latest film "Blazing Saddles," which is now playing at the Varsity Theater.

"Blazing Saddles" concerns the plight of a small western town which lies directly in the path of advancing railroad construction. The railroad company needs the town to build through, so the company representative, Hedley Lamar (Korman) appeals to Governor Harmon (Focht), to appoint a sheriff that the towns people will honor and leave town voluntarily.

Appointed to position of sheriff is a black convict (Cleavon Little) who the racist townspople do indeed hate. They eventually admire him, however, when they learn he is the only one who can save their town.

The story doesn't sound funny and often it isn't. Half of Brooks' jokes and gags are very worn, one quarter of them are mildly amusing, but the other quarter equal the kind of fresh and biting humor which heightened his hilarious film, "The Producers.

Some of Brook's humor is sadly true. In one scene the governor decides to trade Indians a box of paddles for 200,000 acres of land. "You know how those red devils love to play with toys," he says.

Many of the best gags in "Blazing Saddles" are purely visual. After Little is appointed sheriff he is shown on horseback, sporting his jive new cowboy outfit and tin star in the middle of the desert. The champagne music plays in the background, and as Little rides towards Count Basie and his orchestra.

In another scene, two hooded KKK members model "Have A Nice Day" smile patches which are sewn on their sheets.

Brooks also plays the future against the past for comic effect in the same way Woody Allen played the past against the future in "Sleepyer." To slow down a group of outlaws he stops a head of a Howard Johnson's.

After Woody Allen played the past against the future in "Sleepyer." To slow down a group of outlaws he stops a head of a Howard Johnson's.

"Blazing Saddles" ends with Cleavon Little and Gene Wilder driving off into the desert sunset in a chauffeured Cadillac Limousine. This strange combination is indeed questionable, as is Mel Brook's decision to make a western slapstick comedy. Or as the white deputy asks the black sheriff, "What's a dashing urbanite like you doing in a rustic setting like this?"

Meetings slated on formation of adult CAP

A meeting to discuss forming an all-adult Civil Air Patrol (CAP) unit in Jackson County is set for 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Flight Training Classroom at the Cardonbale airport.

If there is enough turnout and show of interest a CAP could be organized and get under way by the meeting. Brooks, Gerardi and John L. Focht, former members of other CAP units said.

Not only pilots but the public in general is invited to the meeting.

"We hope to organize a ground crew. Anyone interested in rescue work and other emergency services to join CAP."

Gerardi said CAP is a national all-volunteer organization which aids in rescue work - finding drowned private planes and providing flight service during floods or tornadoes.

"Only seven CAP pilots are serving Ill. Southern Illinois counties, so we're hoping a lot of area pilots will become interested in forming a good CAP unit in this area."

"Sesame Street" helps Appalachian children

"NEW YORK (AP) -- A group of small Appalachian towns are finding televisions' "Sesame Street" and a self-help pre-school project effective in bringing early education to 100 youngsters who otherwise wouldn't get it.

Organized by the Delmont Economic Cooperative with help of local staff of the Children's Television Workshop, project employs a mobile classroom that travels up and down the mountain roads with its trained professionals and the tutoring skills of parents to help the children in and near their homes.

The Sesame Street preschool project was conducted in a three-county area in Southwest Virginia is now in its second year.

Bonaparte's Retreat

Wednesday is FOR EVERONE!!

FREE ADMISSION

9:15 til 9

THE HEAD EAST

CANS OF SCHLITZ

MALT LIQUOR

OUTDOOR ROCK CONCERT FEATURING

ALSO

SPECIAL CLOSED-CIRCUIT TV PRESENTATION

FRI D A Y • MAY 1 7 • 8 P M

BEHIND WOODY HALL

(IN CASE OF RAIN, STUDENT CENTER ROMAN ROOMS)

PLUS A SECOND BAND TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER!!

ANOTHER GREAT FREEBEE EVENING FROM THE student government activities council

TRY KROGER
AND COMPARE
FOR YOURSELF!

$69¢

PORK STEAKS

$83¢

GROUND BEEF

$78¢

CHUCK STEAK

$59¢

HAM STYLE

$19¢

PORK ROAST

$85¢

SLICED BACON

$129¢

RIB STEAK

$39¢

SPLIT BROILERS

JOY LIQUID

58¢

2% MILK

79¢

TIDE

$1.39

DUNCAN HINES LAYER

CAKE MIXES

WEISSON

38¢

OIL

$1.49

BART GUARD

99¢

JACK-UP SALAD

49¢

YELLOW CORN

10¢

Chicken Of The Sea

$2

NEW LAMBERT SERIES

RECIPE

CARDS

On Sale This Week

Each

39¢

7¢

10¢

89¢

69¢

12¢
Candidates, officials to speak

Two area congressional candidates have inquired official and a state government representative with a particular interest in marketing last Monday under joint sponsorship of the College of Business and Administration's advertising association and Graduate Students Council.

The program to discuss "The Economic Future of Southern Illinois" will be comprised of representatives from the region of the hotel industry in Harrisburg. Donald S. Simons, president of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, will be the moderator.

Dissertation microfilm controversy discussed

The Graduate Council Educational Committee is attempting to resolve the microfilm dissertation controversy by working with University Microfilms on a revised contract, said Larry Legow, committee secretary.

Graduate students currently are required to pay $5 to use University Microfilms, a subsidiary of Xerox Corporation, for the microfilming of their dissertations. Several students have complained that the microfilmed dissertation may compete with the private sale of their dissertation in book or manuscript form.

University Microfilms distributes the microfilmed copy and shares copyrights to it. The company also may make manuscript-sized copies of the dissertation.

"The issue seems to be the rights of the individual versus the rights of the academic community," Legow said. "We hope to resolve the issue with University Microfilm Service. We want to see if they're willing to revise the contract along the lines of royalties."

Legow said if the contract were revised, University Microfilms would have the right to sell a certain number of microfilm copies to a certain point.

Crab Orchard residents plan cleanup picnic

A cleanup party will be held at Crab Orchard Estates, beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday, followed by a picnic that afternoon, sponsored by the Crab Orchard Estates Homeowners Association.

Association member John Huffman said estate residents will clean up the area and refuse to use the area. He said the Williamson County Board will contribute dump trucks and tractors for the clean-up.

Free food and drinks will be provided following the cleanup to everyone helping in the project. Huffman said the cleanup will help in the development of the area and give residents a chance to meet other residents of the estates.

Cleanup volunteers should meet at the home of Marvin Deppen, "about two blocks down the road behind Epp's Volkswagen," Saturday morning, Huffman said.

GSC elections headline meeting Wednesday night

The election of Graduate Student Council (GSC) officers and representatives to the Graduate Council will be held at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center Magnolia Room.

Nominations were accepted at the May 1 meeting, Mary Day, Graduate Assistant, and detectives. History, were nominated for Graduate Council representatives. Jim Newquist, Instructional Manager of the Department of Mathematics, was nominated for president and Kathy Jones, Higher Education, was nominated for vice-president. Other nominations will be received from the floor on Wednesday meeting.

In Ann Thorpe, chairman of the Faculty Senate and also chairwoman of the Department of Physical Education, was nominated for vice-president. She will preside over the June 1 meeting of the Senate, at which the GSC officers will be introduced to the faculty and the Graduate Council.

Legow said that the new contract would be presented to the GSC on the floor at the meeting.

Hezel Optical Center

415 S. Ill. Ave.
Telephone 457-4919
Complete, reliable optical services
Fast service on contact lens polishing

"MR. DEVLIN" PRESENTS THE REALITY OF HIGHER FORM OF EXISTENCE

AS SEEN THROUGH:

Psychology
Philosophy
Mathematics
Physics

STUDENT CENTER BALLROOM A
MAY 16, 1974 8:00 p.m.

Sponsored by FREE School - SGAC
State Senate approves bills to assure welfare payments

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Over the objections of some Republicans, the Illinois Senate passed bills Tuesday to assure that welfare payments will be made through June.

The measures included a $16 million deficiency appropriation and the transfer of $7 million from the medical assistance fund into the welfare account. The vote on the deficiency appropriation was 37-19, with the vote on the transfer was 40-14. Both bills were sent to the House.

The sponsor, Sen. Don A. Moore, (Carbondale) told the Senate that the deficiency came as no surprise. He predicted that a similar appropriation of about $16 million would be needed next year.

"We've got ahold of a monster here that I don't know how to deal with," said Sen. Tom Merritt (R-Willowbrook) who opposed the bills.

Another Republican, Sen. Hudson R. Sours of Poclain, said, "These appropriations may break our economic back."

Speaking for the bills, Sen. Fred J. Smith (Champaign) said the deficiency appropriation was needed to make welfare payments to recipients in every county in the state.

More than the senators the Department of Public Aid is "making progress" in efforts to trim the welfare rolls and cut down expenses.

"In April of this year the department closed out 2,500 more cases than it did in March," he said.

The deficiency appropriations provide money until the end of the current fiscal year June 30. They were needed largely because of increases given in welfare recipients through the department's new flat grant program and higher general assistance case loads, according to Director Joel Edelman of the Department of Public Aid.

Gov. Daniel Walker has requested an appropriation of more than $149 million for the department in fiscal 1975. This represents $13,100 more than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year, including Tuesday's deficiency appropriation.

In other action:

- The House approved H11-1 an appropriation of $42 million for the University of Illinois and approved a $23 million appropriation in the State Board of Higher Education by a vote of 116-13. Both measures were sent to the Senate.

- The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill extending the deadline for applying for a sales tax refund on automobiles purchased between Aug. 14, 1971, and Dec. 10, 1971. The refunds result from the repeal of a federal excise tax. The Jeraldine had been July 1, but was extended by three years.
EVERYDAY 'SUPER' FOOD
ALL SUPER SPECIALS AND COUPON OFFERS

SAVE WITH OUR EVERYDAY "SUPER" PRICES AND "SUPER" SPECIALS

KARE

SHAVE CREAM
11-oz. 49¢

LISTERINE
20-oz. 85¢

COUPON

SOFT & DPI ANTI-REDNESS PILLS
2-oz. 109¢

COUPON

RAID ANTI & ROACH KILLER
16-oz. 99¢

COUPON

AIR CONDITIONERS Prixes... 79¢

CAR WASH SPORSES 39¢

MINTS NYLON JACKETS 349¢

TAME CREME RAGES 84¢

MIRACLE WHIP 69¢

MIRACLE WHIP 69¢

WORTH 10¢

WORTH 10¢

FROZEN LEMONADE 61¢

MINUTE MAID 61¢

SMOKE PRICES TO DAY! A GRAND."SUPER" SHOPPING TRIP!

MIRACLE WHIP 69¢

COUPON

WORTH 10¢

WORTH 10¢

FROZEN LEMONADE 61¢

MINUTE MAID 61¢

SMOKE PRICES TO DAY! A GRAND."SUPER" SHOPPING TRIP!

Top Taste Hot Dog or Hamburger Buns 3 = 1.00
Smooth, Rich Pevely Ice Cream 4 = 79¢
Easy Wrap 4 = 1.00
Showboat 2 = 89¢
White or Colors 3 = 1.00
Softwove Tissue 6 = 1.59

Coca Cola

Page 12, Daily Egyptian, May 15, 1974
PRICES ON MEATS TOO!
ARE GOOD THROUGH TUESDAY OF NEXT WEEK.

- Avocados $3.99
- Golden Sweet Corn $3.88
- Tropicana 100% Pure Florida, Unfiltered Orange Juice $3.88

FRUITS & VEGETABLES

Bakery Delights
- Raspberry Jelly Donuts only $1.79 doz.
- Fresh Baked White Bread only 49¢
- Fresh Baked Brown Danish Rolls 4 for 69¢
- 1/2 lb. Fresh Assorted Coffee Cakes only 99¢

Gourmet Foods
- Barbecued Chicken 1 lb. $1.19
- T-Bone Steak 1 lb. $2.49
- Ham and Eggs par 79¢
- Chicken Tenderloins par 79¢
- Fresh Braunschweiger 1 lb. $1.99
- Water Sliced Baked Ham 1 lb. $1.79

Super Specials
- With Cheese Sauce

Gourmet Foods
- Barbecued Chicken 1 lb. $1.19
- T-Bone Steak 1 lb. $2.49
- Ham and Eggs par 79¢
- Chicken Tenderloins par 79¢
- Fresh Braunschweiger 1 lb. $1.99
- Water Sliced Baked Ham 1 lb. $1.79

FRUITS & VEGETABLES

- White or Assorted
- Hudson Facial
- Sturdy White
- Paper Plates
- Orchard Park Peppers or Sesame Rolls
- Orchard Park
- Wonder Sweet, Mar Burg or Hamberg. Relish
- Hudson Assorted
- Paper Towels

Super Specials
- Canned SODA
- Super Special
- EVERYDAY PRICE!
- Super Special
- EVERYDAY PRICE!

Super Specials
- Whiten and Brighten
- Clorox
- Lipton’s Tea
- Super Special
- Lipton’s Tea

Bakery Delights
- Raspberry Jelly Donuts only $1.79 doz.
- Fresh Baked White Bread only 49¢
- Fresh Baked Brown Danish Rolls 4 for 69¢
- 1/2 lb. Fresh Assorted Coffee Cakes only 99¢
Death is ‘fascinating’ subject says Murphysboro minister

By Randy McCarthy
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Death often is considered the "end." However, says a "many people think about it but they don’t want to talk about it," the Rev. Don Batz said Monday evening.

Rev. Batz of the First United Methodist Church of Murphysboro spoke on the subject of death, the study of which is considered a "subject that is widely discussed, but that until recently was avoided as "taboo," he said. "We try to push it out of our minds because it was depressing."

Rev. Batz said that because of the growing interest in the study of death, he was considering offering a course on the subject for high school students.

He outlined the points of a recent book, "Death and Dying," by Elizabeth Kubler-Ross, a University of Chicago professor, who has done many interviews with terminally ill cancer patients about their feelings toward their approaching deaths.

In her book, Mrs. Kubler-Ross identifies six stages of dying that are experienced in varying degrees, depending on whether the patient has a terminal illness, Rev. Batz said.

When told that they are dying many persons react with shock and disbelief and often are skeptical of the physician’s diagnosis, he said.

The second stage is to deny the diagnosis and "go rampant trying to find proof that what they’re told isn’t so," Rev. Batz said. A patient often changes hospitals and seeks other physicians who can prove the validity of his denial.

He said this stage serves an important function by acting as a buffer and allowing a patient time to collect himself and react less defensively.

Following a time of denial, a patient comes to a grim realization he is truly dying and then reacts with anger towards his physicians and the "vivaciously" of his family.

This period should be anticipated so members of the family won’t get "upset about it" and then accept the person’s hostility and help him remove any guilt feelings about his anger, Rev. Batz said.

Next, a patient may turn to bargaining with an ultimate power; asking for a few more months of life in exchange for his acceptance of his death, Rev. Batz said.

Once he’s tapped all his sources a person usually becomes deeply depressed and turns his back on the world. Rev. Batz said. Because this time of depression is inevitable even if a person wants to die, the worst thing a friend can do is try to cheer up the person.

"The person is entitled to his feelings, without any sense of guilt," Rev. Batz said. A patient’s depression is heightened by thoughts of the high cost of illness and separation from his family.

Finally a person may begin to feel a sense of acceptance of his coming death. Rev. Batz said that at this time it is "vitally important that the patient be reassured that he will be remembered and appreciated" by his family.

When children ask questions about death they shouldn’t be avoided but should be given an honest and simple answer, he said. Protecting children from death is wrong because this may cause more psychological harm than dealing with the problem.

"Children know more about death than we give them credit for," he said. A child should be taken privately to visitation so he may receive undivided attention concerning his questions, Rev. Batz said.

The United States is a death-denial society, he said, because Americans feel they have too much unfinished business to die. But once the person accepts his death he begins to complete the things he needs to do and may keep himself alive until they’re completed, Rev. Batz said.

Bomb threat received by Lincoln School

A bomb threat made to Lincoln Junior High School, 429 S. Washington St., forced school and city officials to evacuate the building for more than two hours Tuesday morning, said Larry Hill of the Carbondale Police Department.

Approximately 400 students were evacuated while police and fire officials combed the premises for a bomb. Hill said the search turned up nothing.

Hill said the threatening call came into the school shortly after 11 a.m. and the caller said a bomb would go off at 12:30 p.m. he said.

The children were evacuated about 15 minutes after the call came in, Hill said. They stayed outside until 12:45 p.m.

Hill said that the call was traced to the home of Larree Erwin on East Park Street.

Larry Jacober, principal of the school, said the secretary who took the call thought it was a man between the grades of six and nine who made the call. He added that police are now investigating those absent Tuesday.

Bands to appear at party Saturday for east campus

East Campus housing will host the first annual Mellow Mushroom Boogie party at 1 p.m. Saturday on the Commonwealth.

"Mathclave," a rock group of East St. Louis, will play from 1:30 to 2:30 followed by another group "Unique Experience," from 3:30 to 5:00.

Cactus Pete is scheduled to appear at 6 p.m.

Tickets for food are 50 cents for East Campus residents and $1 for off campus students.

Auto-making city to be ‘energetic’

DETROIT (AP) — Experts from 16 countries will meet at this fall’s auto show to see what can be done to solve the world’s future energy problems.

The third annual World Energy Congress (Sept. 23-27) will draw some 4,800 persons, including government ministers, economists, scientists, engineers, educators and executives in the energy industry.

Page 14, Daily Egyptian, May 15, 1974
JCPenney Super Market
1201 East Main St.
Carbondale, Illinois

It’s how little you spend on a whole week’s food.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Valencia Oranges</th>
<th>U.S. Inspected Cornish Game Hens</th>
<th>U.S.D.A. Choice Arm Chuck Roast</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>.88 Size 79c doz.</td>
<td>20 oz. Average 79c ea.</td>
<td>99c lb.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida Sweet Corn pkg. of 5 ears 53c</td>
<td>Lean Boston Butt Pork Roast 89c lb.</td>
<td>Morrell No. 1 Bacon 1 lb. Pkg. 89c</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Check and Compare!

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Item</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Crisco Cooking Oil 46 oz. bottle</td>
<td>$1.79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heinz Ketchup 26 oz. bottle</td>
<td>53c</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heinz Barbeque Sauce 10 oz. bottle</td>
<td>3 for $1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heinz Relishes 94 oz. jar</td>
<td>29c</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pilgram Farm Sliced Processed Dills 55c</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lipton Instant Tea 3 oz. jar</td>
<td>99c</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kraft Pure Orange Juice 1/2 gallon bottle</td>
<td>79c</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Drive-up, Car-Loading Service

Convenience is yours with our unique Parcel Pick-up Service. After you have completed your shopping (your order has been checked out), you'll receive a claim check for your groceries. When leaving the store, drive to the parcel pick-up lane and your purchases will be placed in your car.

Wise Buys

Our customers watch for this symbol of extra savings.

When we make an unusual volume purchase, or receive a manufacturer's temporary promotional allowance, we pass the savings on to you. Reduce our selling price and mark the item with a bright “Wisest Buy” tag.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Item</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Holsum Old Fashioned Peanut Butter 1/2 oz. jar</td>
<td>69c</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gala Paper Towels</td>
<td>Jumbo Roll 2 for 79c</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gala Paper Napkins</td>
<td>140 count pkg. 2 for 79c</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elf White Paper Plates</td>
<td>100 count pkg. 71c</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All Temperature Cheer</td>
<td>King size (25 oz. off) $1.35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elf Charcoal Briquettes</td>
<td>20 lb. bag $1.49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ball Canning Jars</td>
<td>12 Quart $2.09</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

It’s the Tape Total That Counts!

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>GRADE “A” Large EGGS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 Doz. 39c</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

No additional purchase necessary. Limit one coupon per customer.
Coupon expires May 21, 1974.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ice Cream</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1/2 Gallon 59c</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

No additional purchase necessary. Limit one coupon per customer.
Coupon expires May 21, 1974.

Daily Egyptian, May 15, 1974, Page 15
Portugal expected to have communists in new cabinet

LISBON, Portugal (API)—Just a leader Gen. Antonio de Spolido is to be inaugurated as President Wednesday. His cabinet probably will include Communists for the first time in Portuguese history.

Lisbon law professor and businessman Adele de Palm Charles is expected to be named prime minister, overseeing a record of moderate position to the authoritarian governments which ruled this country for nearly a half century. Spolido’s military background brings him to an end on April 25.

Slover Central, the long exiled head of the Communist party, may become minister without portfolio.

Business scholarships, awards are presented

Awards, scholarships and good natured "tribes" were presented at the College of Business and Administration's Parade of Honors Monday at the Student Center.

The annual program recognizes superior scholastic achievement and exceptional service by students enrolled in the college.

Among those receiving awards were Stephen Gorman, an accounting major from Carbondale, as the Outstanding Senior in the College and Lance Foster, Linda Hull and Carla Randolph who shared the Outstanding Black Senior award.

Gergert was also presented the Wall Street Journal award by the Finance Department. Renelda Lierly was named the Outstanding Marketing Student and Fred Langelieit was selected as the Outstanding Administrative Sciences Student Charles Hindeyman, dean of the College of Business and Administration, was awarded an honorary membership.

Brown to speak on search efforts before AP group

James Brown, SIU chief of staff, will speak to the Southern Illinois Associated Press Editors at a meeting to be held in Carbondale at the Ramada Inn, 2000 W. Main.

There will be an informal get together Saturday, AP coverage of the Snowman has area will be discussed at 9:30 a.m. Sunday business meeting. Brown’s talk will come at 10:30 a.m. and is expected to include a general report on SIU’s search for a new president.

Also scheduled to speak is Dick Steeman, editor of the Metro East Journal, an East St. Louis newspaper. There will be an 11:30 a.m. reception followed by a noon luncheon.

Tickets for the reception and luncheon are eight dollars. Requests should be mailed to Thomas Dygard, Chief of Bureau, 188 W. Randolph, Chicago, 60601.

Kiwani set date for pancake sale in Murphysboro

The Murphysboro Kiwanis Club is hosting its annual Pancake Day Saturday.

"We've gone to see that people get a good meal," said W. Dennis Smith, publicity man for the Kiwanis.

Pancake Day will start at 6 a.m. and run through 11 a.m. in the Murphysboro High School cafeteria.

The meal will consist of pancakes, sausage and beverages for $1.50. Kennedy said.

He said proceeds from Pancake Day will go to needy children and needy families.

Another Communist, Avelino Pacheco Goncalves, is likely to be minister of labor. He heads the bank clerks union in Oporto, one of the many labor organizations that the Communists dominate.

Portugal would become the second country in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, after Iceland, to have Communists in its cabinet.

Mario Soares, a Socialist who returned from exile, is slated to be foreign minister, and Vasco Vieira de Almeida, a liberal banker, is expected to be named finance minister.

The junta, which announced Spolido’s upcoming inauguration, has promised that his government, which will also include one or more generals in the service ministries, will prepare free elections within a year.

Meanwhile it must do something about Portugal’s mass problem: the rebellion it has been trying to put down in its African territories for 12 years. Guerrillas now operate in Portuguese Guinea, Angola and Mozambique.

The junta has laid down a new principle for Portugal. Recognition that the solution of the wars overseas is political and not military.

Following up this key statement of its program, the junta has offered the guerrillas a cease-fire if they start campaigning like political parties and lay down their arms.

Press group plans to study page designs

How words and pictures fit together in the making of a modern newspaper will be discussed at the Mid-America Press Institute (MPI) page make-up and picture editing workshop Friday through Sunday in St. Louis.

MPI Executive Secretary W. Marion Rice of the SIU School of Journalism said there have been 35 responses from 40 newspapers. The MPI covers a 2-state area in the middle of the U.S. from Canada to the Gulf Coast.

C. William Harrell, SIU professor of cinema and photography, will present a critique of picture pages.

Max McCollin, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune will talk on "We Re-Made the Chicago Tribune."

David Rice, a graduate intern, will be attending from the Daily Egyptian.

Papers of more than 30,000 circulation will be critiqued Saturday and those with less than 30,000 circulation on Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening.

UNIVERSITY BOOK STORE
BOOK SALE
Textbook Rental Reminders
and Additional Stock
Student Center Ballroom D
MAY 14, 15, 16 8:30 - 4:30

Bargain Prices
BORELI'S WEST
WIN $1,200
1620 WEST MAIN
WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT

IGA
SODA
ASSORTED
FLAVORS
10/12 OZ. CANS
ONLY
99¢

KELLY'S
Reg. or Rippled
or BBQ
POTATO
CHIPS
TWIN PAK
ONLY
59¢

SENSIBLE
Paper
Plates
9 INCH
100 COUNT PKG
ONLY
69¢

CHECK OUT OUR VALUES

I.G.A.
CHUCK ROAST
2 LBS.
73¢

Tablerite
U.S.D.A. CHOICE
CHUCK STEAKS
1 LBS.
79¢

I.G.A.
Florida
WHITE GRAPE FRUIT
5 LB BAG
69¢

Tablerite
U.S.D.A. CHOICE
CALIFORNIA SUNKIST ORANGES
DOZEN
69¢

I.G.A.
Tablerite
SLICED BACON
1 LB. PKG.
89¢

AND COUPONS TOO!

I.G.A.
Goode's
LARGE EGGS
DOZ.
39¢

I.G.A.
PILLSBURY FUNNY FACE DISH MIXES ASSORTED FLAVORS
5 $100

I.G.A.
Pringles
9 oz.
Package
69¢

I.G.A.
SUGAR free VINEGAR OIL 7-SEAS DRESSING 8 oz.
2 FOR 79¢

I.G.A.
All VEGE TABLE CRISCO OIL
38 oz. BTL.
$1.59

Daily Egyptian, May 15, 1974, Page 17
APSC to deliver written opinion

By Debby Raizerman
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Administrative and professional Staff Council (APSC) met Tuesday to submit a written opinion on the executive officer selection process at the June Board of Trustees meeting.

APSC Chairman John D. Barnes will also present a five-minute oral report on the council's position, which is, as Simmons put it: "The Board of Trustees should set the policy, and then hire administrators to carry out that policy. If they don't carry it out, fire them."

Council member John D. Barnes said the APSC opinion should include "that it is up to the president of the University to appoint University vice presidents."

"He has the right to appoint someone he can work with," Barnes said. "I don't see how it can work any other way."

Chairman Simmons mentioned the Faculty Senate's current concern over Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost J. Keith Leasure. "Do we sit by and watch while the Faculty Senate gets the president of the University, and then the vice president?" Simmons asked. "Faculty Senate has alleged a lot of things but never said anything."

Barones said he believed APSC "should keep hands off the Leasure issue at this time."

One council member pointed out that although APSC has had low visibility for a long time, the way to get visibility "should not be through censoring administrators."

Top Scout

James Robb, associate professor of data processing, has been honored as the SIU Scout of the Year at a Tuesday luncheon in the Student Center. Robb is currently the adult advisor for the election of the President of the Arrow in the Egyptian Council of the Boy Scouts of America. (Staff photo)

'Tom Swift and His' part of Convoy series

The Dinglefied Theatre Company will present "Tom Swift and His" at 8 p.m. Friday in Shryock Auditorium as part of the Convocation Series. Admission is free.

The play is a satire of America's obsession with technology. The script, written by the cast, is a series of verbal quotes from "The Scientific American," "Popular Science," The New York Times and other sources published in the early 1900's.

The "Tom Swift" book series by Victor Appleton provide a framework for the social comment on the play. The character Tom Swift is a boy inventor who solves problems through a series of inventions.

Tax show slated

Members of the Land of Lincoln Mobile Home Association will give their views on the Illinois mobile homes by 5 p.m. Wednesday on Cable channel 7. The association opposes provisions of the tax which call for assessment of trailers according to space, regardless of the age of the mobile home.

Milwaukee Road reports increase in '73 revenue

CHICAGO (AP) — Consolidated operating revenues of Chicago Milwaukee Corp., increased 16 percent in 1973, stockholders were told Tuesday. The revenues rose to $271 million from $219 million in 1973. Net earnings increased to nearly $6 million from a deficit of $397,000 in 1972.

A spokesman said a good part of the increase was attributable to improved showing last year of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Co. (the Milwaukee Road). He said the railroad's operating results in 1973 were marked by the highest revenues and revenues in history.

Although diesel fuel costs increased 33 cents last year it resulted in increase in railroad traffic, the spokesman said.

EX WARRANTS, EX AIR FORCE, MARINE, NAVY HELICOPTER PILOTS WANT TO FLY

The U.S. Army Reserve Needs Pilots

The U.S. Army Reserve Team will be at the SIU Airport A.V. Tech. Building Thursday, May 16, noon to 4:00 p.m. Don't Know how to Fly? WE'LL TRAIN YOU

OTHER POSITIONS OPEN in the Aviation Maintenance Field

Tech Inspector, Turbine Engine Repair, Avionics, Electrical Sys. and many more

University Credit Granted for Mil. Training

Continue your Education While in the Reserves

GOOD PAY

US ARMY RESERVE AVIATION

The council also heard a report from University parking and traffic committee member Will Travelstead. Travelstead presented two resolutions presented to the committee by Vice President for Development and Services T. Richard Mager.

Mager's resolutions would put all money generated by motor vehicles and bicycles into one fund, which would be used for maintenance, operation, and construction of parking facilities. Mager has also requested the traffic office be moved from Washington Square to 112 Small Group Housing.

Travelstead said the University currently spends $26,000 annually for traffic-related salaries and parking upkeep. His committee has recommended that next year a hearing officer and two more student workers be hired for a traffic violation complaints department.

It probably cost "between $6,000 and $10,000 to hire a full-time hearing officer," Travelstead said. "But this would get rid of the volunteer hearing officers we have now, and make hearings more consistent."

APSC election ballots are being read and must be returned by May 21. New members will be seated at the next APSC meeting June 11.
S P R I N G F I L D (AP) — Republican members of the Illinois General Assembly said Tuesday they will ask Gov. William J. Scott to call a court ruling restricting the power of legislative committees.

If allowed to stand, this decision would strike a devastating blow to the power of the legislature to do the will of the people," said House Speaker W. Blair "R-Park Forest."

This decision attempts to strip duly constituted and empowered legislative committees and their subcommittees of the investigative powers the General Assembly or Congress traditionally reserved to root out and halt corruption and wrongdoing in the other branches of government," said Blair at a news conference with Rep. Philip W. Collins (R-Calumet City)

An appellate court upheld last Thursday a Circuit Court ruling that a subcommittee headed by Collins was "illegally constituted," in its probe of the firing of Illinois Liquor Control Commissioner Lawrence E. Johnson of Champaign.

Gov. James Walker announced he was firing Johnson in the wake of a dispute over budget matters. Johnson said he was dismissed because of attempts to look into reports of illegal contributions by holders of state liquor licenses to Walker's campaign organization.

The court said the authority and power of legislative agencies to conduct investigations lies solely with the House and Senate, and that authority could only be transferred specifically by a bill or joint resolution to the committee or subcommittee.

"Chances are congressional and legislative committees need to conduct investigations and subpoena witnesses on their own in order to determine whether legislation is needed." If the court permits the executive branch to squelch a legitimate investigation into highly unusual events involving a regulatory agency created by the legislature itself, then I do not believe they are responsive to the will of the people," Blair said.

O'Brien said the court ruling would jeopardize the success of two other investigations being carried out by House committees, including one into the activities of Chicago plumbers.

Republicans have the majority on all legislative committees as a result of their one-vote majority in both the House and Senate.

Circuit Court Judge Donald J. O'Brien said the subcommittee investigating Johnson's firing was created by a letter from Blair following House rejection of a resolution to investigate.

When you enroll in Air Force ROTC you get more than a scholarship and a chance at free flying lessons...

You get a tax-free monthly personal allowance of $100.

Interested?

Contact Capt. Bob lac

At: AFROTC Det. 205, SIU

(618) 453-2421

You'll find more than a scholarship in the Air Force ROTC.

Beach Boys to end long wait by fans in Arena concert

By M. B. Garrison
Daily Egyptian Graduate Assistant

The end of a very long wait is near for some of the Beach Boys fans in the SIU area.

Those who never get to see the famed California musicians when they were skating hit, after hit a decade ago get their big opportunity when the group performs a 7 p.m. show Thursday at the SIU Arena.

Many good tickets are still available, according to Bill Searcy, assistant director for programs at the Arena. A select group of the $5.50 tickets remain. With good quantities of the $5 and $4 seats available also, SIU students get 50 cents off the top two prices.

Persons wishing to buy tickets may do so at the SIU Arena Special Events Ticket Office up to 5 p.m. Thursday and also at the door. Tickets also may be obtained at Penney's, Sav-Mart, and the SIU Student Center Central Ticket Office until noon Thursday.

Appearing with the Beach Boys will be a seven-member rock and roll group named Henry Gross. This band includes seven numbers on its recently recorded album, available on A M & label. Henry Gross is also a member of the Beach Boys on stage.

"You'll be hearing music is expected to be a combination of their best known oldies and their most recent album material, so those long-time fans from the early '60s shouldn't be disappointed.

The group began when "Surfin' U.S.A." became a hit in the Hawthorne area on the Candi label. It wasn't a monstrous hit, either, and served only to make the guys BMMCs' at their high school. But a record man heard it, signed them to what became instant national popularity, and they were on their way. This was in 1962.

DAILY SPECIALS

Pregnant? Need Help?

A counseling hotline is available at all times. Call 1-526-4545

We are on limited confidentially by experienced counselors. The calls are free of charge to anyone who needs help.

When you enroll in Air Force ROTC you can get more than a scholarship and a chance at free flying lessons...

You get a tax-free monthly personal allowance of $100.

Interested?

Contact Capt. Bob lac

At: AFROTC Det. 205, SIU

(618) 453-2421

You'll find more than a scholarship in the Air Force ROTC.
HELP WANTED

 Duplex

 Cartersville Area: 2-bdrm. duplex, 2nd and 3rd floors. Included, washer and dryer, shower, clean and quiet, $125 and $130 rent includes utilities. Call (404) 352-8964 or 352-9843.

 Rooms

 Private rooms for both women and men available in Housing and Rooming Houses. Lounge, Telephone, laundry facilities. Weekly rates all year, daily or weekly rates summer and fall. Call 404 752 0947 or 404 688 0879.

 HELP WANTED

In full-time or part-time, night shift work. Call (404) 352-8964. Merl Johnson, Dir. of Housing and Rooming House.

Employ, WANTED

Please present a completed form. Full-time or part-time work available. No experience necessary. Apply at A1 Moundu Cafe. (404) 567-8900.

S.E.V.Y. OFFERED

Student papers, thesis, books bought, highest quality guaranteed no errors. Call (404) 352-8964. Author’s office next door to Plants.

SALE - Electronic - Total Electronic Servicing. Authorized sales and service for ten companies. Phone: (404) 567-8900.

Tylenol ad

L.I.M.E. Needed future. If you are interested in finding employment at higher rates for S. Scullion. 30353. (404) 352-8964

HELP WANTED

Student papers, thesis, books bought, highest quality guaranteed no errors. Call (404) 352-8964. Author’s office next door to Plants.

SALE - Electronic - Total Electronic Servicing. Authorized sales and service for ten companies. Phone: (404) 567-8900.

Tylenol ad

L.I.M.E. Needed future. If you are interested in finding employment at higher rates for S. Scullion. 30353. (404) 352-8964

HELP WANTED

L.O.S.T

Wanting for reward for lost week near Crab Orchard, Roger Douglas, 275-1890. In date, white and brown peck-a-boo with spots on back. Call Center: 76-6669.

TYPING - IBM Selectric, Thesis. Report, etc. 450-8900.

Found Black Lab/Polka. spaceship. Drop in Student Center Activities Room C. (404) 767-3809.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Reducing program. A service to parents who wish to train their child to stop smoking. Best available to children and young adults over 3 years of age. Training usually takes four weeks. Free pre-screening and more information available. 404-352-8964.

R.D.M. BERRY, M.D., P. A.

ENTERTAINMENT

Mexican and Cuban. JAMES W. JACOBS, 1002 Georgia Ave.

WIDB

We candy radio program scheduling WIDB, 800 AM in order. Cable FM 104 and Channel 13 on Cable.

Dr. Lee H. Jaffe

OPTOMETRIST

Mon., Wed., Fri.

- Eyes Examined - Glasses Fitted

Children's Visual Problem

Cable FM 104 and Channel 13 on Cable.

- Ears Checked
- Plates Issued
- Titles Service
- Notary Public
- Travelers Checks

2nd Floor above WIDB

Page 23, Daily Egyptian, May 15, 1934

Page 23, Daily Egyptian, May 15, 1934

- Ears Checked
- Plates Issued
- Titles Service
- Notary Public
- Travelers Checks

Cable FM 104 and Channel 13 on Cable.
All schools important,
Lesar tells area chiefs

A display of stained glass lamps and articles has been set up in the Student Center Tuesday by Jim Economos, a junior majoiing in chemistry. Economos said he works on the glass objects as a hobby and a service to the people in the area. (Staff photo by Steve Sumner.)

Gas firms seek pipeline rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six gas pipeline companies applied to the Federal Power Commission Tuesday for permission to build an 1,800-mile pipeline from Montana to Pennsylvania.

The proposed 1.8-billion pipeline would serve as the final link in a 2,000-mile system to bring natural gas from the new petroleum fields on Alaska’s Arctic Slope to the United States.

The new application was filed by Northern Border Pipeline Co., representing six companies: Columbia Alaskan Gas Transmission Co., Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, Northern Natural Gas Co., Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., and Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.

Applicants to build pipeline segments through Alaska and Canada were filed recently by two other groups.

The latest proposal covers a proposed pipeline in Alaska 12 inches in diameter capable of transmitting 1.8 billion cubic feet of gas daily.

It would begin at Manchac, in Saskatchewan, Canada, then enter Alaska near Wasilla and proceed on to the oil fields.

The project would extend to Williston, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and part of Pennsylvania, ending at Delmont, Pa., about 30 miles east of Pittsburgh.

Eve catchers

U.S. paid out $17.1 million on Nixon homes, panel says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee approved 36:0 on Tuesday a report saying $17.1 million in federal money has been spent in connection with President Nixon’s private homes.

The report said action should be taken to recover any improper expenditures. — without alleging any specific improper spending on the Nixon homes—and recommended that permanent security systems in the future be limited to only one of a president’s private residences.

All but two Republicans on the House Operations Committee joined Democrats in approving the report. It attributed the high cost primarily to excessive spending by the Secret Service and other agencies and the fact that Nixon has three properties.

The report also recommends that the government be reimbursed for any spending that improves a president’s home.

It concludes some of the spending on Nixon homes “was far in excess” of security requests.

Chairman Jack Brooks (D-Texas) of the subcommittee that drafted the report, said one of the primary reasons the cost is so high is that Nixon has three properties to protect.

“These are $17.1 million in costs that would not have occurred,” Brooks said. “If the President had not had those homes.”

The report says the $17.1 million—$9 million for San Clemente, Calif., $8 million for Key Biscayne, Fla., and $76,000 for the Grand Cay in the Bahamas—includes all personnel, communications and other protection costs.

Rep. John Buchanan of Alabama joined fellow Republicans in saying the report accurately concludes that excessive spending—some of it for home items procured by Nixon’s aides rather than proper agencies—should be corrected.

But Buchanan announced he would withhold his vote for the report because he said the $17.1 million figure supports what he called a false public impression from news reports that this much was spent to fix up Nixon’s homes.

“That is a regrettable and damnable lie,” Buchanan said.

Gas firms seek pipeline rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six gas pipeline companies applied to the Federal Power Commission Tuesday for permission to build a 1,800-mile pipeline from Montana to Pennsylvania.

The proposed 1.8-billion pipeline would serve as the final link in a 2,000-mile system to bring natural gas from the new petroleum fields on Alaska’s Arctic Slope to the United States.

The new application was filed by Northern Border Pipeline Co., representing six companies: Columbia Alaskan Gas Transmission Co., Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, Northern Natural Gas Co., Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., and Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.

The project would extend to Williston, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and part of Pennsylvania, ending at Delmont, Pa., about 30 miles east of Pittsburgh.

Gas firms seek pipeline rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six gas pipeline companies applied to the Federal Power Commission Tuesday for permission to build a 1,800-mile pipeline from Montana to Pennsylvania.

The proposed 1.8-billion pipeline would serve as the final link in a 2,000-mile system to bring natural gas from the new petroleum fields on Alaska’s Arctic Slope to the United States.

The new application was filed by Northern Border Pipeline Co., representing six companies: Columbia Alaskan Gas Transmission Co., Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America, Northern Natural Gas Co., Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., and Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.

The project would extend to Williston, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and part of Pennsylvania, ending at Delmont, Pa., about 30 miles east of Pittsburgh.

Daily Egyptian

Daily Egyptian

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ORDER FORM

Any publication of ads subject to a minimum charge

DATE

PHONE NO.

1. NAME:

2. ADDRESS:

3. KIND OF AD

4. RUN AD

5. No. of lines

6. $1.00 $1.50 $2.00 $2.50 $3.00 $3.50 $4.00

7. 1 DAY 2 5.00 5.50 6.00 6.50 7.00 7.50 8.00

8. 3 DAYS 12 12.50 13.00 13.50 14.00 14.50 15.00

9. 5 DAYS 20 20.50 21.00 21.50 22.00 22.50 23.00

10. 7 DAYS 30 30.50 31.00 31.50 32.00 32.50 33.00

11. 10 DAYS 40 40.50 41.00 41.50 42.00 42.50 43.00

12. SPECIFIC RATES

13. UNDERPRICED & SURED

14. ASKED PRIVATE TERMS

15. AIR CONDITIONED

16. 50 Foot lots

17. Nest Design & Equitment

18. City Water, Gas, Sanitation

19. Frontage, Refrigerator

20. Minimum charge is for two lines

21. CHECK ENCLOSED FOR $
Salukis sign tracksters from Canada, Illinois

By Bruce Shapin
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

George Haley, a sophomore from Lincoln Land Community College, is among five athletes who have signed national letters of intent to attend SIU; track coach Lew Harting recently announced.

Along with Haley, three Canadian junior stars—sprinter Earl Bigalow of Kentville, Nova Scotia, distance runner Bill Britton of Thunder Bay, Ontario and middle distance runner Peter Richards of Fredericton, New Brunswick—will attend SIU next year. These four join Andy Roberts, the state runner-up in the high hurdles as a junior, from Springfield Southeast High.

Haley, the national junior college record holder in the intermediate hurdles, set a national junior college record while winning the intermediate hurdles in the Russian-American junior meet last summer.

SIU track fans will be able to see Haley in action this Friday as the Lincoln Land track team will add entry in Friday's SIU-Illinois dual meet to McAndrew Stadium.

"Lincoln Land has some fine individuals who will add something to the meet," said Harting. "They won't count for points in the meet since scoring will be based on a straight dual basis.

This year Haley placed second in the open division intermediates at the Kansas relays, running a 51.6.

Bigalow's first year of track started last summer, as he ran bests of 48.3 for the 400 meters, 21.3 over 200 meters, 10.6 in the 100 meters and 4.9 for 50 meters. Bigalow is a member of the national junior team as well as the Canadian Games junior champion in the 200 meters.

The Salukis track staff noticed Britton's skills when he placed seventh in the Canadian senior cross-country championship against a field that included a host of Olympians. Britton has recorded times of 9:07 in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, 13:53 for three miles, 8:56 for two miles and 4:13 in the mile.

Richards won the junior one-mile run in the Canadian games to go along with second place in the half-mile. Richardson's best times are: 1:51.4 in the half-mile, 4:06 in the one-mile and 8:54 for two miles.

On a soggy day in May, Dave Guccione and Dave Jr. patiently tend their lines in the unsavory style of father-son fishing expeditions. But an eagerness to cast keeps the scene soon develops; two fishermen with their own firm ideas of just which side of the dock at Lake-on-the-Campus those fish are hiding under. (Staff photos by Dennis Makes.)

Sports round-up

SIU slugger ranked No. 2

The SIU baseball team, which was ranked 10th nationally in the latest poll by the newspaper Collegiate Baseball, is ranked 14th in the latest national statistics released by the National Collegiate Sports Services.

The Salukis, who carry a 38-8 record against Evansville into a 1 p.m. doubleheader Wednesday, have the nation's second leading batter in John Hoscheidt, a sophomore from Henry, whose batting average is .462. Hoscheidt is fourth in triples with seven.

Steve Shartier, a sophomore from Marion, ranks 28th in hitting with a .409 average and is tied for 10th in doubles with 12.

Klein receives memorial award

Terry L. Klein, a major in men's physical education at SIU, has been named recipient of the Leland P. Lingle Memorial Honor Award which will be presented by his department.

Klein, a native of Pana, was a member of the National Honor Society and lettered in football, baseball and track while in high school. He played two years of varsity football at SIU.

The award is presented in recognition of outstanding scholarship and leadership in the memory of Leland P. Lingle, a former associate professor of physical education and head coach of varsity track and field for 30 years.

Lady Luck smiles, ruggers win

The SIU Rugby club squeaked past Evansville Saturday, 14-13 at Evansville.

The match wasn't decided until the last minute when Evansville scored, closing the point gap to one. As Evansville attempted the extra point, the punt bounced off the goal post clinching the Saluki victory.

The ruggers will take the weekend off before they return to action, Saturday May 25, when they travel to Fort Campbell, Ken.