High-Rise Dorm Bids Due Sept. 9

The dates for accepting bids on two new high-rise towers and a commons building in the University Park student residence project have been changed from Aug. 31 to Sept. 9.

The commons building for the two new towers will be exactly the same as the one now being built for use by students who will live in Neely Hall and the three men's dormitories that adjoin the tower. One of the two new towers will be for men and the other for women. Both will house 816 students.

Financing of the building project is expected through a $5.1-million loan from the U.S. Community Facilities Administration and a revenue bond sale in roughly the same amount.

Officials indicated that they hope to begin construction of the three buildings late in the fall with the target completion date set in the fall of 1967.

Neely Hall and two of the men's dormitories will be ready for occupancy at the start of the fall term next month, officials said.

Religious Groups To Send Delegates

The Wesley Foundation and the Student Christian Foundation will send student delegates to attend the 1965 Ecumenical Regional Conferences of the National Student Christian Federation at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Aug. 28 through Sept. 2.

The affair is one of ten regional conferences concerned with the impact of urbanization and technology on twenty-first century men and women that make up the theme, "Called To Be Human," according to information.

Among those going are David Hibbds, newly appointed associate professor of speech, "The Sound of Music" will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight through Sunday in Shryock Auditorium.

How do you solve a problem like Maria?" asks the nun in the convent and herself as they sing of Maria, "a will-o’-wisp and a clown," who perplexes the holy sisters and then manages to sing her way into the hearts of the Von Trapp family.

Under the direction of Paul Hibbs, newly appointed associate professor of speech, "The Sound of Music" will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight through Sunday in Shryock Auditorium.

Songs effectively tell the story in this popular musical adaptation, Maria leaves the convent to become governess to the seven Von Trapp children. In "Do Re Mi" she introduces music to the children and then encourages them to join her as "Do" becomes a deer, "Re" a drop of golden sun and "Mi" a name I call myself."

The leading role of Maria will be played by Helen Hall, a student at Cornell College in Mt. Vernon, Iowa, who appeared in the SIU production of "Little Mary Sunshine."

Robert C. Guy is cast as Capt. Von Trapp, Jeffrey Gilliam will portray Max Detwiler and Judith K. Sableson and Georgia C. Bollmeier will share the role of the Mother Abbess, who sings "Climb Every Mountain" in one of the most popular songs in the show.

Taylor plays Capt. Von Trapp’s rich friend, the Baroness Elsa Schraeder, who sings "How Can I Live Survive?" questioning the plight of the rich lovers.

The children will be played by David and Susan Ransom, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne S. Ramp, SIU faculty members; Becky and Wendy Taylor, daughters of William K. Taylor, summer music theatre director, Julie Layer, daughter of Robert G. Layer, chairman of the Department of Economics, and Alan Diederich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Diederich of Carbondale.

Taylor is music director and Darvin Payne, scenic designer for the School of Fine Arts, has designed the sets. Robert Pevisio is assistant stage designer.

Tickets are available at $1 and $1.50 in the Summer Music Theater offices in Shryock Auditorium.

Think It's Been Hot Here?
We Fried for 6 Days in 1936

For a period of warm August weather in Carbondale, the year 1936 offers something, records-wise. The data compiled by the SIU Climatology Laboratory show the period of Aug. 17-22, 1936, was definitely a "hot spell!" For six consecutive days, high-temperature records were set for Carbondale. On Aug. 17, the high was 109 degrees; on Aug. 18, 110 degrees; Aug. 19, 106 degrees; Aug. 20 and 21, 104 degrees. The following day was the last in the sequence of records, with a high temperature of 103 degrees.

According to the Climatology Laboratory records, 12 of the 31 daily temperature records for August were set in 1936. In addition to the six consecutive days above, other record highs were set on Aug. 12, 13, 15, 26, 27 and 28, 1936.

The collection of daily records contributed to make August, 1936, the warmest month in Carbondale's history. The average temperature for that month was 85.1 degrees. The second-highest average was 84.7 degrees, set in July, 1934 and July, 1954.

Southern Players' Theme
300th Anniversary of American Theater
Celebrated at SIU With Heritage Series

A birthday party has been going on all term as the Southern Players celebrate the 300th anniversary of the American theater. This milestone has been commemorated on Southern's campus by the presentation of plays which reflect our American heritage. The first English language play to be produced in this country was presented in Accomack County, Virginia, on Aug. 27, 1665. Although "Ye Beare and Ye Cubb" sounds harmless enough, the impact of its presentation sent the three men who produced it to court.

The play apparently concerned the differences between the English and the American. The three were accused of indecent conduct and sedition and were directed to appear in court on Nov. 16, 1665. "...in those habiliments (costumes) that they then acted in, and gave verses, speeches and passages of a play acted by them, called 'Ye Beare and Ye Cubb.' The men were acquitted.

The Southern Players, in their 11th summer season, have celebrated this centenary in their productions. The first was "Prologue to Glory," presented in New Salem State Park during the month of July. "'my Lord, my Lord, my Glory'" showed Abraham Lincoln in his formative years. The theater itself is located in the very woods where Lincoln walked during his lifetime. On Southern's campus, the players have presented "Period of Adjustment," a tale of contemporary suburbia; "John Brown's Body," Stephen Vincent Bemer's "civil war epic;" and "to Inherit the Wind," which reflects the struggle for freedom of thought and expression.

Family Breakdown Is Major Factor in Violence

Behind the past week's orgy of Negro rioting in Watts, Los Angeles, and the recent tragedies in the North and West, all the new civil rights legislation is powerless to cure in the foreseeable future—the spreading disintegration of Negro family life in the big cities of North and West.

The violence of the past week, which has already claimed the lives of 28 people and left many more with serious injuries, is a symptom of the despair and hopelessness that many Negro youths feel.

A growing army of such youths is being bred on one side are the efforts to give Negro youths fresh educational, job and housing opportunities aim to save many of the Negro youths whose minds and parental environments?

Estimated 600 Viet Cong Killed In Marine Attack on Peninsula

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Victors in the biggest American-Viet Cong battle of the war, U.S. Marines estimated Thursday more than 600 of the enemy were killed in the guerrillas’ vain defense of Van Tuong peninsula trenchments.

The body count reached 533, and all was quiet at nightfall. Fifty prisoners were reported in Marine hands.

Maj. Gen Lewis W. Walt, the Marine commander, said the air-sea attack launched by a regimental landing force Wednesday against a dug-in Red regiment on the peninsula was very successful.

"We accomplished our mission," Walt said. However, even while Marines were mopping up the seaside battle zone 330 miles northeast of Saigon, other Viet Cong detachments scored twice against the government.

Striking by night, they overran the district town of Dak Sat and a nearby special forces camp of U.S.-advised Montagnard irregulars in the central highlands 30 miles north of Saigon. A spokesman said that, among those who filed the camp, eight Americans were spotted a mile to the south and picked up by helicopters.

Other guerrillas, estimated to total two companies, inflicted heavy casualties in an attack on the hamlet of Vinh Hoa, northeast of Saigon. Briefing officers said the guerrillas charged in after morning by mortars, grenades and automatic weapons fire.

A Marine operations officer, Maj. E.W. Snyder of San Clemente, Calif., told newsmen at the Chu Lai base, the estimate of more than 600 Viet Cong dead in the Van Tuong action was based on the body count plus aerial observation.

"The Viet Cong who survived pushed out to sea or infiltrated around and through positions in the rear," Snyder said.

The 7th Regiment’s intelligence officer, Maj. George H. Gentry Jr., of Fallbrook, Calif., estimated 1,200 guerrillas had been in the combat zone and 800 others in the general area.

Casualties among the several thousand Americans involved were light, Marine officials said. But a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said the Americans had suffered their heaviest losses of any single engagement of the war.

Throughout the night and into the daylight hours the Marines fought their way across the peninsula with the backing of artillery, mortars, air strikes and naval gunfire. It was in the highland area about 30 miles inland from Van Tuong that the Viet Cong staged the attack on Dak Sat.

GEMINI SHOT RESMT SATURDAY

(Continued from Page 1) have made necessary a thorough check of the computer system and its memory banks. Any such delay could have been tolerated because of the need for at least three hours of daylight for the recovery operation.

The splashdown would have come on the eighth day at approximately the same hour the spacecraft was launched.

Cooper and Conrad, wearing gleaming space suits with brightly colored American flags sewed on the sleeves, had entered the capsule at 10:42 a.m.

Their flight, if successful, would have set a space endurance record of 112 hours, enough time to fly to the moon, spend a day exploring its surface, and return to earth.

This would wipe out the space flight endurance record of 119 hours, six minutes, set June 14, 1963 by the Soviet cosmonaut, Valery Bykovsky.

Cooper and Conrad also are to attempt the first known rendezvous with another orbiting satellite—a pod to be ejected from their own spacecraft and then chased through the skies for two orbits.

Although the booster rocket stood on Pad 19 at Cape Kennedy, the final decision that the problems were not too great for a solution was made at the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Tex.

The launching originally was scheduled for 8 a.m., but a trouble developed in the fuel system before the start of the final countdown.

Liquid hydrogen being pumped into the new fuel cell system, where it mixed with liquid oxygen to produce electrons which in turn converted into electrical power, boiled off.

Brinks Guards Robbed At Chicago Factory

CHICAGO (AP)—Two guards, turned, handcuffed and disarmed two Brink's, Inc., guards in a vast, split-side printing complex Thursday night, snatching a bag containing as much as $10,000.

First reports from police said the guards had been carrying $10,000 in cash, but when they were arrested, a check of the Brink's vault revealed only $5,000.

Armored Marine Supply Column Wiped Out by Viet Cong Guerrillas in Rice Paddy Battle

By Peter Arnett

VN: 06-24-65

—The mission of U.S. Marine supply Column 21 was simple. On a beachhead, resupply a line company and return to its shorehead. It was the closest thing to a day without生气.

Only one of those objectives was fulfilled. The 30-man detachment got to the beachhead. It never found the line company. After men from the column were among U.S. casualties in the fighting south of Da Nang, two ships anchored a mile out in the bay.

The terraced paddyfields made tactical maneuvering difficult and the supply men were not trained for it. Attempting to get into good firing positions, three of the five amtraks backed into a doodlebug and bogged down.

Soon after noon, as the hot sun beat down on the scurrying figures and the steel vehicles, the Viet Cong knocked out a third amtrac. Survivors maneuvered in the other two.

The men took turns as sharpshooters on top of the vehicles. All were wounded in some degree.

The enemy bodies began piling up. In late afternoon, the airари fired the pressure. At dusk, a solitary helicopter landed at the scene. It had mistaken the landing zone.

At the bottom of the doodlebug, the Americans surged from their amtraks like moths to a flame.

Crouched, and with weapons at the ready, the Americans flipped past the bodies of their own and the enemy. They had been told to do. we have to do and we're going to do.'" The fate of supply Column 21 was sealed at noon.

The men thought the disabled vehicles might be carried off and repaired. But an officer of the relief force told them: "Take your personal belongings out of the vehicles. We are going to blow them up."

The remains of the amtraks at Van Tuong will be a reminder of supply Column 21.

The Huns took the intramural summer softball championship Wednesday night by edging the Thompson Point All-Stars 11-9.

The All-Stars led most of the way, and after the top of the fourth had built up a 9-4 lead off the Huns' pitcher, Mike Yates.

However, the Huns battled back to score two runs in their half of the fourth, one run in the fifth and then exploded for four runs in the sixth to put the game out of reach. Center fielder Jim Vincent hit a home run for the Huns' in the sixth.

Mike Kelly started the game for the All-Stars but was taken to the hospital with a base man Mike Fouss, after they collided chasing a pop-up. The first-base line.

Larry Durr then replaced Kelly and was the losing pitcher. Yates went the distance for the Huns and picked up the victory.
