Morris Accepts Budget Cuts Despite Pressing Problems

President Says ‘It’s Wise’ To Go Along With Board

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—President Delbert W. Morris said Thursday he is prepared to accept a budget cut recommended by the State Board of Higher Education.

Morris told the Illinois Budgetary Commission SIU needs more money, but can get by with less if the change was originally intended.

Morris said SIU has many pressing problems because of its rapid growth and could use all of the $95.5 million it requested. The University had about 2,500 students in the early 1960s and now has about 9,250.

Movie Industry's Salvation: Big Screen, Big Production

By Frank Messersmith

Blockbuster productions and large screen theaters have been the salvation of the movie industry, according to Boleslaw Crowther, motion picture editor of the New York Times.

Crowther, speaking at the freshman Convocations Thursday, said the widespread growth of television in the 1950s and 1960s caused a sharp drop in the movie industry, mostly thought it was on its last legs.

"The movies had to find something new," Crowther said, "and about 1952 they came along with Cinemascope.

Following the big screen, large productions dominated the industry.

Television has also brought about another change in motion pictures, that of more interesting ideas and scenes in movies, he said.

"It used to be that a love scene between a man and woman could not be filmed unless the man had one foot on the floor," Crowther continued.

Today the attitude about love scenes has changed. In fact, "Some of the sequences have such an excess of bare arms and legs flying around, I can't tell what's really going on," he said.

Since the Supreme Court in 1954 handed down the decision prohibiting censorship of movies before their release, motion pictures have moved toward films of realistic events and surroundings with definite purposes, be added.

Crowther said foreign films were the first to depict realistic concepts of life and that many of these films are excellent. "'La Dolce Vita' is probably one of the great movies of our time," he said.

With this freedom from censorship, many people are worried that all movies will become as offensive and disgraceful as "Kiss Me, Stupid," Crowther asserted.

"I don't think this will ever happen," he said.

"I hope we will live to see the day when our whole culture will be greatly enhanced by the motion picture industry," he concluded.

Ten coeds will be seeking the crown of Off-Campus Sweetheart at the annual Off-Campus Valentine Ball tonight.

The dance, in the University Center Ballrooms, will begin at 8 p.m. and last until midnight. Queen, Sweetheart and the Escorts will play the dance.

Tickets for the dance are available all day today in the Activities Office of the University Center.

Coeds seeking the title are Pam McKenzie, Roberta Von-

Driska, Mary Lupkey, Lois Pakulski, Gail Kariotis, Karen Nungesser, Ginger Macchi, Melodee McCullor, Kathy Stewart and Linda Box.

The annual dance is sponsored by the various off-campus housing units in which some 8,000 SIU students live.

Ticket Sale Slated For Ohio U. Game

Student tickets for Saturday night's basketball game with Ohio University go on sale at 9 a.m. today.

The Arena ticket office will be open from noon to 4 p.m. today and from 8:30 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Tickets will also be available for the 8 p.m. game. The adult advance ticket sale is reportedly running higher than for any game this season.

Poet Is Available For Chat Session

W.D. Snodgrass, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet, says he is very interested in talking to SIU students about poetry today. He will be available from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Morris Library lounge.

Tonight, Snodgrass will lecture and read from his prize-winning "Heart's Needle" as well as other works at Wam 308 as part of the University Center Programming Board's Creative Insights program.

Reputed as being one of the best poets of our age, Snodgrass is also an excellent reader, Randy Blunk, Snodgrass's host at SIU, says he will be available to talk to SIU in the lounge tonight.

The Snodgrass visit is being sponsored by the Department of English and by the University Center Programming Board. In honor of the occasion, limited autographed booklets of Snodgrass poetry is available at the Student Activities Office.

Book VI

And so it was that Max, being a leader of his people who had fled from the land of Egypt and was now setting out to be cured with lunch tickets from the Unauthorized Drugstore Line, but it was to be held at the Russell and Company rules whereby his people might be governed, ruled, and other nonsense. But man is a dastardly, depraved, and totally despicable being, for it was no more than a scant moment from the Lord who smote the Egyptians and put the asp ascend the Stairway to the Eternal and then they began the worship of a false idol. The students, being possessed of wild imaginations and frugging about a Golden Sally, were soon up to their chins in dough from on high, and was sorely (not to mention surely) put out (which is to say, exceeding irate). And he descended, in majestic and glorious fashion, and was met by them in a powerful and acuating manner.

In the day of repine and smote their heads against the wall, many of them being ath­letes. And Max again went up the mountain and put the asp ascend the mount to receive the Word, not knowing that this was available in Ka. But woe be to the people of Egypt! What a corrupt beast is this, groveling in the dust. They betrayed their Lord once more, and worshiped a another false God, this being "Organized." which was the first day of the week, at 4:30 by broadcast on WIN (1420), which is one of the stations of God in Egypt and is known as the 5-1-N Broadcasting Station.

And Max chastened them again by the Word of God, and they let their rod. (To make matters worse, two of them had been unfaithful to the Lord, as when they wearing their hats in the Temple of the Lord, which was the work of possible sin).

And Max ascended the Mount once again, pleading with his people to be faithful and steadfast in his efforts, and was given the Word to them, and was known as the Word of God. And Max descended and read aloud the Commandments of God and the Ten Commandments. And they are reprinted below.

I. Thou shalt have one universe among the many, and shalt disregard the fact that it is nominally 93,000,000 miles away. Thou shalt worship the One University and shalt have no other gods to their names.

II. Thou shalt honor thy Resident Fellow and House­mate, and shall not bear false witness against them.

III. Thou shalt not remember the good times of thy youth.

IV. Thou shalt not partake in adultery in unauthorized housing.

V. Thou shalt shoplift, for thou shalt surely be caught, and wilt be swelled and become great at the entrance to their resi­dence area. Permission was granted on the understanding that the TP residents would then have the flagpole around which to rally for, that (the Administration) felt displaced, to tell the least stories and such. Last week it was brought to our atten­tion by the late Professor of English, in a coalition with the ROTC, that the University of the Wealth of Kentucky, had erected a twelve foot brick pole.

"It is the interpretation of this administration that the coalition is a threat to the University," said Max, "we wish to be informed as to the reason for their action may be, the result has been a legal, my friends from the central Administration, and we are not longer allowed in the area.

"To offset this effect, and strain the University Housing by the coalition's action, the Small Group should be turned into general univer­sity housing until further notice."

A spokesman for the Southern Illinois University Housing said today that a special to foster competition had been made in response to a drop considerably and one each in Edwards­ville and St. Louis, adding that the reason we tend to feel that we are not the best for Illinois' edu­cation.

And so it was that Max, as the Poly said the appointment our enrollment figures would not exceed the other states, we had ascended the Stairway to the Eternal and the revenue of the central Administration, and we are not longer allowed in the area.

"To offset this effect, and strain the University Housing by the coalition's action, the Small Group should be turned into general univer­sity housing until further notice."

And the surprising fact that it is the interpretation of this administration that the coalition is a threat to the University, said Max, "we wish to be informed as to the reason for their action may be, the result has been a legal, my friends from the central Administration, and we are not longer allowed in the area.

Capacity Crowd Sees 'Faust'
At Monticello, Gives Ovations

EDWARDSVILLE — The SIU Opera Workshop production of "Faust" played to a capacity crowd on the Monticello College campus Wednesday night.

The more than 1,000 persons attending gave standing ovations to Marjorie Lawrence, director, and Katherine Dunham, guest choreographer.

The performance was presented for students on the Edwardsville campus, but lack of facilities required that it be staged at Monticello.

Cast members, the same who performed last weekend on the Carbondale campus, included:

Douglas Horner, Faust; Joel Thomas, Mephistopheles; Ludlow Hallman, Valentine; Jeffrey Gillam, Wagner.

Katherine Kimmell, Margaret; Judith Sablonny, Siebel; and Brenda Pinn, Martha.

The complete set had been transported from the Carbondale campus to Hathaway Hall at Monticello. Stage crews worked on the move Monday and Tuesday.

Richard Lee, adviser of the Belleville Clergymen to Speak During Universal Prayer Day

The Rev. Robert Wessemann, chancellor of Belleville Catholic diocese, will discuss "Renewal of Canon Law" at 7 p.m. Sunday in Ballroom B of the University Center.

The program is part of the Universal Day of Prayer sponsored by the Baptist Foundation, Canterbury House, General Baptist Fellowship, Christian Science Organization, Lutheran Student Association, Student Christian Foundation and Wesley Foundation.

Father Wesselmann, a native of Mascoutah, Illinois, attended St. Henry's in Belleville. He studied theology at Mundelein Seminary, Chicago, and studied in Rome for his Canon Law Degree.

Presiding minister of the evening will be Pastor Lenwood Monroe, Lutheran Student Association. Students from each of the participating groups will serve as readers.

The offering for the evening will be sent to the World Student Christian Federation, founder of the Universal Day of Prayer.

McNamara Doubts Chinese Reds Will Stage Attack in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara described the Viet Nam crisis as "grave but by no means hopeless," and expressed doubt the Red Chinese would step in with a major attack.

Despite Peking's militancy, McNamara said in a report Thursday to the House Armed Services Committee, the Red Chinese "have shown great caution when confronted with a determined display of military power."

Both Peking and Moscow, he added, can be expected to stir up as much trouble as they can "whenever and wherever they can do so safely, without a 'head-on' collision with U.S. military power."

And he made clear that he saw no alternative than for the United States to remain in South Viet Nam, supporting the government against Com­munist guerrillas. He de­scribed the war as a key to stemming Communist expan­sion not only in Asia but in other developing nations.

A Red victory in South Viet Nam, he said, would greatly increase Peking's prestige, claimad, can be expected to stir up as much trouble as they can "whenever and wherever they can do so safely, without a 'head-on' collision with U.S. military power."

If your roommate says the Bell System helped invent hi-fi, stereo and talking movies, don’t bet. You’ll lose.

In the course of their studies of the nature of sound, Bell System scientists have been able to make significant contributions to all three forms of entertainment.

You might say that it was because the discoveries were there to be discovered by the first explorers to come down the trail.

When the century was still young, we realized that if the telephone were to come up to its potential, the nature of sound had to be much better understood than it was then.

The led to the largest, most comprehensive study of sound ever undertaken by anyone.

To capture sound for study, Bell Telephone Laboratories, developed the first electronic recorder for phonograph discs.

Then, in 1925, Bell Labs perfected an electronic system that synchronized sound and action on movie film.

To get better sound reproduction, they started experimenting in 1933 with ways to separate high and low frequencies to prevent distortion.

The result was a single-groove, multi-channel disc — the basis of today’s stereophonic industry.

Nevertheless, these contributions were by-products of the real effort, which was to make telephone service better. We are proud, of course, that they helped build and improve whole industries.

But we’re prouder of the sound qualities in your hi-fi set.

If you’d like to do business or engineering work you’re really proud of, we’d like to talk to you.

Hints for Job Seekers

2 Meetings to Aid Students
In Impressing Interviewers

Two meetings designed to help students make a better impression during job interviews will be held next week. They are sponsored by the SIU Placement Service and the Division of Technical and Adult Education.

The first meeting will be 7 p.m. Tuesday and the second at 7 p.m. Thursday. Both will be in Old Main.

The major objective of this program is to familiarize the undergraduates, especially the seniors, with the various types of employment interview procedures. On Tuesday the students will be able to talk with assistant directors of the Placement Service.

Westley Sandwich, an assistant director of the Placement Service, will speak in Old Main 209 to students from VTI, the School of Technology and other students, such as mathematics majors, who might be seeking a job of a technical nature.

Herall C. Largent, assistant director of the Placement Service, will talk to students in education majors. And Robert H. Vokac, assistant director of the Placement Service, will speak to the nontechnical students in business and industry in Room 215.

Mrs. David Crawford, a graduate of Stephens College and a model for Caron Pirie Scott and Co., in Chicago, will discuss grooming and its effects on job interviews.

On Thursday Laine Neely, personnel director of Allen Industries in Herrin, and Lowell Hall, administrative services of Olin Mathison, will talk to the technical students.

Reno Casteiro, superintendent of the community school unit in Johnson City, and R. D. Hibble, superintendent of Du Quoin Township High School, will speak to the education majors.

Gola Waters, personnel director of F. H. Mallory of Du Quoin, and Marion Nash, director of purchasing and personnel of McNair Division of Phelps-Dodge of Murphysboro, will address the non-technical students.

These representatives of businesses and schools will give their ideas of what the interviewer is looking for and what he expects to see.

To Faculty Club

"Southern's International Programs" will be the topic of the Faculty Club seminar at the weekly luncheon today in the River Rooms of the University Center.

Robert Jacobs, dean of international services, will address the group.

Before joining the faculty in 1963, Jacobs was foreign service officer for the International Cooperation Administration in Thailand and Ethiopia. He also served as chief of the Far East Program Division and as chief of research and special projects in the Thai sat. Jacobs is a University of Missouri graduate and holds a master's degree in international relations.

Proprietor of Picketed Drive-In Answers Discrimination Charge

"We do not have any idea whatsoever, of negotiating with anybody, because we have nothing to negotiate."

The above statement was made by Bob Brewer, owner of the Family Fun Drive-In, which is being picketed by the Student Non-Violent Freedom Committee.

He made the statement despite having received a remark from one of the picketers that "You haven't seen anything yet."

Brewer and drive-in manager Robert Hogg presented their side of the issue in an exclusive taped interview with radio station WINI of Murphysboro.

Brewer said he had met with members of the committee several weeks ago and had cooperated with them.

"The committee and I were in complete agreement," he said of their visit.

"We wanted to cooperate until they demanded that we hire certain girls, for certain jobs, by a certain time," Brewer said.

"We do not object to hiring color," he continued. "We do object to hiring them just because they are colored."

Brewer said that since he opened the drive-in in June, he has had from three to five colored employees at all times.

When asked about his hiring practices, which had been described by a committee member as having "very definite patterns of discrimination," Brewer said:

"I won't deny that we have had 20 Negro applicants, but we have interviewed three people and they haven't come up to our qualifications. This is a personal decision," he said.

Brewer also pointed out that there is no place on the applications to indicate whether or not the applicant is colored or white.

Pair of Glasses
Found in Wham

A pair of girl's glasses with gray frames have been turned in to the Office of the Dean of the College of Education.

The glasses were found March 15 in Davis Auditorium on the first floor of the Wham Education Building.

The owner may claim them at the College of Education office.
SIU Woman Gymnasts to Participate in Clinic

The SIU women's gymnastics team travels to Green Bay, Wis., today to participate in a gymnastics clinic. The clinic is sponsored by the Green Bay City Board of Education and is geared to help promote gymnastics throughout the Green Bay area.

The SIU gymnasts will stop at the Midwest Open Meet in Milwaukee Saturday night, but Coach Herb Vogel is not certain if his team will win.

The next big meet for the women gymnasts will be March 27, when they compete in the National Collegiate Women's Gymnastics Championship meet at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri.

WANT TO SAVE MONEY ON GROCERIES?

Ours is an unusual kind of grocery store. The building is not new and modern, the fact that it looks like a warehouse is not a coincidence. Nor will you find any elaborate check out counters, but you will find the lowest food prices in Carbondale, and probably in all of Southern Illinois. Compare these prices from Hunters and another leading Carbondale grocery store.

These are NOT price leaders or sale items; they are only a sample of our many values. How can we offer such prices? Simple, when you go through our store, you will find some cans with burned labels or maybe some dented packages, but just a few. This is because we buy our food from stores that have gone out of business or had a fire. In fact, half of what we buy we throw away, what we keep is inspected by the Dept. of Agriculture for freshness and purity. And when you buy it, it is guaranteed FRESH and Pure. If it is not, just tell us about it and we will replace it or give you your money back.

SIU Trackmen To Compete In Drake Meet

Five SIU trackmen, including SIU's speedy mile relay team, will travel to Des Moines, Iowa, Saturday to compete in the Drake Invitational. The meet will serve as a warm-up for the quintet who are preparing for next week's Central Collegiate Championships at South Bend, Indiana.

The championships at Notre Dame will be one of the high points of the indoor season for Coach Lue Hartzog's squad. The Saturday meet will serve as qualification trials for the first indoor National Collegiate Athletic Association championships to be held March 12 and 13 at Detroit.

In Saturday's meet Hartzog is expected to enter only the relay team and miler Alan Ackman. But both could come up with winning performances. Especially great things are anticipated from the quartet of Robin Covern, Correll, Jerry Fendrich and Gary Case.

"They haven't anywhere reached their potential," Hartzog said this week. Bill (Cornell) can go a lot better than the 49.7 he ran last week and Fendrich hasn't anywhere reached his potential.

"They're not in shape whatsoever. How could they be? They just haven't had the chance to work out. But when they get in shape, watch out," the crew-cut coach warns.

"There're going to tear up the school record (3:13.8) something fierce ourselves.

Right now Hartzog's objective is to get the group ready for the Central Collegiate Championships. It's there that the quartet must win to have a crack at the NCAA indoor championship mile relay title.

"We won't run as good a time this week, because the Drake track is short," the Texas native said. "Whether we win is the main thing; I want them to run hard to get ready for next week."

It would take quite a performance to top last week's effort, when the quartet blazed off the nation's best time to date indoors this season, a 3:16.4, in tying for first in the Michigan State Relays.

It will also take a great performance by Ackman to finish among the leaders. The sophomore ran slightly under par last week after a pair of early season fine efforts.

The sophomore from Robinson ran for the first time as the only Southern entry as Cornell, the Chelmsford, England, distance man, will compete.

Hartzog thinks it's only a matter of time before Ackman may also break into the spotlight.

Crippled Freshman, Varsity Swimming Squads To Compete Against Each Other Saturday

SIU's crippled freshman and varsity swimming squads will forget they are friends for an hour and a half Saturday night when they take to the water as "enemies" for the third time this season.

This third renewal of the freshman-varsity inter squad meet will determine the battle or brother against brother and friend against friend. The inter squad clash will begin at 7:30 p.m. at University Pool.

Although the freshman squad in the team's first two meetings has given the varsity brothers about as much trouble as basketball teams have given the Salukis in the Arena, the result might be different Saturday night.

Five of the varsity's front runners are on the sick or injured list this week and three others will miss the meet because of other engagements.

On the sick list are sprinters Darrell Green and Tom Hutton, backstroker Bob O'Callaghan and freestyler-individual medallist Reinhard Westenrieder. Out with a leg infection is distance freestyler Thom McAneny.

Also missing will be No. 1 individual medallist Don Shaffer, veteran sprinter Mike Roberts and sophomore Howard Harris.
