Campus Campaigns Gather Speed

by Mike Nauer

Individual campaigns for the Campus Senate elections Tuesday are beginning to gain momentum.

According to Drinan, the campaigns have been carried on a low key. This week, however, the Action and Dynamic parties have released their platforms, and posters are beginning to appear around campus. Both parties agree on the basic issues of student rights in general, and the university policies on housing and vehicles in particular.

The Action Party has stated it will seek creation of a legal service to provide counsel to students charged with criminal or civil offenses. It will also try to establish student representation on the University Council.

The Dynamic Party has stated its members will work to have the social conduct rules relaxed, reestablish the University Student Senate, and expand the fraternity system.

The Action Party will attempt to create a "system whereby students may evaluate and condone contents of their courses." The party has also stated it will work tocreate a comprehensive paper "free from control of administration or faculty."

Presently, the Action Party holds 12 seats in the Senate and the Dynamic Party has four. Senate reapportionment

Senate Hears Drinan Report

Student body president Bob Drinan told the Senate Wednesday night that he and the other two Senate representatives who met with the SIU Board of Trustees last week were able to talk to the board as human beings, not as a protesting body.

In a report on the impact the three had on the board, Drinan said that he, student body vice-president Ann Bosworth and Senator Bard Crouse were able to more politely describe how this or that situation might be a bad follow-through of a good idea.

Drinan said that President Morris affirmed his intention to make student government his only channel to the student body; he would no longer deal with factions and spur groups.

The Senate announced that it will again sponsor a Saluki Special from Carbondale to Chicago for the Thanksgiving break. Trains are now scheduled to leave Carbondale at 6:35 p.m. Tuesday and at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Paul Wheeler, commuter candidate for the Senate in Tuesday's election, and Roger Schoob, east side dorm candidate, were not present when they were listed as running unofficially, announced to the senate their intention to run on the Action Party ticket.

Drinan presented a draft of the guidelines entitled "Student Housing Policies and Standards, Academic year 1965-66."

The guidelines were the result of discussions with President Morris, the Board of Trustees and Ralph W. Rutner, vice president for student and area services.

Two Hour Finals Begins This Term

The University calendar has been revised to give SIU students a nine-day vacation between Christmas and spring quarters, and a two-hour final exam schedule will begin with the end of this quarter.

The University Council met Wednesday and established guidelines for the yearly calendar. President Morris received the council's recommendations and approved them on the same day.

Under the new calendar, the winter quarter will begin on Jan. 3, 1967 and end March 18. The spring quarter will begin March 27 and finish June 10, with the summer quarter running from June 19 through Sept. 2.

Roland Keene, assistant to the president, said although the original calendar had been calculated with only a three- day break between winter and spring quarters, it was realized that a longer period was needed.

Until now, SIU has been operating under a calendar that was dated for a five-year period. Wednesday the University council established a campus calendar which will become the calendar on a year-to-year basis.

The two-hour final examination schedule will become permanent at the end of this quarter, and will apply to all courses.

Robert A. McGrath, registrar, submitted the proposal to the University Senate on Sept. 28. The Senate studied the measure and presented recommendations to the University Council on Oct. 5.

The Senate version approved

Accident Victim

Changes Hospital

Patrick Derr, the 19-year- old SIU student struck on South Main Street by a hit and run driver Nov. 10, has been transferred to a hospital near his home.

He was reported in satisfactory condition at Doctors Hospital prior to the move.

Carbondale Police, assisted by the campus security police, have not turned up any leads in the hit and run accident. The accident occurred at night on the poorly lighted street that has no sidewalks.

Gus says it is not his nature to use bad language, but he feels he should try to keep his conversation interesting, as somebody is bugging his telephone calls.

SIU Given Valuable Book; Millionth Volume Acquired

The SIU libraries now have a total of one million volumes. The millionth volume, "Das Illustrierte Mississippi Valley," was described by Ralph E. McCoy as "the most valuable single volume that has been acquired by SIU." McCoy, director of libraries for SIU, said the acquisition was made through the Friends of the Library, an organization to encourage gifts to the SIU libraries.

Das Illustrierte Mississippi Valley, translated The Illustrated Mississippi Valley, is a richly illustrated book written between 1854 and 1858 by Henry Lewis, a noted artist. It contains 79 original hand-colored lithographs which account for the book's great value.

McCoy said that only 17 copies of the book have been discovered and a maximum of 40 may be in existence. He said the volume will be kept in the Lovejoy Library at the Edwardsville campus.

The book is "in good condition," McCoy said, and the only repairs necessary will be on the spine. Formal presentation was made Tuesday by Mrs. Albert F. Kaiser representing the Friends of the Library.

Illini Seek Repeal
On Speech Curbs

Possibly the most offensive way to begin a campaign at Southern is to say "Well, they're doing it at the U. of I."

But the truth of the matter is that they are doing it at the U. of I.

At both the Champaign-Urbana campus and the Chicago Circle campus students are circulating petitions calling for the repeal of the Clabough Act.

This Illinois law bans "seditionary, subversive and un-American" speakers from talking on campus.

The Illini group, called the Committee on Academic Freedom, hopes to get signatures from 80 percent of the students and faculty. The petition will be presented to David D. Henry, president of the university.

About 200 organizations are said to be backing the move.

The petition states that "free speech must be a fundamental aspect of the learning process in any educational institution."

It seems sad that this anachronism still exists in a state with an sophisticated and advanced educational complex as Illinois.

It is not often that this law is used but the fact that it is still on the books represents a threat to both freedom of speech and academic freedom.

A few years ago, Herbert Aptheker, chief theorician for the USA Communist party, spoke at SIU.

It was no surprise that, following his speech, students did not flock to the Red banner. And no threat of immediate forceful overthrow of the government was voiced.

But, the Southern Illinois Mayors Association did raise its ineffective hand to protest.

No one paid the good mayor much attention, but they did bring to light the threat of political pressure could still be brought to limit the freedom with which a university or a group within a university can speak.

The Illinois Committee is an outgrowth of the student government.

Possibly this might be a worthwhile enterprise for our Campus Senate.

Gymnast Praises Schmitz

To the editor:

The gymnastic season will soon be underway and I will miss not being able to compete because last year was my final year of eligibility.

However, I will miss even more the having seeing Frank Schmitz perform. I have already deeply experienced his loss, for the 3 1/2 years that I knew him we grew to be the very best of friends. We were always in competition whatever we did, yet it never really mattered who won.

Probably one of the reasons that we were so close was that we understood each other so well. Whenever we we're together life was like a game that was a lot of fun to play.

That is one thing that Frank did make sure to do and that I try to work to do all the time. I can never really remember him unhappy, and in his short life of almost 21 years, Frank lived and accomplished numerous things that his parents could be very proud of.

Sometimes it is hard to understand why a person with so much talent and ambition has to be taken from this earth. I could not express in words the sympathy that I feel for his wonderful parents. It is hard to realize how much a close friend can mean until he is no longer around.

I consider myself fortunate to have had such an outstanding friend as Frank and the memories I have of him shall live in my heart forever. I will miss him very much as I know others will too. I try only to believe that he was sacrificed from this earth because he was needed in a bigger way somewhere else.

Edwardsville Housing Need Voiced

Potential enrollment at SIU Edwardsville dropped by over 800 students this fall because of lack of housing.

A report from an ACT questionnaire indicated that more than 800 students applied for admission to the Edwardsville Campus with requests for housing. As a result few if any of these students started their college education at Edwardsville because no housing was available.

The new campus of SIU at Edwardsville spans 2,600 acres of rich Mississippi Valley land. The potential of our campus is unlimited if Edwardsville is allowed to become a resident campus.

Although vast, the combined commuting areas both east and west of the Mississippi cannot provide the growing campus with enough students to fully utilize the rich estate with which SIU has been so generously endowed.

Cultural, academic and population growth of the Edwardsville Campus depends on on-campus housing.

William Hurckz, director of SIU housing at Edwardsville, said that the size and scope of fields of study are directly dependent on the size of the institution. A small college or university can not offer the many different areas of study that the young people of the country are demanding.

On-campus housing is the only answer to building up the student population at Edwardsville. Without such housing the campus will remain of minor importance and limit its students to a half education. The fate of SIU Edwardsville depends on on-campus housing.

Trib Sniping Criticized

To the editor:

Your editorial page recently reprinted a short piece from the editorial section of the Chicago Tribune which, to some extent, involves me.

I think it would be of interest to your readers to have a look at my reply to their statement. I haven't had a chance to look into our Tribune file and do not know whether my letter was ever published.

A few days ago you quoted me on your editorial page under the heading, "Ambition at SIU." While you cited me accurately, it appears, from the tenor of your article, that you did not trouble to familiarize yourself with the full text of my address to the Illinois Board of Higher Education concerning the need for dormitories on the Edwardsville SIU campus.

Disregarding your observation that we of this area are remote from Chicago—a fate we share with Rome and Jerusalem—I take issue with your interpretation of the reason for this campus.

You seem to forget, in your concern for the "taxpayers," that under present conditions we are giving the latter only half a loaf when we could and should give him a whole one. That was the gist of my presentation.

1, too, pay taxes. Furthermore, no one has disputed the importance of the University of Illinois—nor could anyone dispute the fact that the university at Champaign-Urbana is hideously overcrowded. SIU Edwardsville is a state institution of magnificent proportion, created to satisfy urgent needs.

As such, it deserves a better fate from a paper of the Tribune's standing than to be sniped at from the thickets of petty politics.

Food Store Gimmicks Trigger Second Revolution

By Arthur Hoppe
(San Francisco Chronicle)

Like many great changes in history, the Second American Revolution was triggered by a decision of the Supreme Court. Mr. Harry Cogshaw’s wife sent him to the store to buy a box of dog biscuits.

"I just want a box of giant-sized biscuits," he muttered to himself with a frown of concern. "Or a box of jumbo-sized biscuits, or some other box."

After an hour’s hunt, he finally settled for a giant-sized box of jumbo-sized biscuits and presented it to his bored young lady in a Mickey Mouse costume.

"Thank you, sir," she said, putting it in a bag. "I’ll give you the Crantz of your entire earnish—are potheads, pottothers, pottholders?"

"I just want a box of dog biscuits," he said, firmly. "Or a box of a different kind, perhaps." He mentioned the Crantz of your entire earnish—pothead, potholder, potholder?

"You’re welcome," said Mr. Cogshaw, "I just want a box of dog biscuits."

"The potheads are free today," explained the young lady. "And here’s your Purple Pleasure Stamps, your entry blank for the Fun in Des Moines sweepstakes, your Super-Extra-O Card, your Cash-on-the-Barrelhead back-page and ten free tickets to the Back Topsleeve Revolution Festival."

"All I want," said Mr. Cogshaw, "is a box of dog biscuits."

"Now I’ll just spin the Lucky Loopy-O Wheel for you," said the bored young lady.

"I don’t gamble," said Cogshaw irritably.

"Please give me the Crantz of your entire earnish—are potheads, pottothers, pottholders?"

The wheel clacked to a stop on Triple Catholical, and the voice said, "Mr. Light won one."

"Yes, you won," said the store manager, "and here’s the Crantz of your entire earnish—are potheads, pottothers, pottholders?"

"You’re welcome," said the store manager, "and here’s the Crantz of your entire earnish—are potheads, pottothers, pottholders?"

"Come, come," said the manager, "you’re feeling better."

"I am," said Mr. Cogshaw, "and here’s the Crantz of your entire earnish—are potheads, pottothers, pottholders?"

"The economy collapsed, the government fell and a new president was elected on the platform: ‘Sanity Forever—You Can’t Get Something for Nothing!’"

Mr. Cogshaw, a national hero, was released from jail and brought to the White House. His face was as pale as his name—Mickey. "Thank you," he said. "I just want a box of dog biscuits."

"No, you don’t." Mr. Cogshaw replied. "I just want a box of dog biscuits."

"All I want," said Mr. Cogshaw, "is a box of dog biscuits."

"The possibilities, of course, fairly stagger the mind."

"But we see no reason why present political leaders shouldn’t fight back against the invasion of their field by entertainers and celebrities."

"That’s true," the president said. "We need to build up our entertainment industry and make it a force to be reckoned with."

"Some kind of solution, please."

"I propose a new law that will prevent celebrities from running for office."

"That’s a good idea," the president said. "We need to keep our government in the hands of the people."

"The economy collapsed, the government fell and a new president was elected on the platform: ‘Sanity Forever—You Can’t Get Something for Nothing!’"

Spring Break, Final Exams

proved the two-hour final exam for major and minor courses only, but advised retaining the one-hour finals for all General Studies courses.
Keene stated the Senate bill was not received in time for it to be reviewed by the University Council and submitted to the Faculty Council for consideration.
Keen attributed the problem to the conflict in meeting dates of the two councils.
He said, however, the Senate proposal will be sent to the Faculty Council for consideration and that they will still be able to act on it.
The Faculty Council's decisions will have no bearing on the two-hour schedule for this quarter, Keene said.
"If they (Faculty Council) see fit to accept the Senate recommendations, it is possible the change could be effected during a later quarter," Keene said.

Proposes Opportunity Board

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, calling the military draft unfair, proposed Wednesday a national "Opportunity Board" to register youths for community service and job training as well as military training.

He said it could be tried on a voluntary basis first, and possibly be made mandatory if the voluntary approach proved to be unsatisfactory later if necessary.

Wirtz told Catholic University students they were being fitted for "a Selective Service System more humane and inequitable than any method yet tried or suggested for providing for a broad-scale national service.

In his prepared speech, he said the present draft system "almost compels, as I see it, some kind of lottery system for selection for military service."

Wirtz was the second major

Italy Raises Tax to Aid Recovery

ROME (AP) - The government Wednesday ordered a 10 percent increase in Italian income taxes to help finance recovery from floods that wrecked the economy of a third of the nation.

It was the second major emergency fiscal action taken since the floods struck towns along the Po River and central Italy on Nov. 4.

On Nov. 9, the government ordered an emergency appropriation of 47 billion lire—$23.5 million—and decreed a 10-lire a liter gasoline tax. The gasoline tax was designed to bring in $4 million. And this money was needed to prevent "a real danger of a third of the nation going down," said the government.

The government expects the new tax to raise $204 million. The increase is due to run for a year.

The new tax would raise the current daily salary in Italy today is $320 a month and the average income tax currently runs to $10 per cent. Henceforth the total proportion of the average salary will reach $352.2 a month.

The government now estimates that the cost of the floods will reach $2 billion to restore the losses inflicted the floods. Earlier unofficial estimates had ranged as high as $25 billion.

Johnson administration officials said they would oppose a draft lottery, which is opposed by the Selective Service.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in a Harvard University interview earlier this month that an involuntary lottery would help in "eliminating the deficiencies" of the present draft system.

Both Wirtz and McNamara said specific action should await the report of the Selective Service Board which is to report in January.

The commission is also considering a "broad-scale, national service program." Wirtz suggested his national "opportunity board" program be tried first on an entirely voluntary basis.

He proposed that every boy and girl register with the community at age 18, that the community have the obligation of providing every youth two years of further education, job training or a job, or a community service program, and "that it be recognized as the youth's obligation, in return, to use this opportunity."

On the possibility of making such registration compulsory, Wirtz said:

"It would be precisely those who present the most serious problems, both for themselves and for the community, who would fail to take advantage of any of the options which were offered them; and their continuing misadventures would make a new system seem not to be working even if it were in fact improving the general situation materially."

Wirtz called the unfairness of the present military draft system only part of an infinitely larger problem of providing opportunity for all American youth.

"There is as much reason, and more, to require every American youth to 'register' for living as for fighting," he said.

He told the college students: "You complain, probably in every judgment, of the unfairness of the method by which one boy out of every two is selected for some kind of military service. But is it worse than the unfairness of the way one boy or girl out of every two gets to college and the other one doesn't?"

U.S., Britain

Condemn Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - The United States and Britain joined Wednesday in condemning Israel for a large-scale military attack on three Jordanian border villages taken in reprisal for Arab sabotage raids on Israeli territory.

But Jordan at an urgent session of the U.N. Security Council, blamed the United States for rising tension in the Middle East, said condemnation was not enough and asked the council to consider punitive action against Israel.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said his country was the first to issue a statement condemning the reprisal attack immediately after learning about it.

"The United States then condemned this raid, and condemns it now, deeming it in clear violation of the solemn obligations undertaken by Israel in the general armistice agreements," he said.

"And what makes it of course most deplorable is the tragic toll in human lives of this inescusable action."

NEW YORK (AP) - A group of food manufacturers and retailers is putting the growing furor over rising food prices, defended those prices Wednesday and offered housewives little hope that the price spiral would subside.

"Food prices are up, there's nothing we can buy about it," said George W. Koch, president of the Grocery Manufacturers Association, a group that speaks for the American food industry.

"But the Farmer is not to blame - the manufacturer is not to blame - there's nothing that the man from the farm can do about it."

The major blame, he said, lies in the fact that the United States is at war.

"There's not enough cash in Washington to call for it, all practical purposes we are at war in Viet Nam. Every time this nation is at war, this nation spends more."

"Rising food prices are the result of this inflation, but they are not the cause of war.

"Koch said that farm, manufacturing, labor and inflation costs are up and those higher costs are reflected in costs to consumers.

Part of the reason, he said, is that farm exports. Food surpluses of the United States have been depleted because of the Vietnam foreign and domestic demands to the point "where supply and demand have become so taut that the price of grocers up immediately," he said.

Farmers Called 'Scrap-goops'

CHICAGO (AP) — An Illinois farmer Wednesday raised the specter of this summer's wheat harvest, the only one to say that farmers have need more of their wheat to produce the export marketing of their products to cope with "the present condition of farm prices and strikes against rising food prices."

Kenneth D. Naden of Wash­ington, executive vice president of the National Council of Farm Cooperatives, added:

"Although we can all agree that these strike and boycotts are likely to be in effect because consumers cannot strike against their need for food, the strike victory may be the kind of kicking and screaming which consumers will not accept at a fair price for their food products.

Naden told a meeting of FS Services Inc., a farm supply company.

"Low farm prices have hidden and obscured inflation in the rest of the economy for years. Consumers have had no apparent objection to rising prices for automobiles, shoes, clothing, phonograph records, medical services and everything but food."

"But once farmers began to increase their prices, and food processors and retailers added higher margins to this, we are getting a violent and emotional response."

"The food industry, and especially farmers, is being made the scapegoat for consumer irritation over general inflation."

"That's what we're experiencing now on a much larger scale. It's the old American economic law of supply and demand." Koch said the price of everything is up, and added: "But a housewife doesn't buy a car every week, she doesn't buy a new refrigerator or washer every week."

"But she does buy groceries every week and in such, much more aware that groceries are costing her more today than a couple of years ago.

And groceries are going to continue to cost her more as long as she goes on buying them. That's not a happy thought, but that's the way it is."

Koch's sentiments were echoed in a statement issued this week by eight organizations representing the nation's food manufacturers.

Oriskany Docks at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The fire-scarred attack car­rier Oriskany and her proud, weary men returned from war today, their homing sac­dened by the loss of 54 men.

Bands played and an esti­mate 3,000 wives, children and friends greened the 42,000-ton carrier as it docked under gray skies.

Forty-four men, including 23 pilots, were victims of the tragic Oct. 26 fire, evidence of which still lingers on the 24-acre island of the bay and living quarters.

Ten pilots of Carrier Air Wing 1 were last to leave the ship. This week by eight organi­zations representing the na­tion's food manufacturers.

Red Split Widening Over China

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — The split widened Wednesday in Communist ranks over the China problem while Hanoi's hard line on a Vietnamese settlement gathered more support.

Differences became more apparent as more Communist party delegations addressed a congress here of the Bul­garian Communist party.

In speeches made public so far from the closed ses­sions, seven parties lined up behind a Soviet-inspired ef­fort to hold a world Com­munist conference to seek unity in the divided Communist movement. Three opposed it and some were equivocal or ignored the subject.

"It has become the most dramatic issue of this gather­ing of Communist and leftist parties from some 70 nations."

The Kremlin wants a con­ference to establish a pro­Soviet policy line that would leave China an outcast from the world Communist move­ment. Both Moscow and Peking now denounce the other's poli­cies as deviations from true communism.

But a conference would leave no room for neutral Com­munist parties that are presently trying to use the Moscow-Peking dispute to as­sert their nationalistic in­terests. So they are opposing it, or dragging their feet."

On Viet Nam, the recent Soviet quiet line that omits any public statement of condi­tions for a peace settle­ment was countered by speeches reassuring Communist de­fenders for total victory. Delegates from Cuba, Mon­golia and North Korea voiced the hard line. And Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front caused a staunch battle cry while denouncing American peace proposals.

The contrast between the quiet line of Soviet bloc na­tions eager for peace, and Communist parties taking a tough positions had appeared earlier. 3 New Assistance Programs Available

The Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance has announced three new financial assistance programs for graduate and undergraduates.

The graduate study programs are the Henry Fellowships and the Distinguished Graduate Fellowships. The third program is the Urban Corps Student Internship Program.

According to Fred Dakak, coordinator of Student Work and Financial Assistance, two Henry Fellowships will be available for graduate study at either Oxford or Cambridge University for the 1967-1968 academic year.

The fellowships, which are for about $2,500, are available to male or female students who are single and physically fit. The choice of subject is unrestricted, provided it is within the academic programs of the university, Dakak said.

The second program is available to college seniors who will complete their degrees in either spring or summer. Applicants must be nominated by their academic departments. The Distinguished Graduate will be selected by a nationwide competition to be held at Michigan State University.

Four fellowships, each worth $12,000, will be awarded. Each student who is invited to the campus for competition in February, is guaranteed at least a half-time assistantship within the department nominating him for participation in the competition.

Although recipients will do their graduate study only at MSU, students who have at least a 4.5 overall average at any college or university are eligible. The deadline for receipt of applications by MSU is Dec. 31.

The Urban Corps Student Internship Program was originated in New York under the federal work-study program.

The program provides summer jobs for graduate and undergraduate students who are permanent residents of the New York metropolitan area, Dakak said.

During the summer of 1967, 2,000 jobs will be available to students. Besides New York residence, there is no other requirement, according to Dakak.

For further information on all three programs, interested students should see Dakak at the Student Work and Financial Assistance.

Sports hero loses girl to mild-mannered math major.

DEAR REB:

I'm a big football star, and I've found a girl who suits me to a T. But I've been blocked out of the play by a math major. He knows math from A = P · R² to E = MC². Now she says he's found the formula for success with her. All he has to do is mutter "Coronet R/T," and I get thrown for a loss. Believe me, this is no equilateral triangle that I'm in. Outside of telling me to bench myself, have you any advice?

FALLEN STAR

DEAR FALLEN STAR:

Now's the time to prune. Coronet R/T isn't his exclusive formula. Your nearby Dodge Dealer has it, too. And it comes almost as easily as the cube root of 27. Then how can the girl of your dreams resist two superstars ... you and your Coronet R/T from there on out, your math major will be the victim of diminishing returns. Huddle with your Dodge Dealer now, and get your signals straight.

And why not? Look what you'll have going for you in your Dodge Coronet R/T, convertible or two-door hardtop. All standard, too, 440-cubic-inch Magnum V8 engine. Dual exhausts. Heavy-duty brakes and suspension. High-performance Red Streak tires. And exclusive R/T grille and scoop design, full-length paint stripes, and roof, front and sides. So get with your Dodge Dealer, and your problem will solve itself.

Rules Prohibit Leaflets Without Okay

Distributing of advertising leaflets on campus is prohibited by University regulations, but the practice crops up from time to time. This week, advertising sheets were placed under windshield wipers of cars parked in the University Center lot.

"If we see them doing it, we stop them, but by this time, they have probably already passed quite a few," said Cap. Randall B. McBride of the Security Office.

McBride said that the Security Office has trouble with such incidents.

"We have in the past had trouble with a movie theater doing this, and earlier this quarter some of the dormitories tried doing it, but we stopped them," McBride said.

Dance Troupe To Present Three-Part Show Saturday

Martha Graham, dancer and dance-dramatist, and her dance company will perform on campus at 8 p.m. Saturday in Shryock Auditorium.

The company is on its first tour of the United States since 1950. In recent years the troupe has been on tour in Europe, the Near and Far East and Israel.

Three special programs have been chosen for Miss Graham's performance. They are "Embattled Garden," "Legend of Judith," and "Seraphic Dialogue." "Embattled Garden" is a comedy about the Garden of Eden. The musical score is by the Spanish composer, Carlos Surinach, and the setting is by Isamu Noguchi. "Legend of Judith" is a modern interpretation of the great Hebrew heroine of the Old Testament.

Bertram Roos, leading male dancer of the company, has the role of Holofemes, the doomed conqueror. Music for the program is by the Israeli composer, Morracel Seter. "Seraphic Dialogue" is a portrayal of the life and transfiguration of Joan of Arc.

In the program, the maid of Domremy seizes herself in three guises as the little peasant, as the sometimes faltering warrior, and as the martyr.

The setting, which is pure brass sculpture, is by Isamu Noguchi. The score is by Norman Dello-Joio, the American composer who has created the music for several of Miss Graham's works.

Tickets for the performance are on sale at the information desk at the University Center for $1, $2 and $3.

Intrasquad Gymnastics Meet Set Monday

By Bill Kindt

Southern’s national championship gymnastics team will have its first dual meet of the season Monday night in the Arena.

This meet will not have any effect on the record of the 50 straight dual meet victories achieved by the school’s previous Bill Meade’s team. No admission will be charged.

Meade said: "This will be an intrasquad affair. It will begin at 7:30 p.m., and will probably last approximately 9 p.m. Freshman and junior members of the team will challenge the sophomore and senior members.

"This meet will be pretty evenly matched. We have a great deal of material. All we have to do is to find out how much quality there is in this quantity. I will use this meet as a factor to determine who will open the season at the Mid-West Open," said Meade.

In the last two years the seniors have dominated the meet, but Meade feels that this year the juniors will dominate.

This is the first of eight home dual meets this season and we would like as many students as possible to follow us through the season," said Meade.

"We have a lot of boys who won’t make this team, but could easily make the Big Ten teams," said Meade. Meade will also use this meet as an indication of how the team is doing now as compared to the nationals last year which will do this season. Those who placed in the nationals last season and are counted on by Meade to lead the team this season are Fred Dennis, Ron Harstad, Paul Mayer, Rick Tucker and Dale Harde.

Scoring on the meet will be done on a team basis. The top three scorers in each event for each team will be added together to determine the team total. Each team total will be a perfect score for each event. The team total is 30 points with each individual scoring based on a 10-point maximum score.

We arrive for 27 points for each event. If we can score 27 points in each event then we have a good chance of winning each meet," said Meade.

The Lineups:
Senior-Juniors: Pete Hemmerling, Tucker, Larry Lindauer and Steve Whitlock.
Sidestroke: Frosh-Juniors: Steve Dennis, Ron Harstad and Mayer.
Soph.-Seniors, Lindauer, Tucker, Larry Weber and Mike Boege:
Trompette: Frosh-Juniors: Steve Alleman, Joe Dupree and Harde.

If we are prepared and performing according to the standards we have set, we shall do well," said Meade.
Area Fans to See Irish-MSU Clash

Area football fans will be able to see the Notre Dame-Michigan State game Saturday on WLS-TV, Channel 7, Peoria.

Pre-game activities will begin at noon. Following the Notre Dame-Michigan State clash will be the start of the UCLA-USC game. Air time for this game is 3:15 p.m.

The battle between the Fighting Irish and the Spartans has been billed as a dream game and it probably will determine national champions and runners-up in the 1966 NCAA football division at Kiel Auditorium for the first time. SIU Athletic Director Donald N. Logan announced that a special train with 10 coaches will be available for the trip to the Gateway City. Each coach will carry 50 persons and the round trip cost will be $6.50 per person.

The cost of student tickets for the game is just $1, and 1,500 seats have been reserved for SIU.

"As far as the action is concerned, Saluki basketball coach Jack Harman regards the Bills highly," said Harman.

Coach Buddy Brehmer will have a seven-foot center to go along with a pair of 6-4 and 6-7 forwards, both returning starters from last year.

Brehmer is high on the giant center, Rich Nielson, and feels he could become one of the best at his post. Bob Cole, last season's leading scorer, will be back for Brehmer at forward.

How will the Salukis fare against a team that already in pre-season polls is highly rated? "We go into any ball game thinking that we can win it," says Harman, "but we will have our work cut out for us against St. Louis. Right now we're more concerned with the State College of Iowa, our first opponent."

Like most coaches, Harman has the attitude of "Take 'em one at a time," something which he has done with great success as a coach at SIU.

"As far as the action is concerned, Saluki basketball coach Jack Harman regards the Bills highly," said Harman.

Coach Buddy Brehmer will have a seven-foot center to go along with a pair of 6-4 and 6-7 forwards, both returning starters from last year.

Brehmer is high on the giant center, Rich Nielson, and feels he could become one of the best at his post. Bob Cole, last season's leading scorer, will be back for Brehmer at forward.

How will the Salukis fare against a team that already in pre-season polls is highly rated? "We go into any ball game thinking that we can win it," says Harman, "but we will have our work cut out for us against St. Louis. Right now we're more concerned with the State College of Iowa, our first opponent."

Like most coaches, Harman has the attitude of "Take 'em one at a time," something which he has done with great success as a coach at SIU.
