ICAC To Investigate Athletes' Complaints

Student Council Asks
Athletic Policy Probe

The student Council quickly sent the Intercollegiate Athletics Council a package which in recent weeks has come to be known as "athletes' complaint sign-up sheet."

The move to have the ICAC handle the issue received unanimous approval when Senator George Graham moved that the ICAC consider an investigation concerning athletic policy and practice in the areas of financial aid, scholastic requirements and recruiting.

Before the athletics issue was sent to ICAC, short speeches were made by Student President Bill Fenwick, Junior Class President Gerry How and both Frank and Patrick Coniglio, wrestlers who have signed complaints.

The Coniglio brothers made it clear that they were retracted their complaints. But both said that they sought clarification of the confusion between the Intercollegiate Athletics Association scholarship and what SIU coaches refer to as a "full scholarship."

Fenwick recommended that Student Government refer the problem to the ICAC and pointed out that involvement was in the best interest of the students, welfare, and in particular the need for policy in the area of athletics.

The student president said the present parties' standings were "neither the recruiter or the prospective athlete's way clearly understands the school's policy on recruiting."

On financial aid to athletes, he said, "The present party may be unrealistic: "If this is so, then we had best revise that approach."

Fenwick called for a clear-cut policy on scholastic requirement for athletes and the establishment of procedures to see that such policy is carried out.

"Education of the individual should be our prime concern," he said.

Gerry Howe read a letter to the Council which was signed by 31 members of the 1963 track and field squad. Excerpts from the letter follow:

"We feel that accusations made against track coach Lewis Hartzog are untrue and unjust"...

"I have never done anything to us that could be considered mistreatment."

The letter continued, "In many cases, Mr. Hartzog has gone out of his way to help us with personal problems that had no connection with athletics..."

"He has taken an interest in our scholastic achievement as well as our athletic achievement."

Frank Coniglio told the Council: "I want to try to secure more rights for other athletes. I'm referring to what coaches call a full scholarship. I'd like to make sure that the confusion between an NCAA scholarship and a track scholarship is cleared up again."

Pat Coniglio said: "The only real complaint that I have is that there is usually no dis­

Religious Theme Musical Review Will Be Presented Sunday Night

"For Heaven's Sake," a religious musical, black-out revue which dramatizes the situation of the church in the Twentieth Century, will be presented at Furr Auditorium tomorrow at 7 p.m.

The play is sponsored by four religious foundations at SIU—the Student Christian Foundation, the Wesley Foundation, the Inter-Varsity Fellowship, and the Lutheran Student Association.

This revue is a cutting of the original production which was first given at the North American Ecumenical Youth Assembly in 1961, and which received nation-wide publicity in the Saturday Evening Post.

The director and one of the cast of four is the Rev. Canon Standord T. Carmichael, war- and program director of the Thompson Retreat House Foundation, the Wesley Foundation, and program director of the Thompson Retreat House and Conference Center, and Canon Missionary, Christ Church Cathedral, St. Louis.

The Rev. Canon Carmichael is the composer of "Music for the Liturgy," a jazz mass.

Included in the cast in addi- tion to the Rev. Canon Car- michael are Charles Tieman, actor-director with the George Williams Players, a continuing repertory company in St. Louis; W. James Thompson, assistant con- ductor of the Chorophilic So- ciety at SIU; and Ruth Pohl, soprano soloist, member of the Renaissance Singers, featured performer in the "Saint of Blooeker Street.

The "Dublin Story," and other operas and musical dramas, accompanied for the musical numbers will be pro- vided by a jazz trio.

The Rev. Canon Carmichael described the revue as an "experimental form in the communication of the concerns of the Christian religion in our time."

Fortune of the production in the Saturday Evening Post said the satire "... is perhaps the most effective Howker in a growing Repertoire of stage plays written or adapted for church presentation."

Evelyn E. Congdon of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat spoke equally well of the "For Heaven's Sake" pro- duction directed by the Rev. Canon Carmichael for the "pulpit's gain is the theater's lose," said Orth- wina. "It appears to be perhaps the most effective Howker in a growing Repertoire of stage plays written or adapted for church presentation."

The show is staged entirely with few props and very few numbers which occasionally startle the viewer.

Other numbers in the revue include "Caught on my Com- pens," "Frigid Queen," "I'm Nothing," "I'm Nobody, No One," and "He Took the Rap for Me.

The participating foundations will meet at the Student Christian Foundation for sup- port of the revue.

Netmen Meet Lamar On Home Courts

Seeking to dethrone Lamar Tech of one of the longest win­ ning streaks in ten-year history, Southern's netmen meet the Cardinals this afternoon in a 2 p.m. match at the University tennis courts.

Until this season, Tech had won 55 consecutive matches stretching over a period of three years. The Salukis, who have their own win streak going, as they captured their ninth straight this year against no losses by defeating Wisconsin Thursday afternoon. 9-0. SIU now posts a ten game win streak going back to last year.

The Salukis easily downed the Badgers by winning all nine matches. Coach Dick LeFevre's squad has now captured nine of its first 11 matches. Those individual matches played this year, SIU has dropped two singles matches and only one doubles match.

Lamar Tech has only brought along five men for their matches and the Salukis will capitalize by automatically taking 2 matches.

Nevertheless, the Salukis will have some rough going defeating the five men squad. John Maloney heads the list and is one of the NCAA regional singles championship last year.

Other members of the strong Tech line include Francis Rawstrone, Alfonso Ochoa, and Tim Hecker. Tech coach Bill Tipon was uncertain as to who his fifth man will be.

Baseball Team Will Try To Break 2-Game Losing Streak

SIU will try to break a two-game losing streak today with a scheduled double-header at Arkansas State in Jonesboro, Ark.

The Salukis will be out to improve their season's record from 5-3 to 7-3 with two victories.

Glenn Martin, baseball coach, has named Ed Walter and Doug Edwards as the starting pitchers for the twin bill in an attempt to get back onto the winning track.

Neither Walter nor Edwards has pitched since last Saturday when the Salukis split a double-header with Washington University (St. Louis). They were not the pitchers of record, however. Their season record still stands at one win, no losses.

Jim Long, Jerry Qualls, Ron Landreth and Gib Snyder will be expected to carry the major share of the hitting load this afternoon.

Qualls has been hitting the ball real well so far this season. Martin hopes the sophomore third baseman will continue his present streak.

Snyder, Saluki shortstop, currently is enjoying an hitting streak of the last four games. Against Central Michigan he hit safely three times in four at bats in the second game. In the first game he was credited with one base hit.
