‘Saluki Gram’ Booth Set Up

The pledges of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, have set up a booth in the Student Center to solicit names for a gigantic ‘Ugly’ Polls.

'Ugly' Polls Open Until 5; Winner Named Tonight

Who's the ugliest man on campus? Is it Donald Edison of the Student Union, Jack Schlitz of Warren Hall or Larry McDonald of Abbott Hall?

Students are still voting for their picks to the Student Union Center, Lenz Hall and the VIT in the Student Union Hall, and the winner will be announced tonight at the dance in the 1000 Student Union Room.

The contest costs a penny apiece. The funds will go to either CARE or the Cancer Drive, according to the winner's preference.

Tax Cut Proposal In Students Favor

Student workers who are hoping a passage of the tax cut bill can be comforted by the prospect of the law taking immediate effect on their paychecks.

According to Gene Turner, director of personnel, if the bill is signed by the president, withholding tax rate will go into effect on SIU paychecks as soon as possible.

Lack of Interest Blamed in PBK Rejection

SIU has been denied permission to initiate a Phi Beta Kappa chapter on campus primarily due to the lack of student interest, Henry D. pipen, chairman of the Liberal Arts and Sciences, said yesterday.

"We have not received accreditation from the national Phi Beta Kappa Society, which depends primarily on how much our undergraduate students really want it," he said.

One member of a two-man investigating team which recently visited the SIU campus said, "We were distinctly troubled when only three or four students turned up for President Morris' coffee hour which was intended to give us a chance to explore student opinion of Phi Beta Kappa and what it stands for."

Baptist Student Center Choir To Present Four Programs

Members of the Baptist Student Center choir will present four programs of sacred music this weekend.

The Chapel Singers will sing at 7:30 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church of West Frankfort.

Other engagements this weekend include a program slated for 7 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church of Carbondale, and the final program at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Llana Baptist Church of Carbondale.

Charles E. Gray directs the Chapel Singers.

The group has made two recordings and has performed at many Baptist conferences and conventions.

The choir is planning to discuss going to college, selling and buying unsprayed food.

Members of the choir are planning to attend the national convention slated for March 5-7 in St. Louis.

Students Liable For Income Tax

Jay C. Philpot, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, has sent a reminder to students that they are liable for federal income tax—especially when it comes to income tax.

Philpot reminds students that they are liable for federal income tax just like any other taxpayer. Even though a student may be listed as a dependent on his parent’s return, he will have to file a return of his income was more than $600.

Philpot said many students think they are exempt from income tax and have been disappointed when only part of the withdrawal was refunded.

Sensationalism Be Damned... Here’s the Truth about ‘The Mark’

Because “THE MARK” deals with themes that are, to say the least, touchy, we were a little reluctant to discuss it frankly. We were more than hesitant to tell the story of sensationalism and its high quality. Now, sensationalism be damned, we want to be truthful and fair to this very uncommon film.

What’s more, the story of ‘The Mark’ is about a victim of sexual deviation. You follow him through psychiatry through a sea of deviant behavior.

The story is told through frequent meetings with women—and finally the one woman who takes him across the threshold—into mankind’s words are blunt and dramatic. And the story goes, you don’t have to be a psychiatrist to understand. At the expense of a blush, or even your mother’s disapproval, do you want to make an appointment with ‘THE MARK’?

City Asks Truckers to Avoid Parking at Student Foundation

Requests from the Rev. Malcolm Gillespie, director of the Student Center Foundation, and the PTA of Winston School, prompted action in the Carbondale City Council meeting Tuesday.

In a letter to Mayor D. Blaney Miller, Gillespie said that trucks block traffic and are a sight hazard to pedestrians. The rules that go with the Carbondale merchants.

The letter asks that the truckers park in alleys adjacent to the business when at all possible. They would alleviate some of the traffic congestion and the pedestrian problem that is caused by delivery trucks parking on the streets.

Another request, made by the PTA of the Winston School on Freeman Street, asked that the city help in remedying the traffic problem around Winston.

The PTA listed a few measures that would make Freeman Street safer for children coming from and going to school.

Pappas referred the request to Virgil Baragger, police commissioner, for study and recommendation.

Library to Depict 19th Century
in 'American Heritage Room'

The newest room on campus soon will look the oldest. An "American Heritage Room," decorated and furnished in typical 19th century decor, should be opened this summer. It is being constructed on the third floor of Morris Library.

Housed in this room will be antiques such as a chest of drawers built by Thomas Lincoln, father of Abraham Lincoln, and pieces of furniture used by various national officials. Also, furnishings and Spelunkers Map Cave Passages

The SIU Spelunking Society and three other chapters of the National Speleological Society will participate in an assault on Saltpeter Cave, Monroe County, Indiana.

The SIU club will leave Friday to participate in the week-end exploration of the cave. The purpose of the exploration is to connect and map a newly discovered system of passageways in the cave. Ed Anderson and Gerry Rates of the SIU club are responsible for the discovery of the new passages.

GOP Congressional Leaders Urge Cancelling Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON--Republican congressional leaders Thursday called the U.S. wheat saler to Russia a "sorry" deal and called on President Johnson to halt it.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House minority leader, said, "The only winner has been the Soviet Union, which is exactly what many of us predicted."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP leader, declared, "The whole deal has turned into a diplomatic nightmare."

Dirksen said a long train of defeat for American foreign policy has resulted from the decision to go ahead with the sales.

He added: "It has all but destroyed our economic blockade of Cuba, a result forecast by Rep. Halleck on Oct. 2 last year when he said: 'If the Kennedy administration puts its stamp of approval on sales of wheat to the Soviet Union, how can we go to other nations to persuade other nations not to trade with Cuba in the future?"

He went on to relate these developments:

"Our ally, France, is reportedly negotiating a $10 million truck deal with Cuba. "Our ally, Spain, is negotiating for the sale of 100 fishing vessels and two freighters to Cuba."

"Our ally, Great Britain, has sold 400 buses to Cuba over our protest, and another 500 are on order. Four British airliners are being recon­ ducted for Cuba."

GOP Congressional Leaders Urge Cancelling Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON--Republican congressional leaders Thursday called the U.S. wheat saler to Russia a "sorry" deal and called on President Johnson to halt it.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House minority leader, said, "The only winner has been the Soviet Union, which is exactly what many of us predicted."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP leader, declared, "The whole deal has turned into a diplomatic nightmare."

Dirksen said a long train of defeat for American foreign policy has resulted from the decision to go ahead with the sales.

He added: "It has all but destroyed our economic blockade of Cuba, a result forecast by Rep. Halleck on Oct. 2 last year when he said: 'If the Kennedy administration puts its stamp of approval on sales of wheat to the Soviet Union, how can we go to other nations not to trade with Cuba in the future?"

He went on to relate these developments:

"Our ally, France, is reportedly negotiating a $10 million truck deal with Cuba. "Our ally, Spain, is negotiating for the sale of 100 fishing vessels and two freighters to Cuba."

"Our ally, Great Britain, has sold 400 buses to Cuba over our protest, and another 500 are on order. Four British airliners are being recon­
ducted for Cuba."

I, too, am concerned about the issue of bicycle lights. (my concern started by my getting in an accident. I wonder what a degree of safety we can reasonably expect to mean when I graduate?) 2) Aesthetically, I am concerned about the set and attitudes and values going to be influenced by my four years of college.

I agree with Mr. Shechtimer about the need for a bicycle lighting set. I have read in some papers of local authorities, some member of the City Council, that it was a good idea to light up the streets. This was brought before the City Council as a matter of concern.

A Statement of Epic Theatre

by Mordecai Gorelik

Epic Theatre is a form that was born in Germany in the 1920's and was developed there largely by Bertolt Brecht and the director Erwin Piscator. It can be described as an avant-garde and political form of theatre. In the course of developing the principles of Epic Theatre, there are important applications in contemporary society. The principles are in contrast to those currently dominant in the United States or the Soviet Union, which relies heavily upon emotionalism, romanticism, illusionism. The individualism is replaced by a collective play construction, and a magical synthesis of the elements of staging (acting, directing, sound, setting, lighting, costumes, and property use.) Epic Theatre, classical in approach, insists upon emotionalism, which is the important thing. Thought, analysis, it is analytical rather than romantic; makes use of contemporary political and scientific ideas. It requires that individual experience of history be made a part of the work, be it in narrow social or historical context; prefers the chronological approach. It offers autonomous to the various working forces of society. It is an outgrowth of this present day and it is a breakthrough to the new methods of theatre by Brecht and the Piscator. It is a way of looking at things, an aesthetic, a moral, of course, psychology, suspense -- and even a magic -- of their own.

The Senator Speaks...

To the people of SIU:

We are now in the month of February, that is the question..." I mean to be or not to be a part of the University Annexation..." I mean to be or not to be a part of the University Annexation... The question has been long been an issue of concern.

At its January 9th meeting, the State Senate session. These friends to take a policy stand following the annexation act of the University by the City. In my opinion this reflects a narrow view of the issue, an issue that is obscured by a lack of knowl­edge and understanding.

At that time, the Council members voiced reasons for not becoming a part of the City. Among them was the absurd­ity that the City would put parking meters in the student area. Another complaint was this was not a proper location and it was not convenient and the lighting poor. This is true; however, the students are in a better position to benefit from an issue that is improved by the fact that the University serves hundreds of students, all legal and illegal, using the Carbondale public transportation system. In the near future, when the streets are an­

by Fabiola

Once upon a time there was a not so handsome prince, (from the lower-middle­ dimensional social class of princes), walking his way to the great Castle of Iloka. (Seven stories and three swimming pools) It was a beautiful day and he was very happy just to be alive and have his little rubber ball as he skipped along his way.

As he entered the deepest part of the Woods, he came upon a bridge spanning a dried-up gulley. He observed that the bridge was constructed of wood planks and old copies of the National Geographic. (The prince had only wondered whatch that magazine was good for.) When he was half-way across the bridge, however, this was still the entire Woods roared:

"Stim Bob Bob,...

The prince sat down and thought about what he would do. Well, the prince certainly did not want to become a part of the City. For him, it would be a sin, a sin to want his little rubber ball taken from him, because he was a prince and he was among his most prized posses­sions...

(Will the prince be made a Troll?)

"What do you want with me?" asked the prince...

In the next chapter, the prince meets the Troll and Take your rubber ball away from you and throw it into the woods, I'm going to take you and make you as I am, a Troll.

... ((till the end of the story...))

“Let’s no doubt about it,” said Casey. “Indiana has the most fantastic collection of swimmers in the world, and we’re not about to beat them. But we love to face them and next year hope to sched-

Southern’s hopes for an in-

SIU Gymnasts Fly to Colorado
To Meet Buffaloes and Denver

Coach Bill Meade will be taking only a skeleton squad to Colorado this weekend where his undefeated Gymnasts go after their 25th and 26th straight victories against the Universities of Colorado and Denver.

Meade was not expecting any trouble from the Buffaloes at Boulder tonight who have posted a 6-3 season's record. But Denver has certainly made the Salukis aware that they have posted 24 consecutive dual meet victories over a period of three years. Confident as always, Meade simply remarked, "They (Denver) shouldn't give us too much trouble. We're up for it (the meet) besides, we'll finally have some competition."

Rusty Mitchell, Bill and Dennis Wolf, Ray Yano and Steve Pascertak were the only Salukis to depart to the Rocky Mountain state this morning, by airplane. Mitchell was the only Saluki to fly commercially while the rest of the SIU squad left from Southern Illinois Airport via a SIU plane.

High School Pupils Invited to Meeting

High school students who feel they might be interested in a career in working with gifted or handicapped children can learn much about the field of special education at a conference Feb. 29 at SIU.

The SIU Council for Exceptional Children, sponsor of the High School Student Conference in Special Education, has sent invitations to 155 high schools inviting interested students to attend.

The conference will be from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the University Center ballroom. Registration fee is $1. Those interested are asked to contact their principal, guidance counselor, or the SIU department of special education.

"I don't think we'll be giving away too much by using only five performers," said Meade. "We'll double up in a couple of spots, but they (Colorado) don't have too much."

The Buffs had two men who placed in the NCAA championships last year and both returned this year. Dick Jones, a senior and Bud Shroad on the trampoline.

Other returnees for the Buffs are co-captains Tom Jenkins, an all around performer and John Zipp, also all around. Garry Layman, a side horse specialist and Jim Ryan, free exercise and tumbling man were also good scorers from last year's 9-2 Colorado squad.

Tomorrow night's meet at Denver should draw the largest gymnastics crowd in DU history. The University of Illinois, which was clobbered by DU two weeks ago, drew 1,500 fans to the DI Arena, largest crowd up to that date.

Saluki Cagers Still Hopeful
Of Ending With 20 Victories

There's little room for error, but Southern's basketball team still has an outside chance of posting its fifth straight season of 20 or more victories after gaining its 13th -- and biggest -- win at Louisville Saturday.

However, the Salukis, who travel to Southwest Missouri tonight and to Central Missouri tomorrow night, need an invitation to the NCAA college-division tournament in order to achieve their goal.

A double victory over the Missouri teams, which seems most likely, and a win over Kentucky Wesleyan here Monday night would enable coach Jack Hartman's outfit to finish its regular season with a 9-8 record. A regional NCAA title could boost the Salukins' win total to 18 and a pair of victories in the finals at Evansville would result in duplication of last year's 20 triumphs.

Hartman feels his club has hit its peak at the proper time and is optimistic over the Salukins' chances of returning to Evansville for the third consecutive year.

"Our win at Louisville was one of the sweetest since I've been here," said Hartman, "and I feel that we're ready for anyone as long as we have Paul Henry in the lineup."

SIU tied for 18th in this week's Associated Press small-college poll, takes on the name Southwest Missouri squad that they crushed here last week, 99-65. The Salukis also defeated the Bears in the Missouri Christmas tourney. Holmes Teegarden, with 19 points and Danny Bolden with 12, were the only scorers for the Bears, who have won 11 and lost 10 here last week.

Joe Ramsey and Eldon Rig­ham were the high scorers with 18 points each for the Salukins in that one, which was the last varsity basketball game played in the Men's Gym.

The Bears are expected to use the same starting lineup with Teegarden and Bolden at the forwards, Don Carlson at center and Bunch Marshall and Dave Tucker at the guards.

Tonight's game will be aired over WHRI-FM at 7:30.
