3-29-1989

The Daily Egyptian, March 29, 1989

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_March1989
Volume 75, Issue 123

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1989 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in March 1989 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
CarleCare, the area’s health maintenance organization, will not be a health care option after June 30, 1989. In addition, the Carbondale Clinic will not renew its contract with the HMO, Dr. William Hamilton, medical director of the clinic, said.

HMOs are based on the concept of preventative medicine. Companies with employee health plans use HMOs so employees can see doctors as often as they want without a bill for the visit. HMOs have contracts with doctors to provide care for their employees. The doctors receive a percentage of their normal fee from the HMO.

Crime on campus drops since 1987

Crime reports on campus have dropped 15.1 percent in 1988, but crimes against people increased 30 percent, according to statistics released by University Police. Statistics show that University police investigated 1,681 crimes and incidents in 1988, 295 fewer than in 1987.

Crimes against people include offenses such as reckless conduct, battery, aggravated battery and sexual assault. Sex offenses and disorderly conduct, according to University police spokesman Robert Harris, are believed alcohol related and underreporting among University students has risen and probably contributed to the rise in crimes against people.

Harris said alcohol use lowers inhibitions and may cause students to “go out and do things they normally wouldn’t do” if they were sober.

Harris attributes the decrease in on-campus crime to three factors: good police work, a greater willingness by students to report crime, and cooperation between the University police department and the CarleCare crime prevention program, which provides educational programs and information to the public.

The report classifies crimes into three categories: offenses against people, property, and offenses against property.

Salvatore Jorgenson

War on Alaska oil spill being lost officials say

VALDEZ, Alaska (UPI) — The war against the largest oil spill in U.S. history was being lost Monday, with state officials losing hope of removing more than one-fifth of the crude spilled into the Cook Inlet.

“We are past the opportunity to recover much oil,” said Dennis Rebo, state commissioner of environmental conservation. “We are putting our primary emphasis on defensive measures.”

The Exxon Corp., owner of the tanker that spilled one-fifth of its 53 million-gallon cargo, conceded that it could not keep up with the wild slick and was forced to chase it around over more than 100 square miles of Prince William Sound.

This Morning

Presenting: Irv Coppol

Focus 5 — Page 18

Juggling jester set to perform

Young pitchers struggling

Sports 32

Partly sunny,

Women’s shelter gets shaky approval

COUNCILMAN Richard Morris advocated against approval.

The council requested that Eilee Speck, Good Samaritan House director, explain the reasons for the shelter’s location before the council took action.

Speck told the council Tuesday that the North University shelter was chosen because the $72,000 price tag was economically feasible, and the house is close to the Memorial Hospital of Carbondale.

In addition, the structure meets the type of living quarters desired for the women.

Dillard said he was concerned with the location of the shelter being “one of the busiest 10 blocks in town.”

Jeff Woodruff, manager for property at 304 N. University Ave., said the approval of funding for the women’s shelter “scared” him because of the possible loss in property value for neighboring houses.

“The consequences are severe,” Woodruff said.

By Jackie Spinner

The Good Samaritan House asked the City Council Monday night for an emergency shelter grant application of $32,386.

Starting in January, Mayor Neil Dillard, the council voted to approve funding for a permanent shelter for disabled women’s shelter at 304 N. University Ave.

“I still have a great deal of concern with that location,” Dillard said. “I object to the city being a party to this particular house.”

University property owner, Dillard, who is concerned with the negative impact the shelter would have on the area, although the idea for a house for disabled woman was good.

Dillard assured the council that the shelter “would not drag that neighborhood down.”

She added that the shelter plans to improve the property not destroy it.

The council approved the request as part of a special council meeting to approve the budget for the fiscal year 1989-90.
Guatemalan leader won’t negotiate with inmates

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) — President Vinicio Cerezo said Thursday his government was rejecting offers of inmates holding hundreds of women and children hostage inside Guatemala’s largest prison, but said there would be no negotiations until the inmates gave up their weapons. Cerezo, saying time was on his side, also told reporters the standoff triggered by a bloody attempted prison escape that left seven dead had not changed.

Successor to Ayatollah Khomeini quits post

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) — The designated successor of Iran’s spiritual leader Ayatollah Khomeini, resigned Tuesday in what appeared to be an intensifying power struggle among Tehran’s leaders. The announcement Tuesday of moderate Hussein Al- Montazeri by Iran’s official IRNA news agency came two days after an emergency meeting in Teheran in which Khomeini and his leaders tried to quell a wave of protests, which the state’s leader held a round of crisis talks.

Unrest in Yugoslavia leaves 21 dead

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — About 500 ethnic Albanians stormed a police station in southern Kosovo province Tuesday and were driven back by gunfire, killing a teenager and raising to 21 the death toll from six days of unrest. It was the attack on the police station in Zur, near the Yugoslav-Albanian border, came as authorities revealed two police officers and 19 rioters died within 48 hours in Yugoslavia’s worst ethnic violence since 1981.

Pentagon grounds B1-B bombers indefinitely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Strategic Air Command grounded its fleet of 49 B-1B bombers — America’s premier intercontinental nuclear aircraft — after one sustained a puncture in the cold during a preflight check, the command’s chief said Tuesday. "The Strategic Air Command has placed a precautionary stand-down of training flights of B-1 aircraft until further notice," Defense Department spokesman John Howard said.

Baseball commissioners play purchase Eckstein

MIAMI (UPI) — Outgoing baseball commissioner Peter Ueberroth is considering buying stakeholding Eastern Airlines and may make an offer to Texas Air Chairman Frank Lorenzo who has said, pilots union officials say. The owners reportedly will have the financial backing of movie mogul Kirk Kerkorian, who he has known since 1961 when Ueberroth was a partner in Kerkorian’s Trans International Airlines.

Civil suit alleges thrifts bankrolled slumlords

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A savings and loan and 158 other companies and individuals were accused Tuesday in a civil lawsuit of conspiring to maintain a permanent network of 114 buildings "for the purpose of extracting maximum profits." The suit seeks at least $1 million in civil penalties as well as punitive damages and was filed by the city attorney’s office, the Legal Aid Foundation and the public interest law firm of Litt & Gover.

200 arrested in large AIDS demonstration

NEW YORK (UPI) — An estimated 2,500 demonstrators demanding Mayor Edward Koch do more to help AIDS victims swarmed around City Hall Tuesday, startling rush-hour traffic while police herded 200 people to jail. The protesters from AIDS Task Force to Unleash Power, or ACT-UP, accused Koch’s administration of ignoring the AIDS crisis while hospitals overflow with people dying of the disease.

Soviets lose radio contact with space probe

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union lost "stable radio contact" with its driving space probe, the unmanned Phobos, possibly doomed plans to scout out landing sites for a manned expedition to the red planet, Tass said Tuesday. In an attempt to close the ambitions program, the new state last September lost contact and abandoned the first of the twin unmanned Martian probes, Phobos I, but engineers redoubled efforts to insure success of the sister probe, Phobos II, to Mars and the largest of two tiny Martian moons.

Daily Egyptian

Published daily in the Journalism and Egyptian Language Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Tuesday through Friday during summer term by Southern Illinois University, Communications Building, Carbondale, IL 62901. Second class postage paid at Carbondale, IL.

Editorial and business offices located in Communications Building, Room 200, Phone S5-3111, Web Wdg, Fax S5-3131, Wala B. Ismail, facial editor.

Subscription rates are $45 per year or $28 for six months within the United States and $115 per year or $75 for six months in all foreign countries.

Postmaster: Send change of address to Daily Egyptian, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901
China, racism focus of lecture by professors

By Doug Toole
Staff Writer

Professors from a Chinese university will speak about racism in China at 7 p.m. Friday in the Museum Auditorium.

Over the next three weeks, professors Shaoxien Liu and Xu Chao of the political science department, and Jixin Wang, political science lecturer at Northeast Normal University in Changchun, Jilin, China, will deliver a series of five lectures on China's international affairs.

The first lecture, "Tibet and the Question of China's Minorities," will deal with reports of racism toward African students attending Chinese universities.

The lecture is open to the public, and will be given in Chinese. Emeritus professor Duan Chen, who helped arrange the series, will translate the lecture.

Choo, director of the Institute of International Affairs, said he was assigned by the U.S. Information Agency to help train a group of international affairs specialists to teach political sciences in Chinese schools.
Letters

Student says Humane Shelter hasn't room: Give Dino home

Several weeks ago, the DE ran a story about a stray dog which had been wandering the SIU campus and had been taken to the local animal shelter.

Although this dog was described as being destroyed, the story had a happy ending when a kind-hearted reader stepped forward to adopt her. Most are not so lucky.

According to the Jackson County Humane Shelter, only 14 percent of the 8,000 dogs and cats brought in each year are adopted. The rest are destroyed.

Appropriately, many of these abandoned cats and dogs are abandoned by students when they leave Carbondale at the end of the semester. These students must think either that someone else will take their former pets in or that they can survive on their own.

But these animals cannot take care of themselves and a bunch of people every day produces dogs and cats that are termed “unadoptable” by the shelter.

I am writing this letter in the hope that we can save another abandoned dog. He is a stray who has been living on campus for several months. I call him Dino.

Dino is medium in size and yellow-gold in color. He has a slight limp and is shy toward people. He has not been spayed and I started to feed Dino in late January. He seems to be suffering from the cold weather and lack of food. He has been running wild in the downtown area and has perked up and is much less shy now.

Simply feeding him is not the answer though. Dino needs an owner. I already have a cat and dog with special medical needs so I cannot take him.

Frustrated and colleagues trying to find someone to adopt and care for this dog, I have been unsuccessful.

Last week I called the council chambers, and asked if I could sponsor Dino by making a donation to the shelter until someone came in to adopt him.

I was told that dogs like Dino are considered unadoptable because they have been living on their own and are not used to being around people.

Because the Humane Shelter has no room for them and they are afraid for dogs like Dino, he would be destroyed.

A veterinarian told me a dog like Dino could only be saved if someone adopted him who had time and patience to win his trust. Hopefully someone will come to sponsor Dino and adopt him. He is shy and may feel safer in a fenced-in yard.

I am appealing to anyone who has the time, patience and a safe environment to give this dog a good home. Please consider me. I am also asking that no one turn him over in Animal Control until I have had a chance to try to find him a home. To do so would mean certain death for Dino. — Lisa Rekoske, graduate student, zoology.

Opinions from elsewhere

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

By writing a letter to an accountant, the government tried to get the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold its claim that the United States is a “Christian nation,” thus legitimizing the government’s justification for criticism. Now, she says, the letter was used in a political debate. She should express more respect; she should denounce that misguided, mischievous nonsense in the strongest possible terms.

The letter from Justice Annette O’Connor, a Republican, author of a resolution adopted by Arizona Republicans Party regarding the United States as a Christian nation, is the latest in what the state has called a “attacks on the state” and it also defines the nation as “a republic based upon the absolute laws of the Bible, not democracy based on the choosing of the people.”

In her response to a request for information about the Supreme Court rulings on whether the United States is a Christian nation, Justice O’Connor cited three decisions. One, from 1862, refers to Americans as “a Christian people.” Two others, far from declaring official Christianity, instead affirm the freedom of worship that is one of this nation’s most important principles.

The idea of the United States being a Christian nation has become a code word for stirring religious-political groups whose theories are not freedom but intolerance.

When hate-inspired ideas have been championed by cohorts of such political pariahs as impeached Arizona Governor Fife Symington, they have been easily dismissed for the sake of a national principle.

But when people like Justice O’Connor and Annette O’Connor are involved, they lend the movement an air of respectability it does not possess. Because “Christian” is inevitable to the idea of race, these groups are able to use the same arguments to keep people out of a country that they would never be allowed to enter.

The court will decide whether or not this is constitutional.

On April 4 Carbondale will have its elections for the City Council and to no one’s surprise the incumbent will be the winners. Carbondale is a town gone to the dogs, but if incumbents who have been elected in any other city are involved, they lend the movement an air of respectability it does not possess. Because “Christian” is inevitable to the idea of race, these groups are able to use the same arguments to keep people out of a country that they would never be allowed to enter.

Carbondale needs a multi-use youth center, it does not need a golf course. Carbondale needs unity amongst the black population and the political system of the city, which is divided.

Carbondale does not need the “everything will be fine” attitudes of the past. A more balanced affirmative action program, it does not need a liquor advisory board with so much power, or control of those in violation.

Carbondale needs to put money where it would be most utilized, it does not need Hallie’s restaurant.

There are just a few persistent problems that fail to be solved. The Carbondale City Council agenda does not rest with the in the hands of the people in Carbondale that vote. Use your power to change the present system. — Robert Glessner, UMC student, City Hall, social work.

Student: Citizen vote can change city for better

Gun control hysteria fueled by media

"Guns banned by media" is what the headline should read the next time that a gun bill passes. The media is showing the solution to the criminal control field now. After countless editorials about guns, the public is beginning to believe them.

But who is to blame them, for when they turn on the television to watch the news, they see another edition that concludes nothing needs to be done to stop the slayings, or an impressive demonstration of an assault rifle on watermelon (yes, it exploded).

Television isn’t the only source of this obviously biased information, as shown by magazines that have had big articles on assault rifles showing statistics on handgun shootings before concluding that assault rifles should be banned because they are dangerous.

Also, newspapers whose staffs are constantly writing editorials in favor of gun control that go so far as to state “Humans are a few types of firearms does not mean Americans would lose their ‘right to bear arms’ “ tend to give the people a lep-sided view of the debate.

The media’s lack of showing the whole picture is a disturbing trend that if allowed to continue would undermine our society more than guns or the control turned over year — Andrew Clemsen, undergraduate, computer science.

Opinions from elsewhere

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

By writing a letter to an accountant, the government tried to get the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold its claim that the United States is a “Christian nation,” thus legitimizing the government’s justification for criticism. Now, she says, the letter was used in a political debate. She should express more respect; she should denounce that misguided, mischievous nonsense in the strongest possible terms.

The letter from Justice Annette O’Connor, a Republican, author of a resolution adopted by Arizona Republicans Party regarding the United States as a Christian nation, is the latest in what the state has called a “attacks on the state” and it also defines the nation as “a republic based upon the absolute laws of the Bible, not democracy based on the choosing of the people.”

In her response to a request for information about the Supreme Court rulings on whether the United States is a Christian nation, Justice O’Connor cited three decisions. One, from 1862, refers to Americans as “a Christian people.” Two others, far from declaring official Christianity, instead affirm the freedom of worship that is one of this nation’s most important principles.

The idea of the United States being a Christian nation has become a code word for stirring religious-political groups whose theories are not freedom but intolerance.

When hate-inspired ideas have been championed by cohorts of such political pariahs as impeached Arizona Governor Fife Symington, they have been easily dismissed for the sake of a national principle.

But when people like Justice O’Connor and Annette O’Connor are involved, they lend the movement an air of respectability it does not possess. Because “Christian” is inevitable to the idea of race, these groups are able to use the same arguments to keep people out of a country that they would never be allowed to enter.

The court will decide whether or not this is constitutional.

On April 4 Carbondale will have its elections for the City Council and to no one’s surprise the incumbent will be the winners. Carbondale is a town gone to the dogs, but if incumbents who have been elected in any other city are involved, they lend the movement an air of respectability it does not possess. Because “Christian” is inevitable to the idea of race, these groups are able to use the same arguments to keep people out of a country that they would never be allowed to enter.

Carbondale needs a multi-use youth center, it does not need a golf course. Carbondale needs unity amongst the black population and the political system of the city, which is divided.

Carbondale does not need the “everything will be fine” attitudes of the past. A more balanced affirmative action program, it does not need a liquor advisory board with so much power, or control of those in violation.

Carbondale needs to put money where it would be most utilized, it does not need Hallie’s restaurant.

There are just a few persistent problems that fail to be solved. The Carbondale City Council agenda does not rest with the in the hands of the people in Carbondale that vote. Use your power to change the present system. — Robert Glessner, UMC student, City Hall, social work.

Student: Citizen vote can change city for better

Gun control hysteria fueled by media

"Guns banned by media" is what the headline should read the next time that a gun bill passes. The media is showing the solution to the criminal control field now. After countless editorials about guns, the public is beginning to believe them.

But who is to blame them, for when they turn on the television to watch the news, they see another edition that concludes nothing needs to be done to stop the slayings, or an impressive demonstration of an assault rifle on watermelon (yes, it exploded).

Television isn’t the only source of this obviously biased information, as shown by magazines that have had big articles on assault rifles showing statistics on handgun shootings before concluding that assault rifles should be banned because they are dangerous.

Also, newspapers whose staffs are constantly writing editorials in favor of gun control that go so far as to state “Humans are a few types of firearms does not mean Americans would lose their ‘right to bear arms’ “ tend to give the people a lep-sided view of the debate.

The media’s lack of showing the whole picture is a disturbing trend that if allowed to continue would undermine our society more than guns or the control turned over year — Andrew Clemsen, undergraduate, computer science.

Student: Citizen vote can change city for better

Gun control hysteria fueled by media

"Guns banned by media" is what the headline should read the next time that a gun bill passes. The media is showing the solution to the criminal control field now. After countless editorials about guns, the public is beginning to believe them.

But who is to blame them, for when they turn on the television to watch the news, they see another edition that concludes nothing needs to be done to stop the slayings, or an impressive demonstration of an assault rifle on watermelon (yes, it exploded).

Television isn’t the only source of this obviously biased information, as shown by magazines that have had big articles on assault rifles showing statistics on handgun shootings before concluding that assault rifles should be banned because they are dangerous.

Also, newspapers whose staffs are constantly writing editorials in favor of gun control that go so far as to state “Humans are a few types of firearms does not mean Americans would lose their ‘right to bear arms’ “ tend to give the people a lep-sided view of the debate.

The media’s lack of showing the whole picture is a disturbing trend that if allowed to continue would undermine our society more than guns or the control turned over year — Andrew Clemsen, undergraduate, computer science.
Our feature presentation - Erv Coppi

Broadcast pioneer shares love of movies

By Wayne Wallace

It's shortly before 10 p.m., Nov. 2, 1979.

Any other night of the week, your folks would make you sit through a half hour of news before sending you to bed. But not tonight.

It's Friday, and a weekly family ritual is about to be carried out. Dad turns off all the lights in the house. Mom switches the TV to Channel 4, WSIU in Carbondale.

Your job—jump underneath a blanket or on the floor and shiver with fright at the sound of any strange noise. The suspense is unbearable.

Vincent Price takes his own sweet time bidding "a pleasant good evening" to viewers and begins his "Mystery" program on PBS, as the credits begin to roll. You're almost there.

Channel 4 gives its top-of-the-hour I.D. And finally, you see him! LARGE AS LIFE, "HOOTI-I-I" organ theme would make you sit up, listen, I'm not afraid of the dark.

WHAT BECAME a local TV phenomenon in the 1970's, not to mention a weekly tradition in households throughout the tri-state area, sprang from roots reaching back as far as the mid-1930's.

Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man (1943) stars a couple of your favorite bogeymen from Hollywood's golden age, Bela Lugosi and Lon Chaney, Jr. respectively, in the title roles.

In tonight's "Horror Night" flick, two of film's most terrifying monsters square off in a slasher in the death trap of the Royalton Theatre.

Errol Flynn, as feature cop Erv Coppi, your mild-mannered movie host, not to mention the executive producer and founder of "Horror Night" on WSIU-TV.

No Count Floyd leering out of a coffin, no Vampira slinking around some haunted house strumming cobwebs.

JUST ERV, seated comfortably atop his trademark stool, brandishing his trademark hand-held RCA microphone and looking like everyone's favorite uncle in his trademark checkered sports jacket.

Spooky costumes, ghoulish characters and cheap fog effects were never Erv's cup of tea, the 63-year-old movie buff, said.

"I wanted to be like a member of the family," Coppi, smiling fondly at the memory of his broadcasting heyday, said. "I just wanted to get up there and say, 'Hey, here's a great old film that you'll like!'"

During his eight-year reign as Southern Illinois' undisputed king of movie trivia, 1978 to 1986, Coppi personally selected every film shown on "Horror Night" as well as its spinoffs, "Horror Night," "Mystery Night" and "Comedy Theater."

In 1987 Coppi's "Movie Theater" featured more than 1,000 titles during its run, "and I lived every one of those movies," Coppi said.

"But there was something about holding your best girl's hand and realizing that for just two short hours in that musty-smelling old theater, you were in there with Bogart and helping him find that Maltese Falcon."

Erv Coppi and long-time friend Virginia Marmaduke, veteran Chicago journalist, share a laugh at a 1987 awards ceremony honoring Erv's many years of service to his fellow SIU-C employees. The team of Coppi and Marmaduke is best known to WSIU-TV viewers who tuned in to their antics on the annual "Festival" fundraisers.

Works Progress Administration.

IN DEPRESSION-era Royalton, Coppi, said the WPA often supplied odd jobs to coal miners during those summers when mine work was limited to four days a month.

"So you'd get milk bottles, beer bottles, old copper and sell it to the junk man for a nickel," he added. With the proper motivation, a

As the Royal Theater, regardless of its hard wooden seats, faulty restroom facilities (it had none) and that musty old 85 mm Simplex projector with the dim Marsh lamp, was where Erv could be found every change of program.

"I saw 'em all," he recalled. "At least I tried to catch every one that was out, and I'm glad now that I did because I have this first-hand knowledge of the old movies."

ERV'S ENTHUSIASM for film was boundless, whether he was swinging on a vine through the jungle with Wayland Weaver in "Tarzan Finds a Son" (1939), dueing with the Sheriff of Nottingham alongside swashbuckler Errol Flynn in "The Adventures of Robin Hood" (1938) or saddling up with Buck Jones and Silver—the former cowboy star and horse, respectively— to bring some desperate zeroes justice in "Buck Rogers of the 25th Century" (1938).

"Just going to a movie, I think people appreciated it more back then than we do today," Coppi opined.

"Although I love some of the great movies we have now, 'Rain Man,' I just don't believe you get that sense, that magical experience anymore.

See COPPI Page 10

Having returned from an overseas tour of duty, PFC Erv Coppi, a radio operator with the 3rd Army, (seated center), enjoys a weekend pass with buddies Bishop, Brock and Sgt. Watervalovich (left to right) in the spring of 1946 at Ft. Lewis in Washington State. Today, Erv serves as commentator of the Royalton American Legion.
Two SIU-C employees selected for internships

By Theresa Livingston
Staff Writer

Two women within the University system have been selected for administration internship positions offered by the University Women's Professional Advancement, University system, head of the standing committee, said Cheryl Farbaugh Dorkins, project coordinator of the Department of Institutional Research, and Myke Ramsey, transcribing secretary for the Career Development Center, have been selected to participate in the group's 1989-90 Administrative Internship Program, Sekaran said.

"The program is an excellent opportunity for women who have the potential to succeed in administrative positions," Sekaran said.

Activities in the internship program, which the group re-visited this year, specifically intended to enhance career development opportunities for women, according to a press release.

"This year, in a tremendous amount of untrapped talent in the women of this University. By instituting programs such as this internship, we can better utilize their skills and talents to the benefit of the entire student body by enabling them, we help ourselves," Sekaran said.

The group announced the program in late November of last year and accepted applications from qualified University employees through Feb. 13.

APPLICANTS WERE required to be civil servants, female faculty or administrative professional staff members with a minimum of five consecutive years' service to the University. In addition, the candidates had to possess academic preparation or work experience relative to the program.

THE AIP committee then screened the submissions and interviewed the top candidates, Sekaran said.

"We had 14 applicants and we invited six to interview. It was a very tough choice because most of the candidates were very good. I was surprised at the number of applicants we got," Sekaran said.

Sekaran said the committee said both women possessed unique attributes which distinguished them from the other applicants.

"We felt Cheryl has the potential to greatly contribute to database research at the University and Myke would bring very valuable skills in the area of student advisement," Sekaran said.

THE TWO candidates will split their time between their current positions and the internship program, Sekaran said.

"They will spend 50 percent of their time with their departments and 50 percent with us. Their departments will receive additional funding to hire a part-time employee to cover the work lost to the department, which will be paid by the (University) president's office," Sekaran said.

Sekaran said the exact placement of the two candidates will be decided by the committee and the department involved during July and August.

"They will sit down with more than one person (from the chosen department) to figure out career paths. We will mainly look at what the individual is most qualified to do. Once we talk to the person and we agree on the exact placement, we will then negotiate the specifics and the internships will begin next fall," Sekaran said.

"I WANT TO make sure they get management, not technical experience. They already have that information. That is why they were selected," Sekaran said.

Sekaran said a significant point in Farbaugh Dorkin's favor was her extensive educational background.

"She was trying to integrate her three degrees to help the University system. This impressed us a great deal," Sekaran said.

Farbaugh Dorkin holds a bachelor's degree in sociology, a master's degree in administration of justice and has recently completed her doctoral degree in educational psychology.

"SHE IS very enthusiastic and highly motivated, with a high energy level. We want to utilize this energy, to train her to assume leadership of the entire (University) system and to benefit from it," Sekaran said.

"I know the databases at this University and this office (institutional research). I've been on the supporting or receiving end of programs. But through this, I'd like to be on the actual planning," Farbaugh Dorkins said.

SEKARAN SAID Ramsey, who first came to the University as a student in the late '60s and later returned to work within the University system, fit the candidate description perfectly.

"She has worked her way up through the University and is a very talented person. Her skills are simply being under-utilized at her current position," Sekaran said.

Sekaran said the group would most likely place Ramsey with an academic administrative position.

"She would be very, very good on advising students," Sekaran said.

Ramsey said her career goals coincide with the plans of the internship committee.

"I hope to get into a more visible job with more administrative responsibility, hopefully for recruitment and pre-major advisement. I believe in doing the best job possible," Ramsey said.
Information, campus tours to be given at open house

By Jeanne Bickler
Staff Writer

Over four hundred prospective students and their families are expected to attend SIU-C's annual open house Saturday at the Student Center.

The open house officially starts at 8:45 a.m., but students can check in as early as 8. Deborah K. Perry, representative of new student admissions services, welcomes them.

The open house features administrative, financial aid and campus tours to high school seniors and transfer students. All of the people who will move to the Student Center until 4 p.m. to aid students who are admitted to the University. Registration for summer and fall semesters will also be possible at the Student Center.

To apply for admission, high school seniors should bring transcripts. Transfer students should bring transcripts from each college attended, and high school transcripts if they have accumulated less than 26 semester hours in college. A financial aid workshop will be offered twice for students and their families in the Student Center Auditorium at 11 a.m. or noon.

A session will be held at 12:30 p.m. in the auditorium for parents and guardians of prospective students, Perry said. This session will give parents and guardians a chance to ask questions about student life at the University.

Perry said parents are traditionally concerned with the transition students make when moving away from home for the first time. The University offers support for new students at the Student Development Center, she said. Students are mainly concerned with being undecided about a major, Perry said. In this case, the University offers the Career Development Center.

Tours of the campus are to be given every half an hour from 8 a.m. to noon. Students and their families will be given around campus on SIU buses and the SIU tour train. Campus tours will also include stops at residence halls.

Grants, cash and awards to be given

By Doug Toole
Staff Writer

The College of Education will give away $18,309.86 in scholarships and awards at its Honors Day ceremony said Jackie Bailey, chief academic adviser of the College of Education.

Bailey said the education department is giving 64 special and departmental awards at their ceremony at 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, March 29. Some of the awards are given for outstanding teaching, research and service.

The College of Education does give away major bucks, Bailey said.

Special awards include the COFED Alumni Award and the Counseling Staff Award. Other awards, such as the PTA award for a student majoring in special education, are given out by departments within the college.

Moving Box Sale

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Size</th>
<th>Reg. Price</th>
<th>Sale Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.5 cu. ft.</td>
<td>95¢</td>
<td>79¢</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 cu. ft.</td>
<td>1.49</td>
<td>1.19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.5 cu. ft.</td>
<td>1.50</td>
<td>1.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dish Barrell Box</td>
<td>2.95</td>
<td>2.39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wardrobe Box</td>
<td>7.65</td>
<td>6.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>50 ft. Rope</td>
<td>2.95</td>
<td>2.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tape 2&quot;x55 yds.</td>
<td>2.15</td>
<td>1.50</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SUPPLY LIMITED-OFFER EXPIRES APRIL, '89

RENT A RYDER TRUCK AND SAVE.

MAKE YOUR RESERVATION NOW FOR APRIL & MAY

The Best Truck Money Can Buy

E-Z RENTAL CENTER & RYDER TRUCK RENTAL

1817 W. Springfield Rd., IL 62207 or 549-4622 "RESERVE YOUR MOVING TRUCK NOW!"

FREE THESIS COPIES

Buy 4 set of your thesis, dissertation or research paper on 25% rag and receive the 5th set FREE!

KOPIES & MORE

607 S. Illinois Avenue - 529-5679

WHO'S PUSHING YOUR BUTTONS?

A video, "Calling the Shots," will be the springboard for discussion about effects of media on your drinking behavior. Learn how to untangle the messages and take control of what you think about alcohol and drinking.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29
7-9 P.M.
Macklin Room, Student Center
Part of Your SUIC Student Health Program
CRIMES, from Page 1

Accuracy Desk

Sude4stablished an accuracy desk for the Egyptian Housing Property Managers. The new property manager coordinator, Ibia information Sahki, was awaiting students and faculty of the Campus Crime

Students awaiting court date

Two University students remained in custody today following an April 11 in Jackson Hall. J. James and Mark Renninger were arrested Friday by officers of the Illinois Enforcement for their possession of cannabis.

William Capie, director of the University Police, said employees who have chosen CarleCare as their healthcare plan will have to change their coverage to Quality Health Care, provided by Equitable.

Capie said employees covered by CarleCare pay approximately $15 a month for two dependents and $5.8 for their own. Employees do not pay for the coverage unless the employee's insurance is less than $8.

Both J. James and Mark Renninger were arrested Friday by officers of the Illinois Enforcement for their possession of cannabis.

HMO, from Page 1

Hamiton said.

William Capie, director of the University Police, said employees who have chosen CarleCare as their healthcare plan will have to change their coverage to Quality Health Care, provided by Equitable.

As a part of their job benefits, employees are covered by Equitable or CarleCare, or have health insurance of their own. Employees do not pay for the coverage unless the employee's insurance is less than $8.

John said employees covered by CarleCare pay approximately $15 a month for two dependents and $5.8 for their own. Employees do not pay for the coverage unless the employee's insurance is less than $8.

Under Equitable's coverage, employees pay no monthly premium and choose their own physicians. However, employees must pay for office visits.

The clinic's announcement of its decision not to renew its contract with the HMO after eight local physicians decided not to renew their contracts with the HMO.

Eight local physicians turned down a new contract from CarleCare because it would significantly reduce the physicians' income from patients with coverage of the organization. After April 1, those physicians' patients who wish to continue to receive coverage may switch to physicians who have contracts with CarleCare.

SUI employees also can choose a second plan, "Medical Quality Care" if they come to the Personnel Office, Elizabth St. before March 31 and complete the appropriate paperwork.

Dr. Paula Bennett, Dan Baise, Frank Beyer, Bert Fachanich, William Henderson, Roger Jones, McElhenny and Michael Trooco decided not to renew their contracts with CarleCare.

Students awaiting court date

The Daily Egyptian has established an accuracy desk because of the need to provide accurate information to its readers. If readers find an error, they can call 536-3811, extension 229 or 235.

Correction:

Don Cottle is an assistant University programmer-coordinator. This information was incorrectly printed in Tuesday's Daily Egyptian.

Shirley Meyer is the property manager for Carle Property Managers. Her name was misspelled in the Daily Egyptian Housing Guide.

De establishes accuracy desk

The Daily Egyptian has established an accuracy desk because of the need to provide accurate information to its readers. If readers find an error, they can call 536-3811, extension 229 or 235.

Correction:

Don Cottle is an assistant University programmer-coordinator. This information was incorrectly printed in Tuesday's Daily Egyptian.

Shirley Meyer is the property manager for Carle Property Managers. Her name was misspelled in the Daily Egyptian Housing Guide.

De establishes accuracy desk

The Daily Egyptian has established an accuracy desk because of the need to provide accurate information to its readers. If readers find an error, they can call 536-3811, extension 229 or 235.

Correction:

Don Cottle is an assistant University programmer-coordinator. This information was incorrectly printed in Tuesday's Daily Egyptian.

Shirley Meyer is the property manager for Carle Property Managers. Her name was misspelled in the Daily Egyptian Housing Guide.

Page 2, Daily Egyptian, March 26, 1990

Pizza Subs Salads

317 North Avenue

Carbondale

Hrs: Sun.-Thurs. 11:00 AM-6:00 PM. Fri-Sat. 11:00 AM-7:00 PM

Double Calzone Special w/ FREE Butterflies Special

$6.99

Calzone Selections

Sausages, Pepperoni, Sausages, Oranges & Green Peppers

Mexican

Seasoned Ground Beef, Spicy Chorizo, Black Olives, Tomatoes & Cheese

Dinner

Pepperoni, Sausages, Oranges & Green Peppers

MOVIE SELECTIONS

Drama

1-2 Cabin Club

3-2 A Room With a View

4-2 The Way We Were

5-2 For Your Eyes Only

6-2 Fatal Attraction

7-2 Butterflies Are Free

8-2 Some Kind of Wonderful

9-2 Home

10-1 Nothing in Common

11-2 The Big Chill

12-1 Absence of Malice

13-2 Fast Times

14-2 The Last Emperor

15-2 The Buddy Holly Story

16-2 Being There

17-2 Color

18-2 Amadeus

19-2 Out of Africa

20-2 Wag The Tail

21-1 A Gentleman

22-2 I Don't Like It

23-1 Lay That Paper

Comedy

1-1 Dr. Egon

2-1 The Great Outdoors

3-1 Bull Durham

4-1 Nursery Rhymes

5-1 Scary Fingers

6-1 The Return of the Pink Panther

7-1 Spaceman

8-1 Caddyshack

9-1 Moon of Madness

10-1 Beverly Hill's Happy Days

11-1 Harry and the Hendersons

12-1 Critical Condition

13-2 Sexton

14-2 The Secret of My Success

15-2 The Golden Fleece

16-2 Road Rash

17-1 Bad Boys

18-1 Headcrash

19-1 The Hub

20-1 The Great American Alibi

21-1 Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs

22-1 The Complete Beatles

23-1 The Avalon Ballroom

24-1 The Lumberjacks

25-1 The Merry People

26-1 The Living Daylights

Free Video Membership

Delivered Monday - $3.00
2:00 am Food Purchase

Delivered Tuesday - $2.00 each and after

Due Back 6PM Next Day

$1.00 Pickup Charge $1.50 Late Charge

Call 549-6150

We Deliver Food & Video Movies

For the love of pizza

Choice

Cheese ' Champions of Four

Mushrooms •

Onions

Cheese '

Black Olives.

Mushrooms •

Onions

Cheese '

Black Olives.

Mushrooms •

Onions

Cheese '

Black Olives.

Mushrooms •

Onions

Cheese '

Black Olives.
Debate team captures 2nd place at tournament

By Marc Blumen
Staff Writer

The University's debate team increased its chances for winning its fourth consecutive national title March 19, when one of the debate teams placed second in the National Junior Division Debate Tournament.

Christopher P. Carey, junior in political science, and T.J. Wolfe, sophomore in liberal arts, qualified for the finals of the tournament, which was held in Overland Park, Kan.

Carey and Wolfe will compete with the varsity team at the national finals March 30 to April 3.

The team lost to Kansas State University in the finals. The tournament, unlike the national championships in late March, was open only for first- and second-year debaters.

Jeffrey Bile, coach of the SJU debate team, explained that this year's competition was unusual because of the disproportionate number of outstanding teams at that level. We defeated some very fine teams from some outstanding schools, and it is quite an honor to have done so well."  "Kansas State is considered one of the best sophomore teams in the country, and I think they will be a threat in our side for a number of years. The team (SJU) had not debated together for the whole season, and in all honesty were a bit of a question mark. We were really pleased to have performed as well as we did, and I think this put our team in excellent position for the national finals."  The two students will compete with the varsity team at the National Cross Examination Debate Association's national finals March 3rd to April 3rd at the University of South Carolina. The varsity team, consisting of the University's four best pairs including Carey and Wolfe, will make the trip.

Regarding the team's chances in light of the pair's success, Bile said: "The tournament was obviously very important, and the results indicate to me that we have continued to use a team approach in our preparation. We believe that this team approach has led to the overall success of the squad."

This is all you need to apply for the Card.

With Automatic Approval, it's easier to qualify while you're still in school.

Now getting the Card is easier than ever. For the very first time, students can apply for the American Express Card over the phone.

Simply call 1-800-942-AMEX. We'll take your application by phone and begin to process it right away. It couldn't be easier.

What's more, because you attend school full-time, you can also take advantage of the Automatic Approval Offer for students. With this offer, you can get the American Express Card right now with no extra paperwork. This offer is only valid for students who will graduate before 1993.

It's actually easier for you to qualify for the Card now, while you're still a student, than it ever will be again.

Become a Cardmember:
Fly Northwest $99 roundtrip.
As a student Cardmember you will be able to enjoy an extraordinary travel privilege: fly twice for only $99 roundtrip to any of the more than 860 Northwest Airlines cities in the 48 contiguous United States (only one ticket may be used per six-month period).*
And, of course, you'll also enjoy all the other exceptional benefits and personal service you would expect from American Express.

Apply now by calling 1-800-942-AMEX or stop by your student loan office, where you can really go places—for less.

Apply Now: 1-800-942-AMEX

*Fares are for roundtrip travel on Northwest Airlines. Tickets must be purchased within 24 hours after making reservations. Fares are non-refundable and no service changes may be made after purchase. Seats in this fare are limited and may not be available when you call. Travel must be completed by certificated expiration date and must be available between 121 and 180 days prior to the date of ticketing. Fares to which Northwest does not have direct nonstop service or routing. Govt. tax and surcharges not included. In the Fare Class: $375: Boston ($380), Chicago ($380) and Denver ($380).

Travel: A special northwestern ow孑d

©1989 American Express Travel Related Services Company, Inc.
AFTER a thoughtful pause, Coppi recalled, "I remember my sister and brother-in-law taking me to a marvelous theater in Herrin to see (David O.) Selznick's 'Gone With the Wind,' which advance ticket prices were $1.10. Coppi recalled.

He remembered the huge movie screen and the curtains rolled up in front of it that part when the orchestra struck up 'Tara's Theme' on the soundtrack overture.

"They even treated me to a bag of pop corns and a soda since it was my birthday," Coppi reminisced, "as the lump in his throat grew larger..."

"What a thrill this was..."

THE NEXT DAY at school, Erv was big man on campus as news quickly spread that he had attended Selznick's Civil War spectacular.

"And they said, 'Tell us about it, Erv!' So I told 'em about it, from beginning to end. Imagine me telling them this four-hour movie," he chuckled.

"I was 12 years later, Coppi sifts through a stack of newspapers on his desk.

"Here they are, he said, pointing to a recent "GTWT" which was four hours long, and a paramounter of the film's Golden Anniversary.

"Shaking his head in disapproval, he read, "Vivien Leigh and Clark Gable had a long time with Gable when they first began shooting because of a foul mouth odor caused by his dentures.

"Now what kind of trivia is that? I always stayed away from the gossip and the scandals," he pointed out, referring to his nightly greetings that opened every edition of "Movie Theater" with a smile.

IT WAS 1978, Coppi had already been with WSIU-TV five years, doubling as promotions director and the narrator-host of occasional special programs — for two positions he still holds at the station.

"WSIU had shown old movies before, but never with a host, someone that viewers could identify with each time they tuned in.

"We had tried it with some from Cambridge (department) and other anime, but what really needed was an older host, someone that would know the old movies who could give it that homely touch and appeal to people in the smaller towns," he said.

With prompting from Dave Rochelle, then director of broadcasting, Erv stepped in front of the cameras for the first time to introduce one of his all-time favorite films "Gunga Din" (1939), starring Cary Grant and Victor McLagen.

"I WOULD INTRODUCE the movie with some opening comments about the star and the director, just trivia, but no scandalizing. And I'd come back during intermission with a clip from an upcoming goal, sort of a preview of coming attractions, and then I'd come on the end again and thank everyone for watching..."

"So rather than running movies, we tried to make a show out of it, with a beginning, a middle and an end. And...it just clicked," Coppi said.

"Click it, as viewers annually plugged their support of Erv's old movies during "Festival", the public television fund-raiser. Increased viewer support always meant a better choice of films on "Movie Theater," Coppi said.

DURING THE show's heyday in the early 1980's, Saturday night showings included a double feature.

"The first feature would be a frothy, happy-go-lucky kind of a thing," he explained, ""The Jolson Story," while the second film was more serious, a music adventure or a Western.

"The Horror Night" featured more than 100 vintage horror movies, everything from the original "King Kong" (1933) and James Whale's classic "Bride of Frankenstein" (1935), starring Karloff, to such low budget efforts as "Dead Man's Eyes" (1965) and "The Fenian Ghost" (1945).

"With the success of "Horror Night" under his belt, Erv had another brainstorm.

In 1979, Erv was thumbing through a little movie pamphlet, "MCA would send us brochures," he recalled.

"And I looked in this thing and said, "Wow, these are the great old Boris Karloff-Bela Lugosi horror films. You know, the original Frankenstein and Dracula movies." It was then that the idea hit him.

"We said 'Wait a minute, kids don't have to get up and go to school the next day. Let's run these on Friday nights. So we ran the whole Universal series in chronological order. "Horror Night" featured more than 100 vintage monster movies, everything from the original "King Kong" (1933) and James Whale's classic "Bride of Frankenstein" (1935), starring Karloff, to such low budget efforts as "Dead Man's Eyes" (1965) and "The Fenian Ghost" (1945).

"With the success of "Horror Night" under his belt, Erv had another brainstorm.
SOVIETS, from Page 1

legislation presented to it by the Communist Party Central Committee.

More than 80 percent of the 195 million eligible voters took part in the elections held as the centrepiece of Gorbachev's ambitious reform drive, but the electoral system still guarantees party control.

The remaining 750 legislative seats have been allocated to the Communist Party and affiliated organizations, including the Academy of Sciences which can nominate physicist Sakharov as one of its 20 candidates.

The organizations elected their candidates on March 21, and Sakharov was not among the Academy of Sciences's nominees because the academy's ruling 43-member permanent council, refused in February to place him on the ballot despite his being supported by 60 scientific establishments.

The selection process will start over beginning with a nominating meeting by the Academy's Permanent on April 6 to endorse the candidates, and I was told Sakharov would be among those 112 scientists who might be chosen to run.

Another leading scientist, Roald Sagdeyev, who like Sakharov was spurned by the Academy's Permanent, has been under widespread popular support, and will also get another chance to get on the ballot, the source said.

Sakharov, developer of the Soviet H-bomb in the 1960's, was sent into internal exile to the city of Gorky by Leonid Brezhnev in 1980 for criticizing the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, but Gorbachev brought him back to Moscow last year.

In one of the most embarrassing election results for the party, nonvoting Politburo member and Leningrad regional party boss Yuri Solovey was failed to win a seat.

Also in Leningrad, the city party boss lost, and in Moscow the mayor failed to win a seat.

Waldin, a former junior Politburo member and a Moscow party boss who was fired for his attacks on party privileges 18 months ago, captured 86.44 percent of the votes cast in his race against the party-backed candidate, Vasily Gorkov.

Where's Friar Tuck?

Nat Belmont, a Carbondale resident and student at John A. Logan College, gets in some target practice with his compound bow.

WARNING

If you have not picked up your bike and it has been held for more than 120 days it will be sold Saturday, 4/6 at noon for repair costs plus storage.

THE RICK SUBSON
301 W. Walnut
437-9321

ABC Superstore
Over $1,000,000 worth of Used Computers & Accessories
Choice $48 each
Computers * Terminals
Word Processors * Printers
Computer Work Stations
IBM Dictaphones $28
Olivetti (Office Size) Elec. Typewriters $78
All Units Sold As Is - NO Returns

Computer Accessories
Printer leads, memory boards, tracker leads, keyboards, plus many mystery items. White Supplies Lists.

South Hwy 51
Carbondale, IL
569-2515

Come Test Thon Yourself

SPILL, from Page 1

"I want you to know we're not going to be left out of all the areas by any means," Kelso said. "We have a spill that's on the move and in some very sensitive areas."

Three large fish hatcheries getting ready to release 10,000 fry of new born salmon had become the highest priority for protection, Jack Lamb, fishermen's spokesman.

The state Department of Environmental Conservation and fishermen took charge of defending the hatchery, a significant fishing bay and several islands under attack by long tow towing spear of oil.

Officials said the slick was hitting islands and splitting up; sending oil in opposite directions around the islands until some were surrounded.

Kelso estimated 1 percent of the oild had been recovered.

HANGAR JUNGLE DOGS

SUNDAY, APRIL 2

Wednesday is PITCHER DAY at Quatro's Featuring MODENA 99¢ Pitchers from open till close with the purchase of any Medium or Large Pizza. No Limit on pitchers of any draft beer or soft drink.

Quatro's DEEP-FAN PIZZA

Page 13, Daily Egyptian, March 20, 1980
To the University Community:

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is committed to creating and maintaining a community in which students, faculty, and staff can work together in an atmosphere free of all forms of harassment, exploitation, or intimidation. Sexual harassment, like harassment on the basis of race or religion, is a form of discrimination expressly prohibited by law. It is a violation of Title VII of the federal 1964 Civil Rights Act and Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, and a civil rights violation of the Illinois Human Rights Act.

This clear and unequivocal statement is the opening paragraph of the revised University Policy on Sexual Harassment, a copy of which is enclosed.

Sexual harassment in any of its manifestations is the sworn enemy of the open society that a university is meant to be. The results of sexual harassment—the pain and humiliation, the wasted energy, the attention diverted from one's chosen activities—place a heavy burden on people and organizations, one that is particularly out of place in a community dedicated to furthering human understanding.

Every student, faculty member, and staff member must be free to work or study without the encroachment of sexual intimidation, whether it takes the form of unwanted and unwanted sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, verbal or other expressive behaviors, or physical conduct customarily understood to be of a sexual nature. It is up to each of us to reject such reprehensible behavior. We must also take the trouble to bring it to light and see that it is dealt with when it occurs.

I encourage you to read the policy carefully, to learn how it can help, and to give active support to both the letter and the spirit of the document.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
President

---

Sexual Harassment Policy
And Overview Of The Complaint Resolution Procedures

for Faculty, Administrative/Professional Staff,
Civil Service Employees, and Students

Revised 1989
Effective March 15, 1989

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY
AT CARBONDALE

University Policy On Sexual Harassment

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is committed to creating and maintaining a community in which students, faculty, and staff can work together in an atmosphere free of all forms of harassment, exploitation, or intimidation. Sexual harassment, like harassment on the basis of race or religion, is a form of discrimination expressly prohibited by law. It is a violation of Title VII of the federal 1964 Civil Rights Act and Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 and a civil rights violation of the Illinois Human Rights Act.

The University will take whatever action is necessary to prevent, stop, correct, or discipline behavior that violates this policy. Disciplinary action may include, but is not limited to, oral or written warning, reprimand, transfer, suspension, or dismissal for cause.'

Definitions and Examples

Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, verbal or other expressive behaviors, or physical conduct customarily understood to be of a sexual nature, when:

- submission, or toleration of, such conduct on or off campus is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of instruction, employment, or participation in other University activities;
- submission, or rejection of, such conduct is used as a basis for employment or for academic decisions or assessments affecting the individual's status as an employee or student; or such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's status as a student or employee or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or educational environment.

Sexual harassment may involve the behavior of a person of either sex toward a person of the opposite or the same sex. Examples of behavior that would be considered sexual harassment include, but are not limited to, the following:

- physical assailment;
- direct or implied threats that submission to sexual advances will be a condition of employment, work status, promotion, grades, or letters of recommendation;
- a pattern of conduct, annoying or humiliating in a sexual way, that includes comments of a sexual nature and/or sexually explicit statements, questions, jokes, or anecdotes;
- a pattern of conduct that would annoy or intimidate a reasonable person at whom the conduct was obviously directed. Such conduct includes, but is not limited to, gestures, facial expressions, speech, or physical contact understood to be sexual in nature or which is offensive to the individual's sense of dignity or status;
- a pattern of conduct that is intended to create an intimidating, hostile, or offensive learning or working environment.

In addition to being illegal, sexual harassment runs counter to the objectives of the University. When people feel coerced, threatened, intimidated, or otherwise pressured by others into granting sexual favors, or are singled out for derision or abuse because of their gender, their academic and work performance is liable to suffer. Such actions violate the dignity of the individual and the integrity of the University as an institution of learning. Academic freedom can exist only when non-threatening, non-coercive atmosphere of mutual respect. Sexual harassment is harmful not only to the persons involved but also to the entire University community.

Consorting Relationships

Consenting romantic and sexual relationships between a faculty member and a student or between a supervisor and an employee, while not expressly forbidden, are discouraged. Taking note of the respect and trust accorded a professor by a student and of the power exercised by the professor, a relationship between a faculty member and a student should be considered one of professional and client, in which sexual relationships are inappropriate. A similar relationship exists between a supervisor and an employee. The power differential inherent in such relationships compromises the opportunity for free choice. A faculty member or supervisor who enters into a sexual relationship with a student or an employee, where a professional power differential obviously exists, must realize that if a charge of sexual harassment is subsequently lodged, the burden will be on the faculty member or supervisor to prove immunity on grounds of mutual consent.

Relationships between a graduate student and an undergraduate, when the former supervisory responsibility, belong in this category. Among other relationships included are those between an instructor and an administrator, coach, advisor, program director, counselor, or residential staff member who has supervisory responsibility for that student or employee.

Protection of the Complainant and Others

No student, faculty member, or staff member may be subjected to any form of reprisal for seeking information on sexual harassment, filing a sexual harassment complaint, or serving as a witness in a proceeding involving a complaint of sexual harassment. Any retaliatory action will be a violation of this policy and will be grounds for disciplinary action. Individuals who believe they have been subjected to retaliation for their participation in sexual harassment complaint may use the procedures of this policy to seek redress.

Protection of the Accused

Accusations of sexual harassment are grievous and can have serious and far-reaching effects on the complainant and those of academic professionals. Allegations of sexual harassment must be made in good faith and not out of malice. Individuals who believe they have been falsely accused of sexual harassment may use the procedures of this policy to seek redress.

Responsibility of Supervisors

Supervisory personnel are charged with maintaining an atmosphere that discourages sexual harassment and ensuring that the University's policy is enforced in their areas. Supervisors are directed to discourage all behavior that might be considered sexual harassment and to respond promptly to sexual harassment complaints. University officials who knowingly condone incidents of sexual harassment or instances of reprisal for reporting such complaints will be subject to disciplinary action.

Complaint Resolution Office

The President has assigned responsibility for the administration of this policy to Personal Services and Labor Relations and has named its Executive Director as the complaint resolution officer for the University. The complain resolution officer will disseminate the policy to the University community, develop education and training programs, maintain central records of sexual harassment complaints, oversee the grievance process, coordinate the resolution of complaints, and evaluate the effectiveness of the complaint resolution procedures and related educational programs.

For further information about the sexual harassment policy and complaint resolution procedures, you may contact one of the Sexual Harassment Information Centers: Affirmative Action 536-6618; Counseling Center 452-5371; International Programs and Services 452-7574; Office of Multicultural Affairs 452-9411; Personal Services and Labor Relations 536-3369; Women's Services 452-3655; and Women's Studies 453-5141.

An individual may initiate a charge with either the Illinois Department of Human Rights and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Such a charge must be filed within 180 days of the alleged act or acts.
Juggling comedian to perform at Comedy Cellar

By Kathleen DeBo
Staff Writer

Harmless T. Jester, self-confessed "Professional Fool," will do his juggling comedy act 9 p.m. Wednesday at the Student Center Comedy Cellar. This time, he hopes not to break his nose.

Jester, who has been performing for about 15 years, said he broke his nose once, stubbed himself in the face a couple of times and set his beard on fire (all in the course of his career).

"I've juggled clubs made from light plastic with a rod through the middle. I was juggling fire and my spacing was wrong, one club hit another and the rod came down right on the bridge of my nose," he said.

JESTER SAID his nose bled and swelled up but he did not realize his nose was broken.

"I didn't even realize it was broken, I was just performing when a doctor asked me how I broke my nose," Jester said.

Jester said he burned his beard, half of one eyebrow and about one-third of his hair once during his fire-eating act.

"I was performing directly over an air-conditioning vent. The air-conditioning came on just as I was eating fire. It blew the flame toward my face. I had no time to get out of the way. The audience thought it was a stunt, wasn't too thrilled," he said.

JESTER SAID the most dangerous experience he has had because of his career was when he performed before a rock and roll show in New Mexico.

"Some bikers out there look a little like me and followed me around. I had buttons on that said, 'Being crazy is not enough' and they ripped the buttons off my vest. I made a mistake, one of the bikers poked gin down my throat," Jester said.

Jester said an audience member has only been hurt once, he was juggling clubs with a partner.

"We tried to knock a cigarette out someone's mouth. I usually put myself on the floor, but on this night we got it mixed up and he (the partner) put a juggling club into the side of the person's face. I never worked with that partner again," Jester said.

Jester said he got started in the performing business because he liked to make people laugh.

"As a kid, I changed schools three or four times a year. I discovered bullies can't beat you up if they're laughing. When I grew up, I never grew out the love of making people laugh," he said.

He got his first film role, as a stuttering vigilante, in "Pass the Ammo," a film starring Tim Curry that did not do as well in the movie theaters although it can be found in video stores, Jester said.

"I bluffed my way in. I went in to audition for a part in 'The Man and His Dream.' I knew the lady who was doing the casting. I auditioned for a role as a redneck but got the role as the vigilante," Jester said.

Jester said that filming experience was tense.

"The director looked at me one time and said 'I love your character but you're supposed to be nervous. At the moment you're supposed to be nervous. At the moment you're supposed to be nervous,'" Jester said.
BUY ONE 1 LB ROLL OR WEBBER FARM PORK SAUSAGE FOR $2.29 - GET ONE 1 LB ROLL

Free!

BOTH FOR $2.29

U.S.D.A. INSPECTED - FARM FRESH FRYER LEG QUARTERS

lb. 39¢

BUY ONE HALF GAL. OLDE FASHION RECIPE ICE CREAM FOR $3.99 - GET ONE HALF GAL...

Free!

BOTH FOR $3.99

BUY ONE 1 LB QTRS IMPERIAL MARGRAINE - GET ONE 1 LB QTRS PKG

Free!

WITH COUPON & 20¢ PURCHASE

SENIOR CITIZENS 80+ PURCHASE

PRICES GOOD THRU SATURDAY, MAY 1ST 1989. RIGHT TO LIMIT. NO SALE TO DEALERS.
A messiah, a soap opera heartthrob and a couple of star-crossed lovers will give theatergoers a fresh outlook on our society when three University playwrights debut their most recent works this weekend in the Lab Theater.

"An Evening of New Plays," the annual spring trilogy of one-act plays written and produced by students in the theater department, will be in performance Thursday through Saturday at 8 p.m., with a Sunday matinee at 1 p.m. Admission is $2.

Fred Norberg, Lynne Guido and Gretchen Smith, each pursuing a master's degree in playwriting, will see their works come to life before an audience of their peers, but the opening night plans won't be new to any of them.

Thanks to IU-U's Playwrights Workshop, Guido and Smith each have had a previous one-act play produced on campus. Norberg, meanwhile, has seen two of his one-act dramas produced by the theater department.

ALL THREE WRITERS credit Christian Moe, chairman of the theater department and creator of the workshop, as the person responsible for the fine plays and playwrights who have been submitted for this department," according to Norberg.

Guido agreed that Moe's playwriting program provides an excellent opportunity for the ingenuity and dramatic flair to have their work produced.

In fact, Smith's play, a comedy entitled "Fear Itself," was 1986's winner of the Christian H. Moe New Play Award for best one act.

"Fear Itself" is set with the dream date fantasy of a lifetime as couch potato, Floren Brosnan is cast a night on the town with soap opera sensation Joel Sinclair, who is actually just as insecure as she is.

IS SMITH herself a soap fan?

"I'm interested in them maybe as a cultural phenomenon," she answered, jokingly.

"I tried to think of a very odd situation," Smith explained, "and wondered what would happen if I put these two people together.

As a playwright, Smith enjoys bringing out the natural absurdity of life and finds that comedy is the best vehicle for her to explore "this dice game we're all a part of," she play produced for theatergoers

"We like to think we're very much in control of things, but the dice roll and you get the results of the dice," she added, referring to the predicament her characters get themselves into.

Smith, whose ultimate goal is to write for both film and stage, said she bases her stories and characters on "situations I've been in, people I know."

"As A WRITER, you can't have a narrow focus in terms of experience. You've got to have a broad outlook on life and learn as much as you can," Smith said.

"We've got a very good program here, with more opportunity to direct an stage manager," Smith said.

Directed by John M. Wengly, "Fear Itself" stars Kevin Easterwood, Stephanie Chase, Carley Currie and Amy Spies.

Mike Morris is directing Steinbe Crust and Ken Traylor in Guido's "Mr. X," (Christianity) which depicts the rise and fall of a relationship that evolves from an one-night stand.

"I have complete faith in it," Guido said. "He knows my play better than I do."

IN THIS romantic comedy, Guido said she tried to capture those all-too-human moments of embarrassment that an audience will see and say, "I've done that a hundred times.

"I think people will see a little piece of themselves in these characters," Guido added.

"Mr. X" is divided into three scenes, portraying the different stages of a sexual relationship.

"Just like a lot of young people, both characters want to be in love. Everybody wants that," Guido explained.

But they have to pick somebody to fall in that picture of the perfect mate and are let down when they fail to live up to the each other's expectations.

OF COURSE, Guido said, the couple refuses to admit that their relationship won't work, but "the relationship just doesn't work," Guido said.

According to Guido, her play doesn't hinge on some climactic event or fight between the characters. "Life isn't like that," she explained.

"The world is based on little victories and little losses. We move an inch at a time." When Norberg is at work and gets an idea on how he can improve the production of his drama "Thirty," he usually shouts the suggestion over his office wall (something he admits to doing frequently).

Since Lori Merril-Fink, the play's director, occupied office next to his, no one seems to mind.

NORBERG DESCRIBED "Thirty" as "questioning the validity of the Christian religion in the contemporary world."

Norberg said he used the book of "Dante's Inferno" as a "departure" for this allegorical tale of a mysterious, yet charismatic man who leads a group of homeless youth from the streets of Los Angeles into the desert to search for paradise.

A person in today's world would have to have tremendous faith to follow such a messiah-like character, Norberg explained, since world war and industrial revolution have led to a disillusionment of Christianity and religion in general.

But the author insists, "I'm going to let the audience make up its own mind about this man."

His play is not as gloomy as it may sound, Norberg said.

"There can be a good amount of humor in Christianity. You just can't hit people over the head for an hour. I want people to open up and laugh when they feel like it."

Like Jesus, Norberg's character, "the Man," has that extra-special glow about him which signifies his holiness. Yet, the playwright also wanted to endow the character with human qualities as well.

"We can deal with people in a realistic fashion, using humor and warmth," Norberg said.

The cast of "Thirty" includes Bob May, Heather Burtick, Micky Bunting, Gerald Murray, Paul Popp and James Raby.
FISHING TOURNAMENT

SAT., APRIL 15 8:00am - Noon
SIGN UP at the Rec. Center info desk, $2.00 sign up fee.

SPC Fine Arts & The Craft Shop
Announce
The 1989 PURCHASE AWARDS

Entries must be delivered to Student Center BALLROOM A on April 10 between 9am - 2pm. Application may be picked up in the SPC office 3rd floor Student Center. For more information call SPC at 536-3393.

RSO Booth Applications
For Springfest
Are Now Available

Deadline: April 3rd at 4:30 pm
Pick up applications in the 3rd fl. Student Center, Student Programming Office. For more information call SPC at 536-3393.

SPC Consorts Presents an Evening of Jazz with

Wynton Marsalis

Thursday, April 20,
8:00pm at Shryock Auditorium

Tickets Go On Sale!
FRIDAY, MARCH 31-8:00am
2nd Fl. Student Center, Central Ticket Office

$12.50 SIU Students w/I.D.
$14.50 General Public
All Seats Reserved
No Cameras or Recording Devices
For More Information Call SPC at 536-3393

SPC & CBS Records Presents:
Drought Relief Benefit Concert
And Album Release Party
To help Southern Illinois Farmers hurt by the drought!
FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1989
Seven hours of music beginning at 7:00pm at FRED'S DANCE BARN IN CAMBRIA, IL

* October's Child
* Jungle Dogs
* The Saloonatics
* The Reform
* From Hell
* Fuse Box
* Stoneface

$5.00 Donation at the Door
All proceeds go to the Farm Resource Center.
FREE Shuttle Bus from the Student Center to FRED'S Courtesy of Carbondale Mobile Homes.
For more information and maps call 536-3393

GET INVOLVED
WITH DROUGHT RELIEF

VOLUNTEER MEETING TODAY!!!

4:30pm SPC Office
3rd Floor
Student Center

FOR MORE INFORMATION
CONTACT TOM CORRY - CENTER PROGRAMMING 536-3393.

SPC is looking for volunteers to help at the Springfest Information Stations for one or two hours on Springfest Day.

***

FOR MORE INFORMATION OR TO SIGN UP CONTACT SUZANNE SLAS- SPC PROMOTIONS 3RD FLOOR STUDENT CENTER 536-3393

Abortion

What do you think?

Sarah Weddington

The landmark case legalizing abortion.

SUNDAY, APRIL 16 at 7:00pm
Student Center Ballroom C & D
$2.00 admission
Sponsored by SPC Expressive Arts
For more information call 536-3393.

GET INVOLVED
WITH DROUGHT RELIEF

VOLUNTEER MEETING TODAY!!!

4:30pm SPC Office
3rd Floor
Student Center

FOR MORE INFORMATION
CONTACT TOM CORRY - CENTER PROGRAMMING 536-3393.

SPC is looking for volunteers to help at the Springfest Information Stations for one or two hours on Springfest Day.

***

FOR MORE INFORMATION OR TO SIGN UP CONTACT SUZANNE SLAS- SPC PROMOTIONS 3RD FLOOR STUDENT CENTER 536-3393

Daily Egyptian, March 29, 1989, Page 17
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Bush dispatched a team of top federal officials to Alaska on Tuesday to assess damage caused by the nation's worst oil spill and determine whether a federal takeover of the clean-up effort is warranted.

"The main thing is to get it cleaned up," Bush told reporters during an Oval Office photo session, to protect the very precious environment there and to be sure that everything is being done to clean up this disaster."

Bush directed Transportation Secretary William O'Day, Environmental Protection Agency Administrator William Reilly and Coast Guard Commandant Paul Yost to fly to Alaska "to take a hard look" at the spill and clean-up operations.

Deferring any consideration of civil penalties or other legal action against Exxon, which owns the 987-foot tanker Valdez that sliced into a reef Friday and spilled about one-fifth of its 53 million-gallon cargo of oil into Prince William Sound, Bush said he would await their report before deciding on any further federal action.

"This is a matter of tremendous concern to Alaskans and everyone affected by this," he said. "The conservation side is important, the energy side is important and I'll feel much better when Sam Skinner and Bill Reilly and the admiral get a chance to report back."

One federal response Bush appeared to rule out was any change in his support for further oil exploration in Alaska, particularly in potentially rich reserves of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge.

While the disaster of the Valdez may have underscored the environmental fragility of the region, Bush indicated he considered the spill an isolated incident that should not affect drilling in Alaska.

"They've been shipping oil out here for a long time," he said, "and we've never had anything of this magnitude or of this concern. So the big thing is to correct it. I don't know how you design what appears to be the cause here. You had a ship that's out of Alaska going 12 knots and rapping the bottom out of the most modern tanker that's ever been built."

Though he said he had been told that Exxon was "making a good beginning," Bush acknowledged "there's some conflicting reports on that."

"There is an option for federalization," he said. "And then the question is: Is that the proudest way to go?"

Administration officials said a federal takeover of the cleanup operation would not change contractors' infusion of additional government money, equipment or personnel.

For example, Hart said, the Coast Guard and EPA, led agencies in the federal response, could decide to proceed with the same combination of private and government expertise that will now be used to contain and clean up the spill. Later, Exxon the owner, could be billed for the costs.

The Coast Guard, however, would have primary responsibility for oil that has leaked from the Exxon Valdez, including oil that has reached Alaska's coastlines and beaches.

Though Exxon has agreed to pay for the cleanup, the full extent of its liability for attendant environmental and economic damage remains a concern in the area of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge.

Bush told reporters before leaving the White House for Alaska on Tuesday that Exxon had not come forward with an acceptable financial plan.

"The port opened to limited traffic as of today," Transportation spokesman for Britvic Inc. stated Capt. Randi B. Peterson, spokesperson for the U.S. Coast Guard in Valdez.

Traffic was limited initially because oil tankers were being diverted around normal shipping lanes in Prince William Sound, which still were closed because of the cleanup efforts, Peterson said.

West Texas Intermediate, the benchmark U.S. crude for immediate delivery on the New York Mercantile Exchange, was down $1.92 to $22.92 a barrel around 1:30 p.m. EST.

Unleaded gasoline had dropped 1.16 cents to 86.55 cents a gallon in trading on the New York Mercantile Exchange, which had plummeted 3.05 cents to 55.55 cents a gallon.

Chuck Webster, a spokesman for British Petroleum, said in an interview with Associated Press reporters that "as long as we can move vessels in and out of Valdez, meeting those (pollution) requirements." He said the company was studying the impact the pilot restrictions would have on deliveries.

Prices began declining in response to reports the Coast Guard would begin letting tankers into Valdez, Alaska, once a time, said Jack O'Day, manager of the International Energy Futures Group of Dress Witters Reynolds in New York.

The oil tanker Exxon Valdez ran aground in Prince William Sound near Valdez海岸, Alaska, on March 14, causing a multimillion-dollar spill and a multimillion-dollar cleanup effort.
ALDI

Melts the price of frozen food.

Frozen Orange Juice Concentrate, grade A fancy, 12 oz. 89¢

Totino’s Pizza sausage, 10.6 oz. or combination, 10.5 oz. 89¢

Banquet TV Dinners turkey, salisbury steak, or chicken, 10-10.5 oz. 99¢

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Product</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Crunchy Fish Fillets</td>
<td>$1.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crunchy Fish Sticks</td>
<td>$2.49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tyson Whole Frying Chicken</td>
<td>59¢</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tyson Chicken Leg Quarters</td>
<td>49¢</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Banquet Fried Chicken</td>
<td>$2.69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Banquet Pot Pies</td>
<td>$2.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fruit Cocktail</td>
<td>$5.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whole Tomatoes</td>
<td>$3.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Imperial Margarine quarters</td>
<td>$4.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Red Grapefruit</td>
<td>$1.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Imperial Coffee</td>
<td>$2.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoover Quick-Broom Vacuum Cleaner</td>
<td>$29.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Quickie Angle Broom</td>
<td>$1.99</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Special Purchases

These are not weekly specials. These are everyday ALDI low prices.

Ramada Lane and Route 13, Carbondale, IL. Mon.-Wed. 9AM-7PM, Thurs.-Fri. 9AM-8PM, Saturday 9AM-6PM, Closed Sunday.
Meese: North tried to hide activities in scandal

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Testimony from former Attorney General Edwin Meese III showed Tuesday that Oliver North tried to hide activities in the Iran-Contra affair by claiming he was just a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.

Meese, President Reagan's attorney general from February 1981 until he left office after arranging the August 19, 1986, testify as one of the last witnesses against North and traitor prosecutor Assistant Attorney General Karl Eiken said he expected to complete the presentation to the jury by Wednesday.

The defense was expected to open its case Friday and subpoenaed Reagan as a private citizen, a move that kept the rebel forces fed and armed at a time when Congress had banned aid.
Malibu Village
Now Renting for Summer & Fall
Large Townhouses now offering summer discounts.

Hwy 51 South Malibu
12 x 14 wide, with 2 x 3 bedrooms, locked mailboxes, new painted 1989, 9 or 12 month lease, Can be Available:

Call: Debbie
529-4301
Positions for Summer and Fall 1989

Positions open to students the areas of summer and fall employment. Applications are being accepted on a first come, first served basis. Applicants must submit a letter of interest and an application form to the Office of Student Employment, 2640 Library, Department 1148, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois 62901.

Classified Sales Representatives

Sales and advertising experience preferred. Must be available to work Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Computer Adv. Layout Specialists

Must be able to work with high school diploma or equivalent. Must be available to work Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Advertising Office Assistants

Must be available to work Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Advertising Dispatch Representatives

Must be available to work Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Graphic Artists

Must be available to work Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Electronics/Computer Technicians

Must be available to work Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Application Deadline: March 31

Journalism Majors Preferred, but related majors encouraged to apply.

Pick up applications at the Communications Building, Room 1259.
the neighborhood

By Jeff MacNelly

Shoe

By Garry Trudeau

By Bill Watterson

By Berke Breathed

by Mike Peters

Today’s Puzzle

Across
1. Veal
2. A Longer
3. Comrades
10. O Holy
12. Sacrificing
13. Pins
17. Hour
18. A Big, a Big down
4. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
9. You Can’t Take Society
14. Bully
15. Kneeling
16. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
22. A Big, a Big
23. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
24. Kneeling
27. A Big, a Big
28. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
29. Kneeling
30. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
31. Kneeling
32. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
33. Kneeling
34. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
35. Kneeling
36. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
37. Kneeling
38. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
39. Kneeling
40. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
41. Kneeling
42. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
43. Kneeling
44. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
45. Kneeling
46. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
47. Kneeling
48. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
49. Kneeling
50. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
51. Kneeling
52. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
53. Kneeling
54. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
55. Kneeling
56. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
57. Kneeling
58. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
59. Kneeling
60. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
61. Kneeling
62. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
63. Kneeling
64. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
65. Kneeling
66. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
67. Kneeling
68. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
69. Kneeling
70. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
71. Kneeling
72. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
73. Kneeling
74. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
75. Kneeling
76. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
77. Kneeling
78. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
79. Kneeling
80. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
81. Kneeling
82. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
83. Kneeling
84. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
85. Kneeling
86. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
87. Kneeling
88. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
89. Kneeling
90. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
91. Kneeling
92. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
93. Kneeling
94. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
95. Kneeling
96. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
97. Kneeling
98. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin
99. Kneeling
100. A Piece of Fuzzy Lin

Puzzle answers are on Page 30.
Pete Rose affair bad for sport

By Mike Bass

Scissors Howard News Service

You’ve heard it all before. You’ve also heard the stories leading up to the day the story was broken. (Source: Doubleday when-it’s-over deals.)

It’s one of those Wake-me-when-it’s-over deals. That Rose did anything wrong. But the Pete Rose case is essential to expose or invalidate if baseball wants to retain its credibility.

The game. You would be amazed how many in the media actually long to simply cover baseball and not have to deal with this kind of story. It’s messy. It’s depressing. It’s personal. But the Pete Rose case is essential to expose or invalidate if baseball wants to retain its credibility. The games themselves remain enjoyable. The sooner, the better.

Unfortunately, it might be too late to save the spring.

Sports Analysis

what in V. Cause of Ather

Doubleday is going on. So you just throw up your arms and go back to watching “Ali” or dee-frying your income-tax forms or something, and you wait for the commissioner’s office to announce its verdict. It’s one of those Wake-me-when-it’s-over deals.

Rose has become bigger than the Reds — bigger than life, even. You’d think we’re facing the end of both the free world and unlimited salad bars. The way this story has continually been played up while dragging on. Granted, we were shocked at first by all this, and it is a highly intriguing story, but it has run its course. We want answers. The media offer clues but no proof of a crime. All the commissioner’s office offers are extensions and excuses.

Still, we don’t even know that Rose did anything wrong. All most of us have are gut feelings now about his innocence or guilt, and you can’t decide a man’s future so emotionally. A few days ago, maybe you couldn’t envision baseball without Rose because you heart said that baseball is Rose, and Rose is baseball. Now perhaps you realize that you were wrong. How can you look down upon baseball if Rose or any other participant were suspended for knowingly violating the rules and compromising the integrity of the game?

The game. You would be amazed how many in the media actually long to simply cover baseball and not have to deal with this kind of story. It’s messy. It’s depressing. It’s personal. But the Pete Rose case is essential to expose or invalidate if baseball wants to retain its credibility so that the games themselves remain enjoyable. The sooner, the better.

Unfortunately, it might be too late to save the spring.
Softball team takes 7-7 record to SEMO

Saluki lineup has four batters hitting .300 or better

By Douglas Powell

The Saluki softball team will put its 7-7 record on the line at 3 p.m. today in Cape Girardeau, Mo., as they take on Southeast Missouri State. The Salukis have four starters hitting .300 or better through the first 14 games, which includes two tournament appearances.

Combined with strong pitching performances, the Salukis' offense looks more impressive. Stipanovich has a team average of .243 while its starting catcher Gary Buckles is hitting .333, is leading the team. He has mainly functioned as a part-time catcher, providing extra playing time for his teammates.

The path to the NIT final has also been very different for the Billikens. Stipanovich pitched for us and we had a 63-game winning streak. We're just happy to play in the final.

Douglass, who went to McKinley High School in St. Louis with Gary, said, "I don't view this as the end of my career. I just want to play hard in my last game, win, hope someone notices and maybe I can go on.""}

The Billikens, meanwhile, have kept secret in the world. The Billikens, meanwhile, have had to play at New Mexico, Western Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, and St. Louis for four runs off three hits in the 11th inning to claim the victory.

St. Louis prepared for NIT battle with St. John's

"The last time I got this much attention was when I coached high school and Steve Stipanovich played for us and we had a 63-game winning streak. We're just happy to play in the final."

-Rich Grawer

"We're just happy to play in the final," said Douglass. "A crowd can't score," said Douglass, "I just want to play hard in my last game, win, hope someone notices and maybe I can go on."

A crowd can't score," St. John's Coach Lou Camesecca said, and then turned to the Billikens. "I don't think we really deserve it.

The path to the NIT final has also been very different for the Billikens. Stipanovich pitched for us and we had a 63-game winning streak. We're just happy to play in the final."

-Rich Grawer, St. Louis University coach

The Billikens, meanwhile, have had to play at New Mexico, Western Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, and St. Louis for four runs off three hits in the 11th inning to claim the victory.

St. Louis prepared for NIT battle with St. John's

"The last time I got this much attention was when I coached high school and Steve Stipanovich played for us and we had a 63-game winning streak. We're just happy to play in the final."

-Rich Grawer

"We're just happy to play in the final," said Douglass. "A crowd can't score," said Douglass, "I just want to play hard in my last game, win, hope someone notices and maybe I can go on."

The path to the NIT final has also been very different for the Billikens. Stipanovich pitched for us and we had a 63-game winning streak. We're just happy to play in the final."

-Rich Grawer, St. Louis University coach

The Billikens, meanwhile, have had to play at New Mexico, Western Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, and St. Louis for four runs off three hits in the 11th inning to claim the victory.
Masters tournament bathes Augusta in golfing spotlight

United Press International

Fifty-one weeks a year, Augusta, Ga., is your basic, diversified, mid-sized Southern community.

The nearest professional sports teams are 150 miles due west in Atlanta, home of the Braves, Falcons and Hawks, the nearest big-time college sports 100 miles northwest in Athens, Ga., home of the University of Georgia Bulldogs.

The city itself, located along the Savannah River on the Georgia-South Carolina border, shrinks in population from 66,000 in 1970 to 46,000 in 1980 although the metropolitan area, which includes parts of both states, rose 50,000 to 205,000.

Its most noteworthy industry is the nuclear plant about 10 miles down river in South Carolina, and that's been shut down since last summer for safety reasons.

But, in the world of sports, Augusta, Ga., is a shrine. It's the home of the Masters golf tournament and, next week, Masters Week, the sleepy city awakes with a roar.

But four of the last eight Masters have been won by foreigners - Seve Ballesteros of Spain in 1986 and 1987, Nick Price of Zimbabwe in 1988 and Fuzzy Zoeller of the United States in 1989.

The Masters is the last stop before the world descends on the city for the Masters, the World Golf Championships and the World Cup of Golf, which includes parts of the four former winners plus Greg Norman of Australia - has increased worldwide interest in the Masters.

Little wonder that Augusta comes alive during Masters Week. Media from throughout the world descends on the city and the number of out-of-town guests almost equals the town population.

A hotel room that would run more than $100 a night, with the "economy" package requiring only a four-night minimum.

The Masters Week, the sleepy city awakes with a roar.

Top Performance Temporary loan

Center Mario Lemieux of the Pittsburgh Penguins, with 11 points in four games, was named the NHL Performer of the Week. Although Lemieux said he plans to play this weekend, Whalers and golfer Mike Vernor of the Calgary Flames. Brad Keselowski's "Spanish" won the Channel Hanger System. The 13.3-meter sloop "Bimblegumbie" negotiated the 400 nautical miles from Hong Kong and crossed the finish line in the Philippines harbor of San Fernando in 79 hours, 26 minutes and 3 seconds.

Sand man

Sophomore Mark Bellas hits a ball out of a sandtrap at the Jackson County Country Club. The men's golf team will play in a tournament hosted by SUU-Edwards this weekend.

Golfer Greg Norman leads weekly Sony rankings

United Press International

Greg Norman of Australia, with 1,351 points, leads the world's Top-20 golfers. He is followed by Jack Nicklaus, Greg Norman leads weekly Sony rankings with 1,351 points, Greg Norman leads weekly Sony rankings with 1,351 points.
The Royals have a long-standing tradition in sports, being known for their historical success. However, a recent scandal has raised questions about the integrity of their operations.

Royals interested in getting scandal-ridden Wade Boggs

By Bob Nightengale

Kansas City Star and Times

BASEBALL CITY, Fla.

Kansas City Royals general manager John Schuerholz confirmed that the Royals have talked with the Boston Red Sox about a trade for third baseman Wade Boggs, but he declined to identify the Royals’ players involved and also described the chances of a trade as remote.

Reports have circulated that the Royals have considered sending right fielder Danny Tartabull and the left-handed pitcher  Wes Gardner. The reports also indicate that the trade might be part of a three or four-team trade involving the New York Mets and Seattle Mariners, with Tartabull being the key player.

The Mets have shown a long-standing interest in Tartabull, but Schuerholz insisted that more teams than the Red Sox were involved in the talks, including the Seattle Mariners.

Boggs, 30, has compiled a career .366 batting average in winning five of the last six American League batting titles, has been the subject of trade reports all winter in the wake of the widely reported extramural affair with Margo Adams.

Tartabull, 26, has driven in 201 runs for the Royals in the last two years, and Bannister, 33, had a 1-13 record with the Royals last season. Gardner, 27, had an 8-6 record and saved two games for the Red Sox last season.

The initial reports of the Royals being involved in a trade for Boggs was that third baseman Kevin Seitzer would be included, but because of the Mets’ interest in Tartabull, he has become prominent in the speculation.

“As good a hitter as he is,” Schuerholz said of Boggs, “I don’t think he can save 40 games. I guess what I’m saying is that it seems to me that the focus of our ballclub should be to be in the area of pitching depth, not conditional hitting.”

“I think if we make a deal that is viewed by the world as a substantial deal, that it ought to include some element of relief pitching, but I really do think it’s unlikely anything will happen.”

The likelihood of a deal also hinges on Boggs’ contract status. Boggs, who will be paid $1.75 million this season, is in the final year of his contract.

Phillips edge Chicago in 11-inning exhibition

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Ron Darling and the New York Mets’ Aguilera combined to pitch a one-hitter Tuesday against Babe Ruth for the minimum 27 batters while leading the New York Mets to a 3-0 win over the Chicago White Sox.

Darling went seven innings and gave up two hits. Aguilera hit to Dietrich James, a single leading off the sixth inning, which was the only single he allowed. No other Atlanta hitter reached base. Mookie Wilson singled in one run and Tim Teufel tripled in another when the Mets scored on a hitless batter and no other Atlanta hitter reached base.

Moose Wilson singled in one run and Tim Teufel tripled in another when the Mets scored on a hitless batter and no other Atlanta hitter reached base.

Darling started the winning hit in the hot sun and running all day at practice, but when you can’t do it anymore you realize how much you miss it. I really enjoy running more now. But with a loaded roster and a deep team, he loaded the three runs and, including an 11th-inning sacrifice fly to lift the Philadelphia Phillies over the Chicago White Sox on Tuesday.

Bullock also had a two-out batters-loaded single in the ninth to drive in two runs and the game into extra innings against Chicago reliever Bobby Thigpen, 1-12. Thigpen had lost four runs in the ninth inning and was charged with another run in the 11th after he loaded the bases.

Todd Foswirth, 2-0, was the winner, even though he allowed two runs in the ninth.

Ivan Calderon broke a 2-2 tie with a pinch-hitting Homer and Harold Baines had two runs, seven-inning double.

Rick Scioi looped a two-run double down the first base line with two out in the eighth inning to give the Mets the deciding two runs in the exhibition victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The reports also indicate that the trade might be part of a three or four-team trade involving the New York Mets and Seattle Mariners, with Tartabull being the key player.

The Mets have shown a long-standing interest in Tartabull, but Schuerholz insisted that more teams than the Red Sox were involved in the talks, including the Seattle Mariners.

Boggs, 30, has compiled a career .366 batting average in winning five of the last six American League batting titles, has been the subject of trade reports all winter in the wake of the widely reported extramural affair with Margo Adams.

Tartabull, 26, has driven in 201 runs for the Royals in the last two years, and Bannister, 33, had a 1-13 record with the Royals last season. Gardner, 27, had an 8-6 record and saved two games for the Red Sox last season.

The initial reports of the Royals being involved in a trade for Boggs was that third baseman Kevin Seitzer would be included, but because of the Mets’ interest in Tartabull, he has become prominent in the speculation.

“As good a hitter as he is,” Schuerholz said of Boggs, “I don’t think he can save 40 games. I guess what I’m saying is that it seems to me that the focus of our ballclub should be to be in the area of pitching depth, not conditional hitting.”

“I think if we make a deal that is viewed by the world as a substantial deal, that it ought to include some element of relief pitching, but I really do think it’s unlikely anything will happen.”

The likelihood of a deal also hinges on Boggs’ contract status. Boggs, who will be paid $1.75 million this season, is in the final year of his contract.

Sports Briefs

The Saluki Booster Club will hold its annual spring bucket auction at noon Thursday at the Days Inn (formerly the Ramada Inn).

Several reports from conferences will be presented and the club will be able to recruit Salukis from various Saluki teams throughout the season.

The Carbondale Sports Center’s 40th Annual Softball Complex is now taking rosters and registrations for summer fun. There will be three men’s divisions and one women’s with tournament listings for men, women and coed teams. Play will begin May 1st.

For more information call the Sports Center at 596-6800.

The 14th annual Southern Illinois Optimist Club’s Benefit Tournament will be held April 29-30 at the CTC Sports Complex at William Williams Field in Evergreen Park.

A deadlin of April 10 has been set for registration, and a minimum of 24 teams has been set for this man’s slowpitch. The bracketing features double elimination, and all proceeds go to Southern Illinois Special Olympics.

Former Saluki wrestling coach for three years is offering a free training for beginners from 2:30 to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday next week.

An intramural track and field meet will be held at 10 a.m. on April 15 at McAndrew Stadium.

The competition features 18 events and an award will be given for participation.
Illegal design on yacht leads to stripping of America's Cup

NEW YORK (UPI) -- A judge Tuesday awarded the 127-year-old America's Cup from the United States and handed it to New Zealand, disqualifying the Americans as America's Cup holder Conner's Mercury Bay despite the fact New Zealand never won it. The head of the New Zealand Boating Club, despite the fact Zealand's catamaran, which, although larger than the American yacht, was disqualified as a mono-hull, the Cup holder Conner's Mercury Bay was handed 137-year-old America's Cup.

"The court is mindful that the significance of what type of boats qualify for the race," said Justice Carmen Schuyler, one of five owners of America's Cup and when he and the other four donated the cup to the New York Yacht Club in 1857, they wrote a "Deed of Gift," spelling out in vague language what type of boats may not defend in America's Cup.

"San Diego didn't want a real race, and even when we offered to delay the race, San Diego didn't want to play the game," Fay said. "Now the judge has stood up for the integrity of the event." He said he expected the next America's Cup final race would be held off Auckland in April 1981. Fay said design work already had begun on a competing yacht to be built on lines agreed to at a meeting of potential challengers in the United States.

The San Diego Yacht Club and its organizing arm -- The America's Cup Organizing Committee -- have been planning a 1991 America's Cup in a new class of vessel with a record 20 challengers.

Lawyer claims Dallas coach cannot sue on racial charge

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- A lawyer who claims he was reassigned for racial reasons cannot sue his school district because the principal who approved the transfer to a position at another school district, upheld his view, based his decision on the school's beliefs in what the America's Cup means.

"San Diego didn't want a real race, and even when we offered to delay the race, San Diego didn't want to play the game," Fay said. "Now the judge has stood up for the integrity of the event." He said he expected the next America's Cup final race would be held off Auckland in April 1981. Fay said design work already had begun on a competing yacht to be built on lines agreed to at a meeting of potential challengers in the United States.

The San Diego Yacht Club and its organizing arm -- The America's Cup Organizing Committee -- have been planning a 1991 America's Cup in a new class of vessel with a record 20 challengers.

BATTLE, from Page 36

(36), and stolen bases (9).

Defensively, the Salukis have a team fielding percentage of .946, with 36 errors in 417 chances to date. The Salukis have a solid double play with seven double plays on the season.

A continuation of that kind of play will be necessary against Austin Peay, which is 8-11-1 pending a single game against Cumberland Tuesday. The Governors, under Coach Gary McElroy, have beaten Evansville twice, gone 5-1 against Murray State and have tied with Vanderbilt this season.

The Governors' top pitcher Bill Rootman, who has a 5-0 record and a 1.62 ERA. Also a stable force on the mound is Jesse Cash, who has a 3-2 mark.

Senior leadership provides the offensive punch for Austin Peay. Outfielder Rick Strickland is batting .352 and third baseman Melvin Blankenski is hitting .355.

SOFTBALL TRYOUTS

- Women's Fast Pitch Summer --
- Do you still have the ability, agility, and intensity to play? Just pitch? If your arm hasn't gone to rag, if your legs still have another year, if your mind is clear enough for butt coverages, and if you love to steal a base.
- PITCHES: Cougars are looking for players.

- We have good sponsorship (most expenses paid).
- We play weekends (no conflict with Wednesday and Thursday softball tryout).
- We have a winning tradition (State Champion 1989, 3rd Midwest 1988, 2nd Midwest 1989).

FOR MORE INFORMATION: 549-8221

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START YOUR CLIMB TO CAREER SUCCESS THIS SUMMER.

APPLY FOR ARMY ROTC SUMMER LEADER'S PROGRAM. You'll develop confidence and decisiveness essential for success. And you'll qualify as a ROTC officer while completing college.

ARMY ROTC TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

For More Information Contact
Army Military Science
453-5786
Henson hoping third time no charm for Wolverines

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — Danny Ferry, who has led Duke into the Final Four for the third time in four years, is the College Player of the Year for United Press International.

Ferry scored 21 points Friday when the Blue Devils defeated Georgetown 82-77 to win the East Regional at the Meadowlands in East Rutherford, N.J.

Duke, 28-7, will play Seton Hall at Seattle Saturday in the NCAA semifinals. The Blue Devils also went to the Final Four in 1986 and 1987, and reached the round of 16 in 1985. In the past three seasons, Duke’s last loss has been to eventual NCAA champion Kentucky in the 1987 tournament.

In Ferry’s career, Duke has reached the Final Four twice — a school best for a four-year class — and Ferry twice has been named the tournament’s most outstanding player and twice player of the year in the ACC.

He has his jersey number 32 retired by Duke earlier this season.

A 6-foot-10, 230-pound senior, Ferry averages 23.8 points, 7.4 rebounds and is second on Duke’s team in assists and steals. He set a school and ACC single-season record with 28 points in Duke’s 117-103 victory over Miami in December.

In his career, Ferry needs only seven rebounds to achieve a rare triple; in points, assists and rebounds. He also has a career record of 12 points in 10 games when one of his teammates has 30 or more points. He also has a career record of 12 points in 10 games when one of his teammates has 30 or more points.

"Duke was a great career, but we’re playing to the best of our capabilities," said Ferry. "But we hope we can do some things differently in those areas. We feel we can beat Michigan — with an outstanding front line of 6-foot-7 for, 6-10 Loy Vaught and 6-9 Terry Mills — guess match-up problems for Illinois. We’re ready, the team is ready."
LUNCH BUFFET
MON - FRI
ALL YOU CAN EAT! PIZZA & SALAD

SAVINGS THAT ADD UP TO GREAT TASTE

Godfather's Pizza
LUNCH BUFFET
MON - FRI
ALL YOU CAN EAT! PIZZA & SALAD

SAVINGS THAT ADD UP TO GREAT TASTE

Godfather's Pizza
SAVINGS THAT ADD UP TO GREAT TASTE

LARGE PIZZA
FOR THE PRICE
OF A MEDIUM

Choose your favorite Godfather's Pizza with your choice of toppings.

Please notify of coupon use when ordering. Not valid with any other discount or coupon offer. Limit
one coupon per order. Offer good at participating locations only. Limited delivery areas and hours.

Offer expires May 21, 1989
CLU 861

LARGE
GOLDEN CRUST
COMBO

NEW!

$9.99

Light, buttery flavored GOLDEN CRUST
Combo Pizza with Pepperoni, beef, sausage, onion, mushrooms, black olives. A great taste
sensation!

Please notify of coupon use when ordering. Not valid with any other discount or coupon offer. Limit
one coupon per order. Offer good at participating locations only. For dine-in or take-out only.

Offer expires May 21, 1989
CLU 876

LARGE
GOLDEN CRUST
COMBO

NEW!

$9.99

Light, buttery flavored GOLDEN CRUST
Combo Pizza with Pepperoni, beef, sausage,
onion, mushrooms, black olives. A great taste
sensation!

Please notify of coupon use when ordering. Not valid with any other discount or coupon offer. Limit
one coupon per order. Offer good at participating locations only. For dine-in or take-out only.

Offer expires May 21, 1989
CLU 876

Daily Egyptian, Paducah Sun, Poplar Bluff American Republican, Sikeston Standard, Cape Girardeau South Missourian SAVE!
$2/$1

Save $2 On Any Large or $1 On Any Medium Pizza

TWO MEDIUM GOLDEN CRUST CHEESE PIZZAS

NEW!
$10.99

Get 2 medium cheese pizzas on our new light, buttery flavored GOLDEN CRUST for only $10.99! Additional toppings for $1.28 each covers both pizzas.

Save $2 On Any Large or $1 On Any Medium Pizza

TWO MEDIUM GOLDEN CRUST CHEESE PIZZAS

NEW!
$10.99

Get 2 medium cheese pizzas on our new light, buttery flavored GOLDEN CRUST for only $10.99! Additional toppings for $1.28 each covers both pizzas.

Please notify of coupon use when ordering. Not valid with any other discount or coupon offer. Limit one coupon per order. Offer good at participating locations only. Limited delivery areas and hours.

Offer expires May 21, 1989
CLU 857L/859M

Offer expires May 21, 1989
CLU 871

Offer expires May 21, 1989
CLU 857L/859M

Offer expires May 21, 1989
CLU 871
Gel 2 Piece Recipe

Buttermilk Biscuit & Gravy, Large Mashed Potatoes & Gravy, Large Cole Slaw and 4 Buttermilk Biscuits for only $10.99 with this coupon. All whitepaper dark orders extra. Coupon may not be used with any other special offers. Limit three per coupon.

OFFER EXPIRES April 30, 1989. Customer must pay all sales tax. (This offer good only at KFC locations listed below.)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Item Description</th>
<th>Price</th>
<th>Details</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2 Piece Snack &amp; Hot Buttered Corn</td>
<td>$2.59</td>
<td>Get 2 pieces of the Colonel's Original Recipe or Extra Crispy Chicken, Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Cole Slaw and 4 Buttermilk Biscuits for only $2.59 with this coupon. All whitepaper dark orders extra. Coupon may not be used with any other special offers. Limit three per coupon. OFFER EXPIRES April 30, 1989. Customer must pay all sales tax. (This offer good only at KFC locations listed below.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Piece Lunch</td>
<td>$2.59</td>
<td>Get 2 pieces of the Colonel's Original Recipe or Extra Crispy Chicken, Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Cole Slaw and 4 Buttermilk Biscuits for only $2.59 with this coupon. All whitepaper dark orders extra. Coupon may not be used with any other special offers. Limit three per coupon. OFFER EXPIRES April 30, 1989. Customer must pay all sales tax. (This offer good only at KFC locations listed below.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 Piece Dinner</td>
<td>$3.29</td>
<td>Get 3 pieces of the Colonel's Original Recipe or Extra Crispy Chicken, Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Cole Slaw and 4 Buttermilk Biscuits for only $3.29 with this coupon. All whitepaper dark orders extra. Coupon may not be used with any other special offers. Limit three per coupon. OFFER EXPIRES April 30, 1989. Customer must pay all sales tax. (This offer good only at KFC locations listed below.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10 Piece Dinner</td>
<td>$10.99</td>
<td>Get 10 pieces of the Colonel's Original Recipe or Extra Crispy Chicken, Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Mashed Potatoes &amp; Gravy, Large Cole Slaw and 4 Buttermilk Biscuits for only $10.99 with this coupon. All whitepaper dark orders extra. Coupon may not be used with any other special offers. Limit three per coupon. OFFER EXPIRES April 30, 1989. Customer must pay all sales tax. (This offer good only at KFC locations listed below.)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Kentucky Fried Chicken

ADVERTISING SUPPLEMENT

COUPONS GOOD ONLY AT THESE KFC LOCATIONS:

ILLINOIS
Carbondale, Murphysboro, Anna, Chester, Sparta, Waterloo

MISSOURI
Perryville, St. Genevieve, Potosi
Runner overcomes heart problem, back on track

By Paul Pabat
Staff Writer

Saluki distance runner Andy Pettigrew, 20, was on track after a doctor last season said he couldn't continue competing. "The doctor told me, "I'm shocked. Never believed that I had a heart problem.""

Pettigrew was diagnosed having a heart problem in 1988. "I couldn't believe it was over, but I knew that my life had taken a new route," Pettigrew said.

His doctor Ashok Agarwal, a one-time resident from the Carbondale Clinic, conducted the echo cardogram that revealed the supposedly permanent condition.

Agarwal told Pettigrew that his competitive career was over and that any intense physical activity could possibly kill him.

"I was scared stiff when I found out that I could possibly die," Pettigrew said. "I did whatever they told me to do in order not to jeopardize my health."

Pettigrew, a native of Maidenhair, England, is back running the mile for the Saluki track team after a summer of medical observation by Agarwal and the track team trainers.

In the summer Pettigrew was in and out of the hospital every week for testing and observation by his doctors. A combination of the heart problem, rest, and medicine to try to alleviate the heart problem helped to put him back in competition.

According to Pettigrew the most intense treatment he received during his time in the hospital was a electric shock treatment intended to create a normal flow in his heart.

"I soaked these pads up to my chest like in the TV shows," Pettigrew said.

Runner returns to third base today as Salukis set to battle Austin Peay

By Troy Taylor
Staff Writer

Dave Wrona's string of 136 consecutive starts is the envy of many baseball fans as the Salukis are struggling to keep up.

"You have to aspire to want to be in tough situations," Riggelman said. "Our feeling is that our pitching is not there yet. It's getting to the point where we have to have two handling it, but we can't wait any longer. There has been a transition.

The Missouri Valley Conference is in midseason with the Salukis playing against Illinois State that's the target date for the 14-man staff pitching staff, which is dominated by seven freshmen, to regain some faith in themselves.

The mainstays on the staff so far are freshmen Sean Bergman (2-3, 5.43 ERA), Doug Shields (3-2, 5.23 ERA) and junior catcher Matt Giegling.

"We have the proper role model," Riggelman said. "Our confidence is something we're building."

But for the Salukis, a unique situation exists. Assistant coach Sam Riggleman said "I can't wait any longer. There has to be some action against Illinois State.

"I'm not waiting," Riggelman said. "I'm not picking those things up."

Pete Rose probe continues through start of new season

NEW YORK (UPI) -- The baseball commissioner's office investigation into Cincinnati Reds Manager Pete Rose's gambling habits will likely last several more weeks, stretching into the start of the season, the man heading the investigation, Commissioner Bart Giamatti, Saturday, said.

Pete Rose stealing all the headlines

John Dowd, the special counsel to the commissioner, said he advised Commissioner Peter Ueberroth and Bart Giamatti, who will succeed Ueberroth Saturday, not to nearly finished looking into Rose's affairs. "The investigation which I am directing in allegations involving Cincinnati Manager Pete Rose is proceeding at full pace," Dowd said in a statement. "While the investigation is complicated and time consuming, the investigative team is working diligently.

"I have advised Commissioner Ueberroth and Commissioner-elect Giamatti that in my judgment it is likely the investigation will require at least several more weeks.

The cloud of a possible suspending will hang over Rose when the Reds play at home against the Los Angeles Dodgers on Opening Day Monday.

Baseball pitchers suffering mentally

By Troy Taylor
Staff Writer

The bane of most pitching staffs is the fragility of young arms. Injuries to肩膀s and elbows are linked to the college and minor league systems.

But for the Salukis, a unique situation exists. Assistant coach Sam Riggleman said "I can't wait any longer. There has to be some action against Illinois State.

"I'm not waiting," Riggelman said. "I'm not picking those things up."

Pete Rose probe continues through start of new season

NEW YORK (UPI) -- The baseball commissioner's office investigation into Cincinnati Reds Manager Pete Rose's gambling habits will likely last several more weeks, stretching into the start of the season, the man heading the investigation, Commissioner Bart Giamatti, Saturday, said.

Pete Rose stealing all the headlines

John Dowd, the special counsel to the commissioner, said he advised Commissioner Peter Ueberroth and Bart Giamatti, who will succeed Ueberroth Saturday, not to nearly finished looking into Rose's affairs. "The investigation which I am directing in allegations involving Cincinnati Manager Pete Rose is proceeding at full pace," Dowd said in a statement. "While the investigation is complicated and time consuming, the investigative team is working diligently.

"I have advised Commissioner Ueberroth and Commissioner-elect Giamatti that in my judgment it is likely the investigation will require at least several more weeks.

The cloud of a possible suspending will hang over Rose when the Reds play at home against the Los Angeles Dodgers on Opening Day Monday.

Baseball pitchers suffering mentally

By Troy Taylor
Staff Writer

The bane of most pitching staffs is the fragility of young arms. Injuries to肩膀s and elbows are linked to the college and minor league systems.

But for the Salukis, a unique situation exists. Assistant coach Sam Riggleman said "I can't wait any longer. There has to be some action against Illinois State.

"I'm not waiting," Riggelman said. "I'm not picking those things up."

Pete Rose probe continues through start of new season

NEW YORK (UPI) -- The baseball commissioner's office investigation into Cincinnati Reds Manager Pete Rose's gambling habits will likely last several more weeks, stretching into the start of the season, the man heading the investigation, Commissioner Bart Giamatti, Saturday, said.

Pete Rose stealing all the headlines

John Dowd, the special counsel to the commissioner, said he advised Commissioner Peter Ueberroth and Bart Giamatti, who will succeed Ueberroth Saturday, not to nearly finished looking into Rose's affairs. "The investigation which I am directing in allegations involving Cincinnati Manager Pete Rose is proceeding at full pace," Dowd said in a statement. "While the investigation is complicated and time consuming, the investigative team is working diligently.

"I have advised Commissioner Ueberroth and Commissioner-elect Giamatti that in my judgment it is likely the investigation will require at least several more weeks.

The cloud of a possible suspending will hang over Rose when the Reds play at home against the Los Angeles Dodgers on Opening Day Monday.