Action Party
To Pick Slate For Council
The Action Party, a newly organized political party at SIU, will meet in convention form at 6:30 p.m., today in the University Center River Rooms.

The agenda is nomination of candidates for officers and Student Council members in the upcoming student government election.

The proposed date for the election of officers has been set by the Student Council for June 3, but this date is yet subject to approval of University officials.

The Student Council set the date following approval of a bill which determined that the council would operate in the same procedures as the past for at least one more year. The elections have been held early in May previously.

Candidates to be nominated by the Action Party include student body president and vice president, and persons to fill the 12 Student Council seats that will be vacated this year.

Also on the agenda for nomination is the election of officers for the Executive Committee of the Action Party. The committee will serve for the one year term.

The Executive Committee will appoint a party chairman at a later date. The chairman will also serve for one year. The present acting chairman of the Action Party is Alan C. Purvis.

In connection with the nominations, David Carter, Action Party member, said, "I think we have representatives from many facets of the University student body, and . . . " (Continued on Page 13)

Flag From Capitol
Thompson Point Dedicates Flagpole to John Kennedy

Residents of Thompson Point dedicated their flagpole to the memory of the late President John F. Kennedy in ceremonies Thursday morning.

President Delbyte W. Morris raised the flag, which had once flown atop the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C.

The flag was obtained from Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill. , by SIU's Zeta Nu chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Fraternity president, Jerry F. Pickart, presented the flag to Michael G. Peck, Thompson Point president.

James D. Templeton, fraternity member and resident of Thompson Point, presented Michael Peck with a letter of verification.

Richard L. Cox, Thompson Point senator, read the proclamation, which stated in part:

"Be it resolved that: The residents of the Thompson Point Living area of Southern Illinois University, fully appreciating the tremendous impact that John Kennedy had upon his country and the remarkable effort which he put forth during his tenure of office, dedicate the Thompson Point flagpole in memory of this great man and President. . . ."

Members of the APRTOC Honor Guard assisted in the ceremony.

President Morris, housing official and members of the Thompson Point Executive Council are breakfast together following the ceremony.

FJK Memorial - The Thompson Point flagpole was dedicated Thursday in the memory of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Dinner is Served At Thompson Point (If You Wear Shoes)

It's okay to show up for Sunday dinner at Lentz Hall without a coat, but you'd better be wearing shoes or you'll go away hungry.

A new dress code distributed at Thompson Point, explains that because of warm weather men are not required to wear sweaters, and special diners as long as they wear shoes and socks.

But it stressed that no resident will be allowed in Lentz Hall's dining area without a certain type of apparel. And though no rain of other diagram clothes don't count.

For those with an informal belt, it's all right to wear "cut-offs" as long as they are home and room and rolled up at the knees. Girls will be permitted to wear levis, the T.F. Pinter reported.

Coeds Check, But Not the Beds

Even the inventive coeds couldn't walk off with some of the things that are missing.

For example, at the top of the list are the rugs, 14 x 15 feet and the other 9 x 9 feet. Included in the listing are padds to go with the rugs.

Now, just who would want such a rug? The answer is, not many.

But how would you explain to the head resident that you are borrowing her nice rug for one year or two because your floors are cold?

Another unusual item on the missing list is 15 beds of assorted types. Everyone knows that girls are accustomed to having beds, but what kind of dorm would let its beds get stolen?

This item is particularly disconcerting because of the fact that earlier in the school year Woody was over-assigned by the residence halls, and the late Fari Mike Carson (accepted by Mrs. James Carson), and the late Fari Mike Carson (accepted by Mrs. James Carson).

Cycle Accidents Are Still on the Rise
The recent crackdown by state police on illegal cycle operation has had little or no effect on widespread traffic law violations by students, Carbondale Police Chief Jack G. Hazel told the Daily Egyptian Thursday.
Hazel said the accident rate for the last few weeks is higher than normal, with a large share of the increase being accidents involving cycles. Hazel said he had discussed the cycle problem with members of his department, but had reached no solution.

 Beds Missing, Coeds Aren't; Woody Finds Rugs Gone Too

Beds and rugs are expected to be found in dorms, but what would anyone want with a seven-foot umbrella? Unusual as it may seem, Woody is missing one. The official report reads, "SHOWN SECOND. Umbrella 7 ft. dia."

Other missing items include kitchen stools, chairs, benches, end tables, coffee tables, lounges, two fans, a table lamp, 20 reading lamps, an ottoman, wooden dressers, brass and wicker ash trays, room dividers, a silver rack, a sofa, a typewriter and an aluminum paddle.

Perhaps the motive behind the theft (what ever it was used for) was that if it were not handy, it could not be used for some purpose.

At the top of this unlikely list of missing furniture is this statement, "The following items have been found missing (? ) from Woody Hall in the last inventory, if you know of the whereabouts or the disposition of any item, please call the Woody Hall office, 7-2241."

Let us add to this plea the idea of the women of Woody Hall, "Please return our beds and rugs, the floor is terribly cold, and it we had lamps to read by and chairs to sit in it would make life much more bearable."

"Dixie's Darlin'-Mustang." The huge billboard with a Ford, a "Dixie" flag and a woman saying, "Dixie's Darlin'-Mustang." was the contradictions. In Indianola, "law enforcement" and the rest of the country. murders are still running the story of the class position. Too many is unfolding. Herbert Lee was murdered in 1961, where the Klan bas its Dixie flag greeted us as we entering white South so much back in the South, in the New (white) South, which is cling- ing to the past which is being supported by Northern corporate.

Coming back into the state after four months at SIU was no challenge. In addition to the conflicts, and change Mississippi is undergoing are but an exaggeration of the happenings in southern Illinois and the country at large.

Sometimes the contradictions are humorous in Japan but not in the South titling for one candidate for City Commissioner said was "Conservative - Responsible - Progressive." Something in the middle but against the contradictions. In Indiana, "Two Negroes -- one dead and burned to the ground, the other, bumed, this last week.

The car we drove down in was a "can't use the car," since three freedom workers were murdered last summer and seven were burned to death in the county, Sheriff Rainey is still very much going to Aniste ("Friendship") County, where Herbert Lee was murdered in 1961, where the Klan has its stronghold, where law and the Klan are so close as to be almost inseparable, and a Negro move to the death of Mississippi -- many are mistreated.

The stories of terror and intrigue are written about here, but it is one of the story of the "New South" is not the changing white, not the changing Negro South. YOUR ON-CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE FOR WOP STUDIOS
Patients, Student Workers Both Benefit From Anna Hospital’s Activity Program

By Jack Robbins

"I now have a better understanding of mental patients and their needs, and this will be quite valuable because I'm studying to be a nurse," said Sharon Miles, a student worker from SIU about Anna State Hospital's expanded activity therapy program.

"My outlook on patients has changed a great deal," continued Miss Miles, a 19-year-old sophomore from Anna, one of 45 SIU student workers employed in this program.

The hospital received a $300,000 federal grant last May for this program. According to the provisions, $100,000 will be provided each 12 months of the three-year period.

The primary objective of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare grant was to provide activity therapy for patients during the evenings and weekends when regular therapists were off duty or working split shifts.

The students, who make $1.50 an hour, work evenings during the week, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Sunday. The students must work at least 16 hours each week.

Recently, the supervisor said, at least 1,600 patients were participating in activities either at a combination gymnasium-recreation center, an art studio or on their wards. "The number of patients participating in activities has increased by about 200 per cent," he said.

"Youth gets the job done in many cases," Townsend said, as he recalled a 20-year-old student who worked on an individual basis with a withdrawn patient about 55 and finally managed to get a smile from her and a few words each time they met.

Townsend pointed out that unorganized time in a hospital setting could be detrimental. "Most people in a situation of leisure have time to work up anxiety," he said. "We're trying to avoid the rocking chair concept."

"The regular program is not lacking, but patients enjoy having a young person around them. Also, the younger patients benefit," said Townsend. "This program offers the students a respite from school's pressure and teaches them how to go along with all ages."

"As the students show a particular interest or talent, they are given special assignments," said Townsend. He reported that dances were held on Sundays and Tuesdays in the evenings and that Monday evening was a passive game night featuring shuffleboard, bowling and semi-competitive games. Each evening, 20 students gathered in the large recreation hall and 13 others are assigned to various wards.

Other students related their views and thoughts about the program in a recent survey.

Mike Corzine, 26, a former student from Jonesville, said, "I think this is valuable experience in my preparation for a future in education."

"The true value of this program becomes apparent when a response is noted in a patient who once might not have said anything or acknowledged your greeting," said the former high school teacher who is finishing a bachelor's degree at SIU. "This reward corresponds to a teacher's reward when a student responds."

Students in this program represent 17 majors ranging from forestry to criminology. The first students employed spent six weeks in orientation. Now new student workers have an eight-hour initial session and meet each day to ask questions.

In addition to staging activities on wards, the students direct every once in a while large activity such as a dance or movie or games at the gymnasium. Also, the students have organized special interest groups, library club, drama club, art appreciation groups and a teachers group.

"At first most of the patients were very suspicious of us," said Ron Little, 21, a pre-med student from Jonesville. "But in time the patients have come to trust us to the point of confiding in and discussing their problems."

Clifford Hilliard, 24, a senior from Fairfield, said, "The student program is bringing many new and challenging views to the hospital. This is good for the patients and keeps the regular employees on their toes."

The students who reside on campus organized car pools to drive the winding 20 miles down Route 31 to Anna. About 23 student workers each day as their class schedule permits.

"Bummin' Days" Here Next Week

"Bummin' Days," sponsored by the Thompson Point Recreational Programming Board, will be held May 26 and 29.

"Teams and individuals will compete in several events. Included in the events are canoe races, egg tossing, volleyball, chair races and tug of war."

Poiné will be awarded to the first three places in the team events and to the first five places in the individual events.

"Trophies will be awarded to the men's and women's halls that collect the highest total of points."

Applications for "Bummin' Days" may be picked up at the service desk in Lentz Hall. They must be returned by May 25.

A dance in Lentz Hall on May 29 will bring the event to a close.

Students Are Urged to Apply for Upperclass Awards Now

Students who want to apply for Upperclass Awards should do so now. Fred Dakak, assistant coordinator of financial assistance, urges them to apply. The awards pay for all tuition and book rental fees. Any student with more than 48 hours but less than 144 hours and a 3.0 grade average is eligible to apply.

In addition, the student must be a resident of Illinois and have graduated from high school after May of 1960. He must be enrolled at Southern Illinois University this quarter and must be working toward a degree. The awards which can be renewed each year are open for the first time to students who have Illinois State Teachers Scholarships. In the past these students could not apply for the Upperclass Awards. If a student who has an Illinois State Teachers Scholarship accepts an Upperclass Award, he must, however, forfeit his scholarship. Dakak stated that 238 Upperclass Awards are available to SIU students.

The deadline for applications is Oct. 1. The winners will be announced on Oct. 15. The winners will have their fees for fall quarter reimbursed to them.

All students who applied for SIU scholarships and activity awards are reminded that all forms have to be turned in to the Financial Assistance Center before June 1.

It is this week's feature on the University Center Programming Board's Cinema Classics series.

The film, since 1941, has been under confiscation by the U.S. Department of Justice. However, recent revision in the Alien Property laws cleared the way for its release.

The group will discuss the state government and problems confronting the current Assembly, including reapportionment.

JUNTA READIES ALL-OUT ATTACK ON DOMINICAN REBEL POSITIONS

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The head of the civilian-military junta said Thursday a permanent cease-fire is out of the question and his troops soon will attack the rebels' stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

Gen. Antonio Imbert Barak, the junta president, said in an interview "It is now too late for a permanent cease-fire such as the United Nations and the Organization of American States have been trying to arrange." Imbert's declaration was the junta's first public statement of its plan of action to end the Dominican rebellion.

"We are considering a 12-hour truce for humanitarian reasons so dead and wounded can be removed from the battle area," Imbert said. But we have renewed our military operations and they cannot be stopped," A spokesman for the U.N. peace mission had said both the junta and the rebels of Col. Francisco Casamo-Dom had agreed to halt fighting Friday to let the Red Cross remove dead and wounded from the fighting zone in Santo Domingo's northern industrial and suburban sections.

"We want to avoid a bloodshed if possible and we are giving every chance for those in the rebel area to surrender or to come out," Imbert said. "But we have to take the rebel stronghold very soon and bring peace to the country."

Imbert hinted that the attack would come next week, as soon as Dominican tanks and troops take the northern sections of the capital.

The job was more than half done and rebel spokesmen acknowledged that their forces—man and many of them armed civilians—were being encircled, with their backs to the Ozama River.

U.S. Planes
Rain Leaflets, Bomb Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes staged a propaganda leaflet raid only

More than 100 planes were involved in this third day of the resumed attacks north of the

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The "Bubble Builder of Bal

Red Chinese Atomic Device
Not an H-Bomb, U.S. Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States said Thursday that Red China’s latest nuclear test did not involve an H-bomb type device.

It also termed “implausi ble” any thought that the de vice exploded last Thursday was missile-delivered.

But the government’s first announced analysis of the character of the test imme diately prompted unofficial,
but knowledgeable, specu lation that the test put the Chinese Communists on the road to developing an H-bomb to two or three years.

This theory came from Dr.
Ralph Lapp, a nuclear physi clist who worked on the first American A-bomb.

Lapp’s opinion was ex pressed after the Atomic En ergy Commission reported that the latest test involved detonation of a fission de vice employing uranium 235.

The first test last October used U-235.

“The fact that the Red Chi inese used U-235 as the explo sive again,” Lapp said in an interview, “completely dis poses of the notion, voiced by some people, that the first test was only a fluke, with the explosive having been ‘pi rated’ in small quantities from uranium 235, obtained from the Russians.”

“The fact that they used
U-235 for the second test con firms that they have a gaseous diffusion plant for producing
U-235 of their own in produc

Soon after the first test last fall, Lapp said he had in Theta Xi Observes Its Founder's Day The Beta Delta chapter of Theta Xi social fraternity recently observed the founding of the group with a Founder's Day banquet. The Founder’s Day Housing Official of the chapter founded on April 29, 1864, were initiated as chapter members. Special guests were Ronald L. Drinan, newly elected president of the IFC. In comparison to rush last spring, there were 25 per cent more men rushing and an increase of 22 per cent in accepting bids.

To Harold L. Hakes, assistant coordinator of housing, this increase, which has been a steady one in recent years, indicates definite growth of the fraternities.

In a recent interview, Hakes said that the fraternities and sororities and Southern will shortly find themselves standing on the "brink of a great period of growth, expansion and respect for the fraternal system."

This comment was based not only on the increased number of men going through rush but, more importantly, the steady progress made by the Greeks in scholarship, by their increased ability to meet their financial responsibilities, by their continued involvement in campus activities, and by their efforts to meet the new social pressures placed upon them by the community.

But his words were not all praise, for Hakes did not hesitate to point out the problems of the Greek system and their weaknesses. "I believe fraternities and sororities are a worthwhile educational tool," he said, "which can stimulate positive student growth personally, socially, and, most importantly, academically."

However, their future at SIU is not clear cut. "Like any prognostication," he said, "the resolu­tion of the entire issue of survival depends upon a number of variables. It depends upon faculty and staff attitudes. It depends upon student reactions. However, the final decision whether these attitudes will be positive or negative seems to rest upon the answers to several basic questions."

Those questions were: 1. Are fraternities and sororities needed at SIU, and if so, why? 2. Do they contribute to the good of Southern's campus? 3. If the answers to the above questions are positive, then why are Greek organizations so controversial? 4. What do the Greeks intend to do about this controversy that threatens their existence? "My own experience," Hakes said, "has been that my fraternity (Phi Kappa Tau at Bowling Green University) did a great deal for me in these areas of growth (personal, social, and academic)." Hakes then added, "If positive changes in this system happen to me, they can happen here."

Contributions? Hakes strongly believed that fraternities were making increased contributions to the national collegiate scene.

"Locally I see only look at the blood bank efforts, at the Cancer Drive cooperation, the organizational parties, and other service efforts to see that fraternities and sororities contribute to the humanities of this campus," he said. Cer­tainly, Hakes did not overlook the leadership that the Group Housing Area was contributing to making the important campus activities. "Most of the key leaders come from the fraternities and sororities," he said. "Personally, I can honestly say I'd hate to see this campus without the Greek system."

But with the fraternities and sororities making these contributions and improvements, why are they so controversial and why is their future so doubtful? "In my opinion," Hakes said, "they are controversial because they are not in tune with the contemporary campus as much as they should be. They have been tied to the past. They yearn for the good old days, when in reality they are in the era of mass education."

Hakes described much of the ritual of pledging and member selection as "archaic" and in need of change. "The Greek system must redefine itself," he said. "It must resolve the questions of racial discrimination and integration and examine its practices to see that they are in line with the contemporary scene and until they sit down and face these issues they will be controversial."

In another interview, Hakes later mentioned that the problem of integration is another application of the old dog's tail adage. "Integration, like the dog's tail, can never be allowed to wag the dog for the tail's own sake."

He reorganized the great period of growth, expansion, and respect for the Greek system at SIU, but pointed out that this period could only be achieved by looking at the system and challenging the following steps:

1. The Greeks must realize that the collegiate scene today. 2. They must see where they are in and out of tune and where they should right­fully differ.

3. Fraternities and sororities should be prepared to change where it is in the best interest of the student member, fra­ternal group, and the University."

Basic Question : Exist Housing Official Says Greeks Have a Good Future Here If-

By Rick Birger

The social fraternities at SIU held their final rush in Interfraternity Council history this spring, according to Robert L. Drinan, newly elected president of the IFC. In comparison to rush last spring, there were 25 per cent more men rushing and an increase of 22 per cent accepting bids.

To Harold L. Hakes, assistant coordinator of housing, this increase, which has been a steady one in recent years, indicates definite growth of the fraternities.

Safety Official Urges Students To Watch ‘Drivers Test’ on TV

By Randy Clark

Oliver K. Halderson, SIU safety coordinator, has suggested that SIU students watch a television program entitled “The National Drivers Test.” The 60-minute program, produced by CBS in cooperation with the Shell Oil Company and The National Safety Council, is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. Monday and will be based on audience participation.

The object is to alert drivers throughout the nation of the need for development of driving skills in order to cope with today’s complex transportation system, Halderson said.

“The number of accidents at SIU is higher than the national average among university vehicles,” Halderson said. “I urge everyone to watch the program and I will even take part in it myself.”

The test has four major areas: judgment, knowledge, perception, and special. Stunt drivers will stage high-speed head-on collisions, and through cameras mounted inside the auto, the viewer will be able to see exactly what happens in a high-speed collision. Portions of the test place the audience in the driver’s seat and face them with a number of driving hazards. They are then quizzed on how many they would have seen.

The program got its start about a year and a half ago when Fred Friendly, producer of CBS News, was ticked off by a traffic court judge. By his sentence he was told to give the option of participating in a driver improvement course.

“This is wonderful. Everyone in the United States should take the course,” Friendly said. He returned from his driving course mumbling something about a kind of “classroom for the nation,” and Click! a CBS special was born.

How does a program that combines the preselling power of mass communication with the follow-through efficiency of face-to-face communication, affect the nation? The American Bar Association plans to encourage traffic court judges to use the test to get people to improve their driving skills. Many unions plan to encourage student participation in the test. Homework assignments for youths in driver education classes are planned to be coordinated with the test. Interfraternity and inter­sorority contests at the college level are also planned.

Persons in the Carbondale area will be able to receive the program over channel 12, KFVS-TV in Cape Girardeau, and channel 4, KMOX-TV in St. Louis.

Ad Hoc Minority Report Suggests Amending University Statutes to Fit Student Body Needs

In answer to the latest report of the ad hoc committee for the study of student government, Steve Wilson, a member of the committee, has released his own minority report.

In his report, Wilson noted that the restrictions of formulating a plan for student government had the prerequisites of (1) conforming with the statutes; (2) efficiency; and (3) acceptability to the students (in that order or precedence).

Wilson objected to this order, saying that it should be reversed. "If, after a form was decided upon," Wilson's report said, "the student government (a student government) proposal conflicted with the statutes, and not to accept a second- or third-class government merely because it conformed with the statutes."

In line with this concept, Wilson made the following proposals:

1. That the present interim period be extended until a new structure for student government is approved by the students.
2. That any group appointed to study student government be appointed by and from the student body or its elected officials.
3. That the statutes of the University be amended to include:
   A. A definition of the student body.
   B. A statement of what rights, powers, responsibilities, and duties reside within the student body, individually and collectively.
   C. A statement that the student body may delegate any or all of its rights, powers, responsibilities, and duties to any council or other official or officials as it desires, by majority vote.
   D. That the student body may establish a student party nominates candidate slate
5. That the student body shall have equal representation with the faculty and graduate bodies on the University Council.

This approach to student government, Wilson concluded, would "create a new aura of respect for the student body and its ability to govern itself. Only by the practice of democratic principles can one learn the true meaning of democracy."

Party Nominates Candidate Slate

I think our slate will indicate this." Other activities on the convention agenda include:

A discussion and final ratification of the Action Party constitution.
A list of suggestions by the executive board concerning the Action Party's platform.
A collection of a $1 membership fee. The money collected for fees will be used to pay for the supplies to be used in the Action Party's campaigns.
The members at the convention will also select a time and date for the next Action Party meeting.

The Action Party is the first, and at present, the only recognized political party on the SIU Carbondale campus. The party was organized last April to "create a new aura of respect for the student body and its ability to govern itself. Only by the practice of democratic principles can one learn the true meaning of democracy."

The Panhellenic of the Southern campus was represented at the party by its president, rush chairman and senior Panhellenic representative.
3-Game Series

SIU Meets Parsons

Today in Baseball

Zero hour is 3 p.m. this afternoon for SIU's baseball Salukis, who open what gives every indication of being their toughest series of the season.

Parson College, small in enrollment but mighty in producing winning baseball teams, invades the SIU field for a three-game series which concludes with a 1 p.m. doubleheader Saturday.

Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin's veteran squad will match its 12-game winning streak and overall 15-1 record against the Visitors' 20-7 mark.

Martin said Thursday his team has looked good in practice this week and appears set for the series. Martin named John Hotz as his starter this afternoon.

Saturday he'll go with Gene Vincent in the first game, and rookie lefthander Wayne Sramek in the nightcap with Ron Guthman ready at any time in the bullpen. The pitching staff should be well rested after a week's vacation.

The rest of the Saluki lineup will be as usual, with Vincent (.387) at firstbase when not pitching, Gib Snyder (.227) at second, Bob Bernstein (.289) at third, Dennis Walter (.250) at short and Kent Collins (.446), John Siebel (.313) and Al Peludat (.346) in the outfield. Bill Merrill (.261) will catch.

Parsons, on the other hand, is expected to start a predominantly underclass squad, but nevertheless an experienced one.

Jim Zerilla is expected to start at first, with the team's No. 2 hitter, Doug Dunlap, at second; Skip Falasca at third; Capt. Tim Heintzleman at short, and the team's hitting leader, Larry Skinner, and Tom Lolas and Gordon Crook in the outfield.

Last year's Most Valuable Player, Larry Blixer, who hit .418, is expected to get the nod behind the plate. The Wildcats pitcher will probably be one of the staff's top three, either Jon Eisenbaur, Steve Gilliatt or George Blasius.

Parsons and SIU have met one common foe, Tulsa, and both defeated the Hurricanes easily. The Wildcats stopped the Oklahomans 4-1 and 12-2 in mid-season. The Salukis trounced them 13-1 and 7-1 less than two weeks ago.

Both teams have some heavy hitters. At least report both Skinner and Dunlap were hitting well above the .400 mark for the Wildcats and Falasca, Lolas, and Bonalweciz were above the .350 mark. By comparison four Saluki starters are above .300, with one, Collins, well above .400.

SIU may have a slight edge in pitching, however, with Hotz and Vincent both 6-1 and Sramek 4-1. The Salukis' depth could also be a factor.

Auto Club to Hold Final Spring Rally

The Grand Touring Auto Club will stage its final rally of the spring quarter Sunday afternoon.

The rally, a straight time-distance event, will begin at 1:01 p.m. from the Murdale Formerly little Pigs Shopping Center. Registration opens at noon, with a drivers' meeting set for 12:30.

Southern's tennis team will be trying to end its season on a high note Saturday when it entertains Parsons College in the final match.

Parsons is expected to be tougher than some of the teams the Salukis have competed against lately, but Coach Carl Sedel is still confident of victory.

Southern's No. 1 and No. 2 players, Lance Lumden and Thad Ferguson, are expected to draw the stiffest competition from the Wildcats. Lumden is playing against Peter Shaffield, a sophomore who last year was called the greatest freshman tennis player in his school's history.

Ferguson will be going against Brad Tate, who will soon be the first four-letterman in the school's history. Tate occupied the number one position on the team last year but was quickly replaced this year in favor of Shaffield by Wildcat Coach Roger Nielson.

Larry Poirier, Vic Sepper, John Wykoff and Rich Snyder complete the Saluki lineup.

Saluki Tennis Team Meets Parsons

Southern's tennis team will be trying to end its season on a high note Saturday when it entertain Parsons College in the final match.

Parsons is expected to be tougher than some of the teams the Salukis have competed against lately, but Coach Carl Sedel is still confident of victory.

Southern's No. 1 and No. 2 players, Lance Lumden and Thad Ferguson, are expected to draw the stiffest competition from the Wildcats. Lumden is playing against Peter Shaffield, a sophomore who last year was called the greatest freshman tennis player in his school's history.

Ferguson will be going against Brad Tate, who will soon be the first four-letterman in the school's history. Tate occupied the number one position on the team last year but was quickly replaced this year in favor of Shaffield by Wildcat Coach Roger Nielson.

Larry Poirier, Vic Sepper, John Wykoff and Rich Snyder complete the Saluki lineup.
Three SIU Swimmers on All-American Squad

Three members of the class SIU swimming team have been named to the 1965 NCAA All-America squad, according to an announcement by G. Robert Mowerson, All-American selection committee chairman.

They are Thorn McAneney, in the 500 and 1653-yard freestyle; Kimo Miles in the 200-yard butterfly and Gerald Pearson in the 200-yard breaststroke.

McAneney is a repeater, Miles and Pearson, both sophomores, are first-year choices. Thirty-three schools placed representatives on the elite list led by NCAA champion Southern California and runner-up Indiana University.

Both placed men in 26 spots plus two upsets. Michigan was next with 21 places and both relays. Carl Robie of Michigan was leading individual. He made the squad in six events.

McAneney was the No. 3 choice in the 500-yard freestyle with a time of 4:45.9, and the No. 6 choice in the 1500. Miles was the third selection in the 200-yard butterfly and Pearson was the No. 9 pick in the 200 yard breaststroke.

The winner in each event in the NCAA finals was automatically the No. 1 choice, with the other 10 performers in each event named on a time basis, with clockings in the national finals taking precedence over those during the regular season.

Remarkably, the SIU trio turned in their best times in the nationals, setting a new school record in the process. McAneney’s time of 4:49 erased by nearly three seconds the record of 4:51.0 he had established earlier in the preliminaries.

Miles’s 1:05.5 was two seconds better than his own school standard at the time and Pearson also shattered his own mark with 2:15.1.

McAneney was the big scorer with 33 of SIU’s 43 points in the big meet with a third in the 500, a fifth in the 1,650 and a tenth in the 200. Miles was third in the 200 fly and Pearson seventh in the 200 breaststroke and ninth in the 100.

SIU’s ninth place finish was also the best in the history of Coach Ralph Casey’s squads. The team was 7-2 in dual competition.

The SIU All-American delegation is the biggest in recent history. SIU has had as many as two representatives but never three. Five different Salukis earned the honor before this season including McAneney’s 1964 selection. They were Norbert Rumpel, fifth in the 100-yard breaststroke and fourth in the 200-yard breaststroke in 1960; Ray Padovan third in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle in 1961; Miss Reichert Wed To Neil Buttmer Sigma Kappa social sorority announces the marriage of Constance M. Reichert to Neil J. Buttmer, Delta Chi.

Other announcements: Engaged: Judith M. Williams to James R. Standard. Sigma Tau Gamma; and Mary A. Missavage to Ronald D. Keyvly, Phi Kappa Tau.

Selected: Linda L. Zurline to Robert E. Jese, Delta Chi; Sandra L. Erickson to Carl J. Podlasek, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Janice E. Miller to James R. Olson, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Lavaliered: Mary K. Duval to Thomas E. McGinnis, Sigma Pi.
