11-20-1968

The Daily Egyptian, November 20, 1968

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_November1968
Volume 50, Issue 42

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1968 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in November 1968 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
Administrators on firing line at Open Forum

See story, page 2

Three killed, one injured in car crash

See story, page 8

South Vietnam negotiators may join talks soon

See story, page 9

Varsity five to face frosh in first game

See story, page 14

The honkers:

In flight and at rest

See story, page 11
Auto-safety advocate Nader to speak at SIU Convocation

Ralph Nader, an outspoken critic of auto-safety legislation and an author of the book Unsafe at Any Speed, will speak at Convocation at 1 p.m. Thursday in the Arena.

Nader has worked on legal problems and policies, legislative and judicial, of highway safety and automobile design. He is a consultant and contributor to many of the leading legal publications.

Nader's interest and concern have played a significant part in bringing about changes in the automobile industry to produce safer cars and reduce highway death.

The legal, medical and engineering professions are profoundly challenged by unsafe autos, Nader feels, and in these fields should not only apply their skills to the problems, but in addition, work for the elimination of those problems whenever possible.

A coffee hour in the University River Rooms will follow the Convocation. Students are invited.

In 'Open Forum'

MacVicar provides answers

By Don Van Atta

Administrators once again found themselves sitting in the firing line at SIU's second "Open Forum" got underway in the University Center.

Approximately 100 persons were present as Chancellor Robert W. MacVicar, William Moulton, dean of students, and SIU student body president, submitted themselves to a barrage of direct confrontations.

Fielding nearly all of the questions were occasionally, were shot from the corridor, MacVicar, at times, appeared strained to maintain his composure. He did, however, manage to provide answers which appeared acceptable to most of the audience and some of the questioners.

Questions ranged from matters concerning personal difficulties to an explanation of the fundamental structure of the University hierarchy.

A synopis of significant responses that were given concerning various issues follows:

- General Studies Program - The University will be receiving increasingly fewer transfer students and sophomores as a result of the expanded Illinois Junior College System. This may mean an increased number of junior college transfer students in junior and senior years. MacVicar said the General Studies Program may be further altered, but he did not say it would be abolished.
- Carbondale Consumer Prices - Panayotovich said he is expecting the results of various research to provide some definite direction by Jan. 15.

Train schedules for break listed

Thanksgiving vacation is one day longer than usual for SIU this year because of an agreement with the University of Illinois.

According to Robert A. McGrath, registrar, the two universities cooperated in the vacation scheduling to avoid serious overcrowding on transportation facilities used by the students of both schools.

Illinois Central has added extra coaches to its passenger schedule run between Carbondale and Chicago.

Ralph Nader Convocation Speaker

New Football Stadium - Architects have contracted for construction of a new stadium to seat from 20,000 to 25,000 persons. The stadium will not be open before the fall of 1971, MacVicar said.

Funds for the stadium will come from the $10 athletic fee, which was approved in student referendum last year and instituted this quarter.

MacVicar said he does not believe narcotic use at Southern is greater than elsewhere. He said there is no existing evidence to prove him wrong.
Famous original graphic art to be on exhibition and sale

Works by some of the world's most famous artists will be shown in a one-day exhibit and sale of original graphic art sponsored by University Galleries.

Broadcast logs

Radio features

- Programs today on WSRU-
  - 5:10 p.m., Concert Hall
  - 5 p.m., Saturday in the Afternoon
  - 8 p.m., Music in the Air
  - 8:30 p.m., News Report
  - 7:30 p.m., Voices of Black America
  - 9 p.m., Gateway Forum
  - 8:30 p.m., The Composer

TV highlights

- Programs today on WSRU-
  - 4:30 p.m., Film Feature
  - 4:45 p.m., The Friendly Giant
  - 5 p.m., What's New?
  - 9:30 p.m., Mister Rogers
  - 8 p.m., Population Problem
  - 9:30 p.m., NET Journal
  - 10 p.m., What's New?
  - 8 p.m., Passport: The Wanderlust
  - 8:30 p.m., News in Perspective
  - 9:30 p.m., The Twentieth Century

The show will be Wednesday in the Ohio and Illinois River Rooms of the University Center. Viewing hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Original graphic by Rembrandt, Toulouse Lautrec, Picasso, Renoir, Degas, Chagall and Vasarely will be included in the collection.

The exhibit will be made up of lithographs, etchings, woodcuts and silkscreens by old and modern masters, 19th and 20th century prints and a full selection of contemporaries published by London Arts.

Prices begin at $5, but a few prints range up to $300. All items are guaranteed authentic.

Today's campus activities

- Celebrity Series: "The Apple Tree," 8:30 p.m., Shryock Auditorium. Tickets on sale.
  - University Center Central Ticket Office. Students: $1.50, $2 and $3; public, $2, $3 and $4.

- History Department: Faculty seminar on Latin America, 8-11 a.m., Wham Faculty Lounge

- London Graphic Arts: Great exhibit and sale, 8-5 p.m., University Center Ohio and Illinois Rooms

- English Department: Lunchroom, 12 noon, University Center Sangamon Room

- University Press: Lunchroom, 12 noon, University Center Lake Room

- Tournament Week: Pinacle, putting and bridge, 7 p.m., University Center Olympic Room

- Student Senate: Meeting, 7:30 p.m., University Center Ballroom A.

- Educational Administration: Lecture, "The Impact of the West on India," K.L. Shrimalli, speaker, 9-10 p.m., Wham Building Faculty Lounge

- European and Russian Studies Committee: Public lecture, "Liberalization and Rehabilitation in Czechoslovakia," Eugene Loebl, speaker, 3-4 p.m., Wham Building Faculty Lounge

- Music Department: Recital, 6-10 p.m., Home Economics Room 140B

- Phi Sigma Eagles: Meeting, 9:30-11 p.m., Lawson 221

- Phi Gamma Nu: Meeting, 8-10 p.m., Home Economics Room 118

- Phi Kappa Phi: Faculty and Honorary Society meeting, 7 p.m., Agriculture Seminar Room

- Learning Resources: Demonstration of video tape, 8-5 p.m., Morris Library Lounge

- Kappa Omicron Pi: Meeting, 7-11 p.m., Home Economics Room 107

Geology Department: Meeting, 7:30-9 p.m., Agriculture Building Room 106. University Park Black Programming Committee Forum discussion, "The Black American Studies Program. What is it? Who is it?" James Rosser and T. J. Slaughter, speakers, 9 p.m., Trueblood Hall, Panel Dining Room.

- Little Gypsy: Student Grotto: Meeting, 7 p.m., University Center Room C

JIM PEARL

FIVE 1968's LEFT

NEW: 1968 Catalina 2 Dr HT

white air cond., power steering and brakes

Demonstrators:

- 1968 Catalina 2 Dr sedan, blue air cond., power steering & brakes

- 1968 Catalina 2 Dr HT, white air cond., power steering & brakes

- 1968 Bonneville 2 Dr HT, white air cond., power steering & brakes

- 1968 Le Mans 2 Dr HT, white air cond., power steering & brakes

LONG TRAVEL TIPS

- 608

- Carbondale

Miami POP FESTIVAL AT GULFSTREAM PARK

A thousand wonders and a three day cage of beautiful music

SATURDAY, DEC. 28 • 1 pm 10 pm

L'ARRIVEE / Kim Farouk / Country Jordan & the Country Joans / Harriet and the Harlemites / Buffetti Show Band / The Grass / Woody Woodpecker / The World of Serena / The Unknown / Buddy Sampson / The Bells of Santa Maria / Chuck Berry / The Infinite Dreams / John Wayne's Rangers / McLean / Monogram / Bowdler T. and M. G. S. / Dina Veltens / Pendleton Mac

SUNDAY, DEC. 29 • 10 am 10 pm

[Event description]

MONDAY, DEC. 30 • 1 pm 10 pm

[Event description]

PLUS EVERY DAY

[Event description]

15% DISCOUNT COUPON

P.O. BOX 3096 MIAMI, FLORIDA 33101

Use this coupon and save 15% on any purchase of $10.00 or more.

[Instructions and details]
Nixon is wrong on court charge

President-elect Nixon has said, "Some of our courts in their decisions have gone too far in breaking down the barriers that shield the criminal forces, and we must act to reverse that balance." A look at some of the U. S. Supreme Court decisions under Chief Justice Warren, and the implications of those cases, shows that the words of Nixon are unfounded.

In 1961, in Nix v. Ohio, the Court ruled that the fruits of unreasonable searches and seizures cannot be used against a defendant. This ruling gave the prosecution a chance to try some criminals. In a way, this is what the Supreme Court did in this case from violating anyone's constitutional rights by searching first and then building a case on illegally obtained evidence.

In another 1961 case, Rogers v. Richmond, the Court ruled that coerced confessions are invalid. Again, criminal prosecution may be hindered. But it is only hindered in so far as police are prevented from, by third degree or other gentle methods, coercing an individual to confess to prevent further prosecution. If police must have this method of convicting prisoners, their forced confessions do constitute effective crime preventers.

In 1962, in Robinson v. California, the Court said that sentencing a drug addict to imprisonment without an attempt to cure him is cruel and unusual punishment. The Court said that drug addiction should be treated in the beginning as would mental illness or leprosy, this stand is in keeping with Warren's philosophy of applying the "never changing principles of freedom to ever-changing conditions." President-elect Nixon would do well to study this idea.

In Gideon v. Wainwright, 1963, the Court ruled that the state must provide counsel for those unable to use an attorney, for all offenses. Many states immediately recognized the value of public counsel and created offices to provide counsel for those unable to obtain one. If this is an obstruction of criminal justice, it is an obstruction provided for in the Constitution.

In 1964, the Court extended the right of attorney to all defendants in trials in ruling on Escobedo v. Illinois. Again, the Court has said that the public must be entitled to the personal liberties provided for other individuals.

The latest case was ruled in June of 1968. In Wathen v. Illinois, the Court said there could not be a trial without a jury, because the jury had been selected excluding persons with reservations about voir dire. The jury was called upon to dispose of cases is not without precedent, but it is an opposition individual rights.

In the light of these examples of criminal rulings by the Warren Court it would seem that Nixon's words were those needed to please Nixon. So, take your seat, please, Chief Justice Warren.

James M. Mank

"Why doesn't he fight harder?"

Letter

Thank you, Mr. Kartman

To the Daily Egyptian:

It is indeed a rare event when something that everyone agrees with, such an event occurred on Thursday night, November 13, in Decatur auditorium. By inviting the people who were required to attend the concert to leave, "with credit," after the first movement of the first piece, Myron Kartman, the conductor, won the unanimous respect and appreciation of:

1. The 200-300 people who arrived being forced to attend the concert, because, for the most part they don't like that kind of music and would rather have been doing something else.
2. The 300 to 400 people who wanted to hear the concert, because they like that kind of music and were otherwise riled they would rather have been doing.
3. The members of the orchestra who probably would not play at all to people who don't like the music they play.
4. All of the other people who give lectures and present performances which are cursed with the scourge of "convoy credit" or "required attendance.
5. The administrators and curriculum makers who have been sitting and waiting for someone to tell it like it is. (What he said was that "it ain't worth it.")
6. The people who have some ideas about alternative ways to develop attitudes and values and are probably just sitting for an opportunity to suggest and try them.

And finally, all of the people who in the future may not be required to attend the concerts and concerts... and as a result

Thank you, Mr. Kartman.

David Miles

What kind of world?

'Great Healer' not a likely role for Nixon

By Robert M. Hutchins

Newsp. 1. Agnew and Strom Thurmond have come home to roost. The vote in the Negro ghettos is almost unanimously against Richard Nixon. A President who has been elected who has the almost unanimous hostility of the most disaffected section of the community.

He cannot complain; he planned it. The Negro dominated the convention, no concessions were made at any point to the blacks.

The campaign showed that the campaign of the American people think that the Negroes have a legitimate grievance and that they ought no longer to be treated as second-class citizens. Unfortunately, the tiny minority was the crucial factor in Nixon's nomination and election. They will resist to the last any attempt to bring the Negroes into the same economic and political level as themselves.

Hence, the blacks cannot look at the federal government under Nixon with much hope for the immediate future. And even before the election the word was "Freedom Now. Unless something happens somehow, we are going to see the rapid spread of extremism and violence. This will be accented by the return of troops from Vietnam. The thousands of black soldiers, accustomed to desegregation and conscious of having been as well as whites under combat conditions, are not going to accept readily the place in society that the Republican Democrats have prepared for them. Something has to be done, and the federal government is not likely to do it. If Nixon alters the Supreme Court so that it starts ruling that the Negroes, determined by the states, will be impossible to preserve the gains that were made in 1964, think of Thurmond or Sen. Johnson of Texas as chief justice...

Since something has to be done and since the government is not likely to do it, the states and municipalities will have to move in to get it right. This can be done by relying on federal support, which the True-Healer will have to go ahead, anyway. And private enterprises, if only to stay in business, will have to go along with the community of which it operates, will not be forced to hire Negroes, even though no profits are to be made. It looks like a long, bleak winter, Controversy arose recently at SIU over the establishment of a six-member press council which will evaluate the news and editing of the Daily Egyptian.

The controversy has most recently centered around a memorandum from Chancellor Robert B. MacVicar to Student Body President Sam Pasanovitch. The memo outlines the organizational structure of the council and its purpose, stating that MacVicar is "proceeding to establish an interim basis a press council for the Daily Egyptian on an experimental basis."

Also included in the memo is MacVicar's statement that he believes "that we should continue our efforts to seek means to develop better understanding between the university and the Daily Egyptian and its problems."

The idea of a press council for the Daily Egyptian has been misinterpreted by many individuals interested in such an advisory group. Indeed, the press council concept is a relatively new and much-misunderstood one. Misconceptions of its purpose, its over-all objectives and its implementation are subject to varying conjecture. For one SIU faculty member the concept is not a new one, however, indeed for the past year the press council concept has occupied a great deal of his time and labor.

Kenneth Stark, assistant professor of journalism and director of a pilot demonstration on developing community press councils at SIU, states that such councils were established in Cairo and Sparta in the fall of 1967, and continue functioning today.

By Dean Rebuffoni

Stark's involvement with the press council, originally for the one-year period of the pilot demonstration is also continuing, with his present concern being that of a consultant.

The councils were set up through funds provided to Howard R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism, by the Mellert Fund.

Its membership is an independent non-profit corporation with the qualifications of a "friend of the college." It includes faculty from SIU and Stanford University who were the only such institutions which participated in the 1967-68 pilot demonstration.

It has been stated that the primary purpose of the experiment is to systematically determine the organization of a press council at SIU, in the hopes of developing a model which can be adapted to communities throughout the nation. It is to be a demonstration of realistic potential in the area of student government, the only such organization of its kind in the nation.

"The Daily Egyptian is使命 to express and explain the problems encountered by a publication," Stark said. "It is an independent organization of a press council which will evaluate the news and editing of the Daily Egyptian on an experimental basis, and to determine the organization of the council concept as it applies to SIU and the Daily Egyptian."

Stark added that he favors such a council, but with certain reservations.

"We can only quote to the press council concept as it applies to SIU and the Daily Egyptian," he said. "The Daily Egyptian will find it much more acceptable to work with such a board than have, say, the University administration determining policies."

Stark added that he knows of no university which has a press council at least one in which the "council" is a mediating board rather than a controlling body.

Stark has also become involved in the problems encountered by a publication. At the same time, the publication's personnel are made aware of the direct and indirect actions of its audience—the community it serves.

Stark's work with the press council included attending monthly meetings of the two groups, each of which had a varying active membership of 10-15 persons. The meeting's purpose was to consider under two major criteria: individuals who were active in the community and who, collectively, represented as many different interests as possible. Stark served as chairman for both.

In each case, the press councils were agreed upon by the publishers of the two publications, the Springfield News-Republic and the Cairo Evening Citizen. A tour of the latter publication's facilities, conducted during the early part of the pilot demonstration period, "impressed the council members with the problems newspapers face."

The two councils' monthly meetings were characterized by, in Stark's words, "free discussion. The discussion was classified by Stark as falling under two broad headings: issues pertaining directly to the newspaper, such as its role in the community and numerous questions about production and policy, and, issues pertain to the entire community (larger social issues such as racial relations, poverty, and unemployment).

The two press councils were, of course, only advisory bodies. The publishers of the two newspapers were not obligated to follow council suggestions. Stark said, however, that the council's meetings and suggestions, produced in his opinion, "definitely positive results."

During the year-long pilot demonstration, Stark conducted surveys and compiled notes on the meetings which have been used in a final report on the councils' activities.

In his final report, which has been submitted to the Student Council, Stark came to the following conclusions on the press council's work:

"The newspapers have become more aware of and responsive to community needs."

"As a by-product of this relations function was fulfilled with council members gaining a better understanding of the newspaper's role and the problems it faces."

Stark's final report includes a great deal more information on the press councils in Sparta and Cairo, of course, but in general it reveals that the councils are worthwhile organizations.

It also quotes from an article which appeared in Journal Quarters (Quarterly) of SIU in the spring, 1968 issue. According to the article, written by Edw. E. Gerald, the press council has, among others, these characteristics:

1. It is a private body formed to avoid governmental or school regulation of the press.
2. It operates as intermediary between the press and the public and between the press and government.
3. It consists of balanced representation of the public and the press, with little reliance on public opinion public reporting of its deliberations and decisions.
4. It succeeds in very successful in countries where journalists are "willing to avoid bitter and ugly extremism."
5. Insofar as the establishment organization of a press council at SIU for the Daily Egyptian is involved, Stark said that he favors such a board, but with certain reservations.

"It seems to me," Stark said, "that the Daily Egyptian will find it much more acceptable to work with such a board than have, say, the University administration determining policies."

Stark added that he knows of no university which has a press council at least one in which the "council" is a mediating board rather than a controlling body. Stark has also become involved in the problems encountered by a publication. At the same time, the publication's personnel are made aware of the direct and indirect actions of its audience—the community it serves.

Stark said that he favors such a board, but with certain reservations.

"We can only quote to the press council concept as it applies to SIU and the Daily Egyptian," he said. "The Daily Egyptian will find it much more acceptable to work with such a board than have, say, the University administration determining policies."

Stark added that he knows of no university which has a press council at least one in which the "council" is a mediating board rather than a controlling body.

Stark has also become involved in the problems encountered by a publication. At the same time, the publication's personnel are made aware of the direct and indirect actions of its audience—the community it serves.

Stark's final report includes a great deal more information on the press councils in Sparta and Cairo, of course, but in general it reveals that the councils are worthwhile organizations.

It also quotes from an article which appeared in Journal Quarters (Quarterly) of SIU in the spring, 1968 issue. According to the article, written by Edw. E. Gerald, the press council has, among others, these characteristics:

1. It is a private body formed to avoid governmental or school regulation of the press.
2. It operates as intermediary between the press and the public and between the press and government.
3. It consists of balanced representation of the public and the press, with little reliance on public opinion public reporting of its deliberations and decisions.
4. It succeeds in very successful in countries where journalists are "willing to avoid bitter and ugly extremism."
5. Insofar as the establishment organization of a press council at SIU for the Daily Egyptian is involved, Stark said that he favors such a board, but with certain reservations.

"It seems to me," Stark said, "that the Daily Egyptian will find it much more acceptable to work with such a board than have, say, the University administration determining policies."

Stark added that he knows of no university which has a press council at least one in which the "council" is a mediating board rather than a controlling body. Stark has also become involved in the problems encountered by a publication. At the same time, the publication's personnel are made aware of the direct and indirect actions of its audience—the community it serves.

Stark's final report includes a great deal more information on the press councils in Sparta and Cairo, of course, but in general it reveals that the councils are worthwhile organizations.

It also quotes from an article which appeared in Journal Quarters (Quarterly) of SIU in the spring, 1968 issue. According to the article, written by Edw. E. Gerald, the press council has, among others, these characteristics:

1. It is a private body formed to avoid governmental or school regulation of the press.
2. It operates as intermediary between the press and the public and between the press and government.
3. It consists of balanced representation of the public and the press, with little reliance on public opinion public reporting of its deliberations and decisions.
4. It succeeds in very successful in countries where journalists are "willing to avoid bitter and ugly extremism."
5. Insofar as the establishment organization of a press council at SIU for the Daily Egyptian is involved, Stark said that he favors such a board, but with certain reservations.
SAVE 7% on your Food Bill

!SAV-MART Logo

GREEN GIANT SALE

Bananas 1 lb. 10¢

Pillsbury Flour 5 lb. bag 38¢

U.S. Choice Boston Roll Boneless Beef Roast 1 lb. 79¢

Mayrose Sausage Roll Sliced Bacon 1 lb. pkg. 68¢

Mayrose A/C Roll Sausage 3 lb. pkg. 89¢

Hunter, Kraay or Mayrose 5-7 lb. avg. Full Shank Portion

Fully Cooked Ham

- Full Shank Half or Butt Portion 1 lb. 45¢
- Whole Ham 16-18 lb. avg. 1 lb. 53¢
- 16-18 lb. avg. Turkeys 1 lb. 35¢
- 10-14 lb. avg. . . . 39¢

Mayrose Butcher Whole Boneless Ham 1 lb. 95¢

- Half Ham . . . 1 lb. 99¢ Sliced & Tied . . . 1 lb. $1.05

We reserve the right to limit quantities.

Pillsbury Flour 38¢

Serve 'n Save

- White Bread 4/$1
- Flaky Rolls or Twin Rolls 4/$1
- Libby's Pumpkin Pie Mix no. 29 oz. 3/$1
- Jack O'Lantern Yams no. 303 oz. 6/$1

Serve 'n Save

- Americanos Aluminum Foil 48¢
- Coffee Filters 100 pkg. 25¢
- Croutettes 4 oz. pkg. 3/$1
- Pillsbury Pie Crust Mix 4/$1
- Whipped Margarine 3/79¢
- Kraft Philadelphia Cream Cheese 8 oz. pkg. 29¢

Ice Cream 1 gal. 59¢

Mayo and Miracle Whip

- Mayo and Miracle Whip 38¢

Green Giant Sale

- Broccoli, Peas in Butter Sauce, White Corn, Onions, Cauliflower, 16 oz. can 3/$1
- Nabisco Cream

20-24 lb. avg. Turkeys 28¢

- 18-20 lb. avg. . . . 34¢
- 12-16 lb. avg. . . . 49¢

SEA TEST Ice Cream 1 gal. 59¢

- Cranberry Sauce 5/1.00
- Libby's Pumpkin 2/29¢
- Kraft Philadelphia Cream Cheese 29¢

Miracle Whip or 38¢

- Crisp, solid Lettuce 2 head 49¢
- Red or White Grapefruit 5 lb. bag 57¢

Prices effective Nov 20 thru Nov 23, 1968.
George and Martha

‘Virginia Woolf’ to feature

Charlotte Owens, Paul Bahan

Edward Albee’s prize-winning drama, “Who’s Afraid of Virginia Woolf?” opens a six-performance run Monday at the University Theater in the Communications Building. Performing the leading roles of Martha and George will be Charlotte Owens, winner of the 1967-68 outstanding actress award for her performance as Clara Zachanassian in “The Seagull,” and Paul Bahan, member of the 1968 Summer Theater Company. Making their first appearance on the SIU stage in Lucille Younger, a senator, majoring in journalism, portraying the role of Honey, and Kim Harris, a graduate of Carson-Newman College, Greeneville, Tenn., who will star as Nick, Director of the play is Sherwin Abram, assistant professor of theater. Design and technical directions are by Philip Henderson and costumes are by Edith Stewart Harris. “Who’s Afraid of Virginia Woolf?” also will be staged Saturday and Sunday and December 4-8. Tickets are available at the theater box office in the School of Communications and at the University Center information desk.

Art show planned for open house

The Office of the Dean of Students, Washington Square, Building A, will hold an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday.

Featured in the open house will be an art exhibit by the following new members of the Department of Art faculty: George Cowin and Jr., Sylvia Greenfield, John Link, Lee Littlefield, Michael Onken and Stephen Walden.

Law dean to visit SIU

Dean Edward J. Kionka of the University of Illinois Law School will conduct an informal meeting for interested law students in Room 121 of the General Classroom Building at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Appointments can be made by calling Mrs. Karen Zink at 453-2475.

For a list of current officers, see page 1.

SIU Free School

Members of the Free School will meet to construct a darkroom at 7 p.m. tonight in the Free School House, 212 East Pearl.

Students interested in enrolling in a Free School photographic laboratory course or in using the darkroom facilities are invited.

WEDNESDAYS ARE SPAGHETTI DAYS

All the Spaghetti
You can Eat for $1!!!

LITTLE CAESAR’S
CAMPUS SHELL-UP CENTER
WE DELIVER CALL 450-0324
PIZZA • PIZZA • PIZZA
City Council considers coin machine ordinance

By John Dufala
The Carbondale City Council Tuesday agreed to set an annual $25 license fee on all juke boxes and amusement devices included in the proposed ordinance regulating certain coin-operated machines.

Formal approval of the propelled a recommendation by the council was set where the machine will be placed initially. The machines may be moved, however.
The tax was tentatively approved by the council was set between $50 and $500 for each machine found unlicensed.

The Chamber of Commerce
had raised an initial objection
the first draft of the pro-applied to only the owners and distributors of machines purchase and display a license on each unit.

This clarified a draft which did not disstinguish between the machine owners and the owner of the establishment where the machine is placed.
The revised ordinance re-quircs that the license application contain information as to where the machine will be placed initially. The machines may be moved, however.
The tax is tentatively approved by the council was set
between $50 and $500 for
each machine found un-
licensed.

The Chamber of Commerce
had raised an initial objection to the first draft of the proposed ordinance because of the inclusion of coin vending machines. Fleerlage said he talked with Harry Wods, executive director of the chamber, Tuesday and the objection was removed when food vending machines were deleted from the original ordinance.
The revised ordinance states that the police and code enforcement departments shall make inspections and enforce the ordinance.

Violations shall be reported to the city council with a recommendation on what action should be taken.
The first draft of the ordinance was drawn up by Fleerlage and Mayor David Knecht and presented to the council at its Oct. 1 meeting.

Professors discuss student unrest

By Mike Martz

Students in Paris and this county are learning the same grievances, says Don Dube, associate professor of philosphy.

Dube and Charles C. Staln, associate professor of economy, spoke on student unrest
Monday night at a meeting of the SIU chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

"The last war has not been heard in France, but in Illinois," said Dube. He was in Paris during the student uprisings last May.

Dube said he recently received a letter from the University of Hamburg in Germany. He said he learned that while the students were not fighting in the streets at the moment, the fighting might break out at any time.

Dube said there are fewer differences than might be expected between the Paris uprisings and American student revolts. In his opinion, the students in both countries have the same grievances as a base for their rebellion.

In regard to problems between the student and the university, Staln said intolerance and bureaucracy are the major causes of tension.

"The student feels the university is not doing nothing to solve the problems," he said.

Staln said there are three major problems facing the student in society, the Vatifan war, the draft and poverty and at home.

If It Rains,
You'll Still Shine

Join The Fun

Pizza

BEER

LIVE music

FRI 3107

VILLAGE ANN

"Where Pizza is Always in Good Taste"

PH 549-7323 or 549-4012

London Fog... from $37.50

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

GOLDMANN'S

811 S. Illinois

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

GOLDMANN'S

811 S. Illinois

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

GOLDMANN'S

811 S. Illinois

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

GOLDMANN'S

811 S. Illinois

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

"If it's good enough for
London Fog, it's good enough
for you."

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

GOLDMANN'S

811 S. Illinois
South Vietnam may send team to Paris

PARIS (AP) — South Vietnam’s observer mission at the suspended peace talks was reported Tuesday to be preparing for the arrival of a full-scale negotiation team within 11 days.

This reinforced a widespread expectation among diplomats that peace talks will resume in Saigon soon, as President Thieu was preparing to visit Paris in early November to discuss the carries. Van Thieu will end his boycott of the conference in a matter of days.

South Vietnamese sources said plain that they expect that South Vietnam’s mission, headed by former Prime Minister Tran Van Don, will be expanded to the equivalent of a full diplomatic mission.

Informants did not disclose details of the arrangements they said were being worked out in Saigon now between Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

But one source indicated that the key to the formula likely to emerge amounts simply to this: Each of the four powers to the conference—the Americans and South Vietnamese on one side, the North Vietnamese and National Liberation Front—NLF—on the other side—will be left free to interpret the basis of representation as it wishes.

If this is correct in itself, it is in the view of diplomats of several interested countries, give rise to yet new procedural problems which in turn could hold up the start of substantive talks.

The mission led by ex-Foreign Minister Pham Dang Lam is busy at the moment hunting for headquarters in downtown Paris and organizing direct radio communications between the mission and Saigon.

LBJ gives warnings, medals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson somberly warned that the U.S. need for Vietnamese medals of Americans will see a great deal more action in Vietnam if peace is not achieved in the Southeast Asia war.

Addressing the American House audience—on hand for the presentation of five medals of Honor—the nation’s highest military award for heroes since the Korean Conflict—presented to the leader of the to the talks in Paris.

The five Army men who received the nation’s highest military award for heroism since the Korean Conflict, first chaplain to win the medal in Vietnam and Kosygin impressed by Nixon message

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Kosygin met here with two U.S. senators Wednesday of the Senate of the U.S. and Nobel prize-winning Physicist of Harvard University, who is in town for joint U.S.-Soviet steps to guard against nuclear war.

Kosygin, D. Caspian, and Slavetin, the N.S. Nobel prize-winning Physicist of Harvard University, who is in town for joint U.S.-Soviet steps to guard against nuclear war.

And, according to an American official, the Soviet Premier said he would be willing to hold further talks with him about the course Nixon would take in his negotiations with the president. But without mentioning Nixon by name, Kosygin said it would be the other way around if either the Soviet Union or the United States tried to negotiate from strength.

Nixon advocated a position of strength for the United States during the election campaign, the same position that he has been espousing for more than a year, the president. Nixon, who was also present, said he had been urged to hold talks with Kosygin by his personal assistant, John Ehrlichman. Nixon had also referred to him in a speech in England last week, in which he referred to Kosygin as a man who has been urging cooperation between the superpowers to work for peace.

Quality first—then speed SETTLEMENT'S

SHOE REPAIR all work guaranteed

Adkins, from the Valley Theatre

Society for Advancement of Management presents

Mr. J. McCarty-Allen Industries on The Glacier Period

"a whole new concept in "ergonomic" see the only full blown model in the area

-30-

Fleury & Downes

Feb. 20, 1968

3:30 p.m.

Ag Seminar Room

SPAGHETTI PLATE

THURS. NOV. 21 4 P.M. to 8 P.M.

ALL YOU CAN EAT

ALL THE FISH, SLAW & FRIED POTATOES YOU CAN EAT FOR $1.00

FISH PLATE

WED. NOV. 20 4 P.M. to 8 P.M.

ALL YOU CAN EAT

ALL THE FISH, SLAW & FRIED POTATOES YOU CAN EAT FOR $1.00

WHITE CHIMICHURRI PLATE

TUES. NOV. 24 1 P.M. to 8 P.M.

ALL YOU CAN EAT

ALL THE CHIMICURRI & GARLIC BREAD YOU CAN EAT FOR $1.00

ALSO: POPULAR BEER FOR 25¢

LITTLE BROWN JUG

119 N. WASHINGTON
School children learn to operate a sorghum mill

By Tom Wood

A couple of hundred Southern Illinois elementary school children are getting a look at an old-time sorghum mill operation at SIU's Outdoor Education Laboratory at Little Grassy this fall.

During the day-long field trips to the Outdoor Laboratory the students cut and de-sheath the cane, operate the press and boil the juice into syrup. And at day's end they get a sample jar of their work.

Schools from Cobden, Murphyboro, Pomonca, Marion and Cairo have participated in the sorghum operation, which is part of an educational program for area students which includes a black-moth shop, brown making, maple tree tapping and syrup making.

Several teachers have expressed enthusiasm for the initial phase of the program and have said they are looking forward to returning in the warmer with their classes.

The field trip provides a "good reinforcement to many of the things taught in the classroom," said one teacher. "It is a lot easier to gain the students' attention and interest under these pleasant conditions."

A slide lecture is being devised by the Outdoor Laboratory to augment the field trips. It will be mailed to the participating teacher.

Several Southern Illinois elementary school children fed cane into the press while a single mule supplies the power. The students are visiting Little Grassy Laboratory as an educational field trip.

_HEAVY, ALL WOOL V-NECK for Guys & Gals $12.95
Plaid, stripes & solid casual slacks $9.00 & up
The latest in school fashions. New stripes, plaid & solid designs $2.95

The Squire Shop Ltd

To place YOUR ad, use this handy ORDER FORM

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Minimum</th>
<th>1 Day</th>
<th>3 Days</th>
<th>Continuous</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 Line</td>
<td>$1.00</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Lines</td>
<td>$1.50</td>
<td>$3.00</td>
<td>$3.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 Lines</td>
<td>$2.00</td>
<td>$4.00</td>
<td>$4.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING ORDER

- Complete one form for each item
- Include your name, address, phone number
- Specify kind of ad
- Specify size
- Specify number of runs
- Include payment

DAILY EGYPTIAN CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ORDER FORM

NAME
ADDRESS
PHONE NO.

2 KIND OF AD

3 RUN AD

4 CHECK ENCLOSED

5
Crab Orchard: refuge for geese

By Mary Lou Manning

While Capturano has its legendary swallow, Crab Orchard has its geese.

Late in fall each year thousands of Canadian geese migrate southward and lodge in the Crab Orchard Wildlife Refuge for a safe, plentiful winter.

"The refuge was built in 1947 for the express purpose of providing wintering areas for Canadian geese," explained Arch Mehrhoff, projects manager of the refuge. "Before the geese merged with two other areas, the geese winted in Horseshoe Lake near Olive Branch."

Seventy-five live decoy geese were used to lure the first Canadian visitors when the refuge opened in 1947. By 1950, between 15,000 and 20,000 geese were wintering in the area. This number steadily increased until a peak of 90,000 winter guests was reached in the mid-60s.

Difficulties in nesting during the 1960s caused the number of annual geese to drop to 60,000 where it stands today.

All totaled, 200,000 Canadian geese migrate to the Southern Illinois area. Mehrhoff said the peak figure of 60,000 is usually reached around the first of December.

"It actually depends upon the weather in Wisconsin," he said. "Canadian geese first migrate to a refuge in Wisconsin when the lake freezes there. Then they migrate to Crab Orchard."
Speech, hearing check

SIU to test city children

By Tim Terrick

In practically every school system today, tests are administered to determine if there are hearing or speech deficiencies in the students. But the problem in testing adults and pre-school children, especially residents of the ghetto? Is there a way these people may be tested to find out if they have adequate communicating facilities?

Until recently, Carbondale's answer to this problem was no. But now with SIU contributions of a grant and volunteer workers, a speech and hearing test center has been established in the northeast section of town.

The center, set up by the SIU Department of Speech Pathology and Audiology, is supervised by Mrs. Sue Ann Pace, assistant professor of speech pathology. Assisting Mrs. Pace are Mrs. Dru Copeland, instructor, and Darrel Norton, a graduate student. Also participating in the project are several other graduate and undergraduate students.

Facilities are present in the center to administer speech and hearing tests to five people at a time. While these five are being tested, there is ample space to prepare and register numerous others.

In its first day of operation, Nov. 11, the center administered tests to 20 children. Although this figure is not overwhelmingly large, the staff explained that it was a holiday and many people could not be contacted. Norton added that a higher turnout is anticipated in the future.

The major problem, according to the staff, is testing the adults, especially invalid adults, know of their services. Mrs. Copeland, however, said that the Welfare Rights Council and the Northeast Congress have been aiding the cause by "spreading the word" in the neighborhood. She added that transportation is provided for those who need it.

Although the project was mainly established for testing purposes, its functions do not stop there. According to Mrs. Copeland, if one of their patients is found to need a hearing aid the agency will help teach the person how to use it. If it is found that the hearing aid does not alleviate the problem then the individual will be taught lip reading, added the instructor. University funds have been allocated to keep the center in existence only until the end of the quarter. It will then be up to the administration to decide if the services will be renewed. All of the staff expressed hope that the agency will be able to extend operations through the winter quarter, but in order to do this, the staff said that it must show the administration that there is a great need for these services in this particular section of town.

The center, which is located in the Housing Authority Office at 207 N. Marion, is open from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Wednesdays.

Aviation fraternity initiates active members and pledges

Alpha Eta Rho, national aviation fraternity, recently initiated four active members and 10 pledges.

The new active members are Tom Kesterson, sophomore from Peoria; Larry Walston, sophomore from Alto; Hans Mantel, sophomore from Waunakee, and Lonnie Bauer, sophomore from Paxton.

Pledges are Fred Bening, sophomore from Downers Grove; Steve Arnes, freshman from Barrington; Neil Johnson, freshman from Streator, John Dvoracek, sophomore from Glenside Hills; Will Straske, freshman from Gray's Lake; Mack Wiley, freshman from Decatur; Dean Rawell, freshman from Mackinaw; Tom Ritting, junior from Chicago, Randy Gotschall, freshman from Champaign; and Brad Jones, freshman, from Glen Ellen.

Hillsboro will host SIU adult course

SIU's Division of Technical and Adult Education will sponsor a course in Hillsboro designed for adults who wish to review for the General Educational Development test for the high school equivalency certificate.

Registration for the course is Tuesday. The class will meet Tuesday night for 15 weeks. More information may be obtained at the Hillsboro High School.

Get the bus at EPPS MOTORS

Highway 13-East
Ph 457-2184

Overnight Delivery Available
Student extends study to foreign lands

By Sheldon Hellgot

For an SIU student, a special program in living with a family in a foreign country can be a lot more than that. It brings him into contact with family in India, Mark Hansen also spent 16 days in Vietnam as a teacher-trainer in the nose and is now turning some of his experiences into academic credits.

It all started when Hansen was recruited to SIU's previous SIU students who had participated in the Experiment in International Living. He applied to the program which allows a student to live and study in a foreign country. "Being interested in India," Hansen said, "I decided to apply for this, I would be able to live with a family and would be able to travel through India.

In the meantime, two other things happened while his application was being processed. Hansen learned about Tutor assist job corpsmen

Every Tuesday evening 10-15 corpsmen from the Crab Orchard Job Corps Center came to SIU for a tutoring session in reading. The sessions, sponsored by the Carbondale League of Women Voters, began about a year ago.

Each session, beginning at 7:30 in the Emerick Building, is conducted on an informal, informal basis and provides more intensive study than is possible at the Job Corps Center. The personal approach is used to help students who are in the classroom structure, according to Mrs. Frank Kieh, who supervises the program and is presently co-ordinator.

The tutors are students and graduates from the community. It is up to each tutor to determine how he can best assist the corpsmen, Mr. Kieh said. She added that some of the students who continue with the program also benefit and bear from working with the corpsmen.

Although the reading practice and help are valuable to the corpsmen, the chance to come to SIU is also important in broadening their horizons, Mrs. Kieh said. Most of the corpsmen haven't been to a college campus before.

Tutors assist job corpsmen

Every Tuesday evening 10-15 corpsmen from the Crab Orchard Job Corps Center come to SIU for a tutoring session in reading. The sessions, sponsored by the Carbondale League of Women Voters, began about a year ago.

Each session, beginning at 7:30 in the Emerick Building, is conducted on an informal, informal basis and provides more intensive study than is possible at the Job Corps Center. The personal approach is used to help students who are in the classroom structure, according to Mrs. Frank Kieh, who supervises the program and is presently co-ordinator.

The tutors are students and graduates from the community. It is up to each tutor to determine how he can best assist the corpsmen, Mr. Kieh said. She added that some of the students who continue with the program also benefit and bear from working with the corpsmen.

Although the reading practice and help are valuable to the corpsmen, the chance to come to SIU is also important in broadening their horizons, Mrs. Kieh said. Most of the corpsmen haven't been to a college campus before.

DON'S ANNUAL Pre Christmas SALE

ALL DIAMONDS 30% OFF

Watches 20% to 30% off

Mountings 30% off

Herren's Jewelry

USE OUR LAYAWAY PLAN

DON'S JEWELRY

CARBONDALE
Three sophomores in basketball lineup

Three sophomores and two seniors will be in the starting lineup Thursday night when the Salukis take on the freshman team at 8:05 p.m. intra-squad contest.

Roger Westbrook, sophomore, Centralia, 5-10 will start at one of the guard positions. Tom McBride, Hoopesville, 6-4 will be starting at one of the forward positions, and Norm Hill, former prepster from Anna-Jonesboro, who was redshirted at SIU, after transferring from Litchthorpe College will start at the other forward position. Both young men are 6-8.

All three newcomers will be joined by veteran 6-5 guard Dick Garrett Centralia, and 6-4 center Chuck Benzon, Atlanta, Ga.

Garrett, who in two years has scored 992 points, eight more than All American Walt Frasier scored in the same period, averaged 20.1 points per game last season.

Hillman was the second leading scorer with 11.9 points.

Sidetracked from a starting berth are letter winners, Craig Taylor, Willie Griffin, Res Barkett, Bruce Hutchik, and Juarets Rosborough.

"The whole team has impressed me more than this season with their willingness to work hard," Coach Jack Hartman said. "In the last couple weeks we've been working hard on team play situations and basic defensive and offensive patterns."

Frosh lose undefeated status

24-21; finish with 5-1 record

SIU’s freshmen team just missed an undefeated season Monday by dropping a 24-21 decision to Southeast Missouri State in Cape Girardeau. Southern wound up the season at 5-1.

In the fourth quarter the Salukis yearlings were down 24-7, and then in a three minute span Southern came back to close the gap 24-21. However, it was too little too late.

"Material wise we should have run them off the field and around the corner," SIU freshmen coach Ralph Young said. "Maybe we weren't ready to play, and maybe we were a little over confident, but it's hard to say.

Young also said two bad breaks hurt the Salukis. In the fourth quarter SIU drove down to Southern's six-yard line, but two 15-yard penalties put the ball on the 35-yard line.

"I feel this ball club may have learned a great deal this game," Young continued. "They learned that any team can beat you on a given day if you're not ready to go 100 percent." When asked how this team will help the Salukis next season Young stated that they have started their college careers with a winning attitude and that this spirit should carry over into spring drills and next year.

Although the freshmen squad has many good individuals, it will be hard for them to break into next season's varsity lineup because the Salukis have mostly sophomores and juniors, losing only nine via graduation.

The freshmen gridders will improve the varsity a great deal by adding depth at all positions, Young asserted.

"This team is as good as any freshmen team in the country could be," Young added. "The boys we've got could play in the Big Ten or Big Eight, but they chose SIU because they would have a better chance of making a young ball club."

"With a young varsity team and this freshmen squad, we hope to start a football tradition at SIU."
Athletic expansion progresses slowly

By Philip J. Heller

At least four major proposals of athletic expansion which were approved by the Board of Trustees last spring have been put into effect. Others, however, are still pending or have been dropped.

One university official explained that “it takes a long time for change to come about. And the SUI athletic expansion program is no exception.” He explained that the group set up by President Morris to study the feasibility

Turkey trot race set

A two-mile turkey trot across country race will be held Thursday at 4:20 p.m. east of the Arena.

Registration will be between 3:30 p.m. and 4:15 p.m. Thursday.

The first three prizes are for course turkeys. Other prizes will be awarded through 15th place.

Daily Egyptian Classified Action Ads

The Daily Egyptian reserves the right to reject any advertising copy. No refunds on cancelled ads.
Cooper little wrestler with big potential

By Bob Leckens

Small—5'9"—but packing a big punch when he attacks describes SIU Wrestler Ben Cooper, classified as potentially one of the best wrestlers of this year's squad.

A junior majoring in health education, Cooper, from Decatur, boasted a 19-3-1 record after last year's competition. After four years of high school wrestling at Stephen Decatur High School, Cooper had notched a 79-8 record.

"Wrestling is a sport that is underestimated in most places because the majority of the people don't understand what is going on," Cooper said. "It's funny to me when you hear the crowd yelling for a guy that they think is winning when he is really losing."

"Even when your team is great and you possibly win all your matches, the team still doesn't get the recognition that it deserves," Cooper said. "Take Iowa State for an example, it has a smaller student body than we do, but their students always come out to support their team."

Cooper started wrestling in high school when he was cut from the basketball squad and his football coach suggested that he go out for wrestling to keep in shape.

"It's not fun to lose weight, it's not fun to practice day after day, but it is fun to wrestle," Cooper added.

"Once I started I really liked it and I have been wrestling ever since." Does being an athlete and a student at the same time stifle your living habits?

"When practice first started and I was losing weight (weighed in at 205 now down to 181) sure I was tired and stiff from the workouts," Cooper said. "But it's all a matter of conditioning and now I am adjusted to it."

When a person considers going out for the wrestling team he must want to win most of all. Wrestling is an individual sport, putting man against man, a true test of just what your own abilities can do, according to Cooper.

"If you win, then you have helped your team and you have wasted your own abilities and have won out. That's what personal satisfaction comes in," Cooper said. "If you lose, then you view your dissension and next time you will have to work a little harder and sacrifice a little more."

Wrestling in the 175-pound class, Cooper is a native of Southern because it was close to home and his love of wrestling made it assist football at SIU.

"I looked at the choice this way. I didn't want to go to a real big school, yet I didn't want to go to a small school, so I picked Southern because it's kind of in the middle," Cooper said.

Like participants in most other sports, Cooper confessed that he gets somewhat scared before each match, "but after the first physical contact, you forget all about it, relax and go all out to win. It's only human to be a little excited before your match, then it's all over until next time."

His biggest thrill of his wrestling career was being able to participate in the NC AA championships. He won his first match and scored a point for the SIU team which placed tenth with four points.

Meats and potatoes and the basic foods are what Cooper eats to maintain his 175-pound weight. "I love to eat more than anything and sometimes it's hard for me to cut down," Cooper said.

In the off season Cooper likes to "hang around with girls and play basketball and other football for my own amusement—then I'm just fat and happy."

PARTY TIME?
Call today & reserve a band!

STRETCH TUMMY—THANKSGIVING IS NEXT WEEK!

ROOMS FOR WOMEN
410 W. FREEMAN
$140 PER QUARTER
(ROOM ONLY)
COOKING PRIVILEGES OPTIONAL
PH 457-4190

BANDS!

Savings Are Insured And Earn More At Carbondale Loan
& Improvement Assn.
Ph. 235-7345

More & Faster
CORNER 32 UNIVERSITY & FREEMAN

"Our services free of charge to you!"

DANCE TIME?