Faculty to Study Proposal to End Textbook Rental

A suggestion to discontinue the textbook rental system at SIU will be studied by the Faculty Council at the request of President Sylvie M. Morris. Making one of his infrequent appearances before the council, Morris Tuesday discussed the range of topics, including SIU's textbook rental policy.

The president exchanged views with the council for information, not a meeting, in consulting on the plan of the new building are (from left) Charles Pulley, University architect; Mielziner; Larry Smith, Chicago architect; and Archibald McLeod, chairman of the Department of Theater.

Noted Stage Director Calls Campus Facilities Advanced

By Dianne Anderson

Jo Mielziner, the noted stage designer, was on campus this week as a consultant for the further development of the Communications Building.

He visited the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses to appraise their plans and facilities and to consult on the planning of the development of Phase I and Phase II of the Carbondale Communications Building complex.

"I've seen 13 theaters so far in New York and it didn't seem as big," Mielziner, born in Paris, said about Sigma Pi's campus.

Sigma Pi Shares in National Program

To mark the 17th anniversary of the founding of Sigma Pi fraternity, Southern's Beta Nu Chapter of the fraternity will take part Saturday in a special program noting the occasion.

A telephone-speaker system has been installed in 16 high school classrooms connecting each of the participating chapter with the National Office. Similar programs will be held at Carbondale and Alpha Chapter, both located in Vincennes, Ind. Students from the 25 schools in the service program will be Grand Sage Lyle H. Smith, of Minow, N.D., and Honorary Grand Sage, Judge Curtis G. Shake of Vincennes.

Speaking by tape from the NASA Headquarters in Houston will be astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

Mielziner, a member of Sigma Pi fraternity on Southern's campus will be among more than 2,000 brothers taking part in the anniversary celebration.

VIETNAM War Veteran Says Air Support Gives U.S. Edge

Capt. Edward Boyt, U.S. Army, spoke Tuesday in Gray -ock Auditorium to AFROTC about his tour of duty in Vietnam with the 1st Air Cavalry Division. The 1st Air Cavalry was developed and tested in the United States in 1963-64. It is comprised of three brigades of 2,000 men each with air combat support units. "We were told to go play war in the Carolinas," Boyt said, "and the concept proved successful."

The Air Cavalry differs from other U.S. Army cavalry units in that it utilizes helicopters and close air support of ground operations. "The French failed in Viet -nam for lack of air support," Boyt said, who earned a career as a Convey air without air support. One of Ho Chi Minh’s basic military doctrines has been that Americans would never close air support. They cut off our troops and got close enough that air sup -port would be impossible with -out injuring American sol -diers. We had to figure out ways to get that support with -out getting killed." Boyt participated in the 1st Air Cavalry’s first major operation on Nov. 14, 1963. A North Vietnamese unit had fallen back into the mountains to regroup. They were being pursued by six American units. The 1st Air Cavalry landed in helicopters in front of the attacking units, and surprised the Viet Cong. Boyt showed one slide during his talk in which there were 20 to 30 South Viet -namese who were starving to death with several tons of rice stored around them. Viet Cong had taken hostages whom they threatened to kill if the other villagers ate the rice. "You cannot imagine the terror these people live with," Boyt said. He said the land was rich. "It’s lush, green ground with some nice beaches," he said. "It’s beautiful from 40,000 feet."

SIU Activity Rated Lifeless, Survey Shows

By Kevin Cole

"If opinion surveys can be trusted, SIU might as well give up; this place is out of the swing. Ninety-seven college newspaper editors can't be wrong. The group, queried by McCull magazine, was asked to rank the reputations of colleges in several categories. SIU made none of the categories. Vassar ranked as one of the schools producing the "best wives," "the dullest girls" and the "most promiscuous women." Girls are "most likely to find a husband at UCLA. That university also rated among those with "greatest sexual freedom." The topic was dropped there. Harvard develops the most liberal men, millionaires, and promiscuous men, the survey said. SIU was not mentioned in any of these categories. "Most drinking" is done at the Universitys of Virginia, Wisconsin, Miami at Ohio and Colorado. Again SIU was omit -ted in the listings. The editors placed South-west Texas State College as the most likely breeding ground for presidents, SIU came in second only to Harvard and ahead of Yale and West Point. One STC alum -nus is Lyndon B. Johnson. The young editors listed Northwestern as the school to which they would like to send their daughters, and Har- vard as the school to which they would like to send their sons.

The Devil Returns To Division Street

Recently, Nelson Algren was arrested by narcotics agents in Chicago. Ironically, the Hollywood adaptation of Algren's novel on drug addiction, The Man with the Golden Arm, was shown on Sunday night T.V., shortly thereafter. But perhaps the greater irony is the fact that one of America's finest living novelists and former professor at the Iowa Writer's Workshop is now, by label of the Federal Government, a criminal.

Last fall, I assigned my GSD English classen Algren's short story in alcoholism, "How the Devil Came Down Division Street." Students were assigned to write a theme interpreting the story and identifying the allegorical or symbolic "Devil." The result varied then, but it is clear now; he is that same nefarious character who is bugging our phones, censoring our magazines, persecuting our loyalty oaths—George Orwell called him "Big Brother."

In the January 1967 issue of Revue de Littérature, the editor, commenting on the tragic death of comedian-sociologist Len Bias, said that "Lenny died from an overdose of cocaine. After that, the value of his work, his opinion in the Bruce article was that the very society that Bruce so savagely satirized, branded him as subversive and proscribed his work as subversive. In the process, he was a paradigmatic redefinition reaction; a case of a criminal society committing crimes for its critics. William Blake wrote in 1795, "Prisons are built with stones of Law, Brothel with bricks of Religion." The story is all too frequent and inequitable law have now imprisoned Nelson Algren, but Algren is not alone.

In Soviet Russia it is not uncommon for men of letters to be imprisoned for dangerous writings or activities—witness Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuri Daniel. In our country, Henry David Thoreau was imprisoned for refusing to pay taxes to support the Mexican War. I'm acuerdo in shock what he was doing in jail, Thoreau replied by asking of Emerson, "What are you doing out there?" Times have changed. Dr. Baer refuses to pay that portion of her taxes which would go to support the Viet Nam war, but "Big Brother" has gotten smart; he "attaches" her taxes from a bank, "lets freedom ring" and gets money anyway.

Yet Algren pays his taxes, does not advocate the violent overthrow of government, and writes about the problems of the individual in an unind...

Mielziner described himself as an "all-around theater man" not interested in just one aspect such as lighting, mechanics, or costumes. "They are all necessary pawns in the chess game," he said. "Among Mielziner’s present activities is the codeesigning of a theater at the University of Michigan and one at the University of Rhode Island. Following a tour of Shroyer Auditorium with an eye to possible hints for redesigning the facility, Mielziner flew to New York for an opening Tuesday evening.

RFK Says Presidents Knew of CIA Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Tuesday the Central Intelligence Agency operated under presidential orders when it financed student trips to foreign meetings.

"If it was a mistake, it was one of policy made in the executive branch and it should not be blamed on the CIA," Kennedy told a reporter.

Kennedy said that when he was in the Cabinet as attorney general he knew the government was paying bills for student travel abroad and he said the decision to do this through the CIA was made "at the highest levels" in the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Diplomat Says Time Is Right To Negotiate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States should take advantage of the internal turmoil in Red China to negotiate peace in Vietnam, soldier-diplomat James Mc Gavin, who advised Tuesday.

But don't do it by escalating the war, he told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Such an escalation, the retired three-star general and former ambassador to France said, "might provide the very basis of bringing order into the Chinese situation, with a prompt and militant response to the aid of Hanoi."

Gavin, now chairman of the board of a management consultant firm in Cambridge, Mass., said the terms may "seem to us to be rather a stiff price to pay for peace."

Some might call it appeasement, he indicated.

"But the alternative," he said, "is a protracted conflict."

Gavin said he believes "that we can negotiate with Hanoi and with the National Liberation Front confide that a free, neutral and independent Vietnam can be established with guarantees of stability from an international body."

The general said "many Americans still think of international affairs in terms of almost a generation ago, a world of bad guys and good guys."

"Actually the world is no longer like that, for the Communist conspiracy is shattered beyond possibility of recovery." What the United States should do, he said, is make peace in Vietnam and get back to the business of building a better society where poverty is abolished and the standard of living raised for all citizens.

"I emphasize these national needs," he said, "because I believe that they are being grossly neglected while we continue to escalate our spending in Vietnam."
Frontier Chinese Called On To Support Mao’s Forces

 TOKYO (AP) — Radio Peking called on Chinese in frontier areas to strengthen China’s defenses by rallying behind Mao Tse-tung, the frontiers include Manchuria and Sinkiang Province, where four Soviet divisions were reported facing seven Chinese divisions.

The broadcast issued in the name of Mao called on peasants in farming communities all over the mainland to begin “spring sowing and actively work to achieve production targets.” This was an indication that Red China’s power struggle had seriously hampered farm production.

Government Begins New Bond Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government unveiled Tuesday a new high interest savings note — the “Freedom Share” — bearing 4 1/2 percent interest yearly when held to its 4 1/2 year maturity — and tied its existence directly to the Vietnam war.

President Johnson, in launching the 1967 savings bond drive, called the new security “creative, attractive and a cheerful companion” to the familiar series-E savings bond.

The new notes will go on sale May 1 and can be purchased on one-for-one basis only in combination with series-E savings bonds through the payroll savings or bond-month plan.

Officials said it will be offered for a limited time to meet the Vietnam emergency — until the end of the war or for two years, whichever is longer.

The notes will attract up to $1 billion over the next year to help fight the war. Series-E savings bonds now pay 4.15 percent interest annually when held to their seven-year maturity.

Officials said the new security came at a bond luncheon here which was car- ried by closed-circuit television to similar luncheons in 38 other cities. Johnson taped his talk in advance for use on the teletack.

The broadcast on the frontier situation, while carrying an implied warning to the Soviet Union, also seemed more concerned with production. It implied there had been work stoppages in the frontier area stretching from Sinkiang in the west to Heilungkiang Province of Manchuria bordering on Soviet territory.

The broadcast was an “emergency appeal” to workers and peasants to return to their posts and strengthen China’s defense by holding “a gun in one hand and a plow in the other.”

All through this area, opponents of Mao have been reported putting up armed resistance to the 75-year-old party chairman’s attempt to impose austerity in the name of his great proletarian revolution— or purge. Many workers and peasants have been reported deserting their jobs in the frontier regions.

“We warn all reactionary elements both in and outside the country,” said the broadcast in what appeared to be a threat to the Russians, “if you dare cause disturbance or destruction, the Chinese people and army will destroy you.”

DAILY EGYPTIAN

FEORIA (AP) — The Chicago Tribune sued Tuesday for removal of certain restrictions on news coverage of the Richard Speck murder trial, which it said, were unconstitutional “judicial censorship.”

As state and defense sought to complete a jury for the trial of Speck, charged with murdering eight student nurses, the newspaper filed a petition with the Illinois Supreme Court in Springfield.

The newspaper’s petition asked permission to file for a writ of mandamus or writ of prohibition to expunge certain guidelines that Judge Herbert C. Paschen, presiding at the circuit court trial, set forth for news coverage. The Tribune called them unconstitutional “judicial censorship” and pointed out upon freedom of speech and press.”

Gerald Gertey, Speck’s defense counsel, made no comment on the legal action.

The Tribune contended the guidelines were onerous and exceeded Paschen’s jurisdiction.

A ban against publication, until a verdict is returned, of names and addresses of selected, excepted or prospective jurors.

A prohibition against official court reporters’ selling or furnishing any transcript of the proceedings to anyone other than lawyers for both sides until a verdict is announced.

A rule against making sketches or drawings within the courtroom premises of anyone attending or participating in the trial.

Judge Paschen modified these regulations somewhat Monday, News media now are permitted to identify jury prospects excepted from serving. Reporters also may rely on the official transcript when the court is in recess.

The Illinois Supreme Court will not be in regular session until March. However, in the past it has acted on emergency issues at special sessions and it appeared likely it would do so on the Tribune petition.

This was the first lawsuit growing out of the guidelines although newspaper and radio organizations have criticized them.

Informed of the suit, Judge Paschen declined comment on the action.

“I haven’t seen the law suit yet, so I don’t know what they are suing me for. I have no comment,” he said.

Swimmers Grab Several Records at Invitational

The Saluki swimming team was in Athens, Ga., this past weekend to participate in the Southern Invitational, a meet operated specifically for its other meets. The Salukis broke the school record in the 800-yard free style relay, broke two meet and pool records and set two Saluki and individual records. Ed Mossotti, Don Shaffer, Scott Conkel and Reinhard Westerndorfer swam the event in 7:28.1, which broke the school record set last season. The Salukis finished third in the 200-yard medley relay.

Kimo Miles finished second in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 2:00.6, which was his best this year. Miles qualified for the NCAA finals.

Gerry Pearson took two firsts and set new meet and pool record. He swam the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:12.9 and the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:02.6—new records. Both times qualified him for the NCAA finals.

Mossotti finished first in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 22.24 and finished fourth in the 100-yard freestyle with a clocking of 49.1.

Freshman Gar Schloetzer broke a pool and meet record in the 500-yard freestyle but finished second so his name wasn’t on the record books. Schloetzer swam the event in 5:03.7. He also finished second in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 50.99 seconds, his best in that event this year. Shaffer turned in his best times of the year in the 400-yard individual medley and in the 200-yard backstroke.

Rich Everitz pulled down his career best in the 1500-yard freestyle with a time of 16:26.8. He turned in the best effort of his career in the 200-yard freestyle with a clocking of 51.40. His best performance of 1967 was recorded in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:10.8.

Westenreider betters his previous mark in the 200-yard free with a time of 1:57.1 and recorded his season’s best in the 100-yard free at 50.2. Eric Jones had his best performance of the season in the 100-yard butterfly with a 56.5.

Grapplers to Face SE Missouri State

By Bill Kind

The Saluki wrestling team will be in Cape Girardeau tonight to meet Southeast Missouri State.

The meet should offer little chance for upset since Southern Illinois holds an 11-2 record this season.

"I expect Southeast Missouri State to be at least the equal of us," said Jim Wilkinson.

Wilkinson initiated a completely changed lineup in the last dual meet with Oklahoma State and, although the Salukis were beaten by the rugged Cowboys, Wilkinson nonetheless was exuberant over his team's performance.

"We wrestled the best we have wrestled in two years in the Oklahoma State meet. Our boys did well in every match," said Wilkinson.

Wilkinson will be forced into shifting up the lineup for the meet with Southeast Missouri State. With five Oklahoma wrestlers, the only undefeated Saluki regular, will miss both his previous opponents, two boys on his leg. Deadrich, who has been progressing rapidly in his 191-pound division, is expected to return for the Iowa State meet.

Wilkinson also expressed hope that Larry Barton, out for more than a month with a broken hand, may rejoin the team in time for the March 2 Indiana State meet. Barton has been working out with the team but has not been able to wrestle.

With the loss of Deadrich, Wilkinson has inserted sophomore Tony Turek in the lineup at the 190-pound division. This means that Wilkinson had to move Joe Domako back to 167, Barton up to 177 and Al Bulow to 191 to replace Deadrich. All three were a weight class lighter in the Oklahoma State meet.

Wilkinson expects the Southeast Missouri team to be stronger in the 123-pound class, the 132-pound weight and the heavyweight division. Elli will wrestle at 123 for the Salakis, Al Lipper at 152 and Rich Selozer at heavyweight.

After Deadrich, who owns a 12-0-1 record for the year, the list of new starters are: Joe Domako 18-2-1; Terry Maganon, 14-5; Dave Pfarr, 13-5-1; Allen Bulow, 14-5, and Selozer, 13-4.

Regular Season Ending

Hartman Braces for Evansville

By Tom Wood

The regular season is but three games from being over for Coach Jack Hartman and the 1966-67 Salukis and a lot is riding on each of those games.

Some of the things which will be at stake are: a shot at the school's all time best record, the longest winning streak in SIU history, a post-season tourney spot in either the NET or NCAA College Division. Hartman's fourth 20-win season at SIU and third straight, and a quantity called pride, which the Salukis have shown they possess in abundance.

Tonight it's Evansville in the Arena. The Aces bring a 7-16 record into the contest. But whenever these two teams get together, particularly when the stakes are this high, records are reduced to small piles of print, which everyone might as well forget.

The Purple Aces have lost eight games by a total of 18 points, which qualifies them for recognition as "one of the most unfortunate teams in the country" according to Hartman.

Hartman said, "We can't afford to overlook Evansville, despite their record."

Hartman pointed out that his Salukis had used up a lot of luck in earning their record, which is the best Hartman has had at Southern.

Evansville has recently lost twice to Indiana State by a total of three points. The Salukis defeated the Syca-mores early in the season by a slim 72-69 count.

Despite Southern's 55-41 victory at Evansville Jan. 9, the Salukis had trouble with the Aces. Both teams came through with outstanding defensive performances that night.

Probably the biggest factor influencing the game tonight is the rivalry existing between the two schools. The Aces will bring a large contingent to support their efforts and if either school has to name an official basketball rival it would probably be each other.

The last team to beat the Salukis in the Arena was Evansville, almost two years to the day and 26 games ago. The Aces have run into hard times this year, the first time that they will have a bid to the NCAA tourney in the event's history, but that could give them more incentive and make this game all the more important.

Evansville has gotten some scoring punch from their big boy Tom Niemeyer lately to augment the big offensive production of Herb Williams. Niemeyer has contributed a lot under the boards for Evansville on both offense and defense.

Varsity action will start at 8:05. A fresh game between Evansville and SIU begins at 9:45.
