The Daily Egyptian, June 30, 1964

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_June1964
Volume 45, Issue 171

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1964 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in June 1964 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
90 Exhibitors Showing Books, Educational Materials at Center

Audio-Visual Equipment Displayed; Talks Planned

The who's and the what's of educational materials that can be represented in an exhibit opening today at the University of Southern Illinois.

Just about everything anything that can tighten the burden of imparting knowledge to students will be on display, including text books, audio-visual equipment, classroom furniture, and grading as well as teaching machines.

Seventy-nine exhibitors will be showing their wares from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., Wednesday and Thursday. The exhibit is open to the public.

In previous years as many as 5,000 high school students and area school teachers, University faculty and staff, and school students at Lake Well Behaved, Manager Says

SIU students, who constitute one of the larger single groups using Crab Orchard Refuge recreational facilities, are generally well-behaved.

This was the observation made by the man in charge of the 22,000-acre area.

He said about 15,000 acres of the total are actively used for recreation, with the remainder generally reserved for hunting.

Last year Crab Orchard Lake hosted to about 1.3 million visitors in the recreation area and a total of about 1.9 million overall, Mehrhoff said.

One of the large user groups consists of SIU students, who start showing up at the recreation areas in April and May of each season, Mehrhoff said. From June, July and August, the family groups predominated.

Most of the visitors are in the beach and lake areas and area water-oriented, Mehrhoff said.

The area is patrolled by a force of 16 men. Recently, a Williamson County sheriff's office assigned five deputies to patrol the refuge.

The area is a unique area because of the bird life and the small area of concurrent jurisdiction with the Illinois state law. Mehrhoff said, state, local or national officers can patrol the area to detect any state law violations, he explained.

Gus Bode

Gus Bode has been an invaluable resource for the Health Service, and Gus' contributions to the campus community have been enormous. His dedication and passion for helping others have made him a true leader in our community. We are grateful for his continued service and support.
It Takes 64 Minutes of Golf To Work Off Ice Cream Soda

Sitting and thinking may be exhausting, but it can't match gardening or swimming or dancing — or even ironing—for burning up unwanted Calories.

Frank Konishi, associate professor of food and nutrition, has prepared a table of Last Man Named in Rape Charge

Now in Wisconsin

A sheriff's deputy left Monday for Superior, Wis., to take custody of the third man named in a rape charge involving an SIU coed.

The three who have been charged are Dallas Chaney of Murphysboro, and two brothers, James O. Doss and Howard Doss, both of Carbondale. James Doss turned himself in to Jackson County authorities Friday evening, his brother was located in the Wisconsin city.

State's Attorney William G. Ridgeway said Chaney waived preliminary hearing and James Doss sought a continuance until July 3.

The coed and her escort have said they were attacked while they were parked on a farm driveway west of Mur­ phys­boro the night of June 21.

They said the escort was restrained by one man while the other two assisted the girl. Chaney, however, denied any force was involved, authorities said.

VARSITY

TODAY AND WEDNESDAY

Shop with DAILY EGYPTIAN Adventurers

WHO TOLD YOU?... PAUL NEWMAN

He ordered a martini... kissed a girl... and was plunged into a nightmare of danger!

RIVERVIEW GARDEN Golf and Recreation Center

New addition this year

Bygone Rural Life To Be Reproduced In Planned Center

A rural life center is planned as an important part of the new and the Education Center established south of Little Grassy Lake by SIU and the Educational Council of 100.

Thomas Rillo, coordinator of the center, says it would consist of a pre­mechanized farm, to show how farming was done in early days, a rural schoolhouse, a rural post office, and possibly a sorgum mill and rural store.

"Students in the elementary and secondary grades should see these things," Rillo said. "It's part of their heritage."

According to Rillo, the Outdoor Education Center will be enlarged to more than 3,000 acres.

"The keynote of outdoor education is efficiency in learning. We learn most by direct experience," Rillo added.

"Education is not a subject or a department, but learning by doing, seeing and teaching, a climate of learning and teaching."

Has the great American in origin. and

"We would have no hesitation

"If you are addicted to a cola drink, he points out that one small glass (106 calories) will cost 35 minutes of walking, 11 minutes of swimming and 2,650 minutes of just thinking."

It turns out that the most popular book is not known and since it is the most popular book in the library in the Bibli­

"It does not hold true that

What is it that

"The keynotes of outdoor education is efficiency in learning. We learn most by direct experience," Rillo added. "Education is not a subject or a depart­men­tal, but learning by doing, seeing and teaching, a climate of learning and teaching."

It is the starting point for

It is commonly used as

This is the end result of anything

It is the key to scoring

of materials by students has the call number of R050 286.

You say you don't know what

It probably has been used dozens times or more by

Miss Eads stated.

"It is a much better book than that.

"He turned it out that the most

Miss Eads responded.

It is the standing point for

It is the key to scoring

his light shining.

Can Miss Eads or anyone

"No," she said. "We have no way of keeping records on the library or a book is checked out and,

therefore, of measuring its popularity."

"It is the standing point for

It is the key to scoring

whether science fiction, mystery or romance?

"It would be the historical

People find romance and

"It would not be a foreign

But it is the American in origin.

It is the key to scoring

"Perhaps," said Kathleen D. Eads, assistant humanities librarian.

What criteria are necessary to make a book popular? Miss Eads elaborated the following characteristics:

It would be fiction.

It would be the most likely an old classic.

It could be revised by each generation of readers.

It would be about an event that would have reader appeal such as a war or an event of historical significance.

It would not be a foreign translation unless it was the original in Western language?

Science fiction, mystery, or romance?

"It would be the historical novels. People find romance and mythology in them, and they pick up history in the bargain," Miss Eads stated.

Has the great American novel been written? "No," was her answer. "If it were, we would have no hesitation

in naming it."

Since the most popular book is not known and since the great American novel has not been written, what book is it that the public perhaps turn to more than any other? Is it the Bible?

"It does not hold true that the most popular book in the library in the Bible as it is in individual homes," Miss Eads said.

It turns out that the most material by students has the call number of R050 286. You say you don't know what it is, You should. It probably has been used dozens times or more by anybody who has ever written a research paper of any kind. It is the key to scoring information that has padded too much more than copy­ing from a previous student's work.

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodicals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodicals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodicals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodicals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodicals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It comes in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.

It is initially indexed 20

selected United States general and non-technical periodicals, and now its indexes total more than 100 periodals.

What is it? Surely you have recognized it as the "Read­er's Guide to Periodical Literature."

It is the starting point for

a mad search for information from floor to floor and aisle to aisle.

It come in unabridged as

well as abridged forms which

are used in small schools and

small public libraries.

It gives the two

knowledge that takes the "et cetera" out of

papers.
An SIU faculty member returning from a visit behind the Iron Curtain said that while in policies of the Soviet Union from Stalin to Khurshchev were "after all, just as extravagant as those of the highest intellectuals to the man on the street, S. Morris Eames, associate professor of philosophy, said the changes apparently are more profound than most people in the West realize. He added that some of the most startling changes appear to be in the economic areas of Russian life.

Eames traveled to Russia and some of the satellite countries on a visit quietly arranged through contact with Soviet philosophers originating during the 15th International Congress of Philosophy in Mexico City last September. Among those he talked with on the trip were students and teachers at all levels, including the vice president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences. "To be sure, he said, "new policies that intellectuals in one satellite country told me, "We believe that Khurshchev is three another 20 years," Eames wrote from London June 20.

"I believe there is hope that in communication, even if it is inhibited by propaganda, techniques, the truth will emerge," he said, "The changes I saw in the Soviet Union offer a ray of hope."

Scholarship Fund Contribution Is Memorial to Maria Rigotti

A $100 contribution to the scholarship endowment fund, in memory of a student who died June 3, has been announced by Kenneth Miller, executive director of the SIU Foundation.

The check was from Frederick E. Mercell Jr., of Rockville Centre, N.Y., an SIU student and fiance of Maria Rigotti of Homewood, Ill., who died suddenly in an off-campus housing unit.

Metcalf asked that the money be used "in loving memory of my fiancee who desired to go into social service work, and be used to help a deserving student in the field of social service. Miss Rigotti, 22, a junior."

SIU Faculty Brass Ensemble

To Be Featured on Channel 8

Tonight's WSUI-TV concert will feature faculty members from the SIU Department of Music in music selections played by the brass ensemble. The concert will be at 7:30 p.m. Other highlights:

4:30 p.m.
Industry on Parade.

6 p.m.
Welcome Back: Talk about cowboy clothes; the know-your-dog sequence features poodles.

6:30 p.m.
Encore: Of People and Politics.

7 p.m.
African Writers of Today: The first of six programs showing the influence of the African writer in the world today. This first program opens as a political rally in Kenya and ends with a conversation with a publisher in Nigeria where we discover it is easier to sell Nigerian poetry in the United States than in Nigeria.

8 p.m.
Basic Issues of Man: "The Great Deceivers" explains that the industrial revolution of the 19th century was not our nation's last great change. What lies ahead will eventually produce the Golden City.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

James Herne Play

Scheduled by WSUI

America on Stage will feature "Margaret Fleming" by James A. Herne at 2:30 p.m. today on WSUI Radio.

Other programs:

10:30 a.m.
Pop Concert.

1 p.m.
Afternoon Serenade.

3:30 p.m.
Concert Hall: Vivaldi "Guitar Concertos" Shostakovich "Piano Concerto No. 2!" R. Strauss "Suite from 'Der Rosenkavalier'."

6 p.m.
Music in the Air.

8 p.m.
Five Nations Urge Cease Fire in Laos

LONDON--The United States, Britain, Canada, and two pro-Western Asian nations Monday urged an immediate cease fire in Laos. They called for a withdrawal of pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces from military positions won recently in north-central Laos.

The five-power appeal was made in Vientiane, administrative capital of Laos. Details were released by the Foreign Office in London after

Rules Committee Okays Legislation

WASHINGTON--The Senate Rules Committee approved legislation Monday to require annual disclosure of the financial interests of senators and officials and employees of the Senate. The measure was approved with only one dissenting vote after the substitute proposal was narrowly rejected.

The movement for such legislation developed out of the investigation of business affairs ofobby baker.

a month of consultation among the envoys of those pro-Western nations and their Asian counterparts, signed the 1962 Laotian peace settlement. Thailand and South Viet Nam officials were the Asian signatories of the appeal, India, which took part in these exchanges, declined to sign for diplomatic reasons.

The British and Russians were urged to reactivate the Indian, Polish and Canadian control commission, whose job is to supervise the 1962 settlement and to request the cooperation of all factions in Laos.

This was an obvious reference to the Pathet Lao. The pro-Communists have barred the international body from territory they control.

Search to Be Expanded

WASHINGTON--The search for three civil rights workers missing in Mississippi for more than a week is being expanded and intensified, the White House said Monday.

President Johnson kept in touch with the situation through staff members and a telephone conversation with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

HAMILTON, Bermuda--Two U.S. Air Force planes collided and crashed in the sea two miles off Bermuda Monday and an Air Force spokesman said 7 of the 24 men aboard were rescued.

Boats joined a Navy helicopter and two Air Force helicopters in a search of the area. The crash occurred just before noon and the first men were picked up less than an hour later.

The planes were conducting a simulated rescue run practicing for a recovery of the Gemini capsule which will put two men in orbit in a single spacecraft.

An Air Force spokesman said the planes were from McCoy Air Force Base, Orlando, Fla., and carried 12 men each.

"They were doing some practice drops in preparation for making films on air rescue activities," he said.

"One was an 0-10 and the other an HC-97," he added. "Both are four-engine planes. The 0-10 is similar to the DC-4.

India's Shasti Recovering

NEW DELHI, India--Ailing Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was reported in generally good condition Monday, but most of his official schedule was canceled.

For the first time there was public indication that the 59-year-old prime minister, who reportedly was stricken with a mild heart attack Friday night, should delegate some of his responsibilities.

Under a presidential order, the schedule of draft examinations will be put into effect to help the 18-year-olds find out earlier where they stand.

Until now, most draft-age youths had to wait until they are 21 or 22 years old to learn whether they are fit for military duty.

The new arrangement will permit 18-year-olds to undergo their physical and mental examinations as soon as they are registered.

Romney, Dirksen

Talk of Platform

WASHINGTON -- Gov. George Romney of Michigan conferred for 45 minutes Monday with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen about the forthcoming Republican platform.

Dirksen said they discussed primarily Romney's contention that the platform should take a stand against monopolistic tendencies in the labor-management field.

The Illinois senator said he told Romney it is in his belief that the platform would carry a "general statement on civil rights in conformity with the action taken in Congress" on the civil rights bills.

"There was no discussion of presidential candidates," Dirksen said.

Sex Barrier Falls

HAMILTON, N.Y.--A 14-year-old barrier fell Monday amid the swirl of controversy over nude and female voices on the Colgate University campus.

A select group of 12 women were the first women admitted as full-time students at the all-male university.

Among the issues to come up at the meeting were plans for the new arrangement of the movement for such legislation developed out of the investigation of business affairs ofobby baker.
WASHINGTON -- Henry Cabot Lodge declared Monday that he considered it a higher duty for him to return home and fight for the Republican presidential nomination for Gov. William Scranton than to remain as U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam.

He told a White House news conference, after receiving a flowing farewell from President Johnson, that he felt the war in South Vietnam was "on the track," while "I felt the Republican party is not on the track."

Affirming that he did not believe it was time for Scranton to head off the front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater for his party's presidential nomination, Lodge strongly indicated that he would enlist former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's active support for Scranton.

Lodge helped engineer Eisenhower's nomination in 1952.

Lodge returned to a theme he had hammered upon his April 14 arrival four hours earlier, at Andrews Air Force Base--the duty of both political parties to nominate men who are prudent and not impulsive. He said that the president of the United States is the man who makes the decision about the use of the atomic bomb.

"That is something that is very real," he said.

"There is a threshold below which no party should go in nominating a man for the presidency," he emphasized.

"Both parties should nominate for president a man who is not impulsive or irresponsible," he added.

He said the whole point of his resigning the "very interesting" post in South Vietnam was to come back and help Gov. William Scranton in his drive for the Republican nomination.

Lodge disclosed that he will appear at the Republican party convention in San Francisco July 8, He said he does not--so far--at least--have a ticket for the convention.

Asked for comment on Sen. Barry Goldwater--whose defeat Lodge seeks in the nomination fight--the retiring envoy said he did not want to comment because he wants to take a constructive line, not a negative one.

"The remarks were prepared for delivery in Atlanta.

Scranton, seeking to over­take Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP's presidential nomination, said he looked for the day when Republican senators and congressmen represent "every state of the old Confederacy."

"But that day will not be brought closer by those who would cynically exploit the problems of the South--by those who would repress old wounds by phony invocation of the Constitution or by comparison of the federal government of the United States with a police state dictatorship," Scranton declared.

Asked by a newsmen if he was making an indirect reference to Goldwater, Scranton said, "No, I mean fanatics."

"Of course, we Republicans believe that the states should exercise maximum responsibilities," Scranton said in his address.

"But we also believe in federal responsibility."

Midland Hills

Course

51/2 Miles South

of Campus

Home of the Worlds

Greatest 15¢ Hamburger!

Hamburgers

Fries and

Soda

Special Summer

Membership Rates

45¢

Green Fee Rates

Retail Rates

Member Carts

Special Summer

Membership Rates

Zwick & Goldsmith

JUST OFF CAMPUS

OPtF MONDAY KITES UNTIL 8:30

Zwick & Goldsmith

JUST OFF CAMPUS

SPECIALS FOR JULY FOURTH

Selected Group of Men's Sport Shirts

$389

2 for $7.50

You must personally view this excellent value of fine sport shirts to ensure your most exacting need.

Selected Group Mens

SWIM SHORTS

Late & Beaver Styles

Were $3.25 to $1.99

$3.89

Our men'seware for the beach and boating combines fashion with function. They look great.

Entire Stock Mens

STRAWS

By Knee-Champ-Dunlap

Were $1.95 to 7.95

$4.89

ATTENTION

GREAT STUDIES STUDENTS

1. FREE DELIVERY 24 TO 75 HOURS

2. UNLIMITED SELECTED MAJOR

3. WHO HAVE A "C" AVERAGE

4. WHO PLAN TO ENROLL IN A COLLEGE OR SCHOOL

MAKE APPOINTMENTS IN THE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF YOUR CHOICE!

SIGNING UP -- Students lined up last week to make appointments to see their advisors for the fall term. Starting Monday appointments for all academic units will be made at the Advisement Center, Building T-45. No appointments will be accepted after Aug. 14.

WASHINGTON -- The remarks were prepared for delivery in Atlanta.

Scranton, seeking to overtake Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP's presidential nomination, said he looked for the day when Republican senators and congressmen represent "every state of the old Confederacy."

"But that day will not be brought closer by those who would cynically exploit the problems of the South--by those who would repress old wounds by phony invocation of the Constitution or by comparison of the federal government of the United States with a police state dictatorship," Scranton declared.

Asked by a newsmen if he was making an indirect reference to Goldwater, Scranton said, "No, I mean fanatics."

"Of course, we Republicans believe that the states should exercise maximum responsibilities," Scranton said in his address.

"But we also believe in federal responsibility."

Midland Hills

Course

51/2 Miles South

of Campus

Home of the Worlds

Greatest 15¢ Hamburger!

Hamburgers

Fries and

Soda

Special Summer

Membership Rates

45¢

Green Fee Rates

Retail Rates

Member Carts

Special Summer

Membership Rates

Zwick & Goldsmith

JUST OFF CAMPUS

OPtF MONDAY KITES UNTIL 8:30

Zwick & Goldsmith

JUST OFF CAMPUS

SPECIALS FOR JULY FOURTH

Selected Group of Men's Sport Shirts

$389

2 for $7.50

You must personally view this excellent value of fine sport shirts to ensure your most exacting need.

Selected Group Mens

SWIM SHORTS

Late & Beaver Styles

Were $3.25 to $1.99

$3.89

Our men'seware for the beach and boating combines fashion with function. They look great.

Entire Stock Mens

STRAWS

By Knee-Champ-Dunlap

Were $1.95 to 7.95

$4.89

ATTENTION

GREAT STUDIES STUDENTS

1. FREE DELIVERY 24 TO 75 HOURS

2. UNLIMITED SELECTED MAJOR

3. WHO HAVE A "C" AVERAGE

4. WHO PLAN TO ENROLL IN A COLLEGE OR SCHOOL

MAKE APPOINTMENTS IN THE COLLEGE SCHOOL OF YOUR CHOICE!

SIGNING UP -- Students lined up last week to make appointments to see their advisors for the fall term. Starting Monday appointments for all academic units will be made at the Advisement Center, Building T-45. No appointments will be accepted after Aug. 14.
The Race Factor in Carbondale Business

How many whites and how many Negroes own businesses in Carbondale?

"I wouldn't know," was the answer everywhere I asked.

"It just isn't that thought hasn't been given to keeping statistics according to race. No survey of that kind has been made," said Harry W. Weeks, executive director of the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce.

Apparently, Negroes use their own most of the land where the business centers are now situated. This area includes a big section of land on Illinois Avenue and most of the land east of the railroad.

"We sold out and did not invest," said Joseph Ivy, a Negro who now owns a grocery store in the Negro section. "Ivy blamed the lack of Negroes in business to lack of initiative and cooperation amongst Negroes.

"If you work hard enough you can do as good as a white man. Money borrowing conditions are the same," he added, "but it is not as easy for a Negro to be a good white man. It is the same as mine."

The Rev. H. W. Clark, a Negro who sold the plot where Pick's Store is located said, "Pick's Store was built by a member of our race, selling out the white man.

"We just don't have vision for the future," Mr. Clark said, who added his store sells for $4,500, and within a year he said it sold for $12,000.

What do you think hinders Negroes from starting businesses in the center of the town? I asked the executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"In older days it was probably too low skills and too low," Weeks replied. "Negroes had to move to older sections of the town where they could live cheaper. Probably Negroes, like Italians, Germans and Chinese in metropolitan areas, are classed and want to live together."

How many whites and Negroes are members of the Chamber of Commerce? I asked.

"Really I wouldn't know," was the reply.

The total membership of the Chamber between 203 and 270. Weeks went through the membership list trying to identify Negroes by addresses. He mentioned Charles Arndt, 920 N. Washington St. who also is a member of the board of directors.

"They (Negro members) are less than five. This is because of any restriction. It is because they want, don't belong," he stressed. He added, "There is no record of race differences in business in Carbondale."

On the question of street cars and the Chamber also concerns itself, "The big public is crying that the big factor is how much traffic goes through that section of town."

What about employment opportunities and treatment of minority races at Pick's?

Again there is a lack of statistics.

The March, 1964, report of the Bureau of Employment Security at Murphysboro recorded a peak unemployment figure of 1,400 (7.2 per cent of the work force) for Jackson County. It was not possible to determine how many belonged to which race.

The consensus is that there is no discrimination in job opportunities. The discriminating factor is education and skills. A typical example is the Technical Tape Corp. which does not discriminate.

Herbert Cole, a Negro worker for Century Sport Inc., remarked, "We are all paid the same for an equal amount of work. Of course you do not get the kind of break the white man gets." He was referring to easier and less strenuous work.

"White boys get salesman positions that Negroes don't get," he said.

Thus Carbondale prosperity in its illusion of race harmony. The truth is that Negroes contribute to, but do not own, a considerable share of the business.

Automation—Bah, Humbug!

The lot of last resort lies just east of University Center. In spite of its convenient location, it is not frequented. In fact, for here, parking is on a paying basis.

This is the way it was planned to be. The lot was constructed and is operated by University Center. The University Center was the first consideration in its planning. The first hour of parking is free; for every hour after that—or every part of an hour—a charge is made. The charge is accepted by an attendant, a member of the Saluki Patrol, manning the booth at the lot’s only exit.

Meters in the city of Carbondale charge only 5 cents an hour. Some might think that a charge double that of the city's by University Center is too high. It is. It is justifiable.

"Profits made from the lot go either toward operating University Center or returning its debt," he added.

In addition, the parking charge at the Center parking lot is generally a parking place somewhere within reasonable waking distance of class. There are 2,573 parking spaces on campus. 698 are reserved exclusively for cars bearing blue parking stickers. There is a rate for the rest. The University Center lot is open to cars with any color of sticker. With the present competition with construction men for parking spaces on Campus Drive, this is an important consideration—when you're late to class it becomes even more important.

The lot also provided convenient parking for visitors to the SIU campus. It is ideal for short visits. For times less than an hour, there is no charge, and the charge for two or three hours is still reasonable. But all day parking in the University Center lot is impractical.

The villain is a machine, a time clock. When you enter the lot you are given a time-card with your time punched on it. You transact your business on campus as quick as possible and return to your car. You realize that time is getting short, so you race back, hop into your car, and pull to a screeching, tense stop beside the collection booth. You hand the attendant your time card, and insert it into the time clock, Wham! "I'm sorry sir," he says, you were 37 seconds late. That will be an additional dime.

The feeling is similar to that of being cut-dragged by a Honda.

In the good old days a year or so ago, there was no time clock. Then, one could at times pull successfully to the sympathies of the attendant. Not so any more—except for infrequent occasions when the clock gets sick. The human element has been removed, Automation, mc-machination—bah, humbug!

Mr. Raftery writes with a wry humor. are the teen-slang of this zany land has will your business on campus as quick as possible and return to your car. You realize that time is getting short, so you race back, hop into your car, and pull to a screeching, tense stop beside the collection booth. You hand the attendant your time card, and insert it into the time clock, Wham! "I'm sorry sir," he says, you were 37 seconds late. That will be an additional dime.

The feeling is similar to that of being cut-dragged by a Honda.

In the good old days a year or so ago, there was no time clock. Then, one could at times pull successfully to the sympathies of the attendant. Not so any more—except for infrequent occasions when the clock gets sick. The human element has been removed, Automation, mc-machination—bah, humbug!

Most public places are de-segregated but Negroes will not patronize them because, as most of the say, "You get there and then you feel the reed wanted."

The question, of course is: are they really treated as if they are not wanted, or, are they suffering a hangover of inferior status?

Whatever the answer to the above question, the situation is far from being satisfactory. "Race Relations At SIU."

F. L. Masha

Book Review

Teenagers Stalked in Zany Land

The natives, about whom Mr. Raftery writes with a wry humor, are the teenagers. The jungle in which they live is the school library—and the author is a public school librarian. His indoctrination into the mores, superstitious and otherwise, is done in the school library. The book has been conducted in some three decades of harrowing experience in the Elizabeth, N.J., schools.

Parents and teachers alike will enjoy his hilarious report on the reading habits, social distinctions and teen-age mumbo-jumbo. If occasionally the humor seems a bit strained, it certainly is understandable in view of the occupational hazards the author describes. Some of the chapters have appeared in magazines.

The book can be recommended as a pleasant antidote to the summer's heat.
Southern Illinois was part of a "major cultural hub throughout the prehistory of eastern North America."

The description is that of Missoula, Montana, the northernmost North American archæological site of SIU's Museum.

The hub, Fowler said, consists of the complex of rivers draining southern Illinois and western Kentucky. These include the Ohio, Wabash, Missouri, the Illinois, the Kanawhas, the Wabash, and portions of the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers.

This area had been used by 6000 B.C., well-established and that by 6000 B.C., well-established to gather and process nuts when these were ripe.

"Just when this seasonal cycle of gathering and feeding was effectively established is not known," Fowler said, "but, almost certainly, the data from a site like Modoc suggests that in the period from 8500 to 7000 B.C., the site was a general occupation area in which included all activities including burial of the dead. On the other hand, almost at the Archaic sites known in the area for later periods, which survived about 2000 B.C., seem to be rather specialized sites which of necessity must have been a larger resettlement system."

A large number of nutting and milling stones were recognized in the Fort Ryan and Hardin County, he said, showing the site was used predominantly for processing of nuts. In the Wabash Valley, sites have been recognized as settlement-type sites as small camps, base camps, hunting camps or nut-gathering camps.

In the late period of the Archaic, there is evidence of some specialization, particularly, polychrome decoration—dwellings—having been constructed in open sites, for example, in the Cache River Valley in Union County as well as in the Wabash Valley.

Fowler presented a paper on "Archæological Cultures of the Midwest" before the opening general session of the Society for American Archæology at its 37th annual meeting, held at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Softball, Tennis
Deadlines Today

Today is the deadline for submitting intramural softball rosters and tennis tournament applications to the Intramurals Office, according to Glenn Martin, director of intramural activities.

All team managers are required to turn in team rosters at that time. Softball play opens July 20-24, according to Alexander R. MacMillan, director of Southern's Transportation Institute.

The special short course is a joint program of the University's Division of Teacher Education and Transportation Institute and an advisory committee representing the inland waterways transportation industry, sponsored by specialists from the University and from industry, will consider such topics as supervisory responsibilities and operator training, accident and responsibility, labor relations, human relations, communications and the latest information in some phases of admiralty law and navigation. A brochure outlining the program, instructors and other information will be printed and distributed soon, MacMillan said.

Shop with
DAILY EGYPTIAN advertisers

Stanford University Adopts Text Coedited by Dean Piper

A book coedited by Henry Dan Piper, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, recently was adopted as a textbook by Stanford University.

It is "Dimensions in Drama: Six Plays of Crime and Punishment," which Piper edited in collaboration with J. Kent Clark, professor of English at California Institute of Technology.

The 600-page paperback is an anthology which includes such well-known plays as Arthur Miller's "All My Sons," Jean-Paul Sartre's "No Exit," and John Gay's 18th-century musical comedy about the London underworld of crime, "The Beggar's Opera."

The book is the first in a series of Oxford paperback plays to be published by Charles Scribner's Sons and under the general editorship of Piper and Clark. They are especially for undergraduates whose major who enjoys studying literature and likes to read plays.

According to a recent survey conducted by the Scribner's, there is a serious shortage of such texts, especially at the general studies and Junior college level.

Future volumes in the Piper-Clark series will include plays from various languages and literatures, as well as from different historical epochs, dealing with such fundamental human problems as parents and children, "the battle of the sexes," the individual versus society, and the choice of the right kind of a vocation.

Morris Will Leave For Board Meeting

President Daley W. Morris leaves today for a meeting of the Board of Trustees Wednesday at Prudential Plaza in Chicago.

Although the meeting will be on July 1, it is the June meeting of the Board,
Music for a Warmer Summer Evening

Gleaming brass, white shirts, and a warm summer night were the setting for the concert.

SIU Supporting U.S. Aid Effort

SIU is one of three Illinois universities giving support to the U.S. foreign assistance effort. The three schools have 10 contracts with the Agency for International Development (AID) totaling over $8 million. SIU's two contracts, totaling $1,029,375, are for assistance in education in Vietnam.

The scholarship, designed to keep alive the memory of a young editor, the late Jerry E. Ringo of Frenchburg, Ky., goes to a deserving young editor to enable him to attend the 1964 conference of the international editors group at Pere Marquette State Park July 12-17.

Ringo, editor of the Manifec County Journal at Frenchburg, Ky., died shortly after the meeting last year. Ringo, who was a fellow of the conference, could not attend the 1963 meeting because of his illness.

Howard R. Long, chairman of the SIU Department of Journalism and secretary of the conference, made the announcement of Paley's selection.

RENT TV's REFRIGERATORS RANGES

WILLIAM'S STORE
212 S. Illinois

YELLOW CAB CO., INC.
Phone 457-8121

PRESIDENT
PHILIP M. KIMMEL
CARBONDALE, ILL.

Little Brown Jug Steak House
119 North Washington

Watch for the MIDNIGHT EXPLOSION

murdale shopping center

GLEAMING BRASS, WHITE SHIRTS, AND A WARM SUMMER NIGHT WERE THE SETTING FOR THE CONCERT.

PART OF THE AUDIENCE AT FRIDAY NIGHT'S OPEN-AIR CONCERT AT THE UNIVERSITY CENTER PATIO SHOWN IN THIS PHOTOGRAPH.

LONG ISLAND EDITOR RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP TO CONFERENCE

Bernard A. Paley, 34-year-old editor of the Smithtown News on Long Island, New York, has been awarded the first Ringo scholarship of the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors. The scholarship, designed to keep alive the memory of a young editor, the late Jerry E. Ringo of Frenchburg, Ky., goes to a deserving young weekly editor to enable him to attend the 1964 conference of the international editors group at Pere Marquette State Park July 12-17.

Ringo, editor of the Manifec County Journal at Frenchburg, Ky., died shortly after the meeting last year. Ringo, who was a fellow of the conference, could not attend the 1963 meeting because of his illness.

Howard R. Long, chairman of the SIU Department of Journalism and secretary of the conference, made the announcement of Paley's selection.

SUPPORT U.S. AID EFFORT

SIU is one of three Illinois universities giving support to the U.S. foreign assistance effort. The three schools have 10 contracts with the Agency for International Development (AID) totaling over $8 million. SIU's two contracts, totaling $1,029,375, are for assistance in education in Vietnam.

The scholarship, designed to keep alive the memory of a young editor, the late Jerry E. Ringo of Frenchburg, Ky., goes to a deserving young weekly editor to enable him to attend the 1964 conference of the international editors group at Pere Marquette State Park July 12-17.

Ringo, editor of the Manifec County Journal at Frenchburg, Ky., died shortly after the meeting last year. Ringo, who was a fellow of the conference, could not attend the 1963 meeting because of his illness.

Howard R. Long, chairman of the SIU Department of Journalism and secretary of the conference, made the announcement of Paley's selection.