World Premiere Of Illinois Drama Slated for Chicago

"Make Her Wilderness Like Eden!", the official play of the Illinois Sesquicentennial, will have its world premiere on Dec. 26 in Chicago.

Archibald McLeod, chairman of the Department of Theater, announced that SIU was invited to take the play to Chicago by the Museum of Arts and Industry.

The invitation came after the enthusiastic response the play received when the first act was presented to the arts program committee of the Sesquicentennial Commission on Nov. 19.

The play was written by Christian H. Moe, associate professor in the Department of Theater.

The play will run from Dec. 26-Jan. 1 at Chicago. Times of performances have not yet been announced, according to McLeod.

The musical score for the play was written by Robert Mueller, professor of music. William Pittin, retired professor of history, served as historical adviser.

McLeod said that he would do the casting for the play this week.

Educators Discuss Foreign Students' Role

"The Role of the International Student at SIU" was the subject of a conference held Monday at Little Grassy Lake.

Attending the meeting were several of the vice presidents, heads of various departments, and members of the International Services Division.

Robert W. MacVicar, vice president for academic affairs and acting president, spoke on the commitment of SIU to educate students from other lands.

He alluded to R. Buckminster Fuller's description of the earth as a giant spaceship. He said that if the human race doesn't learn to work together it may be destroyed together.

The education of students from underdeveloped countries is not a gift but a mandate, he said.

MacVicar mentioned that the presence of international students also worked to broaden the understanding of United States students in regard to foreign cultures.

The need for research in international affairs was also underlined by MacVicar.

Ping-cha Kuo, chairman of the Department of History, spoke on the contribution of international students to the University.

He said that the University needs to promote mutual discovery between students of other lands and those of the United States. Kuo suggested that this could be accomplished by intellectual friction.

He said the result could stir up ferment and break down the inertia of American students.

Kuo said that this would be much more valuable than programs for the international students planned by administrators.

Southern has 778 international students from 81 countries enrolled for the fall quarter at SIU. Of these, 193 students receive financial aid from SIU.

On Sale at Bookstore

Some 2,700 new student directories for the 1967-68 school year for the Carbondale Campus were distributed Monday. They may be purchased at the SIU Central Publications Office, Building T-86, or in the University Center Bookstore. The price is $1.25 each.

The new directories contain several sections including telephone information numbers, SIU office numbers, and student and faculty sections. The student section lists each student's name, home address, campus address and phone number, student classification, and marital status.

This year the Edwardsville Campus student directory is a separate book. It will sell for $1 each and will be distributed later this week.
SIU to Make Space Changes

Eight temporary buildings on SIU's Carbondale Campus will be demolished this week to make room for a further extension of the campus loop road. The road now terminates between Mill and Pul liam Hall. After the extension, it will end at University.

The former Plan A house at the corner of Mill and Forest, the old Industrial Education shops, and the student Affairs headquarters near McAndrew Stadium will be among those torn down this week, according to Rino Bianchi, administrative assistant to John Rendleman, vice president for Business Affairs.

In addition to the three houses north of Woody Hall, two houses formerly occupied by the Department of English and three recently-acquired properties north of them will be cleared.

The Department of English and the Graduate School have been moved to remodeling barracks north of the University Center. Forty-six offices are included in the English department's space. Graduate and teaching assistants remain on the third floor of Old Main.

Removal of the old Industrial Education and Student Affairs barracks clusters will complete site-clearing for a new Central Administration and Services Building, slated to go up for bids this winter. The Industrial Education shops have been moved to the ground floor of Pulliam Hall's industrial education wing.

Student Affairs moved earlier this year to the Washington Square dormitories on S. Washington.

In other space changes, the second floor of the Good Luck Clove Co., building on S. Washington, under lease by SIU, has been assigned to the School of Fine Arts for art laboratories and a dance rehearsal hall.

The first floor of Doyle Dormitory, adjoining the old Baptist Foundation, has been assigned to the Department of Foreign Languages for office expansion.

The Safety Center is scheduled to move soon from a house on E. Grand to a new building south of the Physical Plant offices.

Illinois Women Deans To Hold Conference

More than 100 reservations have been received so far for the 48th annual conference of the Illinois Association of Women Deans and Counselors held Nov. 30 and Dec. 1-2.

Loretta K. Ott, assistant dean of students at SIU, is planning the conference arrangements. That more are anticipated, Mrs. Ott is chairman of the committee on local arrangements.

This will be the first year the conference has been held in the state. Some of the conference sessions will be talks on innovations in education by George London of Decatur-Lakeview Junior-Senior High, Mrs. Diane Callin of Fenton High School, and Jack Graham of SIU; the banquet address by Dean Oliver J. Caldwell of the SIU Division of International Services; and a Saturday morning address, "Communica-cations and Decision Making," by Maude A. Stewart, professor of psychology at Ohio State University.

SIU Student Killed In Auto Accident

An SIU student and his father were killed in a head-on auto collision near Humboldt, Ill., the Monday before Thanksgiving break.

Ralph Hahlbeck, 19, and his father, Donald E. Hahlbeck, 45, of Rantoul, and two other persons were killed in the accident.

Hahlbeck, a fourth quarter freshman, listed his major as engineering technology. He was still enrolled in general studies.

The other two victims in the crash were recent graduates of Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. They were both teachers in the Arcola school district.

Educator Will Discuss Processes of Memory

Irv Wermont, author, lecturer, and presently public relations director of a large New England corporation, will be the featured speaker at the conviction series at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., Thursday in Shryock Auditorium.

Wermont, a former business and radio executive, will discuss the human memory processes. He will illustrate and explain the basic principles that aid the remembering.

A graduate of Northeastern University School of Law and of Emerson College, Wermont has had 30 years of experience in education and communication.

Konikoff to Give Paper

A research study by Mark Konikoff of Troy, N. Y., graduate student in zoology at SIU, will be presented at the annual Midwest Fish and Wildlife Conference in Madison, Wis., Dec. 10-13.

Red Tape Cut

Hats off to one SIU administrator who has made a positive effort to further the higher education of two local colleagues.

Robert W. MacVicar, vice president of academic affairs, was confronted on the telephone Thanksgiving Day by two students who complained there was no place open on campus for students. MacVicar disregarded the normal channels of red tape, phoned the Security Office and an hour later the Home Economics Building Lounge was opened for the writer's benefit.

The writer is one of the students present and was able to enjoy the Hospitality Lounge.

This is a situation that has been under study. It should be noted that the entire formation of "Greek Row" was an experiment originated in 1955. The "experiment" was observed until spring quarter of 1966 at which time an official committee was set up to explore the situation. (Who) are inheriting the problems and needs (who) are inheriting the achievements and less on motor vehicles, off-campus housing, drugs, crack-age drinking and petty crime.

How about it, President Lenzi? How about it, Fraternity Row? Perhaps Lenzi and his "student power" will be successful if it were to undertake a program to make improvements in the student body and leave administration to the more competent and reasonable faculty.

Letters to the Editor:

Fraternal Death?

It is the objective of this letter to bring forth a comprehensive observation of SIU's administrative policy regarding the sorority and fraternity situation. The fundamental problem in evaluation of the present policy stems from the crux of the most basic problem in the system itself. It is difficult to take an objective look at a situation when the university community, Greeks inclusive, is not aware of what the administration's basic policy is at SIU.

The administration has long been promoting the organizing on Small Group Housing a fundamental, desirable behavior-pattern policy. The administration has obviously been establishing absolute, nonfluid, temporary restrictions designed to equalize an immediate situation rather than developing a direct long-term basic policy.

We must not condemn the administration entirely as it is common knowledge that the Greek situation has been under study. It should be noted that the entire formation of "Greek Row" was an experiment originated in 1955. The "experiment" was observed until spring quarter of 1966 at which time an official committee was set up to explore the situation.

After another year of evaluation by the committee, a working plan was submitted to the administration. The administration rather promptly established one more list of absolute, intangible rules the Greeks are forced to follow in this next year of evaluation.

One finds himself pondering the rather obvious possibility that the administration's intention is to restrict the fraternities and sororities out of existence. No organization can function successfully if its freedom of change, self-guidance, and self-betterment is drastically restricted. Without an overall policy statement relevant to the "Greek System" the organizations are assured of a slow, quiet death. If this is the University's intention, let it be known.

Letters to the Editor:

Room for Tyranny

On Nov. 15, the northern entrance to the student union was again the scene of a non-violent, non-verbal, non-sensical demonstration. I am not aiming this writing to you as a group, that would lead only to a parade of vituperative editorials, but rather to that proud father-teacher journalism. Does the University really subject its student body to "terrorism"? Is SIU really "as far from democracy as one can conceive?" Most all students really "be willing to perform acts which can interfere with the orderly working process of the University?"

Perhaps Lenzi and his "student power" will be successful if it were to undertake a program to make improvements in the student body and leave administration to the more competent and reasonable faculty.

Greece Agrees to Turkish Demands

ANKARA Turkey (AP) — A political leader emerged from a Cabinet meeting Friday to announce that Turkey was ready to accept the Greek demands for withdrawal of troops from Cyprus.

The announcement was made after two hours of secret talks between Greek and Turkish leaders.

The Greek government on Friday announced that it had decided to withdraw its troops from Cyprus as a gesture of goodwill.

The withdrawal will take place within six months, according to the announcement.

The move follows the Greek decision to open negotiations with Turkey on a variety of issues, including Cyprus.

Daniel Cote Joins Two-Year Highway-Civil Tech Program

Daniel N. Cote has been named assistant professor in a new two-year highway and civil technology program at the SIU Vocational-Technical Institute. Appointment of Cote, 37, was confirmed by the University Board of Trustees at its November meeting.

Cote came to SIU from Raleigh, N.C., where he was head of engineering technologies at W. W. Holding Technical Institute. He was previously employed as a sanitary engineer with the North Carolina Board of Health and as instructor at North Carolina State University. A native of Chicago, Ill., he received the bachelor's degree in civil engineering in 1961 from Duke University and the master's degree in civil engineering from North Carolina State University. He served two years in the U.S. Army.

Cote is married to the former Jo Ann Kelly of Saginaw, Mich. They have five children, Daniel Jr., David M., Kelly Ann, Bridget Mary and Meghan Kyle.

The highway and civil technology program was instituted at VTCH in 1967 to fill training requirements for a relatively wide background of talents rather than specialists in a single subject.

Couple Fosters Good Will

International students at SIU say Prof. and Mrs. Nelson L. Bossong are two of their favorite Americans, both as hosts and friends.

Bossong, visiting professor of education at SIU, and his wife have befriended students from foreign lands since their own school days. But not until 1951, the year when Bossong went on an official mission to Japan as an educational advisor, did the Bossongs begin to enlarge their contacts with students from all parts of the world.

Since then the professor’s home has become a center for molding mutual understanding among the students. With different political, religious, and racial backgrounds, hostile or hospitable in tradition, the students sit in the dining or in the living room to exchange greetings as well as ideas.

The Bossongs have sponsored annual cookie parties for international students at SIU since they came here from the University of Minnesota in 1962. They entertain students with cookies made from recipes of more than 30 countries.

“ar major purpose of the parties is not rating cookies, but to bring students from different parts of the world together and to help them to get acquainted with one another,” Mrs. Bossong said.

During the Christmas season the couple receives hundreds of greeting cards each year from former students all over the world. With Christmas still a month off, greeting cards have been pouring into their home. This year, the Bossongs expect to have more than 1,000 cards from their friends.

Barker is the biggest sur­prise of the early season for Hartman. "We appreciated his talents before," Hartman said. "But his progress has exceeded our expecta­tions, and he is determined to play."

Backups up the starting five will be Cline Taylor and Bobby Jackson at guard, zuccaro Bos­brough at center and Jay Westcott, Bill Stepe and How­ard Keene at forward.

Taylor's "disappointing progress" has kept him from earning a starting spot, ac­cording to Hartman. "He just hasn't shown us how to play as badly as Barker has."

Jackson has shown surpris­ing progress. Hartman said he will see a lot of action this year.

Westcott is a top-notch shooter. He lacks toughness on defense, but will probably see a lot of action. Stepe, an ag­gressive scorer, has been impressive in early drills. Keene is the transfer who played for LSU prior to serv­ing with the trend. He is a skillful player, but Hartman expects a little experience will help that.

The starting five for the frosh will be Mike Heisselk, Rick Wolskin, Mc Bride of Roosevelt and Terry Buh Buhler of Junction, at guard.

The freshman lineup will be the tallest since the con­tract to the 6-10 Heisselk, 6-4 Mc­Bride and 6-3 Buh.

The freshmen are coached by Jim Smelser, who Hartman said usually has a couple of tricks up his sleeve.

Basketball Tickets Available Early

The ticket office on the west side of the Arena will be open from 1 to 4 p.m. today for purchase of tickets to the varity-freshman basketball game tonight.
'67 Cagers to Debut Against Frosh

By Tom Wood

SIU's experience—short basketball Salukis will get their first taste of action tonight when they take on the freshmen in the Arena. The contest will begin right after a 6:45 showing of the 1967 NIT championship game film. The game will give Coach Jack Hartman his first look at the Salukis under actual game conditions.

“We play this one just like a regular game,” Hartman said. “We won’t know just what they’ll be doing until they do it. It’ll give us a chance to make adjustments as we go along and see how the boys will respond to them.”

And Hartman has emphasized that if there is one thing the Salukis lack which worries him, it’s their lack of previous playing time.

Four new faces will take the court for the opening tipoff against the freshmen. Dick Garrett won’t be the only familiar one, but he’s the only one who was there at the center.

NIT Videotape Will Be Shown Before Game

Saluki basketball fans will get a look into the past and future tonight when they gather at the Arena to see the annual freshman-varsity game.

Beginning at 6:45 p.m., the fans will get their look into the past last year’s team capturing the championship of the National Invitational Tournament in Madison Square Garden. The videotape game will be shown in its entirety, just as seen on national television last March, complete with a play-by-play commentary by a professional announcer. In addition to the final game, there will be highlights of all the games leading up to the Saturday showdown between SIU and Marquette.

Immediately after the film, the 1967-68 Saluki varsity squad will get its first test of the season from the freshmen.
