A visiting Korean professor looks for a possible chain of events to follow the French recognition of Communist China.

Soon Sung Cho, assistant professor of government, said the action taken by President Charles de Gaulle could lead to a succession of similar events.

One could be the recognition of Red China by former African states that were formerly French colonies. The long tour of Africa by Chou En-lai last could support this development, Professor Cho said.

Another step could be for admission of Communist China to the United Nations, he continued. This would then place the mainland Chinese in position to demand, through the U.N., the withdrawal of American forces from South Korea.

The Chinese could point to their own withdrawal from North Korea, Professor Cho said. Furthermore, this would help the “neutralization” of Northeast Asia could lead to a counterpart of de Gaulle’s moves in this direction in Southeast Asia, he added.

This could result in increased tension and may pose dangers for South Korea, Professor Cho went on. He also noted the trade.

Three SIU students, injured in an automobile accident that killed two persons, were reported recovering Monday in Springfield. Wilcoxson was scheduled in history, were scheduled with head’s condition.

said Bob Jennings, chairman of the drive.

"In the past we’ve found that many students are generous with their dollars -- especially if we keep after them. A student may be approached as many as five times, and often he will give each time.

Some students, however, try to avoid contributing by tossing a dollar bill and saying that they don’t have any change. We shock these persons into donating by casually peeling off several dimes from the tape and, offering to make change, ask how much they would like to contribute."

The fraternity is sponsoring the drive as part of the month-long March of Dimes campaign.

Tomorrow’s student referendum will pass -- or it won’t--depending upon whom you’re talking to.

Members of the Referendum Committee, after an informal check of student opinion during the past few days, found that Building proposals have strengths in both supporting and opposing camps. One student senator indicated that it was possible to get either opinion, depending upon the person you were talking to at that moment.

The proposed recommendation for the Health Service Building does not appear to have an edge in the “support” faction, but the plan to build a Co-Recreation Building may be headed for defeat, possibly due to a lack of understanding.

The was the status of the referendum Monday, according to David Davis, chairman of the Student Council Finance Committee, Davis said Council representatives were hoping to clear up any confusion by speaking to several campus building groups Sunday night.

He said that one of the problems in that there is some feeling that the new SIU Arena and upper floors of the University could support this money was needed in any of the 27 existing programs are operating with the barest minimum of funds.

The proposed referendum will pass -- or it won’t--depending upon whom you’re talking to.

Students Predict Both Success, Failure

For Wednesday’s Health Service Ballot

The New Christy Minstrels, recorders of such hits as “Your Place in the Sun,” “Green Green,” “Denver,” “Rovin’ Gambler” and “Follow the Drinking Gourd,” have appeared in all parts of the country at night clubs and colleges, and have been featurèd in several foreign appearances.

The Christies recently performed before President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Columbia recording stars have been lauded by critics for their instrumental and vocal versatility. Referred to as the “big band” of folk singing, the group combines a stringband, a tambourine and a fingerpicking guitar, while the backing sound of ballads, regional folk songs, flamenco, and country-western songs.

The New Christy Minstrels took their name from the famous Christy Minstrels, hailed in the 19th century as the first interpreters greatly responsible for making popular the songs of Shakespeare.

Rathbone Performance Tonight

Starts Shakespeare Festival

SIU’s year-long observance of the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare’s birth opens with a presentation by Basil Rathbone at 8 tonight in Shryock Auditorium.

The program, “An Evening with Basil Rathbone,” is sponsored by the Student Activities Office. It will feature the readings of various poets and readings from Shake­ speare’s plays.

Students with activity cards may purchase reserve tickets for $75 cents and general admission tickets for 50 cents. Rathbone has been referred to as the “best equipped actor on the English-speaking stage.”
Joe Beer Quits Publicity Post

Joe Beer, a resident of Thompson Point, has announced his resignation as publicity co-chairman of the Residence Halls Council.

In a letter to Dean Adams, president of RHC, Beer said the resignation resulted from a difference of opinion over the purpose of the council. Beer also felt that by withdrawing he could be more objective in his study of the council. He is a member of a committee set up by the Thompson Point executive council to study the operation of RHC.

In clarifying his reasons, Beer said, "I have always felt that the RHC was originally set up for the sole purpose of area fee assessment, disbursement and budgeting, but it has overstepped its bounds in trying to gravitate toward self powers not originally intended."

Adams said he was sorry to see Beer leave the council, but couldn’t agree with Beer’s interpretation of the council’s function.

Visitors at the "Know Your University" exhibit are given the challenge of saving through the bars of a window, duplicates of the type used in the U.S. Penitentiary at Marion.

Today is the last day of the three-day exhibit being held in the display of the University Center. It will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. The display of the Student Program Board, which is one of many "do-it-yourself" exhibits on display, includes a computer, a disposable animal cage, a display to compare one’s vehicle jumping ability with that of SIU athletes, and the privilege of viewing oneself on television.

Visitors are also shown the computing machine which is "to replace" librarians at SIU. A demonstration is given on how books will be checked out in the future, using ID cards.

The exhibit, sponsored by the Student Center Student Program Board, features displays from many departments of the University. The exhibit is aimed at promoting a greater understanding of the scope and program of the University.

"Know Your University" exhibit being held in the ballroom of the University Center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today.

Nine New Advisers Selected

Nine new academic advisers have been selected for the winter quarter.

A total of 53 part-time faculty members are assigned to the advising center.

"This amounts to approximately one adviser for each 193 students,” said Jack Graham, coordinator of advisement.

Qualified students are encouraged to use the self-advisement system. If more than usual schedules a year in advance, this will require a student to plan his own half-hour appointment each year instead of the usual one each term.

The Student Counselors are encouraged to see the same adviser each quarter. Upperclassmen are requested to see the adviser assigned to the major. In either case, this person makes it a point to keep up with the latest regulations for the field of study assigned to him.

"Students are reminded that proper use of their own responsibility,” Graham said. Those who are undecided about their major are encouraged to discuss this with a counselor in the Student Counseling and Testing Center.

French 2-China Plan Draws Chiang Blast

TAIPEI, Formosa—France launched its "two China" policy Monday and recognized Red China, a fateful step denounced promptly by the Chinese Nationalists as "diametrically contrary to the cause of the free world."

Apparentlv beheading the advicse of Washington, President Chiang Kai-shek's regime stopped short of breaking off relations with Paris. But a strong protest to France called recognition "an extremely unwise decision."

The United States, which has kept China's regime aloof since the Communists conquered the mainland in 1949, called France's long-expected decision "a unilateral act." Similar expressions came from such friends of the Nationalists as the Philippines and South Korea, Japan.

The Chinese Nationalists knew French recognition of their old mainland enemy was coming, but the prompt acceptance of Peking's "two China" concept apparently surprised them. Both Peking and Taipei have violently annulled all previous attempts to accord equal diplomatic recognition of the rival regimes on the mainland and on Formosa.

The Nationalist Foreign Ministry issued a statement saying France's action "gravely affects the international balance in the face of Communist expansion" and emphasized its opposition to French President Charles de Gaulle's "two China" policy, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Japanese in Tokyo that France cannot influence Peking's belligerent policy toward the West because the French will not bring any real power to Asia, according to sources.

Sen. Smith Enters Presidential Race; Will Run in Illinois

WASHINGTON—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, never beaten lady from Maine, tossed her bonnet into the presidential ring Monday.

In an appearance before the women's National Press Club, Mrs. Smith, 66, and never beaten in Maine, said she will enter New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary March 10. She also will enter the Illinois primary and indications are her name will be listed in the jousts in other states. She will run as a moderate Republican.

Congo Attacks On Missions Spreading

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo—A guerrilla rampage against Christian missions and Congolese government authority was reported spreading rapidly Monday over three southern provinces.

Roving bands of rebels already have killed three Roman Catholic priests and an American Christian missionary. Three nuns and a nun had been slain.

With a state of emergency declared in Kivu Province and guerrillas spreading terror in the neighboring Kasai and Kwango regions near the Angola border, the central Congo government ordered 450 troops into the area.

The government says it has proved Red China is supporting the revolt being waged by about 600 rebels and led by the former education minister, Pierre Mubite, who spent several months last year in Peking.

A stream of missionary refugees fleeing the area continued Monday. The government said it appeared Mulelo is trying to wipe out all traces of law, order and progressivity in the area.

From the west here Red China may try to capitalize on Mulelo's successes.
Applications to Work, Learn

In Alternating Terms Open

Applications for six to eight openings in a cooperative "work and learn" program are being accepted at the Student Work Office through an arrangement with the Alton Board Co. Board Co., after graduation, students are accepted from all academic fields. They have to be sophomores or above, in good standing.

Bruno Bierman, supervisor of the Student Work Office, said students participating in this program will work in the plant in all facets of production. "By exercising a reasonable budget most students can earn enough money to complete the term of school following their term of work," he said.

Students from the Carbondale campus now participating in the program are M. John Hefner, Ronald Syburt, Mike O'Brien, Samuel Puckett, Gary Ashby and Bob Melton.

The Student Work Office said there have been about 20 participants in the program so far. Bierman said every student who has returned from the program said he had learned and profited. "It is a good practical application of theory learning," Bierman added.

Interested male students meeting the qualifications can arrange an interview at the Student Work Office.

The SIU School of Agriculture has just issued a new pamphlet, Animal Industries Publication No. 4, "Proceedings of the Ninth Annual Dairy Day." It is edited by H.L. Olson, associate professor of animal industries.

The booklet contains speeches presented at Southern Illinois' recent Dairy Day. They deal with various phases of dairying such as feeding, milk selection, and plans for increasing the sale of milk.

Korean Sees Chain of Events Following China Recognition

Implications of French recognition, France is also expecting increased trade with mainland China, and the Japanese have been interested in the same area, Professor Cho said. One immediate result of the recognition by France is an increase of Japanese pressure on the United States, to seek relaxation of the trade restrictions against Red China, he pointed out.

"Professor Cho said his general reaction to France's action is one of 'uneasiness.' and when he heard the news, he said, "Allen's Book Approved" For School Libraries

Let's Back That Clinic

There is no doubt about why the student body should approve the proposed Medical Benefit fee tomorrow's referendum to students.

-- who have waited long hours to see a doctor or a nurse, and who are now serving as a Health Service building.

-- who had to be hospitalized off-campus because the campus lacked an infirmary.

Students will be asked to approve a medical benefit fee of $4 per term starting in September and $8 per term in 1966. Even the $4 medical benefit fee a student would pay annually after 1966 would be a big bargain compared with the average $480 medical services fee now paid by students at universities of comparable size.

Action of one sort or another will be necessary soon--whether students approve the medical benefit portion of the referendum or not. The University Park residence hall project, now in the early construction stages, will cover the present site.

Even if the medical benefit portion of the referendum is approved, the Recreation Center could not be built before 1966, when there will be over 17,000 students at the Carbondale campus. Even if the present facilities were to evade the wrecking ball now, they would be entirely outgrown, not merely cramped, as is present.

Staffing problems would not be directly settled if the referendum passes. Staffing is a serious problem in securing additional staff members. Certainly it is unlikely that more doctors would be hired until there is office space for them.

What about the proposed recreation building which students will be asked to approve in the same measure on the same ballot? It is a luxury; the clinic is a dire necessity.

We take no stand for or against the co-recreation building, but suggest only that students search their pockets carefully. By 1967 approval of the co-recreation building fund would raise fees by $4 per quarter. Many have raised the question of whether or not the medical benefit proposal passes.

It is important to note that the Medical Benefit fund and recreation building proposals are separate ones. Students may vote for either the Medical Benefit fund or the recreation building, or both.

The need for a campus clinic and for improved hospitalization coverage is a worthy one and deserves your support. Nick Pasquale

Council Accused of 'Soft Sell' In Health Service Campaign

Since when are improved Health Service facilities more important than the "Indiana-perfect structure of the referendum"? (Editorial, "What About That $5.627?"

The Student Council is attempting to appropriate $13.50 per quarter from the students, for which they have not justified a need. This is a total of $44.50 per student per year.

Why should $112,500 now allocated to Health Service in the present activities fee be turned over to the Student Council? If the quarterly Health Services fee for September, October, November, and $8 after 1965) is approved, the $13.50 per term we are now paying for Health Services will no longer be used for that purpose, but will be turned over to the Student Council.

When the Student Council answers the question of what it is going to do with the $13.50, the student body should consider the referendum. This is really an underhanded attempt of the Student Council to gain access to additional funds under the "soft sell" of better health facilities.

Until the Student Council justifies why the $5.35 now allocated to Health Service under the new referendum should be turned over to it, students should vote against the proposed referendum.

Why don't we all have a prejudice newspaper? What's this I hear about the Daily Egyptian staff prohibiting journalism students from writing articles for the student insert called the Ka? Could that be true?

Well, undoubtedly the chairman of the department will say, "That's none of your business!"

I resent this factual rumor more than any of your one-sided editorials. Freedom of choice has been a contributing factor to democracy. If this is the path the Department of Journalism and mass communications is going to take, then I am going to demand the same freedom of speech that the students have--to write about what they please. Use of Athletics Allocation

For Health Service Asked

The place: a college near Carbondale, Ill., in the little hamlet of Carbondale, U.S.A. This college had an enrollement of 12,000 at one time, but not today; now enrollment is only 50. Why?

Not because of the tuition--that stayed at $42. May, the cost rose gradually for the little things. First it was $5 for the athletic fund, $5 toward the new University Center, $1.50 for accreditation, $6.80 for the Health Service and $25 for the National Society for Prevention of Cruelty To Animals.

Please let me be understood--I am not against preventing cruelty toward animals, but how about cruelty toward student pocketbooks?

Tomorrow the student body is asked to go to the polls and vote. For the raising of the activity fee or declared backwards, non-aggressive and lacking in guts.

Today we pay $9.50 as the activity fee and we are asked to raise this by possibly as much as $13. I agree that the Health Service is doing a magnificent job, and that better hospitals and more doctors would rectify a grave situation that is plaguing us.

I also believe that the one-fee system, the activity fee and the student medical benefits, are the only way to go to the athletic department yearly is, for myself and others, a waste. I am not a charter member of the "Coug (Southern Athletic Club)"--I am here to learn, and thus have not been able to attend very many athletic events. For me and others it would be cheaper to pay the gate fee rather than go to the athletic department.

Now here is my proposal: Let's pay less to the Athletic Department, and more for Health Service. This will give the athletic department an incentive to improve, while the Health Service will have the money it needs to build a clinic and to hire more doctors.

Cruelty to Animals?

Please go to the polls and vote tomorrow. Let's put our money where our mouths are.

Please let me be understood--I am not against preventing cruelty toward animals, but how about cruelty toward student pocketbooks?

Tomorrow the student body is asked to go to the polls and vote. For the raising of the activity fee or declared backwards, non-aggressive and lacking in guts.

Today we pay $9.50 as the activity fee and we are asked to raise this by possibly as much as $13. I agree that the Health Service is doing a magnificent job, and that better hospitals and more doctors would rectify a grave situation that is plaguing us.

I also believe that the one-fee system, the activity fee and the student medical benefits, are the only way to go to the athletic department yearly is, for myself and others, a waste. I am not a charter member of the "Coug (Southern Athletic Club)"--I am here to learn, and thus have not been able to attend very many athletic events. For me and others it would be cheaper to pay the gate fee rather than go to the athletic department.

Now here is my proposal: Let's pay less to the Athletic Department, and more for Health Service. This will give the athletic department an incentive to improve, while the Health Service will have the money it needs to build a clinic and to hire more doctors.

Cruelty to Animals?

Please go to the polls and vote tomorrow. Let's put our money where our mouths are.

Philip M. Pfeffer

Frosh Cagers Club Harrisburg, Lose Narrowly to Murray State

Southern's freshmen cagers fell to defeat at the hands of Murray State Saturday night to give them a split in games played last weekend.

The loss knocked the Frosh 'from the cloud they were riding after their 106-73 victory over Harrisburg Junior College Thursday night.

The Harrisburg outfit was a favorite and was out to a 37-point lead at the end of the regulation time.

The game was narrow as Murray, and he was aided by the effort of Murray's Dave Frazier, who had been held to less than 20 points in his last two appearances, broke loose to score 37 points and take the game scoring honors. McNerney was the leading scorer for the victors as he tallied 30 points.

Clarence Smith was the second highest scorer for the Frosh as he put through 24 points. Ralph Johnson and Ray Krup also hit in double figures for the Salukis as they accounted for 12 and 11 points respectively.

McPhearson was the big gun for Murray, and he was aided by four other teammates who reached double figures in helping them score the victory going away.

The next game for the Frosh is Wednesday night when they host Mt. Vernon Junior College.

The second half was a nip-and-tuck battle as the Salukis overcame the slim half time deficit to tie the game 79-79 at the end of the regulation time.

The game turned out to be a high scoring battle between SIU's Walt Frazier and Murray's McNerney, Frazier, who had been held to less than 20 points in his last two appearances, broke loose to score 37 points and take the game scoring honors. McNerney was the leading scorer for the victors as he tallied 30 points.

Purple Auto Tag Isn't Northwestern's

Northwestern University has issued a disclaimer on the colors of the 1964 Illinois license plates.

The Daily Northwestern cleared up the point in a story last week:

"Those purple and white license plates beclouding Illinois registered motor vehicles are not in honor of Northwestern University, contrary to campus consensus," the NU student body was informed.

The Daily Northwestern quoted the Illinois Department of Motor Vehicles as saying that the colors were selected in honor of McKendree College, a small liberal arts school.

McKendree's colors are also purple and white.
