6 SIU Officials Will Attend

Session On 1965-67 Budget

Budget and fiscal officers of Illinois six state universities will meet at Pere Marquette and Rock Island Tuesday in an attempt to forecast operating and capital needs for the schools for the 1965-67 biennium.

The meeting will be held with staff officers of the State Higher Board of Education led by Reginald S. Browne, executive director.

Clifford Burger, budget officer of Southern Illinois University said the meeting was set up in response to the higher board's request that some forecast of money needs for that period be made at this time.

The total figure of the six-school appropriation in the 1965-67 biennium was $294 million. Of this amount, SIU's appropriation was $56.3 million.

Burger said six officers from SIU are planning to attend the meeting. The group will include Burger; John Rendleman, general counsel; Paul Isbell, director of business affairs; and Robert L. Gallegly, business manager.

From the Edwardsville campus of SIU, C. Eugene Peebles, director of business affairs; and Bruce Thomas, acting associate dean of acade mic affairs.

Hugh Miller

To Illustrate Styles Of Acting

Hugh Miller, former senior director of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts of London, will be this week's Freshman Convocation speaker.

He will present "The Art of the Actor," a series of sketches that illustrates the various styles of acting.

This will not be Miller's first appearance in Shryock as he has visted in convocations the past several years.

Now retired from the Royal Academy, Miller still does some professional theater work from time to time. He has been a teacher, a writer, a director and an actor for the British theater.

He has also worked with the British Broadcasting Corporation for many years in directing, writing, acting and teaching various dramatic programs.

Miller was the dialog director for the movie, "Lawrence of Arabia." During the filming of the picture in Spain, he will present both the 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. conversation programs.

Miller will be on the convocation schedule this term on the campus of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. The following days Miller will speak on the campus of Drake University in Des Moines, and the University of Iowa in Iowa City.

Goodland To Talk On Conan Report

"The Conan Report on Teacher Education, Pro and Con" will be the subject of a lecture by John Goodland, professor of education at UCLA, Thursday, Nov. 21, in the Wham Education Building auditorium, Carbondale. Goodland served in the Conant Study team.

Sigma Xi To Sponsor Talks

By Rockefeller Biochemist

Dr. Rollin D. Hotchkiss, New York City, Rockefeller Institute biochemist, will lecture under auspices of the SIU Sigma Xi organization at 8 p.m. Friday in Browne Auditorium, according to Dewey Amon, local Sigma Xi club secretary. The meeting will be open to all interested persons.

Hotchkiss, who is on a lecture tour of midwestern colleges and universities as a Sigma Xi lecturer on microbiology, will discuss "Listening In on Inter-Bacterial Information." He received his doctorate in organic chemistry from Yale University in 1935 and has been with the Rockefeller Institute staff since then...

ROLLIN D. HOTCHKISS
Adult Education Association Will Convene On SIU Campus Nov. 6

Adult education leaders in the 31 counties of Southern Illinois will gather on the SIU campus Nov. 6 for a conference.

Ray Page, Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction, will speak to the organization, the Illinois Adult Education Association, in Morris Library during the morning session. The conference will conclude at 3 p.m.

Ray Page

Invitations have been mailed to county and district school superintendents, school board presidents, junior college staffs, farm advisers, vocational-technical schools, librarians, PTA presidents, women's club education committee members, and other representatives of labor and industry, and various groups in community development.

On the morning program with Superintendent Page will be John E. Grinnell, vice president of operations on the SIU Carbondale campus; Glenn E. Will, president of the SIU adult education division and president of the Illinois Adult Education Association; Frank Selner, SIU Community Development consultant and vice president of the University; and Thomas W. Mann, director of adult education in Page's office.

The afternoon will be devoted to discussions of roles of various groups in adult education.

Interest In Faculty Seminars Makes For Crowded Conditions

"It is a matter of 'come early,"' said George E. Axteille, the professor who is arranging the Friday luncheon seminars at the Faculty Club. "And coming early leads to a late evening, too."' Axteille said another speaker on operations will be SIU's expert on fish, William Lewis, professor in zoology.

President Delanye W. Morris spoke first, followed by John E. Grinnell, vice president for operations. A date to hear Charles T. Denney, vice president of institutional planning and review, has been arranged for a Friday in the middle of December.

Haas To Continue Seminar Discussion

Hermann J. Haas, associate professor of zoology, will continue the zoology seminar discussions on "Ecological organization in blastomeric insect epidermis" at 4 p.m. today in room 205 of the Life Sciences Building.

Axteille began the discussion at a seminar last week.

Andrew G. Hendrickx, associate professor in zoology, was scheduled to conduct today's seminar, "A Vaginal Smear Technique for Age Determination in Embryos", but his seminar was delayed one week.

Lord Home Sheds Titles For Politics

LONDON

Britain's prime minister shed his long string of noble titles Wednesday, renouncing 500 years of proud family history, and became a commoner in order to govern this island kingdom.

The 14th Earl of Home, Lord Dunraven, Baron Home and Lord Douglas, by a simple stroke of the pen, became Sir Alec Frederick Douglas-Home. He rates being called "Sir Alec" because he is a Knight of the Thistle—not a peerage.

He cleared away the biggest hurdle blocking his entry into the House of Commons—a right previously denied him by his noble heritage.

Now he must win a seat in the Commons in a special election set for Nov. 7.

Douglas-Home's historic act left him in a kind of political vacuum—he was no longer a member of the House of Lords, nor yet a member of the House of Commons. It was the first time in British history a prime minister had been such a spend.

This weekend Home is expected to travel to Scotland to fight in the special election for Kintyre and West Perth. Barring one of the biggest political upsets in British history, Home should win the seat.

But when Parliament meets Thursday—for the first time since early August—Douglas-Home won't be able to attend. The session is a formality to close out the old Parliament. The new session, originally scheduled for Oct. 29, has been delayed until Nov. 12 to give Douglas-Home time to win the election.

SAN FRANCISCO

Gov. Rockefeller says "the forward road" is America's path to progress and it doesn't detour through "extreme philosophies."

In a speech at Salt Lake City the New York governor said President Kennedy and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona are at the political extremes; Kennedy because he favors an "all-powerful federal government dominating our lives," and Goldwater because he is "committed to withdraw from free world leadership and roll back the clock on social gains and human progress."

"If I have always tried to follow the forward road," Rockefeller said earlier at a news conference.

In his speech to a crowd of 1,500 at the University of Utah, Rockefeller said, "America is at the crossroads."

A U.N. fact-finding mission arrived Wednesday to look into charges of government persecution of Buddhists, but President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime has announced no plans for the mission talk with leading Buddhist opponents of Diem.

Most Buddhist leaders who have opposed Diem openly are in jail.

The regime also has made plain it frowns on any talks between the U.N. mission and the top Buddhist leader, Thich Tri Quang, now in asylum in the U.S. Embassy.

Jury Begins Steel Industry Investigation

NEW YORK

A federal grand jury was sworn in Wednesday at the request of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division for a probe involving the steel industry.

Judge John F. S. McGreevey instructed the 16 male and 7 women on the jury to keep secret all matters they discussed.

There has been a report that the inquiry concerns steel prices. The impounding following issuance of subpoenas to at least seven big steel producers which, one company spokesman said, "took the industry by surprise."

The questioning of prospective jurors by John J. Galgay of the Antitrust Division gave little clue of the specific inquiry to be followed.

He did ask if they or their relatives had income or financial interests in any steel company or any financial institution dealing with steel enterprises.

Galgay told the prospective jurors that they could gather from what was asked, the nature of the questions being asked, the nature of the inquiry."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is being called home from South Vietnam for conferences with President Kennedy, the State Department said Wednesday.

It said Lodge is scheduled to arrive late this month or early in November. Lodge took over as ambassador in Saigon in late August, shortly after the Viet Nam government made a series of surprise raids on Buddhist pagodas and rounded up hundreds of monks and nuns.

Rights Showdown Delayed In House

WASHINGTON

A key civil rights vote in the House Judiciary Committee was postponed Wednesday as the administration made a last-ditch effort to win support for a compromise bill.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., faced by a militant band of Democrats and Republicans holding out for a more sweeping bill than the administration wants, got the vote put off for 24 hours.

The White House, the Justice Department and the House leadership immediately went to work on the committee members to try to cool their ardor for what Celler termed the drastic bill before the committee.

The administration is convinced that the bill, which does not have the support Repub­lican leaders in Congress, will be cut to ribbons if it gets to the House floor in its present state.
Dean Finds Privileged Group In ‘Classless’ Russia

Children Are Kings, Queens

Says Home Ec Dean Quigley

Sitting behind her gleaming walnut desk, Home Economics Dean Elleen Quigley had the look of a world traveler as she spoke of her summer visit to Russia.

"My impression, based on a limited observation, is that there is a privilege in the Soviet Union," said Dean Quigley.

The ten days she spent in Moscow and Leningrad comprise one part of the international family life tour which follows the International Congress of Home Economics in Paris. Though her group included children from France, England, Sweden, Denmark, and Finland, she finds that most people here at home ask her about Russia.

Nothing is incidental in the way the Russians treat kindergarten and elementary school, she stressed. "The Soviet Union considers itself collectively with children from the prenatal period to the end of school days."

Even though Soviets swell with pride as they proclaim themselves a classless society, they diligently work away from this ideal by marking children. Small kings and queens of Red Square, she explained.

State Controls Some From Babynado Through College

Creches, or nurseries, accommodate approximately 20 per cent of the children from birth to five of age. Dean Quigley said, "Facilities are excellent.

"From an American point of view they are lush, even including waiting rooms."

Instead of crayons and cut-out puzzlez, Russian children under four years old are given with paints. But even when these facilities are part of a master plan for the development of the body and mind--for indoctrination and discipline.

When the child reaches the age of four, the Russian enters kindergarten and remains at this level until he is seven.

During these years he receives training in hygiene, work skills, a little reading, a little creative expression, and cooperation within the group.

Dean Quigley noted that the strongly disciplined children did not run at chase or kick at the ground in laughter. They seem to lack the spontaneity of American children.

She explained that after kindergarten the child proceeds to 10 years of universal compulsory education. Lucky students who then pass competitive entrance examen visit France, England, Austria.

"Children are kings and queens," she said, "and have titles behind their names."

Shopping Tour Ends As High Prices Startle Dean

Though teaching techniques and educational facilities interest her as a professional educator, Dean Quigley speaks from a feminine viewpoint too. "I was a bit of a traveler, and a bon vivant, free souvenirs and gifts," she said. Anticipating a big shopping expedition, she began browsing in new attractive windows, but felt they were of low quality and quite expensive.

American standards. Prices ranged from $3 to $30 a meter--3.27 inches more than a yard, Cottons

Delta Zeta Sorority

To Celebrate 61st Anniversary Today

SIU’s Gamma Omega chapter of Delta Zeta social sorority will mark the anniversary of the founding of its national sorority today.

The observance will mark the sixty-first birthday of the sorority and will be celebrated with a special dinner with guest speakers.

New officers who were elected to serve this year include Sharon Gant, pledge trainer; Carolyn Mahack, corresponding secretary; Diane Ambrose, house manager; Carol Bartell, standards chairman; Judy Winters, senior Panhellenic delegate; Diane Gallenwitz, assistant treasurer; Lynne Lienbrenz, assistant rush chairman, and Mary Frances Brownie, assistant house manager.

New girls who pledged during spring rush are Mary Jo Stinch, Sandy Carlson, Sharon Farmer, Donna Holt, Susie Rendel, Sharon Simmons and Carolyn Ward.

She explained that on the day of the observance, "Children are kings and queens of Red Square, where the American children would rather have friends and sisters from the United States.

To Soviet couple sign the register, receive their rings, and leave so the next wedding can proceed.

When asked about the general aspects that most readily came to mind when she thought about her trip to Russia, Dean Quigley put her hand to her forehead and said, "Oh, there was so much!"

"Nevertheless two major points came to mind:"

First: "The Russians put a great emphasis on education and culture, and they spend more per capita on education than the United States does. Yet, the young people have very little way of finding out about the rest of the world.".."

Second: "The Russians send 90 per cent of their people abroad as part of a cultural exchange while 90 per cent of the United States citizens who go to Russia are merely tourists."

Dean Quigley reports that her family and friends were very enthusiastic about her trip and had been interested in what she saw abroad. But she laughed and her eyes twinkled when she said, "I couldn’t get any of them to go with me."

Should U.S. Propaganda Work
Be A Job For Madison Avenue?

By William J. Perry & Harper & Row, 1944 pp. $3.95.

"Propaganda is any word or deed, short of the use of physical force, designed to make others think or act in the way the initiator wants them to act," so defines Mr. Joyce this much-maligned word propaganda.

Having thus embraced this rather all-encompassing definition, one might well ask how the author proves this to be the role of the advertising agencies as portrayed in their service. He cites writings dating from Demosthenes' warning to the people of Athens to the 1962 report of the committee of former Secretary of State Christian Herter in its "Perpennal for the New Diplomacy." All are carefully selected to support his thesis.

Reviewed By

Bryce W. Rucker

His picture of what he regards as "the propaganda sort" is indeed black. He blames what he calls this propaganda upon those who direct the USIA program and on a continuing pressure by Congress. He charges the program is based on information dissemination, unimportant to propaganda and is "conducted on far too low a level by lower-level diplomats and former educators and newspapermen."

The appendix offers alternate programs for closing the "gap."

Undoubtedly, the USIA program and its predecessors have been less than maximally effective. Mistakes have been made. A rapid succession of domestic political and social changes in policy must have left its employees confused and discouraged.

BRYCE RUCKER

Even so, this book's points need to be made. USA's budget in these war years was not too small, and no professional personnel must be attracted and trained. It is doubtful whether a sound propaganda machine could be used in combating the Communist propaganda machine.

Would Mr. Joyce's C.I.A.-type heavily propagandistic government communications program do a better job? We probably will never know. The whole question certainly is lost in a "low-threshold relaxation of Soviet-U.S. relations, at least to the extent of reducing our war surplus."

SIU Gymnastics Schedule Includes Intrasquad Matches, 14 Meets

Four home meets are listed on the 1963-64 gymnastics schedule released this week by SIU Athletic Department officials. In addition, the SIU gymnasts will hold two intrasquad meets in their own gym.

Southern will also participate in eight meets on the road, giving coach Bill Meade's 14-meet schedule in which to further their already lofty status on the national level.

An intrasquad match will open the new season for the Salukis on Nov. 26, but they quickly get into the regular season events a few days later when they go to Chicago for the Midwest Open on Dec. 6, for the big date on their schedule -- March 27 -- when they will participate in the NCAA meet in Los Angeles. SIU gymnastics schedule:

Nov. 26, intrasquad meet
Feb. 7, Ball State, away, Feb. 8, Ohio State, away, Feb. 14, Minnesota, home; Feb. 21, Colorado, away, Feb. 22, Denver, away, Feb. 28, Michigan State, home; March 9, intrasquad meet; March 12-14, NCAA meet, Los Angeles.

Wrestling Next On IM Schedule

Flag football action continues to dominate the campus men's intramural program this week but a host of other activities are just around the corner.

The annual intramural wrestling tournament is scheduled to begin on Nov.12 preceded by a meeting for all participants and team managers on Nov. 7.

Despite the spring like weather basketball season continues to approach and the department is adding all boys interested in officiating the round hall sport to sign up in the intramural office in the Men's Gym.

Due to the change from daily basketball action on Oct. 27 all flag football games scheduled on or after Monday, Oct. 24, will be played in 10-minute halves instead of 12 due to the earlier arrival of darkness.

Badminton enthusiasts will have to wait until spring time to begin swinging their rackets in competition as the annual badminton tournament traditionally scheduled for this fall has been rescheduled for the spring term.

BONNIE SHELTON IN ACTION

Bonnie Shelton Takes Over Five-Game Scoring Spotlight

Two touchdown passes against Northern Michigan have pushed junior end Bonnie Shelton to the top of the heap among SIU's scoring leaders after five games this season.

Shelton, Columbus, Ga., has crossed into paydirt four times now, giving him a total of 24 points. He moved past previous leader Tom Massey, Runnemede, N.J., who had to remain at 18 points as he had to watch the last tilt from the bench while he nursed a back injury.

Flanker back Harry Bobbitt, Carbondale, also caught a touchdown toss last Saturday and took over sole possession of third place with his 12 point total. Place-kicking specialist Bobby Hight, Con­tralia, boosted three extra points and now is in fourth with 11 points.

Seven other Salukis have tallied one touchdown each to round out the team total of 16. Pete Winton, Jim Hart, Rich Weber, Jerry Frericks, Dave Harris, Bill Lopez and Charlie Warren accounted for the scores.

Mont Riffer heads up the rushing statistics, although he hasn't played off the bench the past two games and Rich Weber is actually the most consistent ball-toter for Southern.

Riffer leads in averages with a 7.4 mark in 10 carries, while Weber has far-and-away the edge in total yards gained with 222 in 33 carries. His average stands at 6.7 per carry.

Next best as far as averages are concerned is Fresh­man Rudy Phillips, who has poured out 37 yards in five­wise for a 7.4 average. He, too, hasn't seen much action and must back up his marks with additional performances.

Sophomore fullback Percy Manning tells Weber in total production as a rusher. He's gained 109 yards in 18 car­ries and hasn't lost an inch, so he has a net total of 109 for his 6.0 average.

One of the biggest individ­ual advances made in the Northern game was by Bob­bitt, who snared six passes for 91 total or 75 yards. Added to his four-game totals, he jumped into the load in pass receiving, where he now leads in passes caught with 18 and net yards gained with 223. Bobbitt passed up Tom Mas­sey, who didn't play and re­mained at 10 catches and 200 yards, Shelton tightened his hold on third place with his seven completions for 121 standing athletes. A spurt tumbling champ, Mitchell was Southern's top entry in national competition and is eyeing the All-Around crown.

Other promoters names who will do your man's service are Steve Pasearan, Tom Geo­carios and Bill Illakis. All placed in NCAA competition last season.

ROTOC Band To Go To Pinckneyville, Centralia Parades

Southern will be represented in two Halloween parades by the AFROTC Cadet Band. The band, consisting of 48 members, a drum major and their commander will march in the Centralia Halloween Parade and the Pinckneyville Halloween Mardi Gras Parade.

Centralia’s parade will begin at 7:45 p.m., Oct. 30, The Halloween Mardi Gras Parade at Pinckneyville will begin at 8 p.m., Oct. 31.

At least one member of the band will feel at home in each parade. Leon Davis, drum major and their commander, will march in Centralia and Richard Smith, cadet band commander, hails from Pinckneyville.

Although the cadet band is made up of a total of 64 members plus the drum major and commander, Capt. Robert B. Frazier, the band director, says that only 48 cadets will be making the trip.

Group To Attend Recreation Meet

Three members of the Recreation and Outdoor Education Department will participate in a panel discussion at the 36th annual conference of the Illinois Association of Park Districts and the Illinois Recreation Association.

Topic of the discussion is “Establishing Community Support and Community Recreation Programs for the Retarded,” William O’Brien will serve as moderator of the panel and Dennis Bennett as recorder.

Dr. William H. Freeberg, chairman of the Recreation and Outdoor Education Department, will speak on “The Kennedy Foundation Program in Day Camping and Recreation for the Retarded.”

The conference is being held through Friday in North Aurora.
