10-24-1975

The Daily Egyptian, October 24, 1975

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_October1975
Volume 57, Issue 45

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1975 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in October 1975 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
Lake pollution issue aired in court hearing

By Pat Corcoran
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Both sides testified Thursday in a hearing on a pollution violation which alleges an SIU political science professor allowed sewage from his sub-drainage to drain into Cedar Lake.

A decision from the hearing held in the Jackson County Courthouse in Murjor's home, Homeowner's Association is responsible, he said.

A third party complaint, naming the iversity in the fashionable Kensington district.

Seven other persons, including a litten to monitor the sewage

But the bomb, planted under the car horses for the kitten and his litterates Thursday. (Staff photo by

Horn cat
Belinda Blomberg, sophomore, finds a friend who apparently wants to hang around her. The kitten's owner was looking for

Caroline Kennedy escapes terrorist bomb

LONDON (AP)—A "very shaken" Caroline Kennedy narrowly escaped injury and possible death Thursday when a bomb believed

The Jlew Egypdan Staff

But the bomb... placed by a third party who was going to go to Sotheby's, a London auctioneer of fine arts where she is enrolled in an 11-month art course.

S-Senate amends impeachment clause

By Ken Temkin
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

In an attempt to Nifie quorum problems, the Student Senate Wed-nednesday evening revised the senatorial

The Senate has been affected by a

The amendment gives the Campus price to try all

Jim Wire, Student vice president, an-

Caroline Kennedy escapes terrorist bomb

By Sid Fischer
Egypdn Staff

Kamarasy said the homeowners' association was to assume responsible for the sewage lagoon, and he had postponed completion of the two ad-tional ponds pending the hearing's outcome.

Caroline Kennedy escapes terrorist bomb

LONDON (AP)—A "very shaken" Caroline Kennedy narrowly escaped injury and possible death Thursday when a bomb believed to have been set by Irish terrorists exploded outside the townhouse of a crusading anti-terrorist

The Jlew Egypdn Staff

He said he had no operator on duty because he was not responsible for the lake.

The IEPA has also charged Kamarasy with having no certified operator on duty to monitor the sewage pond. Kamarasy said he had no operator on duty because he was not responsible for the lake.

Resigh contested his claim of no responsibility and said the Soviet Union Hills "called the police board. Two officials from the IEPA office in Marion testified that they told Kamarasy about the sewage overflow from Lake Lilac and Kamarasy had

He said a telephone call from a fellow parliamentarian delayed their departure and kept them mobile at the time of the blast, which shattered the windows of the car and killed the driver.

Police said Prof. Gordon Hamilton Fairley, who headed the tumor... drug treatment of cancer, was walking by Fraser's car when the dye estimated at five to seven pounds, went off under a front wheel and erupted in a sheet of flame as a pool of Police said the blast blew off Fraser's legs and hurled him into Fraser's front garden. His paddle was killed.

Several detectives said they suspected the bomb was planted by the same cell of the Irish Republican Army which left a 230-pound explosive device outside a restaurant near Parliament Oct. 13. The bomb was spotted and defused moments before it was set to go off.

Hours after the blast at Fraser's home, Home Secretary Roy Jenkins who lives nearby and was at first believed to have been under the blast's effect of terror.

Fraser also rose in the Commons and said "we can all agree that every politician in this house and every patriotic citizen in the United Kingdom is appalled by the viciousness of terrorism."
Jumpin' jester

Elite Gymnast Pat Hanlon helps her clown friend Tim Frank through a tumbling maneuver while eager-eyed grade schoolers look on. The gymnastics demonstration took place Thursday at Thomas School in Carbondale where Hanlon is a student teacher. (Staff photo by Jim Cook.)

Ex-Indian president reviews obscenity law

By Peggy Sagona

Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Although there is no set definition for obscenity, "You sense it when you begin to feel embarrassed," said Mohamed Hidajatullah, former chief justice and president of India.

Hidajatullah gave a lecture Thursday on the censorship of books and films, sponsored by the School of Law, the College of Communications and Fine Arts, and the Departments of History, Philosophy and Political Science.

In India, they have only made court decisions dealing with situations books and films, and the laws on these two issues have not changed for the past ten years, he said.

In 1965 a decision was handed down concerning the book "Lady Chatterley's Lover," by D.H. Lawrence. The results of the case banned the book from India based on one point, that obscenity can be prosecuted by law.

The Hicklin test was generally adapted in India concerning this book. The test states that something is obscene if it has tendencies to deprave or corrupt the minds of those who are susceptible to such things.

The same test was rejected by the U.S. Supreme Court in the Roth v. U.S. case because the impact on the average person has to be considered.

Obscenity and art are mixed, but the law art must be so profound to throw obscenity into a shadow, he said.

"We need not burn gagging all literature, but find a balance between expression and morality, he said.

The test of obscenity is determined by the standards of the society.

In an interview Tuesday, he said that the Indian society is a prim society and has less tolerance of sexual portrayals than other parts of the world—although the sculpture is erotic.

"One doesn't know why there was such an insistence on erotic sculpture in the past, except that it represents a cycle of rebirth," he said.

With obscenity there is always a question of degree, a question as to where the line is drawn, he said.

There are various approaches to the problem, one may try the scales to freedom of speech and expression, but then it depends on the form they are in, he added.

It is not merely the message, but what one can see in it, he said.

On the subject of film censorship, one must realize that film is a unique form of expression, he said.

Films have a greater impact on the audience since they are another form of media.

Prefecndcontrol and censorship only differ in quality as to how far the restrictions can go, he said.

The task of the one who censors cannot be done by general standards but directions are necessary for him depending on what the morally healthy cannot view or read.

It is agreed by some that the law should be made more liberal, he concluded.

Police arrest 10 in drug raid in West Frankfort

WEST FRANKFORT (AP)—Police arrested five adults and five juveniles at a West Frankfort apartment Wednesday night where a drug party was allegedly in progress.

Police Chief Frank Hubbard said officers raided the home of Edward Mutton, 33, and charged him with possession of a controlled substance. Hubbard declared to say what drug was involved.

Four other adults were charged with involving contributing to the delinquency of minors.

All were held in the Franklin County jail at Benton.

Spain’s Franco suffers relapse

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco is showing signs of heart failure, his doctors said Thursday night.

The chief of staff who suffered a relapse and incipient heart failure has appeared, a statement from 11 attending doctors said.

The medical bulletin, the first since the 82-year-old chief of state suffered a severe heart attack two days ago, explained that the Spanish constitution for Franco to be declared incapable of continuing as Spanish ruler.

There were reports that his government was making efforts to transfer power to Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon. Highly placed sources said Premier Carlos Arias Navarro's cabinet met late in the night Thursday in an attempt to transfer power from Franco to the Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, his designated successor.

Scotland Yard campaigns for more blacks

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard, worried about accusations of being a "racist" force, launched a $500,000 advertising campaign Thursday to attract more black recruits.

At present, Scotland Yard has only 4% blacks, police officers among a total staff of 23,000. The first of the advertisements seeks qualified men who have not risen above the rank of constable—lowest rank in the force.

The Yard, 5,000 policemen under strength, took full page advertisements in London's most widely read newspaper to appeal for more non-white recruits. Although it mentioned Asians as well as blacks, the ad was clearly aimed at the black community which has been most critical of alleged police racism.

American athletes harrassed in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—U.S. athletes in the Pan American Games have been kicked and slapped, insulted and spat upon, halted and jeered.

They have learned our country's knowledge of the Mexican organizing committee, but he has not seen fit to take any action, said Col. Don Miller, executive director of the 41-member American team competing in these historic championships.

A Newsman who has covered five of the previous Pan Am Games said there were no attacks there, but that there have been instances in this one which is being expressed in Mexico, including the 1956 Games in Mexico City. He said there had been some resentment and occasional booing, most of it because the United States, which has always won two and three times as many medals as any other country.

Brain surgeon asks guidance on Quinlan

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP)—A neurologist who specializes in the treatment of coma victims said Thursday that Karen Anne Quinlan's physical condition was too grotesque to describe, but said no physician has the right to take steps that could end her life.

The testimony was by Dr. Sidney Diamond, one of three neurologists presented by attorneys opposing a request by Quinlan's adoptive parents that doctors be authorized to discontinue a respirator to let her die with dignity.

Dr. Diamond testified that Quinlan will never regain thought or control of her body and that she rests in a hospital intensive care unit with her legs and arms and head down. He had made her sit in a way, "too grotesque to describe in terms of the fetal position."

Dr. Diamond said the Quinlan case and other like it were vital to clarity guidance given to doctors by medical committees.

Exxon reports third quarter profits down

NEW YORK (AP)—Exxon Corp., the world's largest oil company, said Thursday its third quarter profits fell sharply from last year's inflated levels, but are showing some signs of improvement.

The report is in keeping with the nationwide trend that has cut profits of some companies back to the levels that existed before the 1973 oil embargo and foreign price hikes caused them to soar.

The company, citing the impact of higher taxes and lower demand, reported third quarter earnings of $230 million or $2.46 a share on revenues of $12.23 billion.

The latest earnings were up from the second quarter's $235 million or $2.39 a share, which was 31 cents below the $500 million or $3.58 a share posted in the 1973 third quarter.

Earlier this week Mobile Oil Corp., the nation's third largest oil company, reported a 17 per cent decline in profits and Standard Oil Co. of Indiana posted a 28 per cent decline.

For the most part, the companies continued to show strong profits from their U.S. operations.

National Airlines strike nears end

MILAN (AP)—National Airlines, grounded by a flight attendants' strike since Labor Day, could be back in the air in about two weeks now that there is an apparent settlement, officials and strikers said Thursday.

Marc Rose, chief negotiator for the striking Flight Attendants Association, said it will take about two weeks for the union to vote on ratification of a tentative contract agreement reached Wednesday morning.

"The agreement is just what we are asking for. It's a good package," Rose said.

She said the two-week period is necessary for ballots to be prepared and counted.

If accepted, the new contract will end a 54-day-old work stoppage that has idled National's 360 daily flights to 46 U.S. cities and London. Before the strike, the Miami-based carrier serviced about 18,000 passengers daily.

Veto override crowd jams State Capitol

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A huge, boisterous crowd squeezed into the Illinois Capitol Thursday to support Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and others in urging the legislature to approve more money for schools.

Lawmakers were debating whether to override vetoes by Gov. Dan Walker and restore $142 million trimmed from the governor's 1975 state aid program for elementary and secondary schools.

The chanting, singing crowd of more than 1,000 jammed the hallways of the Capitol and packed the galleries of the House chambers, where the issue was debated, and Senate were gathered in an unusual "committee of the whole" to discuss the school aid question.

National Airlines strike nears end

MILAN (AP)—National Airlines, grounded by a flight attendants’ strike since Labor Day, could be back in the air in about two weeks now that there is an apparent settlement, officials and strikers said Thursday.

Marc Rose, chief negotiator for the striking Flight Attendants Association, said it will take about two weeks for the union to vote on ratification of a tentative contract agreement reached Wednesday morning. "The agreement is just what we are asking for. It’s a good package," Rose said.

She said the two-week period is necessary for ballots to be prepared and counted.

If accepted, the new contract will end a 54-day-old work stoppage that has idled National’s 360 daily flights to 46 U.S. cities and London. Before the strike, the Miami-based carrier serviced about 18,000 passengers daily.

Veto override crowd jams State Capitol

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A huge, boisterous crowd squeezed into the Illinois Capitol Thursday to support Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and others in urging the legislature to approve more money for schools.

Lawmakers were debating whether to override vetoes by Gov. Dan Walker and restore $142 million trimmed from the governor’s 1975 state aid program for elementary and secondary schools.

The chanting, singing crowd of more than 1,000 jammed the hallways of the Capitol and packed the galleries of the House chambers, where the issue was debated, and Senate were gathered in an unusual “committee of the whole” to discuss the school aid question.
Fetal research called explosive issue

By Mary E. Gardner
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Research on the human fetus will help the quality of human life, but fetal research is explosive and controversial," said Wesley W. Parke, professor of anatomy at the University of Medicine.

The topic of fetal research usually divides opinions into three groups: those who are definitely opposed to fetal research; those who are for the research and that group which says the research is all right except for enforced abortion on an artificially terminated fetus.

Parke said. "Even though it is permissible to have an abortion, few fetuses are used for developmental or technical research because research on aborted fetuses is illegal," said Wesley W. Parke.

One fear people might have regarding fetal research is that technology is already beyond the understanding of most people; some have a fear of the unknown. We need responsible inquiry to find out what really is," he said. "I can't see that the first nine months of one's life (pregnancy) must be accepted on faith and that there can be no research," Parke said.

People approach this subject on an entirely emotional basis; it could be paralleled to the way anatomical research was seen in the 1900s, Parke said.

Research in this area will lead to a better understanding of human development, Parke said. It is essential for understanding birth defects, he said.

Parke said. "Although the major health problem, cancer, is intimately related to normal fetal growth, the study of fetal夭折 is essential to understanding what makes cancer tick," Parke said.

The fetus is an excellent cadaver. Not only is it much more economical to ship than the cadaver of an adult human being, but much more can be learned about human development in fetal research on the human fetus, Parke said.

Unless one is associated with a large hospital or medical center, the opportunities for obtaining fetuses are very limited, Parke said.

The fetuses Parke has been using come from Pennsylvania, he said. The Pennsylvania Humanities Gift Registry will ship naturally aborted non-viable fetal material to whoever needs it for research, Parke said. He said if he wants material from Chicago he has to pick it up himself.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) recently redefined its guidelines for fetal research. When HEW requested a study on the matter by the National Commission for the Protection of Human Subjects of Biomedical and Behavioral Research, the commission recommended that non-therapeutic research on a non-viable fetus be forbidden.

HEW opposed the commission and recommended otherwise. To allow only therapeutic research on a non-viable fetus is to say that only research which could benefit that fetus could be done. Parke this year is a non-viable fetus which could not live.

To allow abortions and not allow research on the aborted fetuses seems strange, Parke said. At the time of abortion, the fetus is not a conscious organism, and a non-conscious organism is "pretty much like working on a clam," Parke said.

Parke said he is more concerned with working on laboratory animals, which are conscious, than he is about working on fetuses.

One reason for not allowing research on aborted fetuses is the idea that people might have "abortions for research;" a vision of women becoming pregnant and having abortions to make money, Parke said. But he said he thinks people involved in fetal research are too responsible to let that happen.

Parke said he does not believe abortions should be performed after the first 18 weeks of pregnancy. This is a full 10 weeks before the fetus develops eyes, the potential of a personality and the brain which is capable of functioning on its own, he said.

Researchers are not monsters, Parke said. He said he has never known a researcher to be sadistic.

Parke is the author of "Photographic Atlas of Fetal Anatomy," the only book of fetal anatomy to be illustrated with photographs rather than drawings. The book was published this year by University Park Press in Baltimore.

Photo Society will exhibit, sell prints

The SIU Photo Society will sponsor an exhibition and sale Nov. 2-7 in the Gallery Lounge on the second floor of the Student Center. The deadline for submitting prints is Wednesday.

"This will be an opportune time for students to buy original artwork rather than mass produced articles," said Marshall Colley, chairman of the program committee.

Prints can be submitted Tuesday from 10 a.m. until noon and Wednesday from 10 a.m. until noon and from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. in front of the main photo display case in the Communications Building.

Participation in the exhibition is free to all members of the SIU Photo Society. Non-members must pay $1 for each print entered. The money is used to pay for the rental of the lounge and the exhibit boards, Colley said.

Any type of photographic media, including silk screen and photo sculpture can be exhibited. Only five entries per person will be accepted because of space limitations.

Some of the prints will be exhibited in local banks during November.

Marian convicts proud of escape attempt

MARIAN (AP) -- "We gave it a try and I consider it a damn good one," said one of six men who made a break out of the nation's most-escape-proof prison.

Arthur "Tim" Mankins, 37, of Germany, was among the five inmates who bolted Marion Federal

Brandt says disabled students to blame for own job woes

Disabled students do not apply for campus jobs when they are advertised, says David Brandt, personnel officer at 310th Regiment, Fort Jackson.

And that, Brandt said, is the reason why so many disabled students there employed by the University. It is not because they are disabled, he said.

Brandt said available positions are advertised by the Personnel Office, but since many disabled students do not apply for them. He questioned the validity of employed disabled students at the University, of whom only a small group of disabled students.

"Although we don't have unlimited federal jobs available," Parke said, "I don't see why you are not hired where the positions exist and you have the qualifications."

Wheelchair Action spokesman said that Brandt discriminated against on campus, and had asked that a disabled person be placed in the Affirmative Action Office.

Brandt disagreed with the idea and directed the group to the Personnel Office.

"If the students won't go to where the help is, how can they be helped?" Brandt asked. "If Wheelchair Action is an active group and want a disabled student, why can't they present their case to the Personnel Office now and then to check for open positions?"

Brandt says disabled students are not treated equally in the group, the disabled students, who are not treated in the same way as the nondisabled students.

"We gave it a try and I consider it a damn good one. So what can I say?" --Daily Egyptian, October 24, 1975, Page 3
Most of the controversy surrounding collective bargaining has centered on the effects it will have on the educational process. But one segment of the university community that has not been taken into serious consideration is the students.

Besides trying to insure benefits for the faculty, student representatives include provisions in the negotiations that could affect students directly and indirectly.

First there is the question of academic freedom. In the agreement reached at Middlesex County College in 1966, academic freedom was included in the pact mostly because of contractual guarantees. Something so hard to fight in court than a constitutional right. What would mean to students is undetermined research by the faculty and the freedom to discuss matters of controversy in classrooms without fear of retribution. This would enable a wide range of educational experience to be made available to students.

There is then class size. Negotiations can be secured such that this issue in Oakland University in Michigan established a detailed student-faculty ratio. This would prevent overcrowding of classes and create closer working relationships between students and teachers.

At John Jay College in New York, maximum teaching loads for faculty were established. This eliminated the need for some faculty members to overwork, who in turn would have a more significant role in the teaching process. Since merit pay increases and promotions are becoming slightly ineffectual in their teaching efforts, students could breathe a little easier and concentrate more on the quality of their teaching rather than the content.

Also there is the question of educational policy that affects students directly, such as admission policies and curricula.

At Southern Oregon College, student participation was actively sought, not only by the faculty but also by the students themselves. They saw the legitimate purpose in students being involved, in trying to reach a fair arrangement in university operations.

In an agreement reached with Cook County Junior College, student representatives were also included for student-organized committees to negotiate with departmental representatives on matters of curricula.

Although students need not be consulted when matters such as faculty pay raises or merit promotions are discussed, they should be included in matters concerning educational policies of the University which would have a direct bearing on the students' curricula.

Student participation in college governance should not be limited to the question anymore. The 60's showed that student participation in matters of curricula is needed and can be effective in determining the proper content and quality of the educational process. Maybe the unrest that occurred in 1970 would work better now that students had a more powerful voice in university operations.

There have been too many complaints about the decision-making process, the absence of representation in the making of serious concern to students. With some political clout behind them, student government may step more than an artificial arm of the University.

TV more believable

For years, television vied with newspapers for top credibility, leading in some areas, behind in others. In 1961, Roger Bernard of the University of Iowa, decided that television was considered more believable than newspapers as he explained that they got most of their news from television.

Newspapers have since become the least believable source of news, according to Roger Bernard. The bias exhibited by many newspapers has alienated the public, as Bernard pointed out. He called newspapers not only biased in the selection of news but also in the presentation of news. Even if newspapers are not bound by any such legislation. A lack of credibility on the part of the media, Bernard pointed out, has contributed to decreasing public confidence in the news media.

Television's mobility and immediacy are positive elements of the medium, Bernard concedes. But on-the-scene coverage is far more credible than a coded printout from a wire service machine.

Television's credibility level with the combination of objectivity, action and immediacy. The visual image is the most powerful and believable thing there is.

Eli S. Basset

Opinion & Commentary

EDITORIAL POLICY -- The general policy of the Daily Egyptian is to provide an open forum for discussion of issues and ideas, and to print on its pages statements and opinions of the students only. Unedited editorials represent the opinions of the authors only. A student to become an editor on the editorial page editor, a member elected by the students on staff, the managing editor and an editorial writing class.

LETTERS POLICY -- Letters to the editor are invited and writers may submit them by mail or in person. Director of the Daily Egyptian, Room 1206, Communications Building.

Letters over one paragraph in length or on topics other than those of general interest will not be published. All letters must be signed by the author. Students must identify themselves by college class, major and faculty advisor. Students may not use a pseudonym, and all letters must fit in a page column. All letters submitted by mail should include addresses and telephone numbers for verification of authorship. Letters for which verification cannot be made will not be published.

After two years, there they are. Franklin the candidates for president of the United States.

Docto1s' slice of life: baked alaska and booze

By Diana Cannon

Doctors work hard, even at enjoying themselves. When party time comes they like to let their hair down, in style. The 78th Anniversary Dance of the Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine, held recently at the McCormick Inn in the Windy City, was a high-class case in point.

Open bar started at 6pm., and the Cadillacs and Continentals crowded the hotel entrance early. A decorous crowd of about 300 doctors, doctors' wives and aspiring trainees drifted into the ballroom and got pinned with name tags. Most identities remained hidden however, behind wide lapels, orchids, fur and feathers.

The gregarious group then panned over plush carpeting to take full advantage of free cocktails for two hours before dinner. Pools of chatty people soon formed around the leather-padded bars, dotted conveniently across the floor in every direction. The drinks were smooth and strong.

Osteopaths are recognized by the American Medical Association, but a Doctor of Osteopathy (D.O.) is not a Medical Doctor (M.D.), and many students at the gathering felt compelled to explain why they weren't going for an M.D. degree.

Without fail, the doctors and doctors-to-be talked shop. From the days before penicillin to the cancer vaccines of the future, they discussed the history of the world in terms of medicine.

National affairs showed symptoms of hypochondria, easily remedied by surface solutions. The medical men saw international relations infected with growing gloom, and in need of a drastic operation. They dismissed the current controversy over malpractice insurance as a passing health fad.

My preliminary diagnosis was that doctors are suffering from terminal org-track mindedness.

Excluded, I thought, were those not wearing the in-considerable trade lingo, the wongs who conducted their own dynamic discussion, concerned mostly with the stony silence of their husbands to whom they yielded six weeks of the year. "Somebody has to do it," they reasoned.

Many of the younger doctors I spoke to predicted that their children would someday any day complain that her husband was obsessed with his work. Another wife, dressed in gold-embroidered satin and made-up with glitter, admonished the pregnant lady, "Work comes before love," she said.

"First and foremost, a wife is trained to provide. You have to remember that, as his wife, you're included in that. You have to accept it," she shrugged, draining her bloody mary.

The gala evening was financed by funds earmarked from the medical students' tuition. It was a long-awaited out for these ambitious scholars. Never, they said, they lost no chance to continue their medical education. Every cadet has its own distinguishing features and provides an interesting conversation piece. Those students assigned to emergency room duty told especially engrossing tales.

Prime rib was on the menu when dinner was served, promptly and politely. Most of the troupe carried their drinks to the table and people grew sociable and animated. The middle-aged doctor seated next to me dropped his fork and I retrieved it, the stimulus for an enlightening introduction. "I'm a gynaecologist, honey," he said. "I work where most men play.

The girl on my left, with as an unfolding physcexam plugging her nose, was about to demonstrate vector force by flinging a saucer across the table when her date intervened.

For dessert, the orchestra struck up "Rally Round the Flag" and waiters came running out, carting baked Alaska shoulder-high with a lit sparkler stuck in each mound of meringue. The doctors picked up the tune by pounding knives and forks on the table. The waiters kept running around the room, and everyone was in the mood to give the speaker, Art Linkletter, arousing welcome when he walked up the stage.

The 63-year-old Linkletter, ad-libber extraordinaire, estimated he has talked with some 50,000 people all over the world in his broadcasting career. He expressed his surprise over the treatment he received here in New York, maximum teaching loads for faculty were established. This eliminated the need for some faculty members to overwork, who in turn would have a more significant role in the teaching process. Since merit pay increases and promotions are becoming slightly ineffectual in their teaching efforts, students could breathe a little easier and concentrate more on the quality of their teaching rather than the content.

There is then class size. Negotiations can be secured such that this issue in Oakland University in Michigan established a detailed student-faculty ratio. This would prevent overcrowding of classes and create closer working relationships between students and teachers.

At John Jay College in New York, maximum teaching loads for faculty were established. This eliminated the need for some faculty members to overwork, who in turn would have a more significant role in the teaching process. Since merit pay increases and promotions are becoming slightly ineffectual in their teaching efforts, students could breathe a little easier and concentrate more on the quality of their teaching rather than the content.

Also there is the question of educational policy that affects students directly, such as admission policies and curricula.

At Southern Oregon College, student participation was actively sought, not only by the faculty but also by the students themselves. They saw the legitimate purpose in students being involved, in trying to reach a fair arrangement in university operations.

In an agreement reached with Cook County Junior College, student representatives were also included for student-organized committees to negotiate with departmental representatives on matters of curricula.

Although students need not be consulted when matters such as faculty pay raises or merit promotions are discussed, they should be included in matters concerning educational policies of the University which would have a direct bearing on the students' curricula.

Student participation in college governance should not be limited to the question anymore. The 60's showed that student participation in matters of curricula is needed and can be effective in determining the proper content and quality of the educational process. Maybe the unrest that occurred in 1970 would work better now that students had a more powerful voice in university operations.

There have been too many complaints about the decision-making process, the absence of representation in the making of serious concern to students. With some political clout behind them, student government may step more than an artificial arm of the University.

TV more believable

For years, television vied with newspapers for top credibility, leading in some areas, behind in others. In 1961, Roger Bernard of the University of Iowa, decided that television was considered more believable than newspapers as he explained that they got most of their news from television.

Newspapers have since become the least believable source of news, according to Roger Bernard. The bias exhibited by many newspapers has alienated the public, as Bernard pointed out. He called newspapers not only biased in the selection of news but also in the presentation of news. Even if newspapers are not bound by any such legislation. A lack of credibility on the part of the media, Bernard pointed out, has contributed to decreasing public confidence in the news media.

Television's mobility and immediacy are positive elements of the medium, Bernard concedes. But on-the-scene coverage is far more credible than a coded printout from a wire service machine.

Television's credibility level with the combination of objectivity, action and immediacy. The visual image is the most powerful and believable thing there is.
Campaign financing law assures fairness

By Mary Heeren
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

With a major election year approaching in 1976, the new law limiting candidate spending and government financing will be debated across the country. This law will alter the way elections and campaigns have been run, making 1976 the voter's year rather than the big organization's year.

pro

This law, which limits individual contributions to $1,000 and organizations to $5,000 per primary, runoff, or general election, will put all candidates on equal footing with contributions.

No longer will candidates be seduced by offers of campaign funds from unions, businesses, or private individuals, but must seek out the smaller contributions from voters who decide who runs, and ultimately, who wins. Give the vote to the people, not big business. One investigation discovered that a teacher's organization had given over $800,000 in campaign dollars; maritime unions were found to have given over $3.3 million to finance campaigns for congressmen who supported a bill with an embargo on American tankers to carry imported oil. What Congressmen can ignore an offer such as that?

Limitations on the amount a candidate can spend in any given state will also alter the elections, putting a premium on planning and accounting. Because a candidate must make a financial report to the Federal Election Commission frequently, the public may finally know where campaign dollars are being spent. This may prevent a second Watergate, which used campaign funds. Also included under this new law is the limit a candidate can spend out of his own pocket. A presidential candidate can spend $50,000; a Senate contender, $25,000; and a House candidate, $25,000. This limitation offers a better financial and psychological balance to the race. The candidate will know he is not backing huge private or family fortunes.

In a move for more individual voter participation, the law is allowing the government to finance part of the presidential campaigns and political conventions. Voters, when filing the Internal Revenue 1040 form may check off to donate one of their tax dollars to campaigns, alleviating part of the financial burden on candidates. With the government footing part of the bill, more candidates may be financially able to run for top office, taking this privilege away from the very rich.

Because a candidate must get his funds from more people, the fund drives will start early. Although this may be a dark horse who decides to run at the last minute, it will give the voters time to understand a candidate's stand on major issues and to decide more objectively at the polls.

The most overwhelming idea behind this law is 'that it will reduce the influence of wealthy private individuals and huge unions and businesses in the political scene. It is the time the rich were out of the democratic system, which says every man is equal, rich or poor. Politicians should go back to the hands of the people, not the conglomerates or power teams. Many who have the money to buy candidates by supporting their campaign, and then to curry favors for their individual concerns. This new law may be the beginning of public interest-oriented politics, and the end of the private interest in the government.

Campaign law limits participation

By Dana Henderson
Student Writer

Stated to be decided by the Supreme Court in the next month or so is the constitutionality of the controversial 1974 campaign-finance law. Because of the perceived need to do something to prevent another Watergate, Congress has passed a measure that the Supreme Court should not hesitate in striking down. Instead of coming up with solutions that would make another Watergate impossible, the law succeeds in limiting the individuals right to participate in the political process, gives the election advantage to congressional incumbents, and effectively suppresses minority parties.

The typical voter in this country has only two major parties to choose from and has no control over the candidates or the campaigns. To deny or limit their right to give the large contributions, is to prevent a minority from being heard-his vote and his financial capabilities. What it means is that public funds, and a like amount in general elections, making it nearly impossible for a challenger to overcome the pre-campaign advantage of the incumbent. A study by Common Cause says that challengers in Congressional races have typically needed an unexpected amount of money to carry the votes and defeat the incumbent. In a move for more individual voter participation, the law sets the limit House candidates by not spending them by 10 to 15 percent. Similar statistics as the federal one have been struck down in Washington and Oregon because of the vast advantage they gave the incumbents.

The new law works against minority parties in at least two different ways. First, it requires these parties to get at least five percent of the vote to finance their candidates. This requires these parties to get at least five percent of the vote to finance their candidates. This requires these parties to get at least five percent of the vote in order to qualify for federal campaign-funding assistance which is automatically given to the two major parties. To receive funding proportionate to what the major parties receive, they would have to draw 25 percent of the vote. Secondly, by limiting large contributions to incumbents, new candidates with a small affluent base of support are shut out of the political arena.

Unlike the new law, a candidate is forced to look to thousands of small contributors for money. This money means the use of the direct-mail operation, which is far the most wasteful means of obtaining money. Alabama Governor George Wallace, whose direct-mail operation was budgeted over $75 million dollars for president, spent $75 cents to raise a dollar.

The direct-mail method is not only wasteful but takes months to set up effectively enough to make any type of direct-mail operation effective. This act is still another barrier to possible candidates because of the extended amount of time it requires. The new law also requires that any candidate who wishes to run for president must meet the amount of $2.257 million in donations to prove that he is a viable candidate in order to run for president.

Bookkeeping even becomes a major problem under the new law. Candidates are required to file so many reports on receipts and expenses that accounting firms usually want to run a campaign in order to raise enough money.

Congress has already included a provision in the new law that public financing of candidates should not be enacted.

Environmental alternatives probed

To the Daily Egyptian:

I am writing to inform those concerned about a student organization oriented to help improve and better our environment. At the Student Environmental Center we have many activities that are designed to maintain our present life. Our environment includes that area of land, air and water in which we live. As a human being and a man living on this planet we call earth, there are certain standards that are required for us to maintain our present life. When the environment is tampered with bynoxious fumes and smoke in the air which we all breathe, insoluble poisons in the water we all drink and the land being ripped away it's beauty (all these the results of our modern technological society), we ask ourselves, why? Why is there needless waste of minerals, destruction and turmoil of our home?

Together here at the Student Environmental Center we will talk of alternatives and new ways, or convert to the old ways. We're concerned with alternative lifestyles and energy sources. I extend an invitation to those concerned to come and express your feelings. Visit us at the center on the third floor of the student union in the activities offices.

Roger Freiburg
Junior Environmental Ag.

Blind vandalism

To the Daily Egyptian:

What is it like to be permanently blind? I don't know because I've never been in that position. But I don't have to be in order to know that certain frustrations which many of us rarely experience are encountered daily by the blind.

So why do some people intentionally make life more difficult for them by mutilating the braille labels on the vending machines in the Student Center? To those individuals I pose the question, "How would you react if, upon returning to your room one night, you found your light switch damaged beyond use?"

In my estimation, not visual disability, but emotional insensitivity is a worse form of blindness.

Lon- Raider
Administration of Justice
"An incredibly literate, astute, lovely-to-look-at, charming and chilling movie that is guaranteed to open both your eyes and mouth in shocked disbelief. I want to warn that this film isn't for the faint-hearted, nor those given to blushing. A sparkler you won't forget for a long time."
-Liz Smith, Sumptuous Spectacle

"The perceptive eye that first brought Brigitte Bardot to screen fame, whose first three marriages were Bardot to Stroyberg to Fonda, has lost none of its skill. Roger Vadim has found Sirpa Lane, and she is really something to contemplate, whether dressed or undressed, close-up or from afar."
-Edward Wagenek, N.Y. Post

"Twisted mixture of sex and death, dramatized with the freedom of explicit contemporary cinema. Vadim does know how to take a good-looking film and he has in Sirpa Lane an appealing Charlotte."
-William Foul Con

"Strangely violent, shamelessly erotic, and marvelously dispassionate. 'Charlotte' is a mixture of civilized cool and savage heat that results in a heady and disturbing film. 'Charlotte' is a stylish and elegant film about the games stylish and elegant people play."
-Norma McLean Stoga, Los Angeles

"Roger Vadim kicked off the sexual liberation in the cinema... and now he's made 'Charlotte'. Three specific incidents, the reason for the film's X rating, will be talked about in serious film circles, certainly."
-Bob Samagg, M.A.A. Radio

Every act of love can be repeated except one

Weekdays
7:10 9:00

SUNDAY
3:30 5:20 7:10 9:00

SUNDAY LATE SHOW
11:00 P.M. All seats $1.25

"A FRANTIC FUNNY COMEDY... one is indeed made weak with laughter."
-L.A. HERALD EXAMINER

"VERY FUNNY... lush and lavish."
-JOHN VAST

"CLASSY FARCE... a literate script with superb actors."
-CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

"WHAT A PLEASURE TO LAUGH... The acting to a man is wildly funny!"
-CHICAGO TRIBUNE

FRI. AFTERNOON
ALL SEATS $1.25
2:00 P.M. ONLY

SUN. AFTERNOON
ALL SEATS $1.25
2:00 P.M. ONLY

"The beauty of love, the joy of freedom. It's the best-selling book."
-Neil Diamond

"The life of the mind... the hardest film I have seen."
-Richard Bach

SUNDAY LATE SHOW
11:00 P.M. All seats $1.50

"The Lion in Winter" is about love and hate between a man and a woman and their sons. It's also about politics, vengeance, greed and ambition. In other words it's about life.

FRI-SAT LATE SHOW
11:00 P.M. All seats $1.50

"A BRILLIANT FILM. NOT TO BE MISSED!"
-KINGDOM"
Local Women's Center equal to those in northeast: feminist

By Mary L. Heeren
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Carbondale Women’s Center compares favorably to other centers and women’s organizations across the northeast section of the United States, according to Noel Kumins, a Carbondale feminist who just returned from a conference on feminism in Vermont.

Kumins said the more centers she visited, the more she was impressed with Carbondale. “The feminist community in Carbondale is a very tight community and has the potential to become even tighter. It could accomplish fantastic things.” She defines “tight” as “working together as sisters.”

She did notice, traveling through Ohio, New York, Vermont, Connecticut, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts for three months, that the Carbondale center is the only center she found with overnight shelter for women. Other centers have sites on places where women could stay, she said.

Most of the other centers in areas she visited were working on one of two things. The smaller cities were focusing on gynecological self-help clinics, consciousness raising groups, self-defense and rape. The larger cities were focusing on surveillance of women’s organizations by intelligence agencies, grand juries calling for women to reveal their life history and the harassment of women’s organizations.

Kumins said although the focus by the smaller cities is very important, she is concerned with the larger cities. “These things are very important, but I think it is time to move on to other things. The self-help clinics, groups and meetings are more community-oriented and there is a stronger political emphasis.”

The large cities she visited, Boston, Woodstock, Cleveland, and Philadelphia, all had active women’s organizations and a revised movement. She attended a feminist movement school in Sargent, “run for and by feminists” in Vermont for women across the country.

Discussed at the five-week school was socialism and feminism, factionalism within the movement, the structure of the movement, politics and economics.

Kumins said the second session of school was split into two factions. One faction, about 30 to 30 students and four faculty members, said the school was a hierarchy and not pure democracy. The second faction felt the school had to be set up as a hierarchy.

A second factor in the split, Kumins said, was economics. Sargent was originally funded by a $10,000 grant from Ms. magazine. Later the school ran low on funds and the magazine offered an additional grant of $5,000. Also published at this time was an article stating that Gloria Steinem, one of the editors of Ms., was working with intelligence agencies against the movement.

The smaller faction, the Aug. 7 Survival Community, purported that by taking additional money from the magazine would be wrong, “that it would be dirty money.”

Kumins said, “I’m not sure how accurate the article was. But I do think that many women have become more and more radical—by the smaller cities is very important, but I think it is time to move on to other things. The self-help clinics, groups and meetings are more community-oriented and there is a stronger political emphasis.”

The large cities she visited, Boston, Woodstock, Cleveland, and Philadelphia, all had active women’s organizations and a revised movement. She attended a feminist movement school in Sargent, “run for and by feminists” in Vermont for women across the country.

Discussed at the five-week school was socialism and feminism, factionalism within the movement, the structure of the movement, politics and economics.

Kumins said the second session of school was split into two factions. One faction, about 30 to 30 students and four faculty members, said the school was a hierarchy and not pure democracy. The second faction felt the school had to be set up as a hierarchy.

A second factor in the split, Kumins said, was economics. Sargent was originally funded by a $10,000 grant from Ms. magazine. Later the school ran low on funds and the magazine offered an additional grant of $5,000. Also published at this time was an article stating that Gloria Steinem, one of the editors of Ms., was working with intelligence agencies against the movement.

The smaller faction, the Aug. 7 Survival Community, purported that by taking additional money from the magazine would be wrong, “that it would be dirty money.”

Kumins said, “I’m not sure how accurate the article was. But I do think that many women have become more and more radical—by the smaller cities is very important, but I think it is time to move on to other things. The self-help clinics, groups and meetings are more community-oriented and there is a stronger political emphasis.”
Several news act will be featured when the Arena presents four performances of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus Tuesday and Wednesday. One new act, the Samel mixed animal act, features the only performing Polar Bear in America. The circus is in its 104th year.

Greatest show in 104-year circus history coming to town

By Cathy Tokarski
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

America's spectacular Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus will present the biggest show in its 104-year history beginning Tuesday at the Arena in the first of four performances.

Five new performance spectacles representing an investment of more than $1 million in costumes and special effects, will be featured in the "Greatest Show on Earth." The premiere production number is "A Circus Rainbow," in which the entire company of over 200 animals and 128 performers leads 52 children chosen from the audience on a circus odyssey.

Other featured presentations include the first circus act ever presented in the U.S. from the German Democratic Republic, led by Ertard and Christiane Samuel. Their display brings together two Himalayan bears, two lions, a leopards, a polar bear, a black panther, two tigers and a puma sharing a single cage. This is the first time a mixed animal act of these dimensions has been presented by the circus in 30 years.

Also making an American debut is Motu, the "Smallest Man in the World." Motu stands a full 23 inches tall, seven inches shorter than P.T. Barnum's General Tom Thumb. Motu is featured in "A Circus Rainbow," as he circles the track in a specially designed pony-drawn carriage.

Returning to the circus is tiger trainer Charly Baumann, who presents the largest group of performing tigers in the world. Both Siberian and Royal Bengal tigers are used in his performance. Some highlights of Baumann's act include two tigers, pummeling simultaneously through tire hoops and a mass coloring of all 12 tigers.

Also featured in the "Greatest Show on Earth" are the Flying Gausas billed as the "First Family of the Flying Trapeze," their act featuring a triple-somersault by Tito Gausa, a deed to be the finest flying trapeze artist in the world. The Gausas were winners at the Circus has Oscar, awarded in Madrid, Spain in December 1972.

The first all-black circus act in history, the King Charles troop, will demonstrate their unicycle act in a fast action basketball game. The group has been featured on many national TV shows and in nationwide publications.

Other performers in the "Greatest Show on Earth" include Axel Gautier, the elephant trainer. From one of Europe's oldest circus families, Gautier has a world-wide reputation for his elephant expertise. Gautier will direct the elephants in the production, Barnum & Bailey's Circus Ma Troupe.

Also from Europe are the Metchakoffs, a trio of two men and a woman who are one of America's most accomplished equilibristic troupes. Their horizontal bar act is concluded by the rarely seen double backward somersault to the bar, performed by Lalinka Metchakoffs.

The "Greatest Show on Earth" is produced by Irvin Feld and son Kenneth. It is staged and directed by Richard Barnow.

Tickets for the show are $3.50, $4.50 and $5.50. There is a $1.00 discount for children 12 years and under and SIU students for the matinee performances only.

The show will open Tuesday, with the first performance at 3:30 p.m. Other performance times are Tuesday at 8 p.m., Wednesday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.
We've heard of word-of-mouth, but this is ridiculous.

"HAROLD AND MAUDE", a nice little movie comedy that arrived without much fanfare, played for over two years in Minneapolis.

What accounts for such a phenomenal success is hard to say. "HAROLD AND MAUDE" received good reviews, true, but it started slowly. And began to build. And build. And build. One person told another person and now "HAROLD AND MAUDE" has become a cult movie. One fan in Minneapolis has seen it 138 times. He is a "HAROLD AND MAUDE" freak, as are many people in Minneapolis and Detroit and Atlanta, wherever they see this funny, tender movie about two people who love life and death equally.

Like "Billy Jack" and "Walking Tall", which were also discovered in the Midwest and became two of the biggest cult movies ever, "HAROLD AND MAUDE" is a movie that seems to mean something to all kinds of people, from college kids to over thirties to anybody.

Now it has come to Carbondale, and you can join the rest of the country in the love affair they're carrying on with two very unusual and wonderful people, "HAROLD AND MAUDE".
Daughter would not request to be kept alive, mother says

By Henry Gottle
Associated Press Writer
MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) —

"Mommy, don't keep me alive,"

That's what Karen Anne Quinlan would say if she could speak, her adoptive mother testified Wednesday at the trial that will decide the fate of the 23-year-old coed who has been in a coma since April.

"When I see her in this condition, I know in my heart as her mother this is not the way she would want to be," Julia Quinlan said in testifying Wednesday about supporting her family's wish that Miss Quinlan be kept alive. "She said herself she did not want to be kept alive." Mrs. Quinlan testified that Miss Quinlan lies emaciated and paralyzed on a hospital bed with hands and feet drawn up in a fetal position.

Mrs. Quinlan testified that in February she and her daughter discussed the death of a family friend who chose to die at home rather than in a hospital.

The daughter said, "Mommy, please don't keep me alive with any extraordinary means or in any way I could not live life to the fullest," the slender red-haired Mrs. Quinlan testified.

During a conversation several years ago and one in January, 1972.

WSIU-TV&FM

The following programs are scheduled on WSIU-TV & FM.

3:30 p.m. Woman. 4 p.m. - Sesame Street. 5:30 p.m. - The Evening Report. 5:30 p.m. - Masterpiece Theater. 6 p.m. - The Electric Company. 6:30 p.m. - Book Beat. 7 p.m. - Washington Week in Review. 7:30 p.m. - Wall Street Week. 8 p.m. - Black Perspective on the News. 8:30 p.m. - The Art of Nature. 9 p.m. - SIT Report. 9:30 p.m. - Vivent. 10 p.m. - Masterpiece. "Stand In"

The following programs are scheduled on WIBB-FM & WMQL.

6:30 p.m. Take a Moon Break. 11 a.m. - 11:30 p.m. - WIBB Expanded News. 1 p.m. - Afternoon Concert. 4 p.m. - All Things Considered. 5:30 p.m. - Music in the Air. 6:30 p.m. - WIBB Expanded News. 7 p.m. - The Daily Record Collector. 7:30 p.m. - Jazz Unlimited. 8 p.m. - Vinyl Jazz. 8 p.m. - The Listening Room. 9 p.m. - 10 p.m. - WIBB Expanded News. 11 p.m. - Nightwatch. 2 a.m. - Nightwatch

COUPON

$200 OFF ON ANY SHIRT

JUST SHIRTS

HOURS 401 S. 1-2:30 LINDS

Miss Quinlan also expressed distaste for procedures that kept dying people lingering in pain. Her mother said the statements were prompted by illnesses suffered by friends and relatives, some of whom had cancer.

"She said herself she did not want to be kept alive," Mrs. Quinlan testified. Miss Quinlan's sister, Mary Ellen, testified that she, too, heard Karen express such sentiments.

Mrs. Quinlan and her husband, Joseph, a supervisor in a pharmaceutical firm, have asked a Superior Court Judge to name them guardians of their daughter and allow them to turn off her respirator. Doctors have described her condition as "vegetative" and have said she has no hope of recovering as a normal human being.

Attorneys for the St. Clare's Hospital in Denville, the state and Miss Quinlan's doctors objected to the testimony, arguing that it would set a dangerous precedent to allow a person to die based on statements they made before they became ill. "I can't believe that a person can do away with his own life with a statement," said David Baime, deputy attorney general. Although he felt the statements were immaterial to the case, Daniel Coleman, Miss Quinlan's temporary court-appointed guardian, said, "I want to hear it because this is probably the only time in this case we're going to hear what Karen has to say.

Earlier Wednesday, two Catholic priests testified they advised the Quinlan family that turning off the respirator would be morally in keeping with Church doctrine.

The Quinlans have argued that their constitutional right to exercise their religion allows them to turn off the respirator. The legal decision is based on a moral belief.

The Quinlans' attorneys asserted that the belief does not allow them to engage in a practice that is against the law.

Miss Quinlan was taken to the hospital April 15 suffering symptoms of brain damage. The cause of her illness has not been determined, but the doctors who first treated her said they suspected she had used tranquilizers and alcohol together.

PEPPERMINT LOUNGE
The World Famous Peppermint Lounge welcomes everybody to Carbondale on this Homecoming weekend.

We'll be open until 6 a.m. this weekend for your entertainment needs. Come down and dance with the oldies-but-goodies, the famous go-go girls, and much, much more.

Visit us this weekend and bump your brains out!
Twirling Corps to perform with fire

By Jan Wallace Student Writer

The Saluki Twirling Corps will perform a half-time show at Saturday's Homecoming football game when they use fire batons.

Fire has never been allowed before for fear it would ignite McAndrew Stadium's astroturf, said Kathy Shapko, leader of the five-member group.

"We got permission to use fire this year because we'll be twirling on the track," she explained. "It was Mike Hanse's director of the Marching Salukis idea. He asked if everyone could twirl with fire and we said yes. He also thought up the idea of twirling with two batons instead of one.

The girls will be wearing new outfits this weekend. They're made like a tuxedo, complete with ruffles and bow tie," Shapko said.

All the twirlers, in addition to Mike Hanse, contribute ideas for half-time routines, she said.

Usually it takes a day to put it all together, then, if we have a game that weekend, we have three days to learn it and perfect it," she said. "The hardest thing is the lack of time.

The other members of the corps are Nancy Shapko, Kelly Galemer, Laurel Faiol and Gail Roab. All the girls began twirling at an early age and have competed statewide and nationally.

The twirlers claim they don't get nervous performing at SIU half-time shows. "It's really fun, so we don't get too nervous," Shapko said. "The only time we do get nervous is in St. Louis when we perform at basketball games."

The Marching Salukis perform every year at a professional football game at Busch Stadium in St. Louis. Songs help give a better routine and "that's where we give a lot of credit to the band," Shapko said. "If it wasn't for them, we wouldn't be anything at all. They are really good and it's fun being a part of the group.

Nancy Shapko voiced the only problem in being a twirler and not a playing member of the band "Sometimes we feel isolated from the rest of the band," she said. "We don't get to know people too well because we never have time to talk to them."

Her sister, Kathy, agreed. "You don't get to know names," she said. "People may get the wrong impression of us, thinking we're not friendly. We'd really like to know the band members better but it's hard because we practice separately. We even sit separately at the games. You do get a feeling of isolation.

Goldsmith's
Veteran's Week Special

You Can Save Big on an Impressive Section of Sports Coats
Save to $75.00

Buy One Sport Coat and Select Absolutely FREE

• Another Sport Coat of Equal Value
• Slacks of Your Choice

Share the Cost
Bring A Friend
And Save
Only In Herrin
101 N. Park
942-3793
Open Mon. nights 'til 8:30

First prize photo

Charles Swendland, associate professor of photographic study at SIU, photographed several young boys in a garage to win first prize in the Portrait of America National Photographic Competition. The picture will tour the U.S. with the Smithsonian Travelling Exhibition Service.

AUTUMN SONGS!

Hot sounds for these cool nights are yours at great savings! Come in today.

6.98 List
ALBUMS
397
EACH

7.98 List
8 TRACK
497
EACH

Allman Bros.—Win, Lose or Draw
Capricorn Records

Pink Floyd—Wish You Were Here
Columbia Records

Rod Stewart—Atlantic Crossing
Warner Bros. Records

Daily Egyptian, October 24, 1975, Page 11
Pompon girls part of activities at Homecoming football game

By Jan Wallace

Possibly the biggest extravaganzas of SIU's Homecoming weekend will be the halftime show at the Saluki-Wichita State game Saturday. The show will include everything from gymnastics to clowns. Another group that will be performing is the SIU pompon girls, who normally appear only at basketball games. This is the second football appearance for the 13-member group this year, according to Sue Jones and Lynda Schaeffer, co-captains. Other team members are Sue Andrews, Sue Haverkamp, Lynda Stacks, Dolly Lindbeck, Diane Davison, Barbara Holzem, Donna Wilson, Jan LaPlana, Jan Kasper, Karen Shoulsworth and Julie Trudell.

"We will be performing three times at football games this year," Jones said. "Our third performance is set for the last home game."

Alumni reception will follow game

SIU alumni, faculty and their guests will be hosted at a special reception following the homecoming football game Saturday. Students will also be welcome at the informal event, which will be held in the Student Center Ballroom B.

"We want to create an atmosphere for conversation," said Karen Gauthier, editor of alumni publications. The Alumni Association will sponsor the reception.

Other alumni activities Saturday will include registration from 9 a.m. until game time. There will be a table on the first floor of the Student Center where alumni can both register and check to see who else has registered.

The Jackson County Alumni Association will sponsor a campus tour Saturday morning during the same time period.

Stanley H. Kaplan
Educational Center is now accepting registration for review courses for the following tests:

SAT
GRE

To begin November 1 in Carbondale

Those interested please call SHKEC immediately 314-546-1122 or collect

Stanley H. Kaplan
750 Delmar
St. Louis, Mo. 63105

Pompon girls are stepping high in preparation for the kickoff in Saturday's Homecoming football game against Wichita State. (Photo by Darryl Littlefield)

If You've Met Your Match

3x 5-inch diamonds on brushed bands
Reg $130 ex. Nov 105 ea.

50 Day Money Back Guarantee

DREIFUS

University Mall in Carbondale

BOOBY'S
SUBMARINE SANDWICHES
join the sub-culture at 406 south illinois delivery: 549-3366

If You've Met Your Match

Das Fass Has The Finest
In Food And Entertainment!
Celebrate Homecoming with the best in bands and meals this weekend!

Friday in the

★ Beer Garden BUCKEYE JUNCTION (9:30-1:30)
★ Stube
★ Keller

Saturday in the

★ Beer Garden NEW LIFE (9:30-1:30)
★ Stube SHEISS HAUS FIVE (9:30-1:30)
★ Keller BECKON (9:30-1:30)

Das Fass will be open until 6 a.m. this weekend for breakfast and drinks. The bar will be open as well as the kitchen. Also try our Soup Kitchen and Family Style dinners Sunday—featuring the Sheiss Haus Five in concert.
Workshop to offer insight on realization of death

The Southern Illinois Health Manpower Consortium (SIHMC) will sponsor a workshop entitled "Living to Die," from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday, in Ballroom A of the Student Center.

Andrew H. Marcce, project director of SIHMC said that the workshop is aimed at clergy and practicing health professionals who must deal with the needs of terminally ill patients and their families.

He said the workshop is designed to provide insight into what it is like to be dying, how the reality of impending death changes one's outlook on life and what effect death has on one's family and friends.

Orville Kelly, cancer victim and author of the book, "Make the Day Count," will speak on "A Cancer Patient Looks at Life and Death." Marcce said that Carol G. Treschaker, director of Life and Death Through Education, Inc., of St. Louis, will speak on "What is Death?"

Examples of big imperialism:
1. "Our purpose will not be to determine right or wrong," Caballero said. "We just want the opportunity to hear the other side of the question and to make our own decisions on the matter."
2. Caballero said that the American press is often one-sided in its presentation of the canal question and that Tack's visit should clear up some of the misunderstandings that exist between Panama and the U.S.
3. Tack did not ask for any fee to speak at SIU, Caballero said, but the ISC will be responsible for his expenses in and from SIU.

The ISC suffered a 40 per cent budget cut this year, from $8,000 to $3,000, he said, which might force the organization to ask Graduate Student Council for additional funds.

Shop of the Week

NOW ONLY $6.00

Blouses, Jeans, Tops
(Selected group)
Also
20% off on long dresses

Kay's
608 S. Illi.
Open Mon. "til 8:30
SIU to discuss mentally ill offenders.

The Sixth Annual Institute on Law, Psychiatry and the Mentally Disordered Offender will be held Nov. 11 through 13 at SIU, said Jeanne Bert of SIU's Division of Continuing Education.

Professionals in the mental health field from all over the United States are expected to attend the working designed mainly for doctors, psychologists, judges, attorneys, law enforcement officials, social workers, nurses, prison officials and others concerned with the mentally disordered offender. Bert said.

Bert said that topics of discussion will include "Victim Compensation," "The Repetitively Violent Offender," and "Psychopharmacology.

The institute is sponsored by the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities, Chester Mental Health Center and the Madison Correctional Center psychiatric division in cooperation with the SIU division of continuing education. Bert said.

Actors find lead in 'Teeth' unique

By Dave Hen Student Writer

For Mike Heck, graduate student in theater, the leading role of George Antonbus in the Southern Players' upcoming production, "The Skin of Our Teeth," will be a totally new experience.

"I've never had a part like Antonbus before," said Heck, who has had many major roles throughout his college career. "I've played roles from Macbeth to Conrad Birdie (in 'Bye, Bye Birdie'), but Antonbus is a character that is constantly changing from one act to another."

The show will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights in the University Theatre. It will also run at the same times October 31 and November 1.

"The Skin of Our Teeth," written by Thornton Wilder, is about the troubles of the human race from creation to present. According to Heck, Antonbus represents everything that is good and bad in the human race since its creation.

"In the first act, Antonbus is the original man, the inventor of the wheel and the first to use the alphabet," said Heck. "Antonbus becomes a politician in the second act, your typical back-stopper and hand-shaker."

"Of course he succumbs to the temptation of flesh, and becomes a brewer of beer," said Heck, pointing out some of Antonbus's bad habits. "At the end of the third act Antonbus is a soldier returning from war, and at the end of the play he is an equivalent of Noah, saving the people from destruction."

The over-all message that the Play from the past presents, Heck says, is that despite the difficulties of life, man will bounce back and try harder.

SilverBall Corporation Presents the 4th Annual PINBALL Wizard's Tournament

$200.00 cash 1st prize

$50.00 cash 2nd prize

$25.00 cash 3rd prize

4th thru 10th place Merchandise Awards.

Special Award For Top Score On Each Machine

Open competition Fri & Sat., Nov. 14th & 15th

Finals are Sunday, Nov. 16th

For more details and info at

The New

611 S. Ill. CARBONDALE 549-9394

HOMECOMING '75

Thursday, October 23, 1975

Movie - Marx Brothers at the CIRCUS FREE Student Center Auditorium 7:00 p.m. Student Center Ballroom B 7:00-9:00 p.m.

Two Penny Circus Children's Show Student Center Ballroom D 7:00-9:00 p.m.

Zany Circus Acts Screening Ballroom D 7:00-8:00 p.m.

Two Penny Circus Show Ballroom D 9:00-10:00 p.m.

Friday, October 24, 1975

Two Penny Circus Workshop "CLOWN IMPROVIZATION Ballroom C 10:00-12:00 noon"

SIGAL Playboy Club Dir Robert Kinsberry Student Center South 11:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Two Penny Circus Workshop: "DRINK YOUR PERSONAL CLOWN Ballroom C 1:00-3:00 p.m.

Two Penny Circus Workshop "MAKEUP" Ballroom C 3:30-5:30 p.m.

Black Affairs Council "Fashion Show" Student Center Auditorium 7:00-9:00 p.m.

Dance "A Full Moon Consoritum" Ballroom D 8:00 p.m.-1:00 a.m.

Folk Guitarist Shawn Colvin Big Muddy Room 8:00-10:30 p.m.

NOTE: Workshops are limited to first 40 students to sign up--must be aged over 15. Free--no money.

Movie "And Now For Something Completely Different" featuring Monty Python's Flying Circus Ballroom C 7:00-9:00 p.m.

Student Activities Council would like to thank Lectures Committee of SGAC for their assistance in making this a better Homecoming.

For more information contact Bob Saleg or Brett Champion in the Student Activities Office, Student Center, 453-6714.
Minister advocates execution of murderers on television

HOFFMAN ESTATES, III. (AP)—A 41-year-old minister concerned about the increasing crime rate in the Chicago area is recommending public executions of convicted murderers on prime-time television.

"Nothing much else has helped stop crime and I think public executions of convicted killers would be a useful 'shock method," says the Rev Paul B. Tinlin, pastor of the Evangel Atmospheric Church.

The Toronto-born minister, ordained in 1961, said: "I'm no religious quack but people need to be shocked and achieved like they were by the assassinations of the Kennedys, which were shown and re-shown on television.

Testimony from 300000 people, he said, could lead to a constitutional amendment that would permit the execution of murderers.

"And TV will give the minister's daughter the exposure he needs," he said.

He said he had a long talk with his 12-year-old daughter about executions on TV. "I told her that if I probably would get sick when I saw it because it would be gruesome. But murder also is gruesome and society has to start taking it seriously.

"I think it's time for God's hardest law to be followed. From the Book of Genesis, I quoted: 'Who shed the blood of man, by man shall his blood be shed.'"

Repairs force Illinois Senate out of chambers

SPRINGFIELD, III. (AP)—Displaced by extensive remodeling of its chambers, the Illinois Senate will conduct its business for the next several months in makeshift quarters next door to the Capitol.

"It will be plush and may occasionally be downright in comfort," said Kenneth Wright, secretary of the Senate, as he made final arrangements for the first day of the fall veto session.

"But the business of the Senate will go on just as usual," said Kenneth Wright, secretary of the Senate, as he made final arrangements for the first day of the fall veto session.

"But who would dare challenge the Constitution?"

Until about April 1, the Senate will meet in a deskless auditorium in the Centennial Building, a state office building in the Capitol complex.

Each senator will have two chairs—two to sit on and one on which to pile the bills, papers, telegrams, newspapers and other paraphernalia that senators carry with them.

And the Senate will also be composed of the officers for Senate President Cecil A. Partee, D-Chicago, and Minority Leader William C. Harris, R-Pontiac. Each is sparsely equipped with a table, phone and sink and blocked off from the outside by doors marked Men's Toilet and Women's Toilet.

Although relatively few record votes will be taken during the Senate's fall veto session, each will take longer. Without an electronic voting board, on and off calls of the 56 members will be taken.

"We can't seat all 56 senators in the auditorium who have been set aside for visitors.

When senators return to their chambers next spring, they'll find it completely refurbished from floor to ceiling.

The visitors and press galleries will be redecorated and new desks will be installed. The entire project is estimated to cost $1 million.

A refurbishing project for the House chambers was completed last year. During the construction period, the 177-member lower chamber also held sessions in the Centennial auditorium.

Israel this Winter

Dec. 21—Jan. 14

$650 All Inclusive

• Round trip with stay in Israel
• Room, board, tour led by Rabbi Vinecourt
• Guaranteed departure of SIU students
• Climb Mt. Sinai
• Swim in Dead Sea
• Walk in Jerusalem

Info: Hillel 657-7795

University Bookstore ph. 536-3321

Christmas In October

Order now to receive your SIU college Ring by Christmas. You can save on gold rings so don't be late! While you're at the Bookstore register for the drawing. Two calculators are to be given away!
Rigging of Arena includes 14 miles of ropes, cables

More than 14 miles of ropes, wires and cables will be used to rig the Arena for "The Greatest Show on Earth." The rigging procedure has been tentatively scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. Tuesday, said Joel Preston, publicity manager for Arena events.

Equipment for the three-ring circus will be brought into the Arena from the circus train in specially built wagons. The rigging is used to support trapezes, aerial apparatus, animal cages, rope ladders and a massive frame that holds equipment for an aerial ballet.

Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus has a crew of over 300 workers to hang and tear down the show. They can complete the rigging in several hours.

Workmen climb every unit to check it for safety. This procedure is repeated before every performance to protect the performers, and insure the show will run smoothly.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.

State park slates weekend activities

The following activities are scheduled this weekend at Giant City State Park.

Friday, 10 a.m. - Candle making over an open fire.
Saturday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Giant City Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign. 7 a.m. - Slide program on "The Wildlife of Illinois." Visitor Center.
Sunday, 10 a.m. - Interpretive hike on the Steeple Nature Trail. Meet at trail parking lot. 2 p.m. - Interpretive hike on the Devil's Standable Nature Trail. Meet at trail entrance sign.
Alumni Association to award Roscoe Pulliam Scholarships

By Mike Springman

The SIU Alumni Association will present 29 Roscoe Pulliam Scholarships at an awards luncheon to be held noon Friday at the Ramada Inn.

The Society for the Advancement of Management will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Student Center Mississippi Room. Guest speaker will be Dr. Bill Schmitt of Caterpillar, who will talk on what his company is looking for in employees. Everyone is invited to attend.

The SIU Photo Society will hold its second annual exhibition of photographic sculptures from 1 a.m. to noon, Nov. 3 to 7.

Richard S. Millman, associate professor of mathematics, will attend the American Mathematical Society meeting Saturday in Cambridge, Mass.

Neal E. Foland, chairman of the Department of Mathematics, will represent the Mathematical Association of America at the Sunday inauguration of Robert E. Leestamper as president of Southeast Missouri State University, Cape Girardeau, Mo.

David L. Wilson, assistant staff editor of the Ulysses S. Grant Association presented his interpretation of U.S. Open Door policy with China at the Western Conference of the Association for Asian Studies Oct. 11 in Boulder, Colorado.

Alex Reed, emeritus professor of animal industries was honored Oct. 16 with a "Friends of Agriculture Award" from the Illinois extension advisers organization conference in Urbana.

Seymour Bryson, associate professor in the Rehabilitation Institute and Harold Barlow, associate professor of guidance and educational psychology are authors of an article, "Race and the Counseling Process: An Overview," published in the October issue of the Journal of Non-White Concern.

The Southern Laboratory Theater will hold a meeting at 6 p.m. Monday in the Main Stage Auditorium, Communications 1017.

Food Nutrition 325 will hold a food sampling project from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Oct. 31 in Home Economics room 107. The class will serve three main entrees, three desserts and one surprise juice drink. A small donation is requested to cover food costs.

The Asian Studies Association will hold a potluck dinner 1 p.m. Sunday at the Lutheran Center, 700 S. University. Those attending are asked to bring a food dish. Berverage and tableware will be provided.

The Spanish Club will have a Pumpkin and Bake Sale on from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday by Fauser Hall. Members are to bring baked goods.

Reception to open new art exhibit

A public reception from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday will open a new exhibit at the Mitchell Gallery located in the Home Economics Building.

The new art works are recent additions to the permanent art collection of the University Museum and Art Galleries. Purchase funds were provided by the Wood Charitable Fund, Inc. of Chicago in the form of three grants, each totaling $5,000.00, for the years 1972 through 1975.

Nearly all printmaking techniques are represented in the collection. Color lithography, screen printing, halftone, drypoint and engraving are represented in this portion of the collection. Watercolor, oil, pastel, conte crayon, acrylic and mixed media are also included.

Occasionally, the acquisitions committee has selected works by SIU art faculty and students, but works by relatively famous artists are also included through purchase or gift. In this exhibit, are representative examples by George Gerst, Pierre Bonnard, Goya and Paul Wunderlich as well as Willem T. Wille, Maximus Beado, Robert Rauchenberg, Lee Godie and Richard Lindner.

The exhibit will continue through Nov. 19. The Mitchell Gallery is open weekdays between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Admission to the gallery and to opening receptions is free and the public is welcome.

Campus Briefs

Nine pledges of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Inc., Delta Beta Chapter visited the House of Glass Sunday as part of their pledge program. The House of Glass if a new house on campus for the sorority's pledges waiting to be released.

Win or Lose, Keep Celebrating

Homecoming after the football game Sat.

All Baptist Student Center residents & B.S.U. members are invited to a reception after the game.

There will be refreshments & a program for entertainment.

See you at the Baptist Student Center!

For information call 457-8129

CARRY OUT AND DELIVERY SERVICE

549-5325
CAMPUS SHOPPING CENTER
DEEP PAN
PIZZA

LIVE ENTERTAINMENT
Tuesday with CLIFF EBERHARDT
Wednesday with THE SHAWN COLBAND V

8 VARIETIES OF DEEP PAN PIZZA
Cheese-Ground Beef-Mushroom
Garlic-Sausage-Pepperoni
Green Pepper-Onion
Slices, Combinations and half & half available

Frosted Beer Mugs & 60 oz. Pitchers

Frosty Beer

ประเทศ

Budweiser

Good thru October 30, 1975

Only one coupon redeemable per pizza. Not redeemable for deliveries.

Know your options and score every quarter!

With Carbondale Savings And Loan's Savings Plans, Your Guaranteed To Score Every Quarter With Quarterly Compounding! Put Your Savings Into Action At The Home Of The Message Center Sign!

10.5% 5/14%
Regular Passbook "Daily Interest"

53%/ 63/4%
Golden Passbook "90 Day Notice"

6/12% One Year Cert. $1,000 Minimum

6/12% 63/4%
Two & 1/2 Year Cert. $1,000 Minimum

7% 7%
Four Year Cert. $1,000 Minimum

7/12% 7/12%
Four Year Cert. $5,000 Minimum

6/4% 7/4%
Six Year Cert. $5,000 Minimum

* With certificate savings plans, you may withdraw the principal at any time without penalty and without 30 days notice.

Carbondale Savings and Loan
500 W. Main
Tel. 549-3102
Daily Egyptian, October 24, 1975, Page 17
TRONICS
GTAC -HleT.

SPORTING GOODS
Cost guide to new and used guns. Preview. Call 547-4306.

PARS & SERVICES
YW service, most types YW repair. Call John-Dunlap in Carthage, 943-4335.

REAL ESTATE
New Home, Lake of the Isles, basement, city water, electric heat, 21 Bath. 513.45.4335.

MOBILE HOME
One bedroom mobile home, car, psychiatrist. 244 Cedar Lane, Shaded Lot. New Carpet is put in. Call 547-4335.

MOTORCycles
1973 BSA 250 Blue Lightning in Great Shape. Complete tune-up, 4 new tires. 650. Call 547-4335.

1972 Norton Trike, Excellent condition, extras, NOOO, 500, after 45. 745-6631

1974 Indian Chief, Excellent condition, same extras, want 500, Call Jan 370-1448.

CELLULAR

SPEAKER REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.

SPEAKERS REPRESENTATIVE IN PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE.
Beanie house decorations part of Homecoming 1950

By Bonnie Gamble

Freshmen wearing green beanies, house decorations and a person wearing a "Pep Rally Fingers" were all part of the SUI homecoming in 1950.

The Homecoming activities began with a pep rally in Shryock Auditorium for the evening on October 22nd. This was followed by a parade on the morning of the 23rd.

Freshmen were required to wear green beanies to set themselves apart and to boost school spirit. The freshman class selected one boy and one girl to represent them at the bonfire and take the Phonetic oath, a loyalty pledge to the school.

House decorations, which were elaborate displays of school spirit, were divided into two classes for judging. Men's organized houses and women's organized houses were judged separately. The winning houses received silver and gold loving cups for first and second place.

A pep rally was held at Shryock and later that night for the dance in the men's gymnasium. Fina was known as the man with "10 talented fingers." Fourteen high school bands, 30 floats and SUI's marching choir were in the Homecoming parade led by the 60-piece SUI-Maron band. The parade started at Carbondale High School, went down Main Street to Illinois Avenue and then to McCordell Stadium.

Price categories for floats were:

- First Place: 250
- Second Place: 150
- Third Place: 100

The Parade will, the Grand Marshall of the parade was chosen by a campus committee. The parade included circus tents and floats with elaborate decorations.

Homecoming activities continued with pep rallies, street parties and other events scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

Women protest marriage license refusal in jail

CHICAGO (AP) - After spending three nights in jail young women who want to wed each other returned Wednesday to their cell and hunger strike in the County Building because they were denied a marriage license.

Self-proclaimed lesbians, Toby Schwartz and Phyllis Davis, 22, began camping out in the County Building in protest against a state law barring issuance of marriage licenses to homosexuals of the same sex. The women contend their civil rights are being violated.

When the door closed, they decided to refuse food and water until they receive a license. They failed to appear in court in Wednesday to answer charges and were re-arrested at the Macomb County jail.

They were unable to post $1,000 bond and were jailed Tuesday night.

Because of the negative publicity, the Macomb County Circuit Court said the women had committed a criminal trespass. They failed to appear in court to answer charges and were re-arrested at the Macomb County jail.

College Life INS. CO. 306 W. MAIN SUITE 222, was unable to provide any further details on the story.
What's Goin' On

Films
"Harold and Maude"—Varsity 1. Billed "a bizarre comedy." The film features songs written and performed by Cat Stevens.
"Super Vixens"—Varsity 1. late show 11 p.m. Saturday.
All seats $1.25. Rated X.
"The King of Marvin Gardens"—Varsity 2 late show, 11 p.m. Barber, Jack Nicholson, Bruce Dern and Ellen Burstyn.
"The Other Side of the Mountain"—Saluki Cinema.
"The Lion in Winter"—Fox East Gate. 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday. All seats $1.50. Winner of three Academy Awards, including best actress, the film stars Katherine Hepburn and Peter O'Toole.
"Shoot the Revolt Without Me"—Fox-East Gate 11 p.m. Sunday. Late show. All seats $1.25. Hilarious account of the French revolution, starring Gene Wilder, Donald Sutherland and Orson Welles.
"And Now For Something Completely Different"—Student Center Auditorium, Friday and Saturday. Admission $1.50. Student discount $1.00. Reserved seating available.

Musical Entertainment
Student Center—Shawn Colvin will perform from 8 p.m. until midnight Friday in the Big Muddy Room.
En S. Coffeehouse—Randy Sadewalt's band, will play from 9 to 11 p.m. Friday and Lee Kramer from 11 p.m. until midnight. Eugene Grant will play from 9 to 11 p.m. Saturday and Jerry Laster from 11 p.m. until midnight.
Punch Penny Pub presents jazz from 9 p.m. until midnight every Sunday evening, featuring Joe Libertino, Buddy Rogers, Darvell Samuels and Carl DeLeon.
Merlin—Shawn Colvin from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the small bar. Prana will perform from 9:30 p.m. until 3 a.m. Friday and Saturday at the club. There will be an admission charge on Saturdays in the small bar. Big Twist and the Mellow Fellows will perform.
Das Pass—The Shans Hawaiian Five, an oom-pah band, will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Friday and Saturday in the Sube.

Homecoming Events
Dance—8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday in Ballroom D. Music provided by "A Full Moon Concert.
Sigma Gamma Rho Homecoming Dance—9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Friday in the Roman Room.
Homecoming Parade, 10 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday. Parade will march down University Ave. to the Student Center.
Homecoming Football game—Saluki versus Wichita State begins at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.
Dance—Kappa Alpha Psi sponsored. Ballrooms A, B, C and D. Begins at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Town evicts young residents
YOUNG TOWN, Ariz. (AP)—It may be called Youngtown, but 6-year-old Andy is too young to live there. He and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Braswell, have been ordered to leave town.
The Braswells are being evicted from this retirement suburb of Phoenix by a new state law which bans renting to tenants with children of the property deed.

SALUKI CURRENCY EXCHANGE

- Checks Cashed
- Licence Plates
- Money Orders
- Notary Public
- Travelers Checks

_Carbondale Western Union Agent_
606 S. Illinois 569-5295 western union

---

Contact Lenses
For complete information on contact lenses and supplies and information.
PHONE 349-7343
208 S. Illinois Carbondale, 111.
Open Mon. 9-8, Fri 9-6
Tues.-Sat. 9-5, closed Thurs.
School schedules series in teaching art to children

A series of four Saturday morning workshops on the subject of teaching art to children has been scheduled by the School of Art at SIU, according to Roy Abrahamson, director of the workshops.

The series, supported by a grant from the SIU-C's President's Academic Excellence Fund, will include art teaching methods, the psychology of children's art, art in relation to other school subjects and art for the handicapped.

The session will be held in the Allyn Building from 9 to 12 noon, the weekends of Oct. 25, Nov. 1, Nov. 8 and Nov. 15. They are open to elementary classroom teachers and parents of elementary school children.

Inquiries should be directed to Roy Abrahamson at the School of Art.

Police say burglar may have inside store

By Scott G. Bandle
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Ben Franklin's store, 112 S. Illinois Ave., was burglarized Wednesday by someone who might have hidden inside the building after closing, according to Carbondale police.

The burglar was discovered during a routine patrol by the police. They said it was unknown whether anything was stolen, although a safe had apparently been tampered with and a watch display window was broken.

Police said they think the burglar had hidden inside after closing, because there were no signs of a forcible entry. An investigation is underway.

Tommy Don Struve, 27, Carbondale Mobile Homes, was arrested Wednesday for alleged battery at 119 N. Washington St. He was taken to Jackson County jail to await bond.

Richard M. Bogard, of Carterville, reported Wednesday that someone pried the lock off a utility truck belonging to the Steve Foster Construction Co. The truck was parked at 1100 N. Marion St. Reported missing was a Black and Decker drill in an orange metal box and a Black and Decker seven-inch saw. The items were valued at $210.

Vic Koenig, owner of Koenig Chevrolet, 1040 E. Main St., reported Wednesday that someone stole four aluminum wheels and four radial tires off of a car parked in the lot. The items were valued at $300.

John Buchholz, 902 W. Piscan St., reported Wednesday that someone entered his vehicle and stole a two-way mobile radio. The item was valued at $750.

Tickets available for Arena concert

Tickets are still available in all price ranges for Saturday night's David Cosby—Graham Nash concert at the Arena.

About 2400 of the 9000 seats available in the Arena's Forum 9 stage setup have been sold, according to publicity manager Joel Preston. Ticket prices are $5, $8, and $6.50, with a fifty-cent discount given on the top two prices to SIU students.

Tickets can be purchased at the Student Center Central Ticket Of-vice, the Arena Special Events Ticket Office, Penney's in Carbondale, Tempo and Boartright Electronics in Marion, Montgomery Wards in Mount Vernon, Sears in Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Gatlin in Paducah, Ky.

Homecoming buffet set for Saturday

A Homecoming buffet in Ballroom B of the Student Center has been scheduled from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

The menu will consist of roast beef, fried chicken, mostaccioli, whipped potatoes, brown gravy, vegetables medley, cold salad, waldorf salad, three-bean salad, cottage cheese with fruit, chilled refreshers, broken-glass jello salad, fresh fruit with butter plus a choice of beverage and assorted desserts.

The Student Center Restaurant will also be open from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday serving a full dinner menu.

Now Appearing

THE PNEUMATIC WRENCHES
Eastside Garage
Body, Paint, Trans. & All Mechanical Repairs
415 E. MAIN 457-7631

GIGANTIC CLEARANCE SALE

50% OFF LADIES & MENS RINGS
Includes
Pearl
Caratseye
Opal
Jade
Crystal
Garnet
Smoky Topaz
Onyx
Star Sapphire
Pre Engagement
Star Ruby
Signet

20% OFF WATCHES

10% - 30% OFF 4K WEDDING BANDS
Starts Oct. 14 thru Oct. 25
Lay Away and MASTER CHARGE

DON'S FJEWELRY
400 Illinois Ave. CARBONDALE
and
108 Cherry HERRIN

GIGANTIC CLEARANCE SALE

33 1/3% OFF DIAMONDS
Engagement Rings Pendants & Earrings
20% OFF JEWELRY
Sterling & Gold filled

RAMADA INN WELCOMES YOU

The New RAMADA INN LOUNGE
COCKTAIL HOURS
Monday thru Friday from 4:30 - 6:30 p.m.
all drinks reduced

Seafood Buffet tonight

Daily Egyptian - October 24, 1975 - Page 29
Terriers’ undefeated record on the line against Benton foe

By Scott Burrsdale
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer
Carbondale’s undefeated status may threaten Friday evening when the Terriers tangle with Benton atbyeower Field in a South Seven Conference game.

Benton comes into the game riding a 5-2 record and Terrier coach Tom O’Boyle admits “Benton scares us as it is.”

So far this season, Carbondale is undefeated. They’ve only allowed four touchdowns in the last 10 games stretching back to 1974. The Terriers are also enjoying a four-game winning streak which nobody from the opposing school has crossed the goal-line except band members.

Part of the defensive success lies with the play of outside linebackers Brian Stoneburner and Steve Broker. Stoneburner and Broker, O’Boyle said, and the opposition has tried to run at this pair all season and he expects Benton to follow the script.

Both players have surpassed by over 1,000 per cent of what we have asked of them this year,” O’Boyle said.

Stoneburner plays on the weak side of the offense and he likes that position. “You get a lot of action that way since most of the teams we’ve played are geared that way,” Stoneburner explained. “But if the offense is running a balanced attack, they don’t come as much.”

Last year Stoneburner was blocked out by an eighth hour study hall class. Because of this class Stoneburner couldn’t practice as much, and missed game action as a result.

While nobody has contacted Stoneburner from the universities about a football scholarship, he believes if the team makes it to the state playoffs, the extra publicity might help.

Over on the strong-side of the field is senior Steve Broker (155, 175 lbs.). Broker played monster back last year, but he also appreciates his new position this season: “I’ve got to be tougher this year. I’m going up against those big tackles, while last year a lot of my blocking was on wide receivers.”

Broker doesn’t think the shutoff streak affects the play of the defense. “I don’t think the defense thinks about it the streak; until maybe the third quarters. If we’ve held our opponents scoreless then, we’ll put out about 120 per cent to prevent a score,” Broker said.

“It would certainly be a let down if somebody scores on us. It means we’ll have to just play that much harder.”

Like Stoneburner, Broker has given some thought to college football, but he admits he might not be big enough.

“I’ll have to put on about 25 pounds to play college ball. I think I could play at about 190 pounds. I’m quick, but not fast.”

Backline backers said they wouldn’t mind playing at SIU. Broker also was planning to talk to some of the coaches at Eastern Illinois, since some of Carbondale’s ex football players are on that squad.

After the Benton game, Carbondale journeys to Mt. Vernon. The drama has been lifted from this contest, since the Rams have lost two games in a row.

However, O’Boyle is still apprehensive about the match. “All the pressure on Mt. Vernon is off now, so we may be sitting ducks going into that game,” O’Boyle said.

MEXICAN FOOD
SUPER SUNDAY DINNERS

| YELLOm BOOtT STRAP |
| THE MEX SUPREME |
| Supper Menu: |
| (Our triple-cheesy burger) |
| (Taco, Enchilada, Burrito, Refried Beans, Spanish Rice & Jalapeno Pepper) |
| $2.15 |
| $2.25 |

Mon. Special
3 Tacos
$1.00

Schlitz Light & Dark
12 oz. Drakgut 40c
16 oz. Pitcher $1.75
Our everyday prices
BAER BREAK
12 oz.
10c
Mon. - Fri. 25 p.m.

Campus Shopping Center

The world could use a few good miracles along about now.

Like a miracle of love. And a miracle of dedication and concern for our fellow man. This is the work of the Holy Cross Fathers to serve our fellow man, and to make the world a better place in which to live. What about you? Is it a total commitment which you’re looking for? Join us. A child is you’ll never turn water into wine, but you will help turn hatred into love. And that is the greatest miracle of them all.

For information call or write:
FATHER JOSEPH CAREY C.M.
HOLY CROSS FATHERS
542 S. 7th St.
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS 62903

Terriers’ undefeated record on the line against Benton foe

Inspirations

In preparation for Saturday’s homecoming football game, a student group posted several signs at McKendree Stadium to inspire the football Salukis. Lance Garrett, a senior in physical education and a member of the gymnastics team passed two of the signs while running Thursday. SIU will be looking for its first win in the game against Wichita State Saturday. Staff photos by Carl Wagner.

Pregnant?
Need Help?

A counseling hotline is available at 920-CALL.
1-526-4545

All calls are handled by trained counselors and are free and confidential. Please collect 35 cents for each call.

Hiollel’s Kosher Deli
Sundays at 6 p.m.
Choice of Corned beef sandwich or corned beef on rye
Homemade slaw (all for $1.25)

Featuring this week:
Rock-Folk Guitarist Marty Martin
Hiollel Jewish Student Center, 715 S. University
‘Dramatic’ describes ’75 World Series best

By Hal Bock
AP Sport. Writer

BOSTON - When baseball historians look back at the 1975 World Series between the Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Red Sox, the adjective they will think of is likely to be “dramatic.”

This was a tingling showdown between two very closely matched teams. It went down to the ninth inning of the seventh game before the Reds pushed over the winning run that clinched the title. There were a host of heroes for both teams.

- There was little Joe Morgan snapping a series-long slump to deliver the winning hit in the final inning of the final game.
- There was Bernie Carbo, tying a run shot that saved the Red Sox in Game 6 when they were just four outs away from elimination.
- There was Tony Perez, held in check almost all Series long and managing just five hits in the seven games, but tagging three home runs including the one that got the Reds started in the final game.
- There was Pete Rose, a constant thorn for the Reds and the Series’ Most Valuable Player with 10 hits in 23 at bats.

Thus, the World Championship Trophy went to Cincinnati, presented Thursday by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. It was a trophy the Reds had earned with a record 108 regular season victories, a three straight sweep of Pittsburgh for the National League title and then this tingling seven game World Series triumph over the tough, tenacious Red Sox.

When it was over, the Reds Manager Sparky Anderson, whose teams had lost the 1970 and 1972 World Series, was asked how it felt to finally come out on top. “This had been a great World Series,” he said. “The whole thing has been just tremendous for baseball. Our club never quit and the Boston Red Sox were a great club. All I can say is that was a great World Series between two great teams.”

It seemed a shame that one had to win and one had to lose. But for the fans fortunate enough to see this struggle, the Series will be remembered for many years to come.

It had the drama that a World Series should have. It was, as a World Series should be, baseball at its very best.
By Dave Wiesewar
Daily Egyptian Sports Editor

Homecomings are nothing new to SIU. All the players—not even to many of the freshmen.

When SIU takes on Wichita State (2-3) in McKendree Stadium Saturday at 1:30 p.m., it will not only be the first Missouri Valley opponent of the year, it will also be the third homecoming game in a row for our 6-5 Salukis.

The first was two weeks ago against Illinois State in Normal and last week's disaster at Northern Illinois was the Huskies homecoming.

This week, SIU stages its own welcome home. With the losing record, the homecoming mood this week has not been exciting.

Nonetheless, the ever-optimistic Doug Weaver is not unsettled. The Saluki coach said, "Obviously the model on campus is not like it would be if we had five victories, but I think the atmosphere is great. Today is Thursday and I'm excited. I'm always excited. I can't wait for practice to start.

Homecoming is something special to players and fans alike and this will not be just another weekend, according to Weaver.

"I'll discuss this weekend," he said. "I'll talk to players about the meaning of homecoming. I know we'll have a good crowd. If we give them a chance, they'll be just super."

Even some of the writers coaches have been attempting to pinpoint the Saluki magic, none more than SIU student-staff writer Ken Seaman. Hartzog suggested it is a lack of concern about career trends to agree to a point.

"Sometimes it is a lack of concentration. Sometimes it is the play of the opponents," Weaver said. "It's hard to put your finger on. We've played good teams with a lot of talent.

"People always look for something," he continued. "Either the coaching is good or the weather's good or it's bad luck. Generally it's only one thing and it usually has something to do with the caliber of competition.

As he watched some of his players drift out of the AstroTurf Weavers recalled. "There were only two poor games we played—East Carolina and last year.

"You never know," he said. "Every week can be a championship. You have to get that first olive out of the bottle, then you have a chance to get the rest out. That first one can be really hard.

"I've been with Wichita Saturday, we have another Valley opponent next week (Drake). You never know what will happen after that."

Weaver said the Wichita team played good football when it stays within its range of competition. However, the Shockers were shattered by three big Eight teams this year.

Wichita's triple option offense is led by quarterback Sam Amin, whom Shockers coach calls the best in Kansas. Wichita on defense may be as pesky as fleas for the Salukis. Weaver is expecting "something unusual in a player—no defender is."

"I'm not really sure what they will do. They show every doggone thing on offense and defense that you've ever seen in football," he said.

Saturday's game can be heard on WSUI Stereo, 82 FM, WCIL, 104 FM and AM, and WJFF, 1340, Harrisburg.

Saluki homecoming history has no established pattern

By Mike Vastbom
Student Writer

If the past is any indication of the future, anything could happen, and probably will, when the Salukis meet Wichita State in Saturday's homecoming football game.

In the last 10 years, SIU has played 55 football games in homecoming. The 1974 Salukis took a sound thrashing from Arkansas State, 41-16.

The only bright spot in last year's homecoming loss was Leonard Hopkins. Then a second-string quarterback, the West Frankfort native came on in the fourth quarter to score two touchdowns. He also passed successfully for both two-point conversions.

The Salukis have faced eight different homecoming opponents in the last decade. SIU split two contests with East Carolina and Tulsa. Akron, Drake and Bradley have also been homecoming victims with Bradley taking a 46-0 beating in 1970.

Saluki homecoming losses in this 10-year period have come at the hands of Arkansas State, Illinois State, Youngstown, East Carolina and Tulsa. The widest margin of defeat came in 1965 when SIU lost 54-12 to Tulsa.

Homecoming games seem to bring out the competitiveness in football teams as three of the last four homecoming tilts have been decided by three points or less.

In 1971, SIU defeated Drake 34-32. Illinois State topped the best team 10-7 the following year. However, the only championship meet was a 55-12 loss in 1973, the alumni watched the Salukis edge Akron, 14-12.

SIU harriers' upset chances dim

By Mark Kadow ski
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

An injury to freshman cross country runner Matt Leslie has taken a damper on SIU's chances of upsetting the University of Illinois in Saturday's Illinois Intercollegiates at Charleston.

SIU coach Lew Hartog said his freshman harrier stumbled over a steeplesch barrier in Sunday's All-Cornets meet at McKendree Stadium and broke a bone in his right wrist. Leslie also bunged up his knees in the fall.

Hartog said the injury to Leslie's knee would have more of an effect on his running than would the broken bone because Leslie could run with the split on his wrist.

"This is a real blow to us," Hartog said.

Leslie has been among the top four SIU finishers in each of the meets this season.

Hartog said Leslie would not be going to Charleston because he has not been able to train since the accident.

"If we harbored thoughts of beating Illinois, we'd need him," Hartog said. "We hope to have him back next week (for the Missouri Valley Conference meet), but if we don't, we'll just have to tighten our belts.

"I'm not as concerned about him not running this weekend," Hartog admitted.

"Whether Leslie will be able to run in the Nov. 1 Valley meet will depend on if he will be able to train next week," Hartog said.

"Leslie has missed too much now to take him this week," Hartog said.

The seven Salukis who will be running on the Eastern Illinois course will be seniors Jack St. John, Tom Fulton and Gary Mandelr; juniors Jerry George and Pat Cook and freshmen Mike Sawyer and Rusty Bauer.

"I'm really pleased," Hartog said of his team. "Since Oct. 4, the kids have worked beautifully. We've worked so hard for so long, that they've started to break down."

The cross country team ran its best times ever on Midlands Hills Golf Course in a practice Tuesday, Hartog said.

"We accomplished right there what we were after. If they do everything right, then they will be at least ready for Nov. 14.

"As for the meet Saturday, Hartog said, "Our goal is to finish no lower than second. I'm not saying we can beat Illinois. I would be foolish to say that."

"Illinois has four outstanding St. John-type people for the fifth spot. You can't surprise them."

The Illinois Intercollegiates will consist of 18 or 19 Illinois university and college cross country teams. The team for us to beat will be either Illinois State or Eastern," Hartog said.

"The Eastern runners will have an advantage on the flat course, since it is their home course, he said. SIU beat ISU in a dual meet in Carbondale earlier this year.

Illini pick of intercollegiate meet

By Mark Kadow ski
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

An injury to freshman cross country runner Matt Leslie has taken a damper on SIU's chances of upsetting the University of Illinois in Saturday's Illinois Intercollegiates at Charleston.

SIU coach Lew Hartog said his freshman harrier stumbled over a steeplesch barrier in Sunday's All-Cornets meet at McKendree Stadium and broke a bone in his right wrist. Leslie also bunged up his knees in the fall.

Hartog said the injury to Leslie's knee would have more of an effect on his running than would the broken bone because Leslie could run with the split on his wrist.

"This is a real blow to us," Hartog said.

Leslie has been among the top four SIU finishers in each of the meets this season.

Hartog said Leslie would not be going to Charleston because he has not been able to train since the accident.

"If we harbored thoughts of beating Illinois, we'd need him," Hartog said. "We hope to have him back next week (for the Missouri Valley Conference meet), but if we don't, we'll just have to tighten our belts.

"I'm not as concerned about him not running this weekend," Hartog admitted.

"Whether Leslie will be able to run in the Nov. 1 Valley meet will depend on if he will be able to train next week," Hartog said.

"Leslie has missed too much now to take him this week," Hartog said.

The seven Salukis who will be running on the Eastern Illinois course will be seniors Jack St. John, Tom Fulton and Gary Mandelr; juniors Jerry George and Pat Cook and freshmen Mike Sawyer and Rusty Bauer.

"I'm really pleased," Hartog said of his team. "Since Oct. 4, the kids have worked beautifully. We've worked so hard for so long, that they've started to break down."

The cross country team ran its best times ever on Midlands Hills Golf Course in a practice Tuesday, Hartog said.

"We accomplished right there what we were after. If they do everything right, then they will be at least ready for Nov. 14.

"As for the meet Saturday, Hartog said, "Our goal is to finish no lower than second. I'm not saying we can beat Illinois. I would be foolish to say that."

"Illinois has four outstanding St. John-type people for the fifth spot. You can't surprise them."

The Illinois Intercollegiates will consist of 18 or 19 Illinois university and college cross country teams. The team for us to beat will be either Illinois State or Eastern," Hartog said.

"The Eastern runners will have an advantage on the flat course, since it is their home course, he said. SIU beat ISU in a dual meet in Carbondale earlier this year.

IM football scores

Wednesday's games

Alpha Gamma Rho 18 TKE "A" 12
Longfellow 30 Newman Center 0
Cruaders 36 Pierre's Unoutchables 0
Dirty Dangers 14 War Pigs
Yellow Submarine 13 Semi-Tough 6
Alpha Tau Omega 8 Vipers 0
Phi Beta Sigma 30 Alpha Kappa Lambda 0
Gold Bo Bo 31 Kick Booty 12
Oh Town Hunters 13 Fols-So-Good 0
Beijmont Bay Bombers 26 Redneck's Revenge 6
Haphazard 7 Mac's Maulers 0

Daily Egyptian

Sports

Kurt Leslie (20/7) and Pat Cook

Page 24 Daily Egyptian, October 24, 1975