Kennedy Is Buried With A Hero’s Rites

Mourning Sets Tone For PDE Convention

The backdoor for a scheduled national convention at SIU was the mustard smattering for its murdered President.

The telegram to Pi Delta Epsilon was in keeping with the setting. "Coming through to us from the tragic event of yesterday in a message for us all...for all of us who can ourselves Americans," Howard R. Long, chairman of the Student Journalism Department, told the Saturday banquet of the fraternity.

"He is the choice for Douglas Stuart, chief of the Washington Bureau of British Broadcasting Corp. He and his fellow foreign correspondents visiting the Carbondale area sped back to Washington when they received news of the death of President Kennedy.

The President, Long said, had tried to tell Americans in many ways, on many occasions, that we do live in a never-never land of make believe, happening and shifting responsibilities.

Americans have created the first system of national defense ever enjoyed by man, but unwillingness to live by its rules has undermined the structure of the social and political systems, he continued. Each act of violence brought us a step closer to "the terrible event in Dallas," Long said.

"There comes a time when each of us must stand up and be counted, and counted we will be, either as members of a state or as individuals who stand for something and who will labor honorably and honestly to attain the goals in which he believes," Long concluded.

The convention was attended by 118 delegates from 38 chapters of the 131 student publications on campus. The convention sent telegrams of condolences to the families of John F. Kennedy.

'Season of Holidays' Week To Begin Here December 4

The Season of Holidays Week steering committee said there would be a "Season of Holidays" in the University with the Latin of Richard Cardinal Cushing as he intoned the pontifical Mass in St. Matthew’s Cathedral.

The dominant emotion in the Roman Room was sadness Monday, in contrast to the smirking shock and grief that came Friday with the news of the President’s assassination in Dallas. Eyes were dry Friday, but hearts were heavy.

Those watching the Mass on television were silent, sitting in groups. Communication between groups and between the members of groups was minimal, but there was some conversation.

During the the pompous ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery, the groups dissolved, for all practical purposes. The same people sat around the same tables, but there sat them as individuals, each lost in his own thoughts and heads were bowed as each contemplated the meaning of the weekend’s events.

The room was virtually silent throughout the afternoon.

World Pays Tribute As Taps Sounds For Slain President

WASHINGTON

By the Associated Press

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, martyred 35th President, continued his earthly journey today.

A hero’s grave received his mortal remains in Arlington National Cemetery and his brave widow, Jacqueline, wept slowly and softly as she led to her bosom the American flag that had rested on his casket.

Wearing a black veil, she had followed her husband all this historic day, part way on AFROTC Cadet

Services Today

The AFROTC unit at SIU will conduct a military memorial service for the late President beginning at 10 a.m. today in McAndrew Stadium.

Some 2,700 cadets, including the AFROTC band, honor guard, and firing squad, will participate in the ceremony.

The entire student body is invited to attend the ceremony, which is being held during regularly scheduled leadership training periods for AFROTC cadets.

SOMBER VIGIL — SIU students clustered around campus television sets yesterday somberly and silently watching the funeral of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Soul-Searching Crowd Views Burial Through Moist Eyes

The mournful, lonely notes of "Taps" filled an almost absolute silence Monday afternoon in the University Center as John Fitzgerald Kennedy was delivered to the ages.

Eyes that had remained dry throughout a requiem Mass grew moist as the bugler sounded the notes of the haunting melody.

Earlier, the rattle of dishes from the cafeteria had mingled with the Latin of Richard Cardinal Cushing as he intoned the pontifical Mass in St. Matthew’s Cathedral.

Pew cigarettes were lit during the ceremony at the Arlington Cemetery.

The disbelief so evident Friday had to be be­lieved. There were few, if any, of the President’s professional career.

"Gods" was the only word that the President, John F. Kennedy, was indeed the new President.

"Music Man’s" Dave Davidson Named Student Of The Week

Voigt Explains Classification
Of General Studies Students

Classification of SIU students into General Studies category has been clarified, John W. Voigt, executive director of the G.S. program, said the clarification is designed to clear up misleading understandings students may have about the program.

All new students entering as freshmen after summer of 1962 have been coded into G.S., and into a school director of the G.S. program. G.S. students may have less than 90 hours of total credit and be administratively coded into G.S., and follow the G.S. requirements. G.S. students who have less than 90 hours are administratively in G.S. and will pursue old general degree requirements if they were in school before summer of 1962. Re-entering students with less than 90 hours may be admitted to an academic unit and if they enter prior to summer 1962 will satisfy the old General Education Requirements.

Students may initiate transfer from G.S. and into a school or college when they achieve a total of between 75 and 90 quarter hours.

For more information students contact General Studies Advisement.

Deadline Is Set
For Teacher Exam

Heralt Largent, assistant director of placement service, said the last day for registering to take the National Teacher Exam is Jan. 17.

The exam, which is to be given Feb. 16, is a requirement for admission to several school programs which are to be interviewed here later in the year.

Application blanks and bulletins of information describing registration procedures and containing representative test questions may be obtained from Warren Willis, assistant supervisor of testing, or from the National Teacher Examination, Educational Testing Service, Princeton office.

Delta Zeta Dinner
Honors Scholarship

The Delta Zeta social sorority held its scholarship dinner recently with Dr. Ralph Micken and his wife as guests. Diane Ambrose, of Roehlle, was announced as the most outstanding progress in scholastic achievement between the winter and spring quarters last year, she was given a traveling crest society emblem.

Micken, chairman of the School of Education, gave a short talk on the importance of scholarship to university women. After the dinner, a short discussion was held with Dr. Micken.

Each quarter the scholarship dinner is given to the girls who achieved high grade points.

Visitor To Viet Nam Reports
On Farm Production, Trends

Agriculture in Viet Nam is more advanced in food crops production than in animal phases of farming, says Alex Reel, chairman of the Animal Industries Deparment, who returned in July from two years with an SIU educational team in Viet Nam.

Agriculture is of a tropical type in the Mekong River delta region extending 200 miles south of Saigon, in the upland regions north of Saigon the climate is more temperate.

Rice is the major farm crop in the delta region with enough production for export. Hence the delta region is a prime target in the current Communist guerilla fighting in Viet Nam. Two crop years, the lowland regions are small Asian type with irregular shapes and the farmers living in villages, Water buffalo and bullocks are used widely for farm power in rice production, says Reel.

In the upland, farming includes extensive production of vegetable crops that compare favorably with types of vegetables grown in the United States and other countries. Potatoes and onions are extensive farm crops, Much vegetable produce is shipped to Saigon. The upland areas also produce corn, tea and coffee.

Animal agriculture is much less developed than in food crop production. A little breeding work is now being done on water buffalo for meat production. Only one modern dairy, established by Australia, exists in Viet Nam. Viet Nam imports powdered and condensed milk from the United States and other countries.

The agricultural education program is not well developed, Reel says. The general framework for agricultural and home-economic education exists but there is a lack of trained personnel. The provinces' first agricultural college was established recently at Bao-Loc near Dalet.

13 Land Parcels Acquired By SIU

An additional 13 parcels of property have been acquired for future expansion of SIU. The transactions equalled $293,991 and were approved by the Board of Trustees this week.

The Carbondale parcels included 902 S. Illinois Ave., 108 E. Park St., 819 S. Main St., 801 S. Forest Ave., 109 E. Grand Ave., 721 S. Medical Park Ave., 205 E. Pearl St., 1004 S. Forest Ave., 903 W. Grand Ave., and 905 S. Illinois Ave.

Large tracts purchased included about 220 acres south of Little Grassy Lake and two totaling about 145 acres east of Little Grassy Lake in the SIU Forest Area.

SIU Jumpers May Enter Competition

Six men may represent SIU at the National Parachute Jumping Meet May 1-3 in Orange County, Ill., if a bill now before the Student Council is approved.

Howard Benson, counseling senator, introduced the measure at Thursday's meeting. The bill, if passed, would provide a stipend of $207 for transporting and providing expenses for three or more men. The individuals would pay their own travel and food and entry fees expenses.

The bill states that Dick Roberts, who represented SIU at last year's meet and was the title of national international parachute jumping champion.

Benson said that SIU gained "executive acclaim" as a result of Roberts' victory last year. The large amount of favorable publicity was a valuable feature of the program, Benson said.

The bill was sent to the Finance Committee for study and recommendation.

Publication Plans
At SIU Surveyed

An SIU faculty committee is querying heads of schools, divisions and departments concerning possible publications by the University.

Harvey I. Fisher, zoology department chairman and head of the committee was constituted by Vice President Charles D. Tenney to study wishes and facilitating publication by the University of scholarly manuscripts.

Fisher said purpose of the current survey is to gather information on present and planned publications by various SIU units.

Those wishing University support of such publications should submit detailed proposals to the committee.

Members of the committee, in addition to Fisher are Ronald Beazley and Milton Sullivan from the Carbondale campus, and James Austin, Laurence McNay and Elliott Rockwood from the Edwardsville campus.

DECK THE HALLS

The time has come to think of Christmas shopping, for the Yuletide spirit is upon us and we can say Jack Robinson. (Have you ever wondered, incidentally, about the origin of this interesting phrase "Quicker than you can say Jack Robinson?" Well sir, the original saying was French."—The Rape de Hiver a Jacques Robespierre." Jack Robinson is, as everyone knows, an Anglicization of Jacques Robespierre who was, as everyone knows, the infamous figure from the French Revolution who, as everyone knows, was murdered in his bath by Danton, Maret, Caliga, and Al Capeo.)

Christmas people say quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries like England, the U.S., and Canada—as an interesting tidbit and doubt that Robespierre's daughter, Georges, did not get word of the plot to murder her husband in his bath. All she had to do to save her life was to write a letter and warn him. But, alas, quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre, the belief that a daughter from her old friend Frederic Chopin who was done in Marcas taking liberties to his immortal "Waraw Conceri." Chopin said he needed George Sand's help desperately because he could not find a rhyme for "Waraw." Naturally, Georges could not refuse such an urgent request.

Well, sir, off to Majorca went Georges, but before she left, she told her little daughter that she would be coming to murder Daddy in his bath. She instructed Walter to about Robespierre's name the moment the bad men arrived. But Walter, also, had been sea-bathing that morning on the Riviera, and she had come home with a bag of salt water taffy, and when the bad men arrived to murder Robespierre, Walter—also, was drawing a mum taffy and could not put her mouth unskilled to think about a warning. Robespierre, also, was murdered quicker than you could say Jacques Robespierre—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries.

There is, I am pleased to report, one small note of cheer in this grisly tale. When Georges Sand got to Majorca, she did succeed in helping Chopin to a finding for "Waraw" to everyone who has known those haunting lyrics:

"In the fair town of Warmen, Which Napoleon's horse saw, Singing cookies and bowls too, aile of aile ..."

But I digress.

We were speaking Christmas gifts. What we all try to find at Christmas is, of course, unusual and distinctive gifts for our friends. May I suggest then a curio of Marlboro Cigars? I found two of them at the gift shop of the University Bookstore. One was a box of Marlboro cigarette cases, and the other was a box of Marlboro cigarette cases. The Marlboro case is of the Old World, and is so small that you can put your mouth unskilled to think about a warning. Robespierre, also, was murdered quicker than you could say Jacques Robespierre—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries.

The SU Office of Student Affairs reported that a study of the case is being conducted.

World Mourns Slain Leader
To Hero's Grave In Arlington

Cardinal Cushing stooped and kissed Caroline.
Mrs. Kennedy, her well floating in the cool breeze, took Caroline and John by their hands. They walked down the cathedral steps behind the hearse.

As servicemen put the cas­ tet back on the caisson for the three-mile journey to Arlington, John put his hand on his mother's shoulder.

Little John, 3 today, seemed to take it all in stride as he was dressed in full uniform.

The church bells tolled. The tower in the white dome of Matthew's Cathedral, blue­ green from decades of weathering, glimmered in a crisp, clear day as the cortège approached it for the requiem Mass.

At his last dinner, in Housington, the bishop recalled, Kennedy had quoted from the Bible. "Where there is no vision the people perish."
The bishop, quoting from the inaugural address, recited
Kennedy's best-loved pas­ tage. "The great copper dome

the Cabinet, federal officials and White House staff
men."

The church bells tolled. The muffled drums beat.

Mrs. Kennedy and the others rode to Arlington in limorine.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kenedy, who has been by her side almost constantly since his brother's body was brought here late Friday, was with her.

Hundreds of thousands,
many weeping, lined the cap­ital's broad highways. And countless millions saw and heard by television and radio.
The Most Rev. Philip M.
Hanan, auxiliary bishop of Washington, read some of Kennedy's best-loved pas­ tage from the Bible.

Near him sat Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II of Britain. Not far away was Queen Frederika of Greece.

Behind them in the procession were the U.S. Supreme Court, the Cabinet, federal officials and White House staff
men. Just before the flag-covered casket was carried into the cathedral a band played "Hail to the Chief." Then, softly on the autumn air came the strains of hymns.

And, during the slow, final homecoming, the sounds of bugles was heard—from the Black Watch Piper's who were among the President's musical favorites.

At the Capitol, 240,000 persons filed past the bier before the funeral procession.

to the cathedral the Marine band played a dirge. Earlier, the strains of "Howd the

the air.

Say 'Farewell'
DALLAS

Dirt, Andy. Henry Wade confirmed Monday that Dallas city map with X marks and a question mark which corresponded to a path of the bullet that killed President John F. Kennedy was found in Lee Harvey Oswald's room. Wade said fingerprints of Oswald, the slain Marxist accused of the assassination, also were found on the foreign made rifle which killed the President.

Oswald was slain Sunday by Jack Ruby, 53, a night club owner and self-styled pal of James HOFFA.

The accused assassin was buried Monday in Rose Hill Cemetery, Fort Worth, the hometown of his mother.

The union is considered to be on the verge of splitting.

Ruby was from the city jail to the county jail Monday without prior public notice. It was during a similar transfer Sunday that Ruby shot Oswald in front of news men, officers and a nationwide audience watching live television.

Wade said the map had X's at various downtown intersections. At the intersection of Houston and Elm streets a line traces the trajectory similar to that of the bullet which took President Kennedy's life.

Hours after Oswald was slain, the Dallas Morning News, in a copyrighted story, said a map had been found in Oswald's Dallas apartment with a line on it marking the path of the bullet that killed him.

High-Level Probe
Of Slaying Urged
WASHINGTON

A high-level congressional investigation of President Kennedy's assassination was suggested Monday by Rep. Hale Boggs, Democrat of Louisiana, assistant Democratic leader of the House, and Senator William Proxmire, Democrat of Wisconsin, who introduced the measure.

"Such a probe should be a blue-ribbon inquiry, far above any suggestion of partisanship," Boggs said.

Ruby was an organizer for the Wastes Handlers, where the secretary-treasurer was Paul DORFMAN, who in 1950 was killed in the Dallas apartment of the man accused of the assassination.

One man who knew Ruby from 1944 on, and visited with him as recently as three years ago in Dallas, scoffed at the idea that a patriotic motive was involved in the slaying of President Kennedy.

"I can't see the guy as pushing for a cause like that out of patriotism. He might for publicity, yes. He might for money," said Jack Kelley, 54, former vaudevillian and night club master of ceremonies.

Ruby was a dandy, according to someone who knew him. His only interest was girls. He was a real lady's man, according to Kelley.

The elder Dorfman was an attorney who was acquitted of charges of bribing a union official to push through a labor bill in Congress.

The Dorfman's relationship with Ruby was well known in Chicago and was employed by Dorfman as an organizer for a brief period.

The lawyer said he learned later that Dorfman became involved with rough methods employed by Ruby in organizing efforts and fired him.

The lawyer said the FBI questioned Joseph Ruby, 52, slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald's room. Ruby was taken from the city jail to the county jail Monday without prior public notice. He's Loose Again

The Eyes Of The World Are Upon Us

One extremist act does not justify another. The murder of accused assassin Lee Oswald will damage the United States' reputation as a nation which promises each citizen a just trial, no matter how overwhelming the evidence against him may be.

The eyes of the world are upon Texas today, and upon the entire United States. That the President of the United States could be assassinated in 1963 was an incredible shock to the other peoples of the world as it was to Americans. When the accused assassin was apprehended, the United States presented the opportunity to show its respect for order and justice by giving Lee Oswald a fair trial.

His murder destroyed that chance. America showed to all the world an element of her population which lacked faith that through due process of law Lee Oswald, what sort of justice will we show the world?

Letter To The Editor

Again Walks The Ghost Of Issues Past And Already Exculpated

Occasionally it occurs to me that some terms I read in the Daily Egyptian are familiar refrains of somebody else's music. With Nov. 19's issue I think I can finally pin you down.

Re: "SIU students Report Devious Ways of Improving Class Situation" section of Time was interesting material, let's say we all believe that a "survey team" actually was sent out. Copying a good idea wasn't so bad, I guess.

Most of the "survey team" report was fairly original. What gave me a start was this paragraph:

"One excuse...to get out of taking a test at the proper time was that his roommate was going with a colored girl and they stayed up all night blocking the door to keep him from killing her."

The incident was lifted, almost word for word, from the Time article. Your "survey team" might have been duped by someone who had read the Time article. You should check sources more carefully.

Perhaps this quote was lifted from Time, as the idea was. Tut, tut, gentlemen—"plagiarism" and all that you know.

I further suggest that anyone wishing to read about the latest survey at SIU can find it first in any good news magazine.

The Daily Egyptian won't be far behind.

Paul D. Jones

Editor's note:

We refer reader Jones to "Council and Coming Profes," The Life magazine. The mistake was in innocent one as we explained previously. The good news given to a Daily Egyptian reporter by a student.

Even Ordinary People Should Try To Observe Ordinary Amenities

I wish to make a small noise about the article concerning the good view of SIU men, and Randy Blank's rebuttal.

The article concerned the coed opinion of SIU men pictured them as unimaginative, dishonestly clad. The answering letter pictured SIU women as ungracious, suspicious,nimble. Perhaps your authors have encountered enough of each to make valid generalizations, but I have met few of either. One bad incident sometimes impresses more than several good ones.

True ladies and gentlemen are very special people. Full-fledged ones are rare as A's in college. Some people do make A's; others never do.

Commonly the problem is that of the student, not the instructor or course—as failure to recognize a lady or gentleman commonly is the fault of the viewer.

Everyone has good qualities. A good way to let them shine is by consideration for others. I like having a man hold a door open for me, to carry my books or help me down stairs; these little things make me feel more feminine. What makes me feel even more masculine. Perhaps most people see themselves with different eyes and smile and thank him, because that makes me feel I'm not the only one sometimes.

I think it makes me feel even more feminine. I wonder.

Egyptian Is Accused Of Picking Quarrel With Student Council

After reading Tuesday's Daily Egyptian, our minds are confused. What's this incident of "borrowing" the name, which is the subject of the article? Can anyone explain to the student council what happened to the Egyptian, especially if it is someone's private life?

We are deeply ashamed for the acts of some students who do not know better than to spend that particular night on a dance floor in disregard not only to the local president but also to this country and what it stands for. Their thoughtlessness and bad taste appear even more incredible in the light of a moving example of loyalty and respect set by several thousand German students in Berlin who gathered during the same night in honor of the dead "Berliner," John F. Kennedy.

Students Cannot Afford To Ignore Political Events As They Unfold

Do you comprehend and appreciate the future significance of civil rights or the economic policies of the current Administration? As prospective leaders of our society, we are deeply concerned with the type of citizens that our country needs.

Interested students, why not attend the next meeting of one of the campus political organizations and learn what is necessary for knowledgeable and responsible citizenship?

Tonight At 7:30:
Frosh-Varsity Game Opens Basketball Season For Salukis

It will be business as usual in the Men's Gymnasium here tonight, with the annual Freshmen-Varsity intrasquad basketball game getting the hardwood season off to a flying start.

Sponsored for the second year by the SIU Spirit Council, tip-off time is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. The Southern Illinois Women's Gymnastics Club will perform as an added attraction at 7 p.m.

All proceeds of the game will be turned over to the Athletic Scholarship Fund and to the Spirit Council. Admission prices will be $1.75 for adults and 50 cents for SIU students with activity cards.

Coach Jack Hartman's starting lineup may be dotted with sophomores tonight, as he gives his youngsters an opportunity to see action and their way into starting positions. Heading the list of second-year men is Lloyd Stovall, 6-3 center from Memphis. Stovall will play the low position in Hartman's high-low post offense.

Other sophomores who are likely starters are Foyd O'Neal, 6-5 forward from Philadelphia, and George McNeil, 6-2 guard from St. Louis. McNeil would have to edge senior Eldon Bigham in order to make the first five tonight.

Paul Henry, the Saluki floor general from Indiana, is an established competitor at one of the backcourt slots. The senior playmaker owns the highest average of any of the members of the squad, hitting just under 12 points per game last season. Hartman's other starter will be Joe Ramsey, 6-3 junior forward from Sonderval.

Freshman coach George Tubbs sends his heralded youngsters into the fray with high hopes, not only against the varsity, but for the rest of the season as well. He feels he has the best freshman squad he's had at Southern.

The frosh will be sparked by their fine-shooting guard, Walt Frazier, Atlanta, Ga. Frazier, 6-4, is now playing at the backcourt spot, where this lithe figure to get more mileage out of him.

Included in the probable starting lineup are a couple of Belleville recruits, Roger Becchiold and Dave Benning.

Others expected to see their share of action are Ray Krapf, Highland, Ralph Johnson, Trenton, and Joe Klosterman, Breese.

Group pictures of the soccer team will be taken at 8:45 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20 in Muckelroy Auditorium.

A bevy of beautiful female gymnasts from the Southern Illinois Women's Gymnastic Club scored a resounding triumph over the University of Illinois Women's Gymnastic universe, 79 1/2 to 38 1/2, here Friday night in the SIU Men's Gymnasium.

Local fans turned out in full force to cheer the local gals on their first victory in Southern Illinois. It was the first open women's gymnastics meet ever held in the Midwest.

In the battle for the all-around championship, two of the area girls thrilled the crowd with their tightly-contested efforts to gain the individual title. In the end, it was Judy Dunham, 17, a senior at Carbondale Community High School, who prevailed.

Miss Schaezner, a 1963 USGF national all around and19-year-old Southern Illinois sophomore, was a slight favorite before the competition began. She won the balance beam and floor exercise events and was second in vaulting.

Adventures In Japan
Recalled By Kristoff

If the people who think American college athletes get special treatment ever went to Japan, they'd never complain again about the way athletes are treated at home, one SIU wrestler said.

"The athletes are treated like kings," said Larry Kristoff, a Saluki wrestler and holder of the National AAA heavyweight wrestling crown.

Kristoff and three other wrestlers, under the guidance of Jim Wilkinson, SIU wrestling coach, participated in the Tokyo International Sports Week late this summer. They brought home two gold medals for first place and two silver medals for second place finishes.

"Everything we wanted they had for us," Kristoff recalled.

"The Japanese have more respect for athletes than we do here in America.

And then, a bit wistful, he added:

"Over there a national champion is someone important, like a senator or congressman.

Kristoff, a massively built 220-pounder, said that this respect can be particularly embarrassing to a man—and especially to a husky American.

"When we registered in this one hotel, two small girls came out and carried my suitcases up two flights of stairs for me.

Psychology Prize
Offered Students

Psychology students have been invited to enter papers in competition for cash awards given by the Illinois Psychological Association, according to Chairman David Ehrenfreund of the Psychology Department.

Cash awards of $100 will be given in each of four categories: best independent psychological research study by both graduate and undergraduate students, and best theoretical paper by both graduate and undergraduate students.

Any SIU student with a major or minor in psychology is eligible, Ehrenfreund said. All entries must be sponsored by a faculty member, and submitted by Jan. 31. Award-winning papers are to be read by their authors at the 1964 spring meeting of the Illinois Psychological Association.

Cosmopolitan Editor Stresses Markets In Conference Talks

"The magazine writer's success lies in analyzing markets, and knowing them intimately," James Palmer, executive editor of "Cosmopolitan" Magazine, told conference participants at the SIU Journalism Department.

Palmer was headline speaker at the conference, directed by James L.C. Ford of the SIU Journalism Department.

"The evening was sponsored by the Department of Journalism, the University Extension Division and Beta Sigma Phi women's national professional journalism fraternity.

The morning and afternoon talks by Palmer, the morning session devoted to non-fiction and the afternoon to fiction. Discussion and questions and answers followed.

Special consultants were J. Joseph Leonard, professor at Union; Charles D. Neal, College of Education professor; and How to do, of experts, and Frank Samuel, Station WJFP, Herrin, continuity writer. All three men, as well as Ford, teach writing courses at SIU.
