Frosh Treece Sings Blues, 'Hears'Blues' at Job Too

By Evelyn Augustine

With a 4.7 grade average, not many students would be "singing the blues." But Byron Treece has time and talent for both along with sputtering into his busy schedule a part-time job at the Sectioning Center.

After listening to his fellow students "singing the blues" day after day—"I simply have to drop this course"—he goes home at night and does a little singing himself.

And the songs he sings are from a guitar, comes from the musical heart of America.

"I'm an avid fan of Josh White," the tall, dark-haired freshman said. "Performing alone, singing..."

The soft-spoken young singer can choose his songs, arrangements and times of practice.

Well-groomed, neatly attired and just the opposite of the typical Bohemian folk singer image, Treece first began playing the guitar about six years ago while attending summer camp at Little Grassay.

"One of the counselors played a guitar and taught me a little bit about it. At the end of the summer, I bought my first one," he recalled.

Singing alone hasn't seemed to hinder Treece's opportunity for performing. He has sung for the Folk Arts Society, Le Master's Music Shop, the Harrisburg Country Club, and will appear before the Lions Club Oct. 29.

But the taste of applause, as slight as it may have been, hasn't earned his head nor changed his goals in life. He's a pre-medicine student and intends to pursue that field no matter what develops in his musical life.

"Of course, I'd like to record if given the opportunity, but my education comes first," Treece said.

Letter to the Editor

Statute on Council Quoted

As much as I dislike to disturb the status quo of student thought concerning the University Student Council, I must say to the call for all student opinion is alienated by the fact that the council is presented by Joe K. Beer in his recent letters concerning the University Student Council, I have no personal quarrel with the students of the University. I feel that his past letters to the Daily Egyptian show his inability to be desired in the way of knowledge and understanding of the subject which occupies his time. Mr. Beer bluntly misinterprets my statements, he says, "As things now stand under the University statutes the total enrollment of the All-University Student Council is to be eight students, four from the Columbia campus and four from the Edwardsville campus."

This statement, which is the whole basis for this particular argument of Mr. Beer, is not true. Upon undertaking any sort of knowledgeable reading of the new University Statutes anyone would plainly see that the document makes no statement whatever. In fact the only mention of membership is in a single sentence stating, "The Student Council shall be composed of members elected from year to year by the student body. This statement implies no more than that any students, with the hope that his future interpretations of the statute may serve to add a better foundation."

H. Murphy
President
University Student Council

Mr. Murphy quotes the statute correctly. The 8-member group mentioned by Mr. Beer will serve until it decides to have new members at the beginning of the new council in accordance with the University statutes.

Scientists Developing New Math To Study Man's Nervous System

By Bryan Evans
Copley News Service

One of the worries of the world today is the ability to destroy appears greater than his ability to create. Moreover, the rate of progress in the purely physical arts is not as great as the progress in the art of regulating and improving the relationships among physical phenomena. Far too far ahead of society.

In the last of the so-called behavioral sciences has been their lack of a mathematical description of human problems. The physicists found a mathematics already made for them. The biologists were not so lucky and the psychology of the brain, if they were so lucky. There was no good way for them to count their phenomena of importance.

Where Kerner, Percy Differ

The voters will do much more on Nov. 3 than choose the President and Vice President. They will elect a third of the Senate, half of the Representatives, many governors and thousands of legislators. Academic political efforts.

The Keating-Kennedy race in New York stands out among Senate battles. Of politics and personal attacks, and Pennsylvania where a very able and popular state official, Mr. Blunt, best the organization Democratic primary candidate is going down to the wire against Sen. Hugh Scott, Republican moderate. In Wisconsin, Sen. William Proxmire, Joe McCarthy's successor and a right-winger, is getting, a regular battle against a liberal Democrat who seeks a third term to which he is entitled.

Without doubt the most important governor's race here in Illinois where a Democratic incumbent Otto Kerner is battled hard by Charly J. Perry, board chairman of the Chicago Board of Trade.

In certain ways, Kerner and Percy are extremely similar. Both are, friendly, attractive, intelligent, successful. Both talk well. Both make excellent impression upon meeting. There are also many differences, and a big one that the voters ought to take pains to know about.

Percy Eyes 1968

Let us first try to understand Mr. Kerner and what he will do to righting on being a first-rate administrator of the state's affairs. If Percy is elected he will do exactly as he wants. He is becoming a leading candidate for the Republican nomination for President in 1968. Pressure of the inevitable candidacy will be so great as to allow him, a political service, far less time than Gov. Kerner for the urgent business at Springfield.

This assumes Goldwater's theory that the Republicans have won the 1964 election and that he will be in the White House and the new Congress will have a majority.

What's in it for Kerner?

The voters ought to consider whether the brains of the virus have won the capitalist world. The voters ought to consider how to destroy the brain is possible. They ought to consider the answers to these questions and explain career opportunities in the Chicago area.

Otte Kerner is not running for the presidency. He wants to continue the solid, sound work he has been doing for 100,000 people. His name is the biggest, most populous state. In the fields of mental health, fiscal management, social welfare, education and the arts, still the system, the new science of the brain synapses have beleaguered a month ago. Otto Kerner has been in the White House for the past few years. He has been in the White House for years. He has been in the White House for the past few years.

One day has been spent on the decision making and output signals to the muscles and the electrical activity of the nervous system.

Who Can Cry Scandal

Yet Percy's party is a one to cry scandal. Illinois Republicans purchased a Senate seat 10 years for Lerner. Periodically, every since Illinois Republicans have blackened their state with scandals in the past decade. Bill Thompson, Frank L. Smith, Dwight H. Green, William G. Stratton and Orville E. Hodge.

The Illinois voter when he sees the scandal-ridden history of the Republican party in his state ought to be grateful he has the opportunity to keep Otto Kerner at the governor's desk.

Bye Bye Bookworm

According to a recent American Institute of Public Opinion, six out of 10 adults questioned said that the last time they could remember reading a book—other than the Bible—was more than a year ago. Among college graduates, one out of four had not read a book in the last 12 months. This does not say much for the public, and shows the ease in shuffling off the practice of reading once out of college.

The democratic principle that the people shall partake in the governing process suffers also.

The electrical charges that are sent through this maze can be measured within the cells by electrodes only about five one-millions of an inch thick. These electrodes do the observing. They can report to a computer.

Here is the true raw material of the new mathematics. There is a way to count and to chart. From here on McCann contends that the computer has to sift and choose information, correlate information from the various parts of the nervous system and ultimately produce the hidden order in the system.

Here is where the new kind of mathematics comes into the operation. McCann says that it is not comparable to any kind of mathematics used by physicists or chemists. Actually, he said, four large computers have been involved in the process in conjunction with a scientist in the School of Medicine.

The team brings together doctors, psychologists, biologists, physicists, mathematicians and scientists in the field of computer science and systems analysis.

How far has this new mathematics, this new science of the nervous system progressed?

"Well," McCann said, "we are as far along as Newton was in physics, certainly not anything like Einstein. We have some degenerating, but if he is right, the Caltech brain study has laid the basis on which a gigantic structure can be built."

To many it may come as a surprise that man may obey the function "know thyself," with electronic help.

COLUMBIA, S.C. -- President Johnson said Monday in a speech in South Carolina state capital, that a flocking to Moscow of Khrushchev would be published within the next few days.

There was no mention of Nikita Khrushchev.

As he started his last full week of campaigning, the GOP nominee spoke in the released and almost folksy manner that characterized most of his last few weeks on the stump.

Vote with your brains, not your "hearts and emotions," he urged a crowd at Salisbury, Md., which police estimated at 5,000.

Goldwater flew here from receptions at Salisbury, Md., and Dover, Del. He was at the control of a plane almost every day.

As the future defies imagination," he said.

"First, our nuclear power must be great enough that any potential enemy knows that a nuclear attack would be suicide," Johnson outlined his own policy.

"Second, we must exercise great care against any use of this power to destroy the world, to poison its atmosphere, or to cripple any human beings.

"Third, we must speed the development of nuclear energy for peaceful use.

Citing the development of nuclear energy for peaceful use, Johnson said: "Do you honestly think that after all these years in politics, that I don't know the easy way to get votes.

But the Republican presidential candidate said it wasn't for him.

"I'm asking for something for nothing?" he asked in defining this philosophy. "The federal government will set the pace. We will unleash the potential enemy knows that a nuclear attack would be suicide."
British Set Program To Reduce Imports

LONDON—Prime Minister Harold Wilson’s new Labor government announced a sweeping new emergency program Monday designed to reduce a $2-billion gap between British earnings and spending abroad.

A government statement said the program, to be put into effect immediately, included:

Walker, Rusk Hold Talks About Trade

WASHINGTON -- Britain’s new foreign secretary gave Secretary of State Dean Rusk categorical assurances Monday that steps taken to cut imports into Britain are temporary and will be reduced and eliminated as soon as possible.

U.S. officials earlier had expressed their understanding and approval of the measures, which the British government said was a blow to U.S. export trade and therefore to this country’s international balance of payments.

U.S. officials said the steps taken by Britain are running at more than $1.5 billion a year and about 25 per cent of the imports will be affected by Britain’s new 15 per cent surcharge on most foreign manufactures and food.

A State Department spokesman disclosed the assurances offered by Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker to Rusk when the two met Monday in the opening session of two days of policy conferences.

Gordon Walker holds the foreign policy position in the new Labor cabinet of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Over the weekend, U.S. officials said, the Wilson government notified the United States that it intended to impose the surcharge to discourage imports into Britain and also to enable the government to promote British exports—which are now expected to compete more vigorously with U.S. exporters to other countries.

Other topics covered in the State Department talks, according to U.S. officials, included the war situation, the situation in the Middle East, and the prospective struggle in the United Nations over Russia’s refusal to pay certain assessments assessed by the U.N. General Assembly.

There is a prospect of a flight over whether the Soviets should lose their assembly vote in the U.N.

Earlier Gordon Walker expressed conviction that the changes in the Soviet leadership will not affect the Soviet Union’s foreign policies.

Talking with newsmen after his meeting with Rusk and Undersecretary Bob Shanks, the foreign secretary said that policies are based on “fundamental Soviet interests, not personalities.”

500 Prisoners Stage Sit-Down In Maryland

JESSUP, Md.,--Rebellious prisoners--five to a cell and tossed it out of their cells at the Maryland House of Correction Monday night after sitting a sit-down strike.

The new disturbances at the medium-security prison, where 500 inmates staged a full-scale riot Friday night, broke out after an afternoon sit-down at the prison shops.

Vernon L. Pepersack, the state commissioner of correction, said the inmates sat down in the industrial shop and the laundry after charging a prison guard with brutality.

It was the same guard involved in an accident in the dining hall Friday night which touched off a three-hour spree. Windows were broken, mattresses, blankets and clothes were burned and plumbing was ripped from walls. Damage was estimated at about $25,000.

The sit-down ended Monday when the 500 inmates left the industrial area at dinner time, and are then resumed quietly their work and their grievances had been corrected. He said most had taken part in the rioting Friday.

When the prisoners want to dinnner and then to their cells for the night, they put logs in the fire, and the cell doors are locked.

In Maryland the prison officials immediately began an inventory of all shops for missing tools or instruments that might be used to damage the prison or inflict injury on the guards.

Notre Dame Gets Sugar Bowl Offer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Sugar Bowl has offered an undefeated Notre Dame—with no strings attached—a berth in the New Year's classic here.

Notre Dame is waiting, Peter Finney wrote, "until their record is more solid before making a commitment."

Still ahead for the Irish are Navy in Philadelphia; Pitt away; Michigan State, home; Iowa, home; and Southern Cal. away.

Six Named To Interpret Game Rules

CHICAGO (AP) — Six basketball rules interpreters, who will hold meetings in 21 centers throughout the state beginning Tuesday, have been named by the Illinois High School Association.

They are Ed Bronson, Chicago; Frank Falzone, Rockford; Joe Pfeil, Champaign; Tom Frederic, Chicago; Ernest Lieber, Chicago, and Ted Schuster, Chester.

These are the more significant rules changes this season.

Officials' jurisdiction begins 10 minutes before the scheduled starting time of a game. Formally, it was with the beginning of play.

Whenever there is an intermission or time-out, the timer shall sound a warning signal 15 seconds before play is to be resumed. If a team is not ready to resume play promptly, it will be penalized for a technical foul.

Substitution privileges following a violation are now the same as for any other substitution opportunity. A player who has been withdrawn may not reenter during the same stopped-clock period.

A disqualified player must be replaced in one minute.

When a free throw is missed and the ball is in motion alive, clock will start when the ball touches or is touched by a player on the court.

A player is out-of-bounds when he touches the floor or any object which is out-of-bounds. The ball is out-of-bounds when it touches the ceiling, overhead equipment or supports.

Additional restrictions have been placed on the actions and movements of a coach and other bench personnel while a game is in progress. Coaches must remain seated on the bench except at certain times and during certain situations which are now clearly listed in the rules.

The BIG Inch

The BIG inch — lonesome by itself, but when incorporated into a DAILY EGYPTIAN classified, it is mighty big. Let's see, 1 inch times 10,000 (that's our circulation) is 10,000 inches. At a rate of only $1.00 for 20 words, that's nearly 10,000 inches for $1.00!

Who will read your 10,000 inches? Students just like you — faculty members just like you — families just like yours — people just like the people you know.

You can plainly see that if you have something for sale, a service to offer or have merely lost your favorite roommate, the DAILY EGYPTIAN's the best place to look.

Massey, Hart Again Named Egyptian's Players of Week

Sparkling performances by two Saluki offensive stars pro vided Southern's gray cloud of defeat with a silver lining Saturday.

Quarterback Jim Hart and sophomore and Tom Massey played brilliant football in Southern's 20-18 victory over the Duke loss to Northern Michigan and were picked, both for the second time this season, the Daily Egyptian's back and halfback.

Hart, a Morton Grove junior, played the best game of his two-year Saluki grid car reer against the stubborn Wildcats. The veteran signal caller, after a brilliant nine-play, 60-yard, 1:44 passing record in his rookie year last season, re-wrote his own single game record Saturday when he completed 19 of 28 passes for 200 yards and three touchdowns.

Hart has now completed 60 of 148 passes for 940 yards and 10 touchdowns this year.

Massey, a Runnymeade, N.J., passing whiz, caught six of Hart's touchdown passes for 89 yards and two touchdowns.

Massey, forced out of the Saluki two previous grid em counters because of his injury, once again leads the Salukis in passing yards gained with a total of 312.

Ohio State Holds Onto First Place
In Associated Press Grid Rankings

By The Associated Press

Ohio State's explosive eleven, which burst into first place in The Associated Press rankings a week ago, maintained its rating as the nation's No. 1 college football team Monday.

The power running Buckeyes with straight victory, a 28-6 drubbing of Wisconsin Saturday, convinced most of the members on the panel of sports writers and sportscasters to list them again on top in the weekly AP poll.

The unbeaten Buckeyes drew 38 of 47 first place votes for a commanding lead over fast-rising Notre Dame, which barely edged out Alabama for second place.

Ohio State netted 439 points to 377 for Notre Dame, Alabama received eight first place votes to six for Notre Dame but the Irish piled up enough second place votes to emerge seventh, two slots ahead of the Crimson Tide's 380.

The Irish made it five victories without a defeat by wallowing Stanford 78-6 and earning the following tribute from Trojan Coach John Ralston: "That's the strongest football team I've seen in my 13 years of coaching."

Alabama, an overwhelming pick to win the Southeastern Conference championship, was hard put to win its sixth straight with a 17-14 triumph over highly regarded Florida.

Arkansas, the only other team to draw a first place vote outside the big three, retained its fourth place ranking with a 17-0 breather against Wichita. It was the unbeaten Razorbacks' sixth straight.

Fifth-ranked Nebraska also won its sixth straight, 21-3 over Colorado. It was the Cornhusker's 13th in a row over a two-year span.

Texas, which had its unbeaten string snapped at 15 by the Razorbacks Oct. 17, retained sixth place with a 6-3 triumph over Rice.

Louisiana State, held to a 3-3 tie by Tennessee, dropped from seventh to 10th. Florida's first defeat in five games, a 33-3 loss to Arkansas, dropped the Hurricanes ninth to 10th.

Here's the official listing:

1. Ohio State.
2. Notre Dame.
3. Alabama.
4. Arkansas.
5. Nebraska.
6. Texas.
7. Oregon.
8. Georgia Tech.
9. Louisiana State.
10. Florida.
