The 44-member choir will present a two-part program, the first featuring Brahms’ “Der Abend,” and Lassun’s “Halbiter Deo.” Janet Cox and Larry Sledge, both seniors majoring in music, will be featured as student conductors.

The program will be presented at 7 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

The temperature in the library almost matched that of outside earlier this week when the air conditioning was turned off while workers “balanced” the system.

“Balancing” in the process involved in testing, starting, checking outputs, resetting and altering the entire system after putting the air conditioning for the new part of the building into operation, according to William A. Volk, supervisor of construction.

Friday will be the last day a student can register for summer quarter until June 11 and 12. According to John Graham, coordinator of Academic Advisement, Central registration for the summer session will be on June 15.

Friday is also the last day of this term that a student can register for fall quarter. Registration for fall will resume on June 29.

Graduate Orientation Program Offered in Ag and Language

A language and agriculture orientation program for foreign graduate students in agriculture will be offered for the fourth time at SIU this summer, beginning June 29. The eight-week course, ending Aug. 22, is designed to help foreign students become accustomed to conversational English and to acquaint them with common agricultural terms and practices prevalent in the U.S. and States. Both phases of the program are intended to smooth the academic path for the students when they begin their graduate work next fall in various universities throughout the nation.

The work is a joint program of the SIU School of Agriculture and the SIU Office of Research and Projects.

The 1964 program has been altered slightly from those of the last three summers. An intensive study of English language will be given the first two weeks before work in agriculture begins. During the final six weeks the students will have a period of English instruction in the mornings and will have general agriculture in the afternoon. Saturdays will be given to field trips for observing various kinds of farming activities, rural life, farm marketing and education.

During the first two weeks of the program students have come from Canada and South American countries, Mexico, Africa, Spain, Finland, Turkey, Formosa, Japan, and Thailand. They have enrolled in many American universities for graduate work, including, California, Colorado, Cornell, Purdue, Iowa State, Michigan State and North Dakota State Universities.

The Programming Board’s Enrollment Begins for Edwardsville

Students now enrolled at the Carbondale campus who plan to enroll for classes at the Edwardsville campus this summer should begin doing so now, according to John H. Schnabel, registrar and director of admissions.

A request to the Edwardsville admissions office will give the student time to complete code sheets for data processing to prepare registration permits. The student may present his latest grade report to the enrollment center at the Alton or East St. Louis branches by June 15 and complete the code sheets at that time.

The student should seek advice from his Carbondale advisor. Advisement is also available at the Edwardsville campus.

A transcript is necessary for advisement at Edwardsville.

English Club Plans Evaluation of Verse

The last English Club meeting of the school year will be held at 7:30 p.m., today at the Home Economics Lounge.

The purpose of the meeting is to give both faculty and students the opportunity of hearing and evaluating all verse which has been submitted and is being considered for possible inclusion in "The Search, Fourth Series."

Tale of Two Cities' Tonight

On Channel 8 Film Classics

Film Classics will present Charles Dickens' great classic, "Tale of Two Cities," at 8 p.m. today on WSIU-TV.

The novel is about the French Revolution and two men who bear a remarkable resemblance to each other.

The story is further complicated when both discover they love the same woman. The cast is headed by Ronald Colman, Elizabeth Allen, Edna May Oliver, Donald Woods, Basil Rathbone and Blanche Yurka.

Other features are:

- 5 p.m., What's New: "Rio Grande" - Traveling south on the great river, the viewer finds out what the rest of the Pecos was like not so long ago.
- 5:30 p.m., Encore: Far Eastern Art - "Drama and Reality."
- 6 p.m., Economic: "The End Is Just the Beginning."
- 7 p.m., About People: "The Newcomers" - The program concerns the difficulties of immigrant families in accepting and being accepted by the American communities they move into.

At 7:30 p.m. will be held "Dally Journey: "Hunter in the Jungle"" - This program has some exciting films of a bare-handed fight with alligators as an animal importer attempts to capture wild animals alive.

Job Forms Offered Foreign Students

Forms for summer work permits for foreign students are now available at the International Student Center.

The forms will be given to foreign students through their advisers. Jobs are limited to students who need funds for living expenses, and who are enrolled for the following academic year.

John M. Lehman, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said this will be the last year that approved schools will be given permission to grant summer employment permits, because of the job shortage for unskilled labor for United States residents.

Gilbert to Address Young Republicans

Republican State Sen. John Gilbert of Carbondale will be a guest at the last meeting of the Young Republicans for the school year, at 7:30 p.m. today in the Morris Library Lounge.

A spokesman said that plans would be made for the summer and for next year, and a report would be presented on the activities of the students for Percy committee.

The Young Republicans invited those who participated in the Mock Political Convention to attend the meeting to learn more about the GOP and its policies and programs.

Nehru Dies at 74; Rites to Be Today

NEW DELHI—India—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, a quick-tempered aristocrat known to the world as “Mr. India,” died of a heart attack Wednesday and left this grief-stricken nation in a leadership vacuum. He was 74.

The senior member of Nehru’s Cabinet, Home Minister Gulzari Lal Nanda, was quickly chosen as acting prime minister and all his ministerial colleagues agreed to stay on in a caretaker government. But the transition—smooth as it was—left unanswered the question: “After Nehru, who?”

The question, asked for Rusk Heads Group

Going to Funeral

WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and a delegation of U.S. officials left for India Wednesday to attend the funeral of Prime Minister Nehru.

With them on the special Air Force plane were Y.B. Chavan, India’s defense minister; Ambassador B.K. Nehru, a second cousin of the prime minister; and members of a high level Indian defense team headed by P.B.B. Rao, permanent defense secretary.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who was to have met with Chavan on Thursday, had to cancel because he had gone to the airport. Chavan had been visiting this country and negotiating for arms aid.

In the U.S. delegation with Rusk were U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles, Aat, Secretary of State Phillips Tabbet, in charge of Middle East and South Asian affairs, and Aat, Secretary of State Robert Manning, in charge of public affairs.

U.S., Russia Announce Treaty Providing for Consular Offices

WASHINGTON—President Johnson announced Wednesday day an historic consular treaty with the Soviet Union and termed the event “a significant step” in building understanding between the American and Soviet peoples.

The treaty, announced simultaneously in Washington and Moscow, will provide for the opening of consular offices in the two countries. It is the first treaty ever negotiated between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Johnson, in keeping with American custom, today opened a schedule calling for funeral rites within 24 hours. The body was to be carried in state through the streets of the city and then at 1 p.m.

Nehru will be cremated near the site where Mohandas K. Gandhi, his chief in years of struggling for independence from Britain, was cremated after he was assassinated in 1948.

years but never answered by Nehru, will be resolved conclusively only when the ruling Congress party picks a man to succeed Nehru.

The party’s choice will be asked by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan to form a permanent government.

Handicapped since Jan. 7 by a paralytic stroke, Nehru had refused to say whom he believed should succeed him.

Nehru was the idol of India’s minority millions and a leader of the world’s nonaligned, the neutralists. Indians wept at the loss of the man who had run India for more than a quarter century.

Indians wept at the loss of the man who had run India for more than a quarter century. Life is out. The light is out. “After Nehru, who?”

President Johnson said the world has lost a leader who served all humanity in “tears, fear, a world free from war.”

Soviet Premier Khrushchev called Nehru ‘an outstanding statesman, a man of great intellect and a big heart’ who worked with all his energy for peace.

The treaty, included in the 17-page agreement, is expected to sign for Russia. In announcing the completion of lengthy negotiations on the agreement, Johnson hailed the treaty as “a significant step in our continuing efforts to increase contacts and understanding between the American people and the peoples of the Soviet Union.”

The United States and the Soviet Union have entered into a number of treaties which also involved other signatory countries.

June 10 Set

As a Target

For Cloture

WASHINGTON—The Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, indicated Wednesday he was trying to arrange a vote to move on the move to shut down the civil rights debate.

This would mean the filing of a cloture petition on Monday, June 5. Under the Senate rule on this debate-namely, procedure, the vote comes on the second day after the petition is presented. The petition requires 60 signatures.

Mansfield mentioned June 10 as the date he was striving for in talking to newsmen and pronounced for its 65th day of civil rights debate.

He said he hoped the first week in June would be used for explanation of a revised civil rights bill introduced by four Senate leaders, and for speeches by Southerners explaining why they do not like the statute.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said it would take his close colleague anything wrong with the revised measure.

He said he hoped the first week in June would be used for explanation of a revised civil rights bill introduced by four Senate leaders, and for speeches by Southerners explaining why they do not like the statute.

Southern Players Will Present Three Plays
Judged Best in University Playwriting Class

The Southern Players will present three original one-act plays, written and produced by SIU students, in a performance at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Southern Playhouse. A critique panel will review the productions, following the announcement that the Sunday music concert on June 7th would be counted as conversation credit has been retracted. No credit will be given for this event.

SURPRISE – Rita Whitesel (right) who is retiring in June from the School of Home Economics, admires gifts presented by Miss Whitesel on behalf of Miss Whitesel’s students at a recent surprise party.

Rita Whitesel Retiring After 36-Year Career

by Bea Allen

When she was seven years old, she made a bonnet for her doll on a treadle sewing machine. She had to stand in order to reach the foot pedal.

Thus began what was to become the career for Rita Whitesel, associate professor of clothing and textiles. She is retiring in June after teaching 36 1/2 years in Illinois schools.

Miss Whitesel is a native of Charleston and a graduate of Eastern Illinois University. She has seven brothers and sisters, all of whom attended Eastern, making the largest family to do so at that school.

She received her master's degree from Columbia University. She also studied at the American Academy of Art, Evanston Academy of Art, the Fashion Academy at Rochester Center, New York, and Syracuse University.

Before coming to SIU in 1955, she was at the University of Illinois. Prior to that, she taught at Hinsdale, Evanston, New Trier High School in Winnetka, the school of Domestic Science and Arts in Chicago, Stevens College, Western Illinois University, Indiana State Teachers College, and the University of Wyoming.

She has also been a designer and dressmaker in Chicago.

Miss Whitesel credits Evanston and New Trier High Schools for giving her her best background in teaching, since they require better-than-average teachers, she noted. She said that while she was teaching at the University of Illinois, many students asked her for her philosophy of teaching. She set up 15 points she said she has always tried to use for her guide and to pass on to others.

The points include being humble, being a teacher not a dictator, having respect for individual differences, treating students as you want to be treated, being fair, honest, sincere and not being afraid of the truth.
Which Way to Go?

Today the city of Carbondale is at the crossroads. Now that it has approved bond issues for schools, parks, and street improvements, the time has come for this community either to make a transition to a larger scale city operation or to remain under the same system used by the city’s founding fathers. Carbondale still functions under the city council system. Although this democratic procedure received hearty approval of citizens back in 1893, the idea of a great-grandpa’s five departments and keep fantastic rise in traffic will be an equally useful system to-day administration of these problems.

Person to administer its affairs. True, the city overseer for the daily affairs. True, the city council composed of five little governments under the city council system. Although this democratic procedure received hearty approval of citizens back in 1893, the idea of a great-grandpa’s five departments and keep fantastic rise in traffic will be an equally useful system to-day administration of these problems.

A city manager plan in Carbondale would eliminate much of the confusion characteristic of so many of the planning problems confronting the Carbondale of the future. The solution is a city manager plan. Under this democratic system an appointed manager co-ordinates and supervises the city’s affairs but is responsible to the city council for orders and policies.

Educated in public administration, a city manager could greatly aid Carbondale’s future. At the same time he could solve some of today’s problems.

The city manager plan is the plan of today which will work tomorrow.

New View of Forced ROTC: Student Reaps Cultural Gain

I have read with interest and a growing uneasiness the fluctuating outpourings pro and con (as far as few could) compulsory ROTC. It seems to me that these pettifogging prolixities generate much heat and little light.

Viewed objectively, can it be said that there is any fundamental difference between ROTC and any other required course in the General Studies curriculum? I daresay that a reasonable number of students might be found who are bitterly opposed to being compelled to devote their valuable time to English, chemistry, music appreciation, mathematics or physical education, when they would much prefer to concentrate in familiar fields.

The desirability of broad exposure seems to be well established. A student who comes to the University with a fair knowledge of the military reaps a cultural gain from his contact with ROTC in the same manner as he derives benefit from enforced exposure to physics, social sciences, languages, social sciences, and the like. True, there is a distinction, not really a difference, between ROTC and any subject master in that the wearing of a uniform sets it apart. This, too, is part and parcel of the education process which seeks to acquaint the student with as many new and varied thoughts and experiences as possible.

Don’t sell ROTC short. Some students like it, just as there are some who like the required courses in literature, music, mathematics, physics and history. The University administration apparently believe that our students need to acquire some knowledge of the military. There has been no evidence that they are mistaken.

Democrats in GOP Disguise Brew Convention Confusion

The SIU Mock Political Convention nominated the Goldwater Lodge on the fifth ballot when 400-plus Goldwater delegates swung their support to the Goldwater (unrealistically, Nixon was not even nominated) to prevent complete domination of the convention by Democrats.

The convention's major defects were obvious to the casual observer. Delegations split between Democrats and Republicans, several were "chaired" by Democrats. Three even had delegates men from the ranks of the Student Peace Union and Student Nonviolent Freedom Committee, this group, controlling entire delegations, was narrowly able to prevent Goldwater's nominating on the first ballot in which he got more votes than Rockefeller and Lodge combined.

Delegations clearly committed to Goldwater in July equally capable of voting for a variety of candidates tomorrow. Confusion reached its peak when the Arizona chairman refused to nominate Goldwater, because its chairman was a Democrat.

On the second ballot Arizona did no better, splitting its delegation for the liberty candidates. Southern delegates voted for liberal candidates although reason will see these states committed to a strong state's rights candidate.

However, Indiana, Missouri, Texas and South Carolina were more realistic than the majority of delegations. They were disturbed for the candidates although reasons likely to receive the actual vote at the Convention.

SH: Your votes should be given credit for representing the "liberal persuasion." Your vote is not a contest with the Republicans but a contest with the candidates backed by Democrats.

The convention was a sign of the times, recognizing the participation of young people in politics, Regrettably the SIU Mock Political Convention was a complete failure if it was to represent the actual proceedings of the Grand Old Party's 1964 convention. The outcome could be the same, but the convention will be composed of Republicans dedicated to principles around which they can all unite.

Residence Council Seeks Help in Drive

For Radio Station

On Wednesday night, May 20, the Residence Hall Council unanimously voted their full support to the campus closed circuit AM radio station. This was not a novel idea for us. For the past few years RHL, has been solidly behind the campaign and now, we renew our pledge of support to this necessary complement to our program.

I urge anyone who is interested to take action on this in the form of petition, letter, or any other means. I ask anyone who can help us do so, whether they are staff, faculty or students. Our campaign to make it a success will prove beyond a reasonable doubt that we want it.

The Car Problem

THE ILLEGAL DRIVER

This student is not supposed to have his license. He is the only one who isn't wearing his seat belt. He's been cited before.

THE MOTOBIKER

This picture is not upside down. He's just wobbling. He's wearing his blue and white helmet. He's not obeying the rules.

THE INSURANCE MAN

He must take pity on the poor car insurance people who have to take this student's policy and pay for damages that aren't worth very much.

THE HONEST STUDENT

This student walks to campus and is in excellent shape, although he has no knowledge of the military, which is just as well.

THE MARRIED STUDENTS

Who ever said married couple garbed in a car? Nobody, of course. For this reason they are not the ones fighting the traffic laws.

THE FACULTY MEMBER

Faculty members are allowed cars. In certain cases this seems to be a place for the instructor and the students.
Six-Man Golf Squad to Play in College Division Finals

SIU's talented-laden golf squad will compete in the NCAA college division golf finals June 10-12 at Springfield, Mo.

Coach Lynn Holder’s Salukis, who recently finished the season with a fine 14-4 record, are one of the best small college teams in the nation at Springfield.

The squad is expected to compete in the college division finals rather than in the NCAA men’s tournament, which is for NCAA division I teams.

Entry for the I.T.F.F. nationals meet were not available at press time.

Backtown Benton Takes SIU Offer

Charles Bennett, backcourt of Benton High School’s Ranger football team last season, is the latest example of acceptance of a four-year athletic scholarship at Southern. Bennett is in the NC Backcourt tennis player, who brought brothers to the University School from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays.

The work on display was done in the field house, industrial education class 302.

St. Louis, Missouri Valley Conference and NCAA region.

The Salukis might not be concentrating too hard on the Bills, who figure to give them a shot at the Missouri Valley Conference title of the recent acceptance of an NCAA-stake college regional invitation.

The NCAA bid, received late Tuesday morning, was immediately accepted by Athletic Director Don Boydston and coach Abe Martin.

“We’re real excited at having an opportunity to participate in a post-season tournament,” said Martin after receiving a phone call from the NCAA committee.

The Salukis, who had won 17 in a row, had their sting snapped last Saturday by Parsons’ Tigers in the final game of a three-game series at Fairfield, Iowa. However, the Salukis will have to concentrate on the game at hand—meaning the Bills—if they want to take a 1-1 record into the four-team tournament to be held June 4-5 at Jackson, Tenn.

Abe Martin is uncertain as to which of his two star pitchers he will use against Youngstown University in the opening tournament game, the veteran coach will employ both Gene Vincent and Johnny Hotz against the strong Salukis.

Civil defense Stateswide Alarm

The first statewide Civil Defense warning soundoff will be held at 10:30 a.m. June 2, according to A. Frank Bridds, chairman of the SIU St. Louis chapter, and Civil Defense Committee.

Legislation enacted by the General Assembly provides for a test of public warning systems at the same time the first Tuesday of each month, there will be a one-minute siren that is the alert signal, followed by one minute of silence before one minute of low tones or short blasts of the “take cover” signal.

The Civil Defense warning differs from the weather signal in that there is no alert given on a storm, and that intermittent blasts are the only signal for taking cover.

A 19-year-old freshman gymnast, who returned to the campus for make-up exams, was fined in Circuit Court on charges of under-age drinking and indecent exposure.

The Office of Student Affairs said campus police found Frank Schmitz of Lafayette, I.S., lying in a pond at Oak-land and Campus Drive. The report said Schmitz was clad in a sweatshirt only.

Magistrate Robert Schwartz sentenced him to a $50 fine on the drinking charge and $25 fine on the exposure charge, $5 costs and 30 days in jail.

The sentence was suspended, however, on the recommendation of the Office of Student Affairs, with the provision that Schmitz return to his home.

Undefeated SIU Tennis Team Schedules Tough Invitation

SIU's tennis team will carry its undefeated record into a tournament meet at Fort Collins, Colo., this weekend.

The Salukis, who have beaten 15 opponents, will be facing some rugged competition including Big Ten and Missouri Valley Conference champions Indiana and Wichita along with Arizona, Texas A & M, host Colorado State and several other top collegiate teams.

Each team in the meet will be allowed four players to compete for singles championships and two doubles titles.

Coach Carl Sexton has picked his top four performers to go to the meet with Lance Lumsden to play at the number one spot, Pacho Castillo at number two, and Bob and Roy Sprengelmeyer at three and four.

The Sprengelmeyers are both undefeated in singles matches this season. Bob has won 16 in a row this year and in a row over the last two seasons while Roy has taken 14 consecutive wins this season and 31 out of 32 matches for the past two years.

Playing at the tough number one spot all season, Lumsden compiled an impressive 12-4 record in singles competition with two losses. However, were to Northwestern's Marty Rieschen, one of the finest amateur netters in the country.

Castillo has won 10 of his 13 singles matches, and like Lumsden, two of his losses came at the hands of a Northwestern opponent.

In the meet, each division winner will earn two points while a second-place finish will be worth one. As a result, the maximum number of points any team could score is 12. Coach Sexton feels that six or seven may be enough to win the title.

Play starts Saturday and the finals will be Sunday afternoon.
