Brandt ‘getting acquainted’ with SIU

By Wes Smith
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Warren W. Brandt arrived in Carbondale Tuesday night for two days of “getting acquainted” and “listening and learning.”

After a successful tour of the Carbondale area, Brandt said he will begin being briefed soon.

“This week I’ll be getting into a number of different things, discussing the budget, continuing contacts and primarily listening and learning,” he said.

Brandt is scheduled to meet with T. Richard Macher, vice president of development and services, Wednesday at 10 a.m. to discuss the proposed parking facilities in front of Farer Hall.

“I’m anxious to know about that parking lot,” he said. “I’ve heard comments on both sides, and I would like to see how the arguments weigh out.”

He said he is also still serving as a consultant at Virginia Commonwealth University and aiding the transition to an interim committee. He said the transition is “going smoothly.”

Brandt said he is making no plans for reorganizing SIU’s Office of the President or making appointments.

“I’ll be flying in the next couple of weeks. I’ll be here until Thursday afternoon next week and the in Thursday and Friday next week and Wednesday,” Brandt said.

“This week I’ll be getting into a number of different things, discussing the budget, continuing contacts and primarily listening and learning,” he said.

Brandt said he and his family “hope to move in the last week of November.”

“My wife was supposed to be taking to the movers this afternoon. There are still a lot of details to be worked out, but I would hope we’re in by the last week of next month,” he said.

“I don’t know what we’re going to do for Thanksgiving, it may get lost in the shuffle,” he laughed.

Brandt’s tentative itinerary for Wednesday and Thursday include meetings with students and faculty and tours of campus buildings.

After his meeting with Macher Wednesday morning, Brandt is scheduled to have lunch with a group of students in Trueblood Hall.

Other Wednesday plans include tours of the Home Economics Building and Morris Library. Wednesday evening he is scheduled to meet for a social hour with academic deans, and, following that, he has been invited to a slide presentation on SIU and Illinois coal at the Student Center auditorium.

Thursday Brandt is scheduled to meet with James Brown, chief of board staff, and is later set for a briefing on this year’s budget and the proposed budget for next year.

Some retro-peritoneal bleeding secondary to anticoagulation therapy.

The physician said he had earlier that there was “somewhat more risk than normal” for the surgery because Nixon had been taking anticoagulant drugs which left him prone to uncontrolled bleeding.

Lunger said after the surgery that there was no excessive bleeding.

“Immediate treatment of blood loss and relaxation of anti-coagulation therapy was instituted,” Lungren said.

Retro-peritoneal means behind the lining of Nixon’s abdominal area. Surgeons attached a plastic clip to a vein in Nixon’s groin area to keep blood clots from threatening the former president’s life.

After surgery, Nixon was described as “doing well” and making a normal recovery.

Nixon went into shock about 12:45 p.m., more than six hours after surgery, Lungren said.

Lunger said that while “vascular stability is still maintained at this time, the patient is still considered critical.”

Lunger’s statement was read by a hospital official.

Lunger had called the operation a success and said that if pejoratively there would be no more complications from the phlebitis Nixon suffered in his left leg.

At a news conference 30 minutes after the hour-long operation, Dr. Eldon Hickman, who performed it with two assisting surgeons, said, “Mr. Nixon is doing well...recovery in the normal manner.”

White House aides were keeping close touch on Nixon’s condition and one indicated that a possible visit Wednesday by President Ford to the former president was under consideration.

Ford was scheduled to be in Los Angeles Thursday for a campaign visit.

Gus can correct school files

Editor’s note: This is the first of several articles dealing with the Buckley Amendment that would give the student the right to review and inspect all files that a school might maintain relating to them.

By Mary E. Gardner

Gary Delsken
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A law giving students the right to review, inspect and correct all official school records, files and data directly related to them goes into effect Nov. 19 but it will be some time before anyone knows how well the law’s full implication.

“What it all boils down to,” said John Huffman, University legal counsel, “is a lack of educational understanding. (The writers of the law) fail to define some terms, making it hard to determine if you’re complying with the law.”

Huffman said it must be clearly determined, “what is a student?” and what is meant by “files.” He explained the law doesn’t differentiate between a full-time student and someone who is just taking a class, or two.

“From a philosophical standpoint, I think it’s good SIU has generally been advanced in saying that students are allowed to look at most of the material in their files,” Huffman explained.

Huffman said he is awaiting a congressional interpretation of the law that would allow him to determine exactly what it will encompass. He is also meeting Thursday in Champaign with legal counselors from other schools to review the law’s ramifications.

The law comes as part of an amendment to the “Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act,” signed into law by President Ford.

According to an Oct. 7 article in the “Chronicle of Higher Education,” the amendment, sponsored by Sen. James Buckley (R-N.Y.), has college administrators worried by its “very sweeping language.”

The amendment states, in part: “No funds shall be made available under any applicable program to any institution of higher education which effectively prevents...students the right to inspect and review all material, including that incorporated into each student’s cumulative record folder, intended for school use or to be available to parties outside the school system.”

Swinburne, dean of students, foresees problems with the new law. “I can tell you I am supportive of it but it will cause difficulties within the university.”

Swinburne said as many as “15 to 18” places on campus may exist where student files are kept. “We are going through the process of identifying all the areas (Continued On Page 3)

Illinois farm boy backs Peace Corps

By Laura Coleman Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

An Illinois farm boy from Calein doesn't get much of a chance to see things in other parts of the world, so he decided to join the Peace Corps and learn how to operate their farms more effectively.

Dick Taylor, one of three former Peace Corps volunteers and now residing in Illinois, told the Thursday evening meeting at the Student Center and Woody Hall, the Peace Corps gives one the language and understand farming in a tropical area.

"About 30 persons at SIU have shown a significant interest in the program, Taylor said, and he cited reasons why people would like to join, he said there is a chance to volunteer, do something for others," he said people like to be able to sacrifice some things such as television, a car, or money.

Second, people join the Peace Corps because the job opportunities in their fields are minimal. Areas he cited as being filled are teaching, liberal arts, and forestry.

Taylor described "the whole realm of travel" as a third reason for people joining the Peace Corps. He said people welcome the opportunity to use a foreign language.

A graduate of the University of Illinois with a degree in agricultural education, Taylor spent two years as a volunteer. He was given a choice of the general geographic area in which he wanted to work, and was assigned to Columbia.

He went through a three-month period of training in California before leaving the United States during which he learned enough Spanish to communicate with the people of the area.

"I was really into the Latin American thing," he said, because of a trip he made to Mexico.

Taylor acted as a farm advisor to the rural people and he another Peace Corps member served. He visited the farms regularly. "They accepted me very reluctantly, in the agriculture sense of the word. They ten or fifteen of them on their land, 15 let me work with them and five let me in on their actual farming," he said.

The townpeople, he said, "were really nice. They treated me as a member of the community," he said as he recalled beer-drinking and chaperoned dates.

When the Peace Corps began in 1961 under John F. Kennedy, Taylor said the program became very popular. In 1967, volunteers numbered 14,000, and now there are only half as many as are serving in the 60 countries participating in the Peace Corps program, according to Taylor.

He cited people choosing the Peace Corps as an alternative to the draft as a major factor in the large number of volunteers during the mid-1960's. Taylor added, that while approximately 50,000 people apply for positions with the Peace Corps, 25,000 are accepted. He said many are disqualified for a variety of legal and medical reasons.

The majority of volunteers are placed in South America, Africa, Asia, and the South Pacific region, Taylor said. He estimated that 30 per cent of those who complete the two-year stint quit before the term is over.

The Peace Corps is not a way to get rich. The volunteers are paid an expenditure allowance of $100 per month in the currency of their respective countries, which pays for the room and board expenses. They are provided with medical and dental services and transportation, and receive 40 days of vacation during their two-year period.

In addition to the "subistence salary," $75 per month is set aside for each volunteer to use as he sees fit, which the volunteer receives at the end of his service.

Pat Thornton, a senior majoring in journalism, who has been to the Peace Corps and recently visited recruiters at SIU. He came to show some general information about the Peace Corps and other agencies of the Action program, which include VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America), University Year for America (UYA), which is a program enabling college students to serve in low income communities and receive academic credit.

When asked why he is interested in the programs, Thornton said he wants a job other than "a nine-to-five," to which he responded, "Some people find ruts reassuring.

High Court to hear death penalty arguments

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to take another look at the legality of a method of execution that it previously ruled is unconstitutional under any circumstances.

The court will review the case of a North Carolina man condemned to death in a 1966 murder case after an argument over a $10 bill during a drug sale.

It will be the first death penalty case the court has heard since June 29, 1972, when it held that capital punishment laws then on the books were unconstitutional under any circumstances.

In some of its actions Tuesday, the court agreed to consider whether bar associations may draw up and enforce schedules of fees for lawyers without violating federal antitrust laws.

- Upheld a 5-4 vote a Maryland lawyer and judge which makes bar association licenses by a state board of censors.

- Upheld the government's right to withhold taxes which two pacifists objected to paying on grounds they went for the war.

- Sentenced a Justice William O. Douglas disbarred.

- Said John D. East's effort to obtain evidence about the circumstances of his plea of guilty to the murder of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

- Upheld long-standing regulations that time operators said would cost billions of dollars.

The death penalty case involves Jesse Fowler, who was convicted of murdering John Griffin last April 10 in Wake County, N.C.

A decision on it could affect the fate of more than 100 persons in the United States now on death row.

The Supreme Court's 1972 ruling said it was unconstitutional to allow a jury to decide, between two persons convicted of the same crime, which should live and which die.

In response, more than half of the states have passed new laws which either make capital punishment mandatory for specified offenses or provide for mandatory review of the jury's decision.

North Carolina is one of the states with such a law.

Before it was passed, however, Fowler and 30 other men were condemned under an interpretation by the North Carolina Supreme Court of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision. The state court said the decision merely invalidated the portion of the North Carolina law which made the death penalty optional with the jury, rather than mandatory.

The cases of seven men sentenced under this ruling were appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court by the NAACP Legal Defense Fund.

Although the court's action Tuesday directly involves only Fowler, who is black, a decision even on the narrowest grounds would presumably affect all the men sentenced under the state supreme court's decision.

The Legal Defense Fund lawyers, however, presented their case in much broader terms also.

"A punishment which is tolerated only because it is imposed on the unworthy or on groups which, because they are tolerated, is not a punishment consistent with contemporary morality," they argued.

City Council approves county road district

By Robert Mau Student Writer

The Carbondale Civic Council has given its unanimous support to the proposed unit road district. The plan, which will be presented to the voters in the general election on Nov. 5, would present the proposed unit road districts in Jackson County with one county-wide road district.

Funds for township roads would still be kept separate from those for county roads under the new system. Under the present system, township roads are supervised by township road commissioners, who do not need any road- working experience to hold office.

Speaking at Monday night's council meeting, Casey said people of Carbondale would have a lower tax rate under the new system. Under the present system, the tax rate in Carbondale Township is 34.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The new system would have a tax rate of 23 cents per $100 assessed valuation, including 16.5 cents as a road tax and 6 cents as a "new bridge" tax.

The new system would also return money to Carbondale because, under state law, half of the money collected for road taxes must be returned to the district, Casey said.

Casey stated the problem of convince people outside of Carbondale that the city won't control the board. "It's hard to get across that the county board is trying to serve the county as a whole and that it's a value district," he said.

"I think Carbondale people don't stay just within the limits of Carbondale Township; they don't belong to township boards," Casey said. Non-Carbondale people come to Carbondale to do business and bring money to the city, she added.

Townships are incapable of collecting money for bridge building, she said. "If you take the new system, bridges closed to school buses could be replaced throughout the district, Casey said.

Under the unit road district system, "some of the poorer townships would have a better shot at getting anything," as he put it. "If you put all the townships into one unit district, they could make more money and it might be easier for some people to drive through town," said. "I think it's a lot easier to get them to vote for it now because it's not a new idea."

Councilman Archie Jones.

Some townships oppose the unit road district while others have opposed the proposed unit road district. "We're better off with the old system," said Councilman Blythe, saying "the new system would better the tax rate because it was averaged over the whole county's tax base.

"There are too many people who are paying much more for the cheaper roads in the county. By having the tax rate, you would have to add more in town," Blythe added.

"I've been elected to serve a job and I feel I've done it well," Blythe added.
Student Senate may revise election laws

Duke Koch will introduce 13 amendments to several sections of the student government constitution and by-laws at the Student Senate meeting at 7:30 Wednesday in ballroom C of the Student Center.

The bills, submitted for Bob Hornstein, election commissioner, recommend constitutional and by-law changes be made so that student government elections will operate more smoothly.

Koch said a few of the bills "concern elections regulations."

He said the bills "clarify the by-laws" and add new meetings, precautionary errors and things like that.

SIU students may review correct files

where some type of student information is maintained.

"In the long run, the concept of secrecy is counter productive. I think that the past secrecy was considered necessary for the protection of an individual but, "he has a right to see if anything in a file is incorrect."

The Buckley Amendment also calls for a student to have the "opportunity for a hearing the challenge the content of...records, to insure the records are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise violates the privacy or other rights of students."

Students will have appeal rights to the next highest academic office holder. He can then go to the vice presidents at the highest area of power, to the President and Board of Trustees.

Huffman emphasized this has not been enacted but it "procedurally is what the university is thinking about."

A memo from Interim President Hiram L. Lesar further states a student might need to make an appointment if the requests for record perusal are sufficient in number to overload the office. A representative of the specific office will be present while the files are being reviewed.

A student will not be permitted to remove any information but copies would be furnished upon request. Students will have the right to request duplicate information be removed and if the request is denied by the office representative, a written rebuttal can be offered. The memo, however, "is general thinking at this point," Huffman said.

Present university policy was outlined at a department's heads from then SIU President Robert G. Laver. It reads, in part:

"The official student information file is to be available to the student except that material which contains confidential information as determined by the student. A file of student records. Examples are information supplied in connection with financial aid, it is evident that the supplier is assuming the material will not be furnished the student without the supplier's knowledge."

Telephone strike continues; management, labor not speaking

By Dave Hada

Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Management and labor remained on unspeaking terms Tuesday as the General Telephone Co. employees strike in Illinois ended its third day.

General Telephone Co. services the Carbondale and University exchanges. City and campus officials noted few immediate effects of the strike. However, the director of auxiliary service enterprises at SIU added, "We hope the strike doesn't last too long, or we'll have severe repercussions."

SIU may encounter problems in telephone installation, the director, Carlton Raushe, said Tuesday. General Telephone has assured the University its services would continue as usual, Raushe said.

Negotiations between the company and representatives for Locals 51 and 702 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) broke down last Thursday, according to C. Sampier Logan, vice president of public affairs at General Telephone.

At midnighth Saturday, 1,900 service, construction and supply workers and 1,100 local distance operators and business office personnel struck the firm, Logan said.

Anticipating the walkout, General Telephone in Bloomington Saturday dispatched 1,200 management, clerical and non-union persons throughout the service area to fill work blocks opened by the strike, Logan said. "We're trying to maintain as nearly normal service as was done so.

Logan and Harvey Fryer, business manager and spokesman for IBEW Local 702 in West Frankfort, declined Tuesday to predict when the strike might end.

Negotiators tried to resolve disputes over wages, benefits and working conditions in two IBEW contracts, Fryer explained. The contracts, which cover service persons and operators and office personnel, expired Saturday midnight.

Management first offered to service workers a 25 percent increase in pay, an 11.7 percent hike in wages and a 4.2 percent improvement in benefits, Logan said. The contract would run two years, except for a re-negotiation clause for wages after one year.

Management offered to operators and office workers a 14.9 percent increase in wages re-negotiable after one year, and a 4.1 percent improvement in benefits, Logan said.

IBEW members voted, by an eight-to-one margin, to reject the company's proposal, Fryer said.

General Telephone amended the service workers' contracts Thursday, raising their wages increase to 13 percent, Logan said. He said union representatives rejected the 17.2 percent package increase and refused to take the proposal back to their members.

"That is not true," Fryer responded.

He said General Telephone never offered IBEW the 17.2 percent package before negotiations broke down Thursday. Had the company done so, IBEW members would have accepted the package, Fryer added.

Petition protests tuition hike; 5,000 SIU signatures sought

Company and union representatives have not contacted each other since Thursday, according to both Logan and Fryer. Each side is willing to reopen talks once its adversary takes the initiative, the two men indicated.

"We're willing to sit down with them," Logan said. "But they have not made a counter-proposal to us."

"We are ready to meet with General Telephone to try to settle this work stoppage at any time, any place," Fryer added.

"We, IBEW members will continue to strike until an acceptable settlement is reached, he said.

Other than a slowdown in some installation and repair work, SIU's telephone exchange showed have no trouble, Logan said. Technically skilled persons have flown to Carbondale to maintain normal telephone service, Logan said, and add that repairs will be made according, to the severity of malfunctions.

Management persons now run Carbondale's telephone service, Logan said.

Customers may experience delays in reaching operators, Logan said, and should place all long distance calls by dialing direct whenever possible.

Dorm should forfeit housing rights

By David Hamburg
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Although Tom Busch, assistant dean of students, admitted that Wilson Hall room inspection in early October amounted to a "poor judgment on the part of one person," no legal action will be taken against the owners.

"Poor judgment on the part of one person" is not a valid excuse for refusing to take action against Wilson Hall. The Wilson Hall management must be held accountable for this incident.

Busch said "no undue harm was done" and he asserted that he would help to see that the problem was rectified.

The fact remains, however, that the inspection—whether it was a search at not—violated the University-approved housing policy. And, in the process, violated the rights of the students as tenants.

Busch's intentions to see that this never happens again do not nullify what has already occurred.

Nearly half the residents of Wilson Hall petitioned their grievances which centered on two housing violations.

They maintained that their rooms were inspected without prior notice and that some of the students, therefore, were not present at the time of inspection.

Their complaints are justified due to the owners' failure to comply with the clause of the University housing policy which states: "Lessors shall be entitled to inspect the space rented for physical damage at reasonable hours and in the presence of the tenant."

James Walsh, business manager of Wilson Hall, said the inspection was conducted in order to make an inventory of beds and mattresses. He sent a newsletter to the residents saying (signed by resident coordinator Tom Gharsa) assuring them that the rooms were not entered.

"The beds and mattresses were counted from the doorway," Walsh said. "So what?"

Even if his intentions were honorable, they violated the aforementioned clause.

There are not any ails that can recoup the loss of rights suffered by the Wilson Hall residents. Their housing rights were clearly-violated.

Apparently, student rights are not all that important.

This came to light after a three-hour meeting Monday night involving five residents and several University officials.

Beside Busch, Bruce Swinburne, dean of student affairs, Sam Rinehart, director of housing business services, Ingrid Gadow, ombudsman and Dennis Sullivan, student body president attended the meeting.

Among the Wilson Hall representatives were Walsh and Gharsa.

Busch said he was pleased with the outcome. But Lloyd Haines, a resident, was not.

"No, that's about all I have to say at this time. We will see what will happen, and not make any statements," Haines said.

But it has already happened.

Wilson Hall management has failed to comply with the standard University housing regulations and, by so doing, should forfeit its right to remain as a University-approved residence hall.

Vote for Williams

By Pat Carcenas
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Gale Williams is an experienced legislator. He has served 10 years in the Illinois House of Representatives.

Whether or not seniority is counted, his experience is valuable to the people of this district. Also, he has served on the powerful House Appropriations Committee and will be effective in it again if elected.

His stands on campaign issues include opposition to any increase in state taxes. He proposes to establish a free tuition at state universities for students of families making less than $15,000 a year.

Williams also favors doing away with property taxes on persons 65 or older earning less than $10,000 a year.

Williams feels the proposed coal gasification plant should be located in this area rather than to St. Louis, as currently projected.

Williams is a landlord in the Carbondale-Murphysboro area and has had close contact with students for the past several years.

Williams bases his campaign on an honesty theme. He feels this is an important issue because the recent scandals have damaged the public's faith in politicians.

Because of his past legislative experience, his stands on tuition, taxes and coal gasification, Gale Williams deserves every voter's consideration on election day.

Surcharge doesn't help

By Michael Harris
Student Writer

Gerald Ford is a right-wing Robin Hood disguised as an equal opportunity President—robbing from the poor, while taking a few pennies from the rich to balance the scales which stand on those ever-crumbling platforms called justice and honesty. This hypothesis was confirmed after the President announced plans for a 5 per cent income-tax surcharge on families with incomes of $15,000 and above, and individuals with incomes of $7,500 or more per year.

The only stipulation is that the actual surcharge will be based on taxable income rather than the adjusted gross income. In other words, the surcharge will not apply to the first $10,000 of a family's income, nor to the first $5,450 of individuals' taxable income.

The loophole is that many middle income families cannot afford to give away sizeable amounts of their income, like the wealthy, to charities like the wealthy, who do so to lessen their tax burdens.

In effect, the surcharge will be the most by this tax. In other words, the surcharge will be taken from the pockets. Perhaps the surcharge should start at the $42,500 level (the salary of a congressman) so that these people could get a taste of the soup line. With a silent majority of businessmen making $25,000 to $50,000 a year, how can $15,000 even be considered as an adequate figure for middle income families?

With the November elections soon approaching, many Congressmen have said that they will announce the President's bill. Though their financial backers may be wealthy, it's about time they realize that their constituents are the middle class supporters who put them where they are today.

If the economy needs a tax surcharge, let it be placed on luxuries, and large cars used by corporation executives, leaving them to decide not to build a four car garage, but form a car pool instead.

Vote for Richmond

By Gary Delsohn
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The battle for state representative has virtually developed into a two man race, Gale Williams (R-Murphysboro) versus Bruce Richmond (D-Murphysboro). The other two candidates for the three seats, Vincent Birchler and incumbent Ralph Dunn (D-DeQuoin) are considered shoe-ins, having great support in their respective regions.

As a result of this situation, Williams has campaigned solely against Richmond in a dirty, mud-slinging fashion. On the basis of that style, which is reflective of Williams' reluctance to attack issues, he should be defeated.

Williams has constantly and viciously attacked Richmond for everything under the sun, most of which has had little or nothing to do with Richmond's ability to serve the people of the 58th District.

Voters should exercise their cumulative voting rights and defeat Williams. Campaigning allows a voter to cast his three votes for state representative to one man, or divide them any way they choose. By giving a man three votes, you will be helping to defeat Williams, and keep him out of Springfield where he is a good bet to continue his deceit and negativism.

Are you 'hip,' or "out of touch?"

By Ana Pope
Student Writer

For the freaks who groove on watching the English language go through huge changes, the '60s was a beautiful decade, a really weird time for tripping out on the words we use and the way our speech patterns have changed now that the '70s are here, so cool it baby. "Right?" Even in the minds of instant obsolescence, fashionable slang wears out faster than most commodities.

Consider, for example, the phrases "doing your thing," "telling it like it is," or even "where it's at."

Pretty not long ago, they were new enough for those who wish to sound current.

Things aren't "groovy" or anything anymore.

These two resurrected favorites of the 40's are dead again.

The Women's Liberation Movement has consigned "chick" to outer darkness. Say "lady" instead. Say "man" for that matter. And the angry protagonist who still cries "right on?" risks being right off.

Many students are fascinated with the current drug slang, whether they actually use drugs, or are just copying the dope talk.

"It's not unusual to hear one student say to another, "Let's go get stoned." That could refer to either drugs or liquor.

Another familiar field of hippling comes from the meaning to comprehend something suddenly: "freak" as a complimentary description of a person, refers to something novel, or "to get a handle on" is to pull one's self together. "Heavy" is something profound.

Of course, by now these slang terms may be already leaving the "hip" vocabulary. New words every month.

Human element needed

To the Daily Egyptian:

George Murphy suggested in a letter appearing in the Daily Egyptian on Thursday, December 19, that rigid academic policies to professional schools should be fully developed. Such a position should be given support since a clear, closely followed admissions policy eliminates any possibility of favoritism and enhances the credibility and quality of a professional school.

However, Murphy would reduce the entire admission procedure to a rigid, cold-system where only gifted students would be admitted. All human elements would be eliminated from Murphy's Darwinian admissions policy. Such things as a past personal tragedy, economic background, motivation, and the personal amount of time in Murphy's system of administration. Total reliance on a computerized system to select students is not a proper funding system for universities is based on a deep-seated student self-centered, upwardly-mobile, elitist. Professional schools especially law and medicine must train an individual to serve the people. Murphy's criteria do not meet that end.

Teacher strike

To the Daily Egyptian:

The President of the SIU Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, John Howie, urges all academic teachers to support the contributions and supportive messages to the Rider College Faculty in support of their strike. The AAUP Chapter there is waging a strike against the College. After 13 fruitless months of negotiation the faculty members left their classrooms on October 16. Rider College came under censure of the national AAUP in 1973 because of a previous 1969-70 strike. The AAUP is now regarding academic freedom and tenure.

The strike has widespread student and faculty support. Only 14 of 200 faculty members are sympathetic. What is ad policy?

To the Daily Egyptian:

After having talked to the Daily Egyptian business manager for 1 month, and thinking I do because he never answered my question which was, does the Daily Egyptian have a "Truth in Advertising" policy? From what the manager told me I understood that there is no such policy. Ah, bureaucracy.

I also heard replaced by Gale Williams claiming that Bruce richmond has an unlimited phone (647-2700) in his office. He is the number to go by the telephone. On page 40 of the yellow pages, listed in the Daily Egyptian is the number 647-2700. To paraphrase Gale William's query on surveys, "If that isn't listed under Gale it isn't there." Obviously, if Williams should choose to ask about another survey the Daily Egyptian should have a policy by which they may inform their readers of the lie. Is journalistic integrity in the same boat as academic excellence?

Sly lighting

To the Daily Egyptian:

As one of the "heavy dead lighting technicians" who works for Sly and the Family Stone, I would like to respond to a few words of explanation are needed.

The "barrage c. overhead lights" were hung at Sly's request. At concerts, it is an audience affair, so I illuminate with him. The University Stage Crew was working with Sly's light man who called the lights cues—lights were brought up and down upon his request. I suggest to Deborah Singer that she learns University Stage Crew show procedures before criticizing something that she knows nothing about.

Pro-abortion excuses

To the Daily Egyptian:

A woman's body is not the domain and property of others. It is hers to control in the same way that the control of abortion (and pro-abortion) letters. Let's think about it.

Borge charms with satire, piano

Tim Hastings
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Victor Borge proved he is an old master of comedy Monday night.

From the start, Borge had the audience with a polished style calculated to make them laugh. His show is a well planned evening combining humor and sobriety. There is hilarity and pathos and many states in between. This fine control is the real triumph of Borge circa 1974.

Borge was true to his oath ofbuf foonery. Propping open the lid of his grand piano he asked, "Is that too dainty for anybody?"

Early in the show, Borge subtly mimiced Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata. In his hands the sonata was transformed into "Oopstieks" and "Happy Birthday" almost imperceptibly.

Borge called Monday's concert the longest in history referring to the Sept 20 class he had to cancel. Borge's unpredictable clowning does not make anyone doze. The ticking is more passive.

This is even truer now that his act has had years of refinement. It is no longer surprising that Borge interspersed with musk. The real surprise would be for Borge to finish well. Which is precisely what he did.

In the first half before Borge played a concert made by Lactate in its entirety. It was pleasing to hear Borge play seriously. He played fluidly.

In the second half. She became the object of many of his jokes. She cracked the audience up even at a harp plucking screen.

Marjory Mulvey, coloratura soprano, joined Borge in the second half. She became the object of many of his jokes. She cracked the audience up even at a harp plucking screen.

Unlike an experienced comedian, Mulvey made no attempt to retract her giggling. In this state, she came across as an unimpressed amateur. From this moment, she accidentally found herself at the mercy of her own spasticity. This quality added to the humor.

Economy hcuts lowest drop in 23 years

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government reported Tuesday that its early warning system for the economy registered the sharpest drop in 23 years for 1967, raising the prospect of higher unemployment and idle productive capacity in the months ahead.

President Ford described his economic program as adequate to deal with the threat.

The Commerce Department said the decline in its index of leading indicators was 2.5 per cent in September. It followed a 1.8 per cent drop in August, and was the biggest drop since 2.9 per cent in June 1957.

The index is made up of a dozen economic factors selected for their tendency to move in advance of the economy as a whole. But since eight of the components involve dollar values for such things as prices, profits or orders, inflation tends to push the index up even when the economy stagnates.

The Commerce Department index was 4 per cent ahead of a year ago. But the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, which factors the index in its forecasts, said adjusted numbers show the index is 3.9 per cent behind a year ago. The monthly drop registered by the Boston bank was 3.3 per cent.

Deterioration of the leading indicators last was significant to projec tions by economists, such as Paul McCracken, of a recession, either in the future or in the buffer way. McCracken, a primary architect of President Ford's economic summit, has predicted the current unem ployment will be 5.8 per cent by early next year.

But Mulvey is no amateur. Last year she won the Metropolitan National Finals and has made many concert appearances.

Highest pitched of all sopranos, coloraturas are susceptible to glass shattering squeaks. Borge took full advantage of poking fun at Mulvey's pitch. He literally jumped off his bench when she blasted into her first aria.

From inside the bench he produced wax录音s and proceeded to strap himself in for the duration of Mulvey's song.

Finally he relented and let Mulvey sing without interruption. She sang Donizetti with crystal articulation. Coloraturas may have an exaggerated pitch, but coming from Mulvey it was no strain at all.

The standing ovation Borge received was no wild congradulation. Instead, the audience rose as if they were honoring royalty. King Borge the Victor no dally.

Bike plates go on sale Monday

By Scott Burns
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Police will begin enforcing bicycle plate regulations on or about Nov. 19, after completion of a two-week registration campaign.

Community Relations Officer Mike Norrington said bike plates will be issued at police headquarters for two weeks beginning Monday and finish November 18.

All students will need one dollar for the registration fee and a pen to speed up the process. Alphabetical registration will be carried out the first week. The second week will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Norrington said plates will be put on the bikes at the headquarters for the next two weeks. He said the bicycles need not pass safety regulations to obtain a plate. However, the bike must pass the safety regulations when in use. The following order will be used next week for bike registration:

- Monday: A through D
- Tuesday: E through J
- Wednesday: K through O
- Thursday: P through T
- Friday: U through Z

Students who purchased plates last year will not have to re-register.

12-year-old denied abortion

JOLET (AP) — A request by the Department of Children and Family Services for permission to have an abortion performed on a 12-year-old girl has been denied by a Circuit Court judge.

The request was made Monday shortly after the girl, almost three months pregnant, was made a ward of the state on child neglect petitions and turned over to the agency.

A social worker for the agency asked the judge for permission to allow "major medical treatment" for the girl.

Judge Angelo Pistilli allowed the request, but then asked, "By the way, what do you mean by major medical treatment?"

"The minor is pregnant and requires an abortion," came the reply.

Wagering a money-maker

Sixteen states have legalized pari-mutuel wagering on harness racing. They collected more than $175 million in taxes on the spot during 1973.

Pistilli responded quickly, shouting: "No, take that order back...I'm not going to be a party to abortions. That order is revoked and in fact the department is commanded and ordered not to allow the girl to be aborted."

Play tryouts set

Auditions for the Southern Players production of "Santa's Christmas Nap" will be held at 5 p.m. Wednesday and 7 p.m. Friday in the University Theater.

Written for children by Kim Brewer, the play features mechanical toys played by actors, villains and, of course, Santa.

Edwin Stewart Harrison, associate professor of theater, will direct the show. Performances will be Dec. 11, 12, 13 and 14.

Anyone interested is invited to audition for one of the 13 roles. Previous acting experience and prepared audition material are not required.

Bluegrass music

Bluegrass traditionally has been a simple music form wrapped up in 3 or 4 basic chords. What the NEW GRASS REVIVAL has done music lovers, is explore uncharted territory on the progressive fringe of bluegrass. They alternate rhythms and integrate more chords. The result is a tasteful expansion of the best of traditional bluegrass.

Fire destroys trailer

By Scott Burns Wise
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A fire of unknown cause destroyed a trailer at the Warren Trailer Court, Monday night with $5,000 worth of damages reported.

The occupant of the trailer, Darrell Tipton was not home at the time of fire and nobody was injured.

Fire Department Capt. Allen Jackson said a neighbor reported the fire at 16:30 p.m. He said the cause of the fire was not known and a state fire marshal would be investigating.

Jackson said a trailer next to the fire was damaged. The side of the trailer was burned and destroyed while the windows were cracked from the heat, the captain added.

While fighting the blaze, the fire truck ran out of water. There was no fire hydrants near the trailer court so water was hauled to the scene.

Capt. Jackson said a trailer next to the trailer court was destroyed and a neighbor added a trailer was doing a loading and unloading of trailer court.

Anthro Dept. to offer new specialization

By Carol Cramer

By Janene Willet

The SIU Anthropology Department has approved a new concentration within the masters degree program, according to Bruce MacLachlan, associate professor of anthropology. The new specialization, called "Contract Archaeology," is expected to go into effect next fall.

Contract archaeology are offered by federal, state, and municipal governments, colleges and universities, museums and private industry, according to MacLachlan.

The program also gives a broad enough background to enable the graduate to teach general anthropology in junior colleges or high schools, or work for a PhD.

A student working for this degree will be concerned primarily with archaeological survey, field techniques and methodologies, and in the special problems involved in contract archaeology and salvage archaeology.

'The student will be encouraged to take appropriate courses in history, geology, geography, zoology, and botany. Linguistic courses are not necessary to the concentration, but they may be taken as electives.'

Ford reports on SALT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford today said that U.S. talks on strategic arms limitations "have been successful" and voiced hope for a second-stage SALT agreement next year.

At a wide-ranging news conference, Ford also said the emergence of the Palestine Liberation Organization with the support of Arab chiefs of state "may or may not" have an impact on U.S. Middle East policy.

And he said in response to a question that reports of anti-American sentiment in Japan has not endangered his trip there next month. "I intend to go to Japan," the President declared.

Undergrad art on display

Ninety-one pieces of art representing the work of approximately 50 undergraduate students in the School of Art are now on exhibit at the Mitchell Gallery.

Primary emphasis of the exhibit is on the work of seniors, but underclassmen's pieces are also included. Instructors in the Art Department have chosen what they feel are outstanding examples of student work in the studio areas of painting, drawing, prints, sculpture, ceramics, metalwork and weaving. Acrylic and oil paintings, along with pencil, ink and mixed media drawings are featured.

Hunt rebuts Nixon's blackmail story

WASHINGTON (AP)—E. Howard Hunt testified Tuesday that the money demand which former President Richard M. Nixon viewed as blackmail last year was just an attempt to collect an overdue bill.

Hunt, testifying at the Watergate cover-up trial, said it was neither extortion nor blackmail.

Following him on the witness stand was Jeb Stuart Magruder, who said that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell once expressed annoyance about the results of bugs and wiretaps planted at Democratic party headquarters by agents of the Nixon re-election committee.

Magruder, formerly Mitchell's deputy in the 1972 presidential campaign, said Mitchell told chief Watergate bargainer G. Gordon Liddy that he was dissatisfied with the product Liddy was producing from wiretaps and photographs.

Magruder said Liddy told Mitchell, "he was going to correct the problem."

Asked whether the problem was corrected, Magruder replied: "Yes. We learned on the morning of June 17 that Liddy had not corrected the problem but created a problem.

June 17, 1972, was Saturday morning when police arrested five men in the act of burglarizing the Democratic party headquarters and trying to replace a telephone bug that had failed.

Magruder, 39, has been in prison since June 4 on his guilty plea.

Bluegrass revival Friday

The simple beat of the bluegrass sound will light musical fires at 7 p.m. Friday in Shockey Auditorium when the New Grass Revival returns to SU.

New Grass Revival appeared here last year as part of the University's Convocations Series. This time, their appearance is being sponsored by Rev. Jack Prehuer of the Newman Center. Tickets are $3 and can be purchased at the Central Ticket Office of the Student Center.

Bluegrass traditionally is a simple musical form with three or four basic chords and steady two-beat rhythm. The main instruments are banjo, guitar, bass, mandolin and fiddle. The influence of bluegrass on more popular musical forms, such as folk rock, can be heard in such groups as Poco, the Byrds and Manassas.

New Grass Revival is also known for adapting modern pieces to bluegrass style, having converted several Beatles songs and Leon Russell's "Prince of Peace," by altering rhythms and employing chords and half chords. Folk bluegrass singer John Hartford has called New Grass Revival "the finest bluegrass band going."

Members of New Grass Revival include Sam Bush, who plays mandolin, guitar and fiddle and has been described as "the group's highest stand." Courtesy Johnson on banjo, Ebo Walker on bass, and singer Curtis Burch on guitar and dobro.

Wesley Foundation to hold ‘spook party’

By Gary Debohn
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A "spook party," complete with all the fun and candy that goes with the "trick or treat" of Halloween, will be held at the Wesley Foundation, 806 S. Illinois, Thursday night.

The Wesley Foundation has set up the party for 7 to 8 p.m., for children in the community under 12 years old. There will be games and candy for kids to enjoy whose parents would rather have them under supervision than going around houses looking for Halloween "trick or treats."

Lyn Muldoon, involvement coordinator at the Foundation, said there will be a party open to all ages from 8 to 11 p.m.

The Wesley Foundation, according to Muldoon, tries "putting Christian values into everyday situations. It's mainly oriented towards serving the community."

There are a number of things always in the works at the non-profit foundation.

E.A.Z.N is a non-profit coffee house, an opportunity "to relax in a warm, no-hassle atmosphere to meet and talk with friends. It is run by the Wesley Foundation.

The coffee house is open Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Entertainment is provided voluntarily by community poets, dancers, folk singers and musicians of all varieties.

The Foundation also runs a preschool and has state certification for a kindergarten program. According to Muldoon, there are 30 children in the preschool and 12 in the kindergarten.

On Wednesday night, "student task forces" meet and plan programs for the following weeks.

Monday the Foundation began a weekly series "People to People," that will run for the next five Monday nights. The program is "primarily for people who feel they have a hard time meeting other people," Muldoon explained. She also said, many foreign students come to talk English and mingle with people.

Aside from the regular schedule of events, the Foundation works with issues in the university community that people might be interested in. An example was the Committee to meet

The Citizens Community Development Steering Committee will elect a vice chairperson and schedule public hearings on the $81 million federal grant Thursday night in the City Hall Courthouse.

The citizens committee would advise the city on expenditures of $81 million made available through the Community Development Act of 1974.

The committee will also appoint standing committee and sub-committee members.

Buckeyes keep number one spot

By Herschel Niswanger
Associated Press Sports Writer

The nation's Top Ten college football teams maintained their positions in The Associated Press ratings this week, and three circuits - Ohio State, Oklahoma and Alabama - have been first-place teams for over a year.

Ohio State, which climbed from No. 10 to No. 9 last week, received 36 first-place votes and 483 points, a one-point gain over Penn State, which fell from 11th to 12th. UCLA was third with 11 first-place votes, 366 points and 30 points over No. 10 Michigan.

Texas Tech slipped from 11th to 12th after a hard-fought 26-17 triumph over Southern Methodist.

Arkansas State and Maryland held onto the 14-15 spots, while Miami of Ohio rose from 16th to 14th, followed by five newcomers to the Top Twenty - Mississippi State, UCLA, Temple, with San Diego State and Wisconsin tied for 20th. UCLA and Wisconsin were in the ratings earlier in the year.

Dropping out of the Top Twenty were Arizona, North Carolina State, Tulane and California, last week's Nos. 17-18-19-20 teams.

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses, season record and total points. Points tabulated on the basis of 30-18-16-14-12-10-8-6-4-2-1.

Ken Buzbee:

Instead of making promises he couldn't keep, he kept the promises he made.

One of the reasons Ken Buzbee managed to do what he said he'd do was that he didn't promise to change the world overnight.

Instead he said he would work hard, full-time to be an effective, independent State Senator.

Here's What
Buzbee Promised:

1. Ken Buzbee promised to discuss his personal income, his campaign contributions and expenses, and fight hard for a state law which would require all legislators to do the same thing.
2. Ken Buzbee promised to tackle the tough issues as well as the easy ones.
3. Ken Buzbee promised to be responsive to the requests of the people of Southern Illinois.
4. Ken Buzbee promised to be an independent Democrat, willing to stand up and vote his conscience.
5. Ken Buzbee promised to be an independent Democrat, willing to stand up and vote his conscience.

Keep a Full-Time Senator in the Senate. He worked hard. He got results. He'll do it again.

Paid for by the Signature for Buzbee Senator Campaign, 500 N. Main, Carbondale, Ill. 62903

Here's What
Buzbee Did:

Ken Buzbee has made public his financial statements, and has reported all campaign contributions over $50.00 and campaign expenditures. He worked hard to pass the new disclosure law which is one of the strongest in the nation.

Ken Buzbee is in a long term fight for full funding of the Southern Illinois Supplemental Freeway System, more money for SIU, protection of the Southern Illinois coal industry, while preserving our environment, and a state department for senior citizens. He hasn't yet won all these fights, but then he didn't promise to win them all the time.

Ken Buzbee answered over 15,000 requests from his district office and made regular visits to every county in the district.

Ken Buzbee got 20 of the 30 bills which he sponsored in his very first session passed into law. He won the "Outstanding Freshman Senator" Award from the IEA.

Ken Buzbee was ranked 6th out of 59 Senators by the Independent Voters of Illinois. Alas, he was his own man.

Davidson out

CHICAGO (AP) — Gary Davidson resigned Tuesday as commissioner of the troubled World Football League and avoided a threatened withdrawal of the Chicago Fire.

No replacement for Davidson was named.

Following a two-hour emergency meeting of league managers, Davidson announced his immediate resignation at the behest of the American Football League's executive council.

The USFL had given Davidson until Saturday to resign or be fired.

Saluki seniors still starting

By Bruce Shapira
Daily Egyptian Sports Editor

Saluki seniors will not be forgotten the last four games of the season.

Head football coach Doug Weaver remarked after SIU lost its sixth game of the season Saturday.

By losing to Arkansas State 41-16, the 1-6 Salukis lost any chance they had of a winning season. The Salukis traveled to California Saturday to take on Long Beach State.

"I know it's tempting to play a lot of freshmen, sophomores and juniors the last few weeks of the season," Weaver said. "But I would never do it. I don't want to lose the seniors. I want them to get a little honor during the last four games."

On offense, Bruce Puller, Bob Habbe, Pat Forys, Fred McCleery and Craig Schustine are the only senior starters. On defense, Gary Powell and Mark Hailey are the only starters who are seniors. Only 17 players on the 1974 Salukis are seniors.

Despite a disappointing season so far, Weaver is still optimistic.

"I have an infinite capacity to come back," Weaver said. "I don't know if there is a miracle problem on the team, because only the players could answer that one. I have a very high regard for the players on the team because the guys are too much like men to break down.

"I love SIU and I think a good football program can be developed. It's not like this school has even been a football dynasty. The fans shouldn't act like we have just won five conference championships. I'm very aware of the frustration the school and community has concerning SIU football."

Weaver is hoping the team can finish up with a few victories. "I hope we can survive this season with a few more victories," Weaver said. "Then next year we'll have a new stadium and hopefully a few more victories and will be on our way. Then the people in Southern Illinois and the students will act like we invented college football."

After Long Beach State, the Salukis return home Nov. 9 against Northern Michigan. Northern Michigan is 9-4 on the season, which may make it a very interesting game. SIU finishes out the season against Central Michigan away and Illinois State at McAndrew Stadium.

Ali regains fight title

KINSHASA. Zaire [AP]—Muhammad Ali knocked out George Foreman with a right to the head and won back the world heavyweight championship here Saturday night to cap one of the greatest accomplishments ever in sport.

It came 10 years after Ali had first won the title by knocking out Sonny Liston seven years after he had the title stripped from him for refusing induction into the military.

Foreman seemed to be winning the eighth round when Ali backed him into a corner and landed a left and right to the head. Foreman took the count from referee Jack Clayton and Ali had won back his title.

The defeat was the first ever for the 25-year-old Foreman, and the crowd of 50,000 created a mad scene and went crazy.

Third-seven of Foreman's previous 40 victories had been by knockout.

But in the early morning hours in this equatorial African nation Foreman was simply no match for the 32-year-old Ali. Foreman, whose right eye was beginning to close as the eighth round began appeared to be very tired as the final round began. But he seemed to be winning that round until Ali unleashed the finishing flurry that must rank as his most spectacular accomplishment in a career with the unique and great in boxing.

Ali's victory was the result of years of hard work, including the Olympic achievements that he won.

He has been away from boxing since the 1970 Olympic Games, where he won a gold medal.

Since then, Ali has continued to train and fight, and his return to the ring was a major event in boxing history.

The fight was held in Kinshasa, Zaire, and was broadcast worldwide, with millions of people tuning in to watch.

Ali's victory over Foreman was a historic moment in boxing, and it solidified Ali's status as one of the greatest fighters of all time. His return to the ring after a decade-long layoff was a testament to his determination and resilience.

FOR OUR OPENING CELEBRATION
University Mall opening day

Ceremonies for the grand opening of the University Mall is set for 9 a.m. Wednesday by Phil Favreau, mall manager.

Around the opening include a local high school band, Winnie-the-Pooh, the University of Kansas mascot, and Miss Illinois 1974 and a short speech by Bill Eckert, Favreau said.

The mall was developed by Hocker-Squitieri Company of Oswego, Kans. The first store to open in the complex was the J.C. Penney store in 1971. Walgreen's opened their doors Dec. 14, 1971 and 15 more stores will be opening Wednesday.

Favreau said that the mall was originally designed with space for 40 stores but several stores wanted more space and they expanded the mall for 40 store spaces. The complex is expected to be filled in May or June, Favreau said.

The mall is designed in a T shape with two long arms and two short arms. Six large planters and 6 small planters between the four buildings and flowers are the main decor of the arms. A fountain with flowers will be in the junction of the arms.

Mall police calls for the customer to be "fully attired" and no pets are allowed in the building, Favreau said.

Full-time security police have been hired to stand outside of the mall. The 2,000 space parking lot will have some space reserved for bicycles and several bicycle racks are being installed, Favreau said. Only one bike rack will be in the parking lot.

Favreau said that this mall is the "largest mall in the area in sales volume." Projected sales volume for the first year is $45 million.

The mall is "really outstanding for southern Illinois," Favreau said.

The complex has a variety of stores ranging from a fast food restaurant, ladies' ready-to-wear, jewelry stores, card and gift shops, men's ready-to-wear and two large family stores. J.C. Penney's and Sears. The shops are an "excellent tenant mix," Favreau said.

Hours have been set from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, when all the stores are open. Sunday hours, when "almost every store will be open" are set for noon to 6 p.m. This policy was determined through the Merchants Association, Favreau said.

The Grand Opening set for December

Around Dec. 14, Carbondale residents will be able to choose from four motion pictures when they plan an evening out. That is when the University Four will open.

Grand opening ceremonies are scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday. J.C. Penney, opened February, 1971, was the first store in the new mall; Eckert's became the second store when it opened Oct. 14.

Shoppers were surprised to find out that while there would "be more competition, there will be more customer convenience." Officials have opened the store in an "anticipation of the new mall opening," he said.

While the choice for the first movies is incomplete, Jefferson said they will plan to show a variety of movies. "That's the purpose of having a multi cinema. To provide the people with a greater choice," he said.

"I feel certain the mall will draw most of our people," Jeschke said, "when people are here they might as well stay here.

Jeschke said the reason the theatre won't be ready for the mall's grand opening is due to the delay in receiving materials. "We originally were planning to open at Thanksgiving, but the materials just didn't get here," he said.

Jeschke said he plans to have two showings in each house every evening and continuous showings all day Saturday and Sunday. Prices for adults will be $2 and $1 for children under 12. Students will be able to purchase a student discount for $1.60 cents which is effective for one year and will entitle them to full admission anytime during the year.

Jeschke said he also plans to have a two light hour around showings. "This will make it open and students will be admitted for $1.25 and children at the same $1.00 price.

In addition to a wide choice of films, the cinema will serve popcorn, soft drinks and candy, said Jeschke. He said they are also considering serving sandwiches. The concession stand, which is in "L" shaped, will also be accessible to people in the mall, should they submit to the temptation of fresh popped corn.

No definite hiring has been done yet, Jeschke said, but applications are being taken. The theatre will employ between 10 and 15 people.

American Multi-Cinema presently operates three other theatre units located throughout the country according to Jeschke. The president, Stanley Durwood, is credited with being the originator of the multi cinema idea and built the nations first twin theatre in the City. Jeschke said, about twelve years ago.

Both Jeschke and Brooks are newcomers to the theatre business. Bruce Brooks of Rockford, Ill., now lives in R. R. 4, Jeschke recently moved from both Illinois and Ohio. Omah, Neb. He and his wife live in a house seven miles from the theatre. "I'm very impressed with the people around here. I think they are very friendly.

University Four theatres

J.C. Penney Co. Inc. will be joined by other stores when the University Mall shopping center on Ill. 14 will be opened.

Grand opening ceremonies are scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday, J.C. Penney, opened February, 1971, was the first store in the new mall; Eckert's became the second store when it opened Oct. 14.

Shoppers were surprised to find out that while there would "be more competition, there will be more customer convenience." Officials have opened the store in "anticipation of the new mall opening," he said.

New Brooks shop

A fantastic selection, new stock arriving everyday and frequent "sales' will be available at the new store opened at Brook's ladies store, according to manager Susan Rodgrigue.

Brook's is one of the stores that will be open when the University Mall opens for 1971, and now has 100 stores in the east, south and midwest, said Rodgrigue.

Brook's will feature such brand names as Sweet Baby Jane, Cookes, Happy Legs, Time and Place, Phase Morris, and many other national brands.

This store is part of a project that has been in operation for 20 years and now has 100 stores in the east, south and midwest. Westerns, said Rodgrigue.

Brook's, another well known brand. The name is the same, Rodgrigue, said, but she does carry a few items in that line.

Brook's fashions are designed to appeal primarily to high school, college, and young career women. "We have things that are both practical and stylish," Rodgrigue said.

They have things that would appeal to both older women. "They have things that are well cut for the body, " Rodgrigue said.

Many of the stores are often listed in America's shopping lists which indicate where items shown in the magazine can be purchased.

The store has four departments, women's, men's, children's, dresses, coats, and accessories including hats, scarves, belts and hand bags. In the sports wear department prices range between $1.00 and $45, depending on the article of clothing bought, Mrs. Rodgrigue said. "We try to give good quality for reasonable prices," she said.

The store will employ between 15 and 20 full and part-time employees. Brooks, which will open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 12 till 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Dreifus jewelers

Emphasizes decor

When shoppers stroll down the central walkway they will notice the presence of a new store. The Dreifus Company opened on Wednesday they may be struck by the unique decor of the Dreifus Jewelry Company.

The store is open from ten on two sides, which brings the merchandise out to the customer, according to information provided by the company. The store is set up to make it easier for the customer to see the store without having to walk into the store. The offices, containing the displays, have a curved glass window on the corner decorated with a sparkling chandelier.

In addition to the decor the store will offer an excellent reputation in buying, selling and trading the diamond. Their guaranteed diamond and colored diamond are guaranteed to trade-back. Certain grade, ring styles and 24-day money-back clause, regular fine feelers. The store is a time sale and are trade-in allowance, and a permanent registration record.

New record shop

The Record Bar, opening at the University Mall February 8, will give Carbondale and area residents another store to buy modern and classical records and accessories. The Record Bar, will stock "all kinds of records" including singles, classical records, country-western and blues. The store will also carry record cases, needles, record cleaners and other accessories for records, record players, carts and others. South Will, assistant manager; Larry Company is the manager of the store. The record store will employ two people.

Hecht's opens third store in chain at mall

Hecht's, one of several ladies ready-to-wear shops in the new University Mall, will open its doors following the grand opening ceremonies of the shopping complex 9 a.m. Wednesday.

The store is specializing in both ladies and juniors ready-to-wear clothing and accessories, including purses, jewelry, scarves and make-up. Martin Duggar, store manager, and store department head said Hecht's will carry name labels, fashions and products.

The store is in a regional chain with other stores located in Cape Girardeau, Mo., and will employ 10 salespeople.

Duggar said Hecht's has been in business for "more than 35 years."

This store had one of the first selections of mall locations. Tamara Moore will be the local manager of Hecht's.

Sears to offer
44 departments

Miss Illinois 1974 and Winne-the-Pooch will be on hand to welcome customers to the new Sears store during the grand opening ceremonies of the University Mall shopping center 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Sears is designed as one of the modern shopping centers with over 44 merchandise departments plus an automotive center.

Departments include fashions for the whole family, sporting goods, home appliances, kitchenware and automotive goods.

Arthur F. Nitz will be manager. He recently managed the Sears store in Belleville, Ill.

Miss Illinois 1974, Jean Ahern, will be at the store from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. signing autographs. Winne-the-Pooch will give away free coloring books to the children and help promote the new line of fall fashions for children.

The new store is in a contemporary design. Two floors of service and storage space total 30,873 square feet making Sears one of the largest stores in the new shopping complex.

Beauty salon opens today

When the Regis Corp. opens its doors Wednesday, after the grand opening ceremonies of the new University Mall shopping center, Carbondale and the Southern Illinois area will have a new 12-station, full-service beauty salon.

Regis Corp. is a chain with shops in the U.S. and Canada but "yet in Europe," Lyda McDonald, regional supervisor, said. Salons are located in all states except Georgia and Alabama.

"This is the newest, exciting, attractive beauty salon in Carbondale," said McDonald.

The full-service salons will include equipment for hair treatment including cutting, coloring and setting. A manicure will also be available. No appointments are necessary and men and women are welcome.

Size of the salon will be between 1,080 and 1,500 square feet. Carbondale salon manager will be Susan Minnix.

Orange Bowl for fast service

The Orange Bowl, fast food restaurant, will be added to the Southern Illinois area's growing list of places to eat.

The restaurant opens after the grand opening ceremonies of the new University Mall shopping center 9 a.m. Wednesday.

The restaurant will specialize in fast food items including pizza, hot dogs, ice cream and soft drinks. James Miller, operations manager for the parent company, said.

The Orange Bowl is considered a market that will "appeal to all age groups," he said. The food is considered a market that will "appeal to all age groups," he said. The food is

Unisex clothing set for opening

The first Jant Panta store in the Carbondale area will open Wednesday following the grand opening ceremonies of the new University Mall shopping center.

The store is a "unisex clothing shop" for high school, college and young adults. Ben Maraganis, local manager and owner, said adults will also be comfortable in clothes purchased here.

Leisure group clothing will be featured in the store with materials ranging from "denim to double knit," he said. No suits or ties will be sold, instead, informal clothing—overshirts, sweaters, jeans and slacks.

Brands said will include Levi, Haggar, A.1. Landlumber, Cheap Jean, Kennington for girls and Son Downer. Prices range from $7 to $33.

Eight employees will work in the 1,700 square foot shop. The chain was started in Chicago 45 years ago. It is "going national with 90 stores in 15 states," he said.

The Jant Panta chain opening in the University Mall is not connected with the Jant Panta stores in Missouri and Illinois.

Phillips to offer
women's clothing

Carbondale and area women will have another store to buy fashionable clothing, accessories and sleepwear this fall when Phillips Specialty Shop opens with the grand opening ceremonies of the new University Mall shopping center 9 a.m. Wednesday.

The store will specialize in "Junior and misses clothing plus accessories and sleepwear, but no make-up," Sherry Ramnack, the local manager, said.

Price ranges to the "middle to upper class customer," she said.

"During Record Bar's Grand Opening Celebration Meet Musical Stars Barbra Streisand, John Denver, Neil Young, Mick Jagger, Paul McCartney and Me."

"You're probably wondering who I am. I'm the manager of the new Record Bar here in town."

"And, yes, I'm a musical star. My talent is working hard to get you the very best in musical entertainment."

"And that's my job. To know about music. And how to get you the music you want."

"Right now, I'm offering you special prices on records and tapes of over 50 top recording stars. On labels like Columbia/Epic, RCA, Warner Brothers, Capitol and Atlantic."

"And if you're into classical music, I'll give you RCA Red Seal Classic, Angel Classics, Columbia Classic and Nonesuch Budget Classics at prices that are hard to find."

"Or check the $3.99 lp's and $4.69 tapes that are our special Grand Opening, one-time-only bargains."

"Then hurry on into our place. Our Grand Opening Celebration is happening right now."

"But if you don't make it, don't give up. I will be around with my act for a long, long time to come."

"Check these special sales prices when you come in to visit me."

Fabric store unique in mall

So Pro Fabrics will be the only fabric specialty shop in the new University Mall shopping center when it opens Wednesday.

So Pro Fabrics specializes in material but also will carry patterns, notions, sewing magazines, trims and other decorative sewing items. So Pro Fabrics Local Manager Jack Gay said, "We will carry fabrics for everyone." Gay said.

The store also carries notions including scissors, thread and zippers. Butterick, McCalls and Simplicity patterns will be stocked, he said.

Currently on sale are plain suiting, corduroy and velvets. The sale is chain-wide and not just the Carbondale store. The chain originally started in 1948 in California. The stores are now located all over the country, he said.

Gay said that this is the first So Pro Fabric shop to be opened in this area and seems to be a 'real good market.' The nearest store is in St. Louis.

The store will be 5,300 square feet and will employ 11 full time and part time employees.

New store offers 'just books'

Walden Bookstore is scheduled to open Wednesday morning following the University Mall shopping center's grand opening ceremonies. Walden Bookstore "sells books—no magazines, no tobacco. "

Walden's manager calls mall 'great place'

Walden's, which opened Oct. 14, will remain part of the new University Mall shopping complex which is scheduled for a 9 a.m. grand opening Wednesday.

Bob McMillin, Walden's 'Fly' to feature his, hers apparel

A his and hers, pants and tops store will be opening in the University Mall shopping center Wednesday.

The new store, called The Fly, will feature "casual clothing plus belts, and accessories, but mostly tops and bottoms." Mike Taylor, manager of The Fly, Candles and Stuff, and Kreische said.

Brands include Levi, Lee and other top jeans, he said.

Six employees will be at The Fly. Other shops in the chain include Quincy, Bloomington, and Danville, Ill. manager, said that the mall is "a great place to be."

Hours for the store are 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Walden's is also open on holidays.

Cloud 9 to open shop

The Cloud 9 store will be one of three gift shops scheduled to open Wednesday afternoon the University Mall shopping center grand opening ceremonies.

"Mrs. H. R. Bess, merchandising director of Cloud 9 stores from the national office, said that the store will carry items including jewelry, books, toys, gifts for both men and women, kitchenware, men's articles and other miscellaneous articles.

The shop will "have everything for little children to adults," she said.

This store is service minded— we will wrap your packages for free and mail them anywhere for the price of the postage," she said.

"This is the fun place to shop."

Lucia Cristinau will be the local manager of the Cloud 9 store. The franchise operation started its months ago in Columbia, Mo. and now stores have spread from Arizona to Washington. G.C. Bess said.

The store will hire two full time and four part time employees.
