The Daily Egyptian, October 31, 1988

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_October1988
Volume 75, Issue 51

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1988 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in October 1988 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
Festivities keep Safety Center busy

By Miguel Alba
Staff Writer

A weekend is over, but not without claiming some casualties. Members of the Public Relations Student Society of America, the organizers of the Halloween Safety Center, and Safety Center volunteers were kept busy Friday and Saturday night providing help for people in distress. In its second year of service, the Safety Center provided first aid, food, non-alcoholic drinks, taxi service...

192 people arrested at Halloween

By Mark Barnett
Staff Writer

Fewer Halloween revelers misbehaved this year, at least for those in distress. Staff Writer pollee arrested four for aggravated disorderly conduct, four were for throwing beer cans, two public drunkenness arrests, 52 underage alcohol violations, one arrest for a false identification and one disorderly conduct.

Neal Jacobsen, public information officer of the Carbondale Police, estimated Friday's crowd at 7,000.

Jacobsen said 136 arrests were made Saturday night. Police estimated Saturday night's crowd at 12,000. Saturday night there were 62 arrests for under age possession of alcohol; 38 arrests for reckless conduct, persons throwing beer cans; nine arrests for disorderly conduct; four arrests for possession of cannabis and two arrests for aggravated battery. Other arrests police considered minor were not broken down into categories.

Photos, staff report of the celebration

—Pages 10 and 11

A on-call ambulance and a walk-in care station at the center. The center acted as a focal point," he said. "The police helped out by directing people to us. Sometimes they would bring us intoxicated people to take care of." Kipp estimated that nine people were treated for intoxication, one of whom was sent to 'a hospital by ambulance.

"One guy got his neck burned by an exploding bottle rocket," Kipp said. "He was treated and told to seek medical assistance." Kipp said other injuries ranged from sprained ankles to head abrasions caused by thrown beer cans.

Housing will not renew its refrigerator contract

By Kimberly Clarke
Staff Writer

Problems that the University has had with Academic Service Products in refrigerator rentals has prompted administrators not to renew the 3- to 5-year contract Edward Jones, director of University Housing, said, "We're not going to break the contract in the middle of the year because it would be too disruptive, but we will not continue the contract," he said.

But the University's problems with the company seem to be a isolated incident according to other universities that are using the company's services.

Lori Schiebe, assistant director of the University of Minnesota's housing, said that in the first year working with Academic Service Products, the only problem experienced was the need for better repair services.

"They were very good about coming down and working out the problems, and we have had no problems since," Schiebe said.

At Iowa State University, Dick McFarland, assistant director of Administrative Services for the Department of Residence, said that they have worked with the company for three years and have not had many problems.

"The first year we had individual problems but since then I have not heard of any other problems," McFarland said.

The contract with the University stated that the company would provide refrigerators that are in "like new" condition to the students living in University Housing, Ray Yarbrough, assistant director of Purchasing, said. "I guess "like new" is a matter of opinion, but I would assume it to mean looking new and function like new," Yarbrough said.

However, the refrigerators that were delivered were dirty and beat up, and of lesser quality than the contract stated, Yarbrough said. The University has already received its 30 percent commission. University administrators said they are unable to communicate...

This Morning

DE photographer, cartoonist honored

— Page 6

Freshman wins Valley meet

— Sports 20

Partly sunny, 50s.

Little characters

Ashley and Jerrod Neisen, left, wait to be judged with their father, Mike Nelson of Carbondale, Martha Jedametzky, mother of Dustin Clover, dressed as a devil, and Nicholas Thomas of Murphyborough, check out the competition at a costume contest held Sunday at Turley Park.
AIDS Awareness Week September 23-28, 1989. We want to raise people's consciousness concerning the spread and prevention of this life-threatening disease that can affect anyone.

Lead line: to submit entries in November 5. Entries will be judged by the AIDS Awareness Week Committee of women and men announced the week of November 15. More that one erie is fine.

Grand prize: Donation for two at Fantasma 1/2 tickets for a play about AIDS, "Before It's Too Late," scheduled for January 28.

1st prize: Quarters (2) and tickets to the play.

2nd prize: Tickets to the play.

Co-sponsored by the Education Subcommittee of the SIU AIDS Task Force in cooperation with the University AIDS Task Force of the Wellness Center at the University of Southern Illinois.

Sponsor: S Rachel Cohen, Assistant Director of the Wellness Center.

SPC Expressive Arts Presents:
RAY MANZAREK
(Former Keyboardist of The Doors)

&

MICHAEL MCCLURE
Obie Award Winning Playwright

Friend & Mentor of Jim Morrison

An evening of Poetry, Music & Spoken Word

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 3, 1988
8:00 pm

B location of Poetry, Music & Spoken Word

TICKETS: $5.00 SIU Students $6.00 Public

Available at the Student Center or Campus Ticket Office.

For more information, call SPC at 536-3923.

Newswrap
world/nation

Pinochet says opposition may be plotting his death

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) - Military strongman Gen. Augusto Pinochet, in his toughest denunciation of the opposition since he was denied another term as president by a pinicic, said he believes his opponents may be plotting to kill him. In a speech Saturday night in the city of Liculeo in northern Chile, Pinochet also repeated charges that the opposition is trying to create divisions within the armed forces and undermine the stability of the nation with proposals for constitutional changes.

Contras kill 10 in ambush of relief convoys

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) - Eight civilians and two soldiers were killed during the weekend in rebel ambushes against military and civilian vehicles involved in assisting victims of Hurricane Joan, the Defense Ministry said Sunday. Contra military leader Enriqu Bermeudez denied reports that 1,900 rebels had infiltrated Nicaragua to disrupt relief and reconstruction efforts following the devastation of Hurricane Joan.

Rev. Moon marries 13,000 at one ceremony

YONGIN, South Korea (UPI) - More than 13,000 young men and women, many of them virtual strangers to each other, took marriage vows Sunday in a mass wedding conducted by Rev. Sun Myung Moon, head of the Unification Church. The mass marriage set a record for the religious leader, who married 6,000 couples in October 1982.

U.N. chief tells Iran, Iraq to strive for peace

GENEVA (UPI) - Iran and Iraq exchanged wounded prisoners Sunday under U.N. Secretary-Generaliki Sadiki. Sadiki told the two nations it is in their own interests to make progress at a new round of Persian Gulf peace talks beginning Monday. The two sides marked the end of the bloody war by exchanging 50 wounded prisoners - 25 each side - under the auspices of the International Red Cross.

Ferdinand Marcos given temporary reprieve

NEW YORK (UPI) - Imelda Marcos, known as "Steel Butterfly" when her husband ruled the Philippines, arrived in the United States on Sunday to face a federal malfeasence federal racketeering indictment charging the couple used stolen Philippines funds to buy New York real estate. Former President Ferdinand Marcos, 71, claiming his week heart made the trip to New York possible, was given a temporary reprieve from his scheduled fingerprinting.

Hepatitis B virus could speed up AIDS virus

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - The hepatitis B virus apparently can activate genes in the AIDS virus and speed up the deadly progression of AIDS in people infected with both viruses, scientists announced Sunday. Doctors have suspected hepatitis B virus, or HBV, may play a role in how fast AIDS progresses, but no one has looked at about 80 percent of homosexual men and intravenous drug users with AIDS have at one time been infected with HBV.

Greenfield holds afternoon trick-or-treating

GREENFIELD, Mass. (UPI) - Parents and other relatives to the children trick or treating Sunday afternoon said a plea by officials to hold Halloween activities during daylight while a search continued for a murder suspect whose appetite for horror films may have inspired the killing. Groups of trick-or-treaters dressed as witches, ghosts, pirates and dozens of other characters went door to door in Greenfield's tree-lined neighborhoods, while police appeared to be out in force.

Scientists find sunken layers of Earth crust

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) - Scientists believe they have solved one of the great geological mysteries that has puzzled researchers for decades by finding the sunken layers they say is Earth's crucial "missing" crust. The discovery, to be announced Monday at the annual convention of the Geological Society of America in Denver, finally lays to rest the question of Earth's outer crust is so thin that it is thinner than comparable than comparative layers on the moon and Mars.

Daily Egyptian

(SPS 10/24/82)

Published daily in the Journalism and Egyptian Laboratory Monday through Friday during regular semesters and Tuesday through Friday during summer term by Southern Illinois University, Communications Building, Carbondale, IL 62901. Second-class postage paid at Carbondale, Ill.

Editorial and business offices located in Communications Building.

North Wing, Phone 525-3251. Walter B. Feehery, business manager.

Subscription rates are $4.00 per year or $2.00 per six months within the United States and $5.00 per year or $3.00 for six months in all foreign countries.

Postmaster. Send change of address to Daily Egyptian, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901.
Progressive "Wrapping" 400 Million Dollars for Urban Renewal In Springfield

Clark R. Dunn, Incumbent, is up for re-election with challenger Miguel Alba.

Clark R. Dunn, a Democratic candidate for the 58th District, said he has been involved in supporting education by serving as a member of the Senate Elementary and Secondary Education Committee and as the minority spokesman on the Senate Higher Education Committee.

Dunnsaid he was responsible for sponsoring Senate Bill 730, proposing educational reform at the high school level.

That bill was intended to upgrade the system. There were changes because of it, the testing of teachers, report cards, educational requirements and other basic changes," he said.

"It cost a billion dollars to implement, but funding has been cut back from the program," Dunn said. "The first year, 1986, the program received $50 million in additional support. The second year it only received $100 million. This year there was no additional funding provided," he said.

Dunn said he supports a state-wide tax increase. "Colleges are raising tuition because there is no money at the state level," he said. "High schools also need to raise tuition for the needed money, but they raise local taxes."

Dunn said the state should provide 50 percent of the cost of education, but it is only providing 40 to 42 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.

Dunn said the state should only provide 40 to 42 percent of the cost of education, but it is providing 50 percent. "If critics say there is no need to raise taxes, but there is a need to redistribute and carefully allocate the resources that are available," he said.
Lost dormitory key opens security flaws

ONE OF THE most expensive door keys can be found here at SIU-C. The key, issued last week, has an estimated value between $3,000 to $4,000. The key provided access to residents' rooms in Neely Hall. Housing administrators said it would cost $3,000 to $4,000 to recore the locks and replace the keys.

In A TIME when spending is tight at SIU-C, $3,000 to $4,000 is an extravagance.

We realize that it is necessary to provide security to the Neely Hall residents. Unfortunately, the last incident should cause Housing administrators to rethink their policy concerning housing security.

FIRST OF ALL, possession of a master key does not belong in the hands of a student. No doubt it is necessary for head residents to have a key that will open dorm rooms in case of an emergency, but it is unnecessary to have one key for all the locks. Having to change every lock because of a lost key is ridiculous. Locks exist with changeable tumblers and combinations.

HOUSING administrators have decided to issue master keys instead of one master key to each resident. This way, if a key is lost, only a few locks and keys will have to be replaced.

This is the lesson Housing administrators said they have learned from the incident, but are not taking all of the blame.

The UNLucky staff member who lost the key must pay $10 or 10 percent of the cost, whichever is higher. This is unfair since the supplier might have chosen to sell a more durable key. The master key, he should not be required to pay a percentage of the damage. After all, accidents will happen.

Letters

Alcohol breathalyzer misused

I'm upset by the apparent misuse of the alcohol breathalyzer: By the Carbondale police detectives on Thursday, Oct. 20 at 6:30 a.m. Your article said that the police were using the breathalyzer to raise the public's awareness of their legal limit of alcohol in their system.

The concept behind the program, Alcohol Awareness Week, is appealing, but unfortunately, what it appears to be doing is making people aware of how much they can drink without being classified DUl, instead of reinforcing the importance that you do not drink and drive.

Your article of Oct. 25 accounts one person after taking the test. So, if he was surprised, he was surpised, he was surprised that he can drink that much and still be OK, he said. Why was this person surprised? If he didn't feel sober enough to drive, perhaps he shouldn't drive. Now he knows he was OK, so he'll drive. Perhaps it would be better if he didn't take that chance. If he feels like he's had too much to drink to drive, then shouldn't drive, whether the breathalyzer said he can or not.

The limit we need to be aware of is not the amount we can drink and remain below the legal limit, but how much we can drink and remain below control of that 1.066 pound missile that so many of us surround so precariously even when sober. -- Glenn Weinhardt, sophomore, mechanical engineering.

Editorial Policies

Signed articles, including letters, viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinion of the authors only. The opinions and views expressed do not necessarily represent the consensus of the Daily Egyptian Editorial Board, whose members are the student editor-in-chief, the editorial page editor, the associate editorial page editor, a news staff member, the features editor and the copy editor. Each article is written, researched and double spaced. All letters are subject to editing and will be limited to 300 words.

Letters of 350 words or less will be given preference for publication. Students must identify themselves, by class and major, faculty members by rank and department. Non-academic staff by position and department.

Letters submitted by mail should include the author’s address and telephone number. Letters for which verification of authorship cannot be made will not be published.

Daily Egyptian

Opinion & Commentary

And it's high time you started acting like a first lady! Go out and borrow some dresses!

I suppose I could tolerate a bimbo in dictatorship if I were the sovereign dictator, but that's the one occupation I'd make of Bush, I distrust the federal bureaucracy. Unlike Bush, I haven't been much of my adult life as part of it.

Despite these non-liberal views, I've been labeled as a liberal almost from the day I started writing a column. And I think I know why. When my columns began, the most important social issue and story in America was the civil rights movement. I supported it. Why not? If it was good enough for Abe Lincoln, it was okay with me. Suddenly I heard from many readers who didn't agree and said so in blunt terms.

I learned that in Chicago, as in many parts of the country, big cities, the word liberal has one basic, simple definition. It's just another word for "nigger lover."

Whatever crude and offensive phrase doesn't shock you, but, yes, that's the most consistent meaning of the word.

If you will disagree, but I base my finding on intensive research: thousands of handwriting, letters, phone calls and barroom bellowes.

And, believe me, if I'd a tea spot for every time I've heard or read the phrase "nigger-loving liberals," I'd be rich enough to... well, to be Bush's running mate.

Now, if YOU can persuade me that I'm wrong, I'll be all too happy to admit it. Maybe when you have written and said a dirty liberal, you really mean, as Webster's says, that I am broad-minded, tolerant, and favoring reform and personal freedom. And if so, I'll totally agree with you.

But if that's what you really mean, you're so sweet, and I'm so... well, I'm not.

And, believe me, I've shown some restraint. My secretary has deliberate sensibilities. When my daily editorials use the word (bleep).

Thank you.

Mike Royko
Tribune Media Services

Picture a preacher, another to a social worker.

Actually, the world liberal started getting fuzzy many years ago. And I speak from personal experience.

Since the 1960s, when I started writing a column, Chicago readers have called me a liberal, usually making it sound like pervert or degenerate.

But am I liberal under the dictionary definition?

What Bush really means by liberal is: "coddler of criminals, raiser of taxes and funkiy to the Soviets."

NOT REALLY I'm not tolerant of views different from my own. If people phone me with contrary opinions, I often hang up on them. Not that I'm rude, but phone sex, and that resource is limited, it should not be wasted.

Am I broad-minded? Only to a certain point. I believe that anybody who agrees with me on something is intelligent and perceptive. That's broad-minded enough for me.

Then there's Bush's definition. And I don't quite get that either. I am not a coddler of criminals. I've long favored the death penalty, not only for murderers, but for politicians who tell lies.

Like Bush, I'm against raising taxes. Actually, I don't care if they raise your taxes, but I don't want mine to go up, which is the attitude of most Americans.

And I'm against communism or any other oppressiive form of government. I

The meaning of the word 'liberal' has many definitions to many people

Viewpoint

Mike Royko
Tribune Media Services

preacher, another to a social worker.

Actually, the world liberal started getting fuzzy many years ago. And I speak from personal experience.

Since the 1960s, when I started writing a column, Chicago readers have called me a liberal, usually making it sound like pervert or degenerate.

But am I liberal under the dictionary definition?

What Bush really means by liberal is: "coddler of criminals, raiser of taxes and funkiy to the Soviets."

NOT REALLY I'm not tolerant of views different from my own. If people phone me with contrary opinions, I often hang up on them. Not that I'm rude, but phone sex, and that resource is limited, it should not be wasted.

Am I broad-minded? Only to a certain point. I believe that anybody who agrees with me on something is intelligent and perceptive. That's broad-minded enough for me.

Then there's Bush's definition. And I don't quite get that either. I am not a coddler of criminals. I've long favored the death penalty, not only for murderers, but for politicians who tell lies.

Like Bush, I'm against raising taxes. Actually, I don't care if they raise your taxes, but I don't want mine to go up, which is the attitude of most Americans.

And I'm against communism or any other oppressiive form of government. I
Stop waiting

Dallas Anderson, 11, left, son of Jessie Wood, and Alan Hicks Jr., 11, son of Alan Hicks Sr., waiting on the corner of Willow and Bridge Streets for the school bus that will take them to Thomas Elementary School in northeast Carbondale.

TENT, from Page 1

Kipp said 150 peanut butter and jelly sandwiches were given away during the weekend festivity. The group also gave away 15 gallons of coffee, doughnuts, several cases of soda, and four garbage bags filled with popcorn. Everything was donated by local businesses.

CONTRACT, from Page 1

Robert Yeager, the owner, and have decided to put the matter in the hands of the legal counsel.

"I've exhausted all of my resources, I've written, and called but he is not responding," Yarbrough said, "so now we are going to file a legal case.

In the past years, Yarbrough said that the University has not had problems with the renting of the refrigerators, however this incident is prompting the University to review the contract that is bidding out.

"It's never been a problem so we've never had to write a long, hard-bound contract, but now we are going to strengthen the contract and require the company to start out with all new refrigerators," Yarbrough said.

The University's problems with company seem to be an isolated incident according to other universities that are using the company's services.

The main objective of the University is to get the commission money that is owed to them, and to make sure that the company fulfills its obligations listed in the contract, Yarbrough said.

"I've sent a letter stating that we wish to cancel the contract, we will not renew with them next year," Yarbrough said.

Correction

Five senators were impeached Wednesday at the Regular Student Government meeting.

The approval of about $5,000 in Regular Student Organization funding was delayed when three Committee for Internal Affairs members left the senate floor during a September meeting, allegedly to prevent the approval of executive appointments.

Three senators from the committee submitted the bill to impeachment Vince Kelly. Thirty-four USG members were considered for impeachment.

This information was incorrectly stated in the Daily Egyptian Friday.
2 Whales Could Hit Big Screen

Barrow, Alaska (UPI) — With those famous whales out to sea and the Eskimo village of Barrow returning to normal Sunday, Hollywood cast its eyes northward toward the scene of the rescue that captured the imagination of the world.

"I already have two movie offers," said Ron Morris, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration biologist who helped coordinate the rescue operation that freed two California gray whales from the arctic ice.

"I just got a call from Marlon Brando," said Cindy Lowry, the Alaska Greenpeace representative who allied herself with Eskimos, government agencies, the military, the oil industry and two Russian icebreaking ships in the rescue mission.

DE Staffers Win College Press Awards

Photographer takes first place for portrait work

Perry A. Smith
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Two Daily Egyptian staff members won awards at the Associated Collegiate Press and College Media Advisers national convention held in Atlanta Oct. 26 to 29.

Perry A. Smith, senior in cinema and photography, won the All-American Photographers Award, taking first place in the portrait category. "This is the first contest I've entered," Smith, a Daily Egyptian staff photographer, said. "I am happy about it," he added.

Stephan Cox

The photograph was part of an April 29 Daily Egyptian Perspective about Future City, Ill., a small town of about 80 residents near Cairo.

"I'm pretty excited, it's nice to be recognized for your work," Cox said. Cox is a graphic artist for the Daily Egyptian and the author of the cartoon panel, "It's A Rough Life." About 1,400 delegates took part in the convention.

RESUMES

Get a LaserSet Resume and 50 copies for only

$19.88

The LaserLraphic Center

KOPIES & MORE

607 S. Illinois Ave.

520-5679

November 1988

Pizza Pete's is located in the Big Muddy Room on the lower level of the Student Center.

HOURS:

10:30-2:00 Monday-Friday
'Bat 21' doesn't get preachy
In dealing with Vietnam War

Movie succeeds by depicting reality of prisoner's ordeal

By Kathleen DeBo
Staff Writer

"Bat 21" is a tense, realistic drama about a man caught behind enemy lines.

Gene Hackman plays Lt. Col. Ira Hamilton, an intelligence officer code named "Bat 21" who gets shot down behind enemy lines in Vietnam. He lands in an area scheduled to be bombed shortly by the Americans and becomes a "Birddog"Clarke, a spotter-plane pilot, played by Danny Glover, to coordinate his escape.

One reason the film is so good is its realism. It is based on a true story, and it shows glimpses of everyday life in combat situations.

If there is any problem with this film, it is that Gene Hackman's role is like too many of his other roles. With the exception of his character in "No Way Out," the man plays perpetually sweet, gentle, middle-aged men. His latest role is most reminiscent of his part in "Uncommon Valor." In fact, the two films are similar in other ways. They both play heavily on the importance of camaraderie.

People who think every movie about Vietnam must give an opinion about whether we should have been there or not will be disappointed with this film. Despite the fact that Vietnam is very controversial, this movie gives little attention to the broader context of the war. The plot could just as easily have been set in Korea or the World War II South Pacific. That is not necessarily a fault in the movie, but it is a difference audiences need to be aware of.

If you want to see a good movie about friendship and narrow escapes, go see "Bat 21." If you want a movie with a message, this is not it.

Film Review

The dialogue rings true and the film shows realistic portrayals of Vietnam and its people. The film is so realistic that people do not sit through it. People don't even sit through most movies, including "Platoon." The main aim of the movie is not to deliver a message.

The main aim of the film is to show the friendship of men whose lives depend on one another. It succeeds in this goal.

Danny Glover gives an outstanding performance as the spotter-plane pilot. Clarke's relationships with the helicopter pilots and the mechanic are full of warmth and humor.

A fantastic musical score increases the tension and makes a major contribution to setting the mood of the film.

If there is any problem with this film, it is that Gene Hackman's role is like too many of his other roles. With the exception of his character in "No Way Out," the man plays perpetually sweet, gentle, middle-aged men. His latest role is most reminiscent of his part in "Uncommon Valor." In fact, the two films are similar in other ways. They both play heavily on the importance of camaraderie.

People who think every movie about Vietnam must give an opinion about whether we should have been there or not will be disappointed with this film. Despite the fact that Vietnam is very controversial, this movie gives little attention to the broader context of the war. The plot could just as easily have been set in Korea or the World War II South Pacific. That is not necessarily a fault in the movie, but it is a difference audiences need to be aware of.

If you want to see a good movie about friendship and narrow escapes, go see "Bat 21." If you want a movie with a message, this is not it.

"I wasn't rubbing it in—I just wanted Eddie to know the score of last night's game."
Briefs

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at 800 S. Elizabeth St. Jane Austin will present a program on the impact of women in research. For details, contact Rose Mary Carter, 436-3871 or 564-JK.

VOLUNTEER TELEPHONE solicitors needed for the Emeritus College Scholarship Endowment Fund. The solicitation is set for 6 to 8 p.m. Nov. 8 at the Student Center in Rughty Room. To volunteer, call 536-5100.

PHI BETA Lambda will meet at 7 tonight in Renier Hall Room 18.

DEPARTMENT OF Political Science, 3001 Faner Hall, will meet at 7 tonight in the Law Building. The meeting will be open to the public.

LITTLE EGYPT Cosmology Affiliated No. 24 will meet Nov. 7 at the Charter Bank, 500 W. Main St. Sandy Monahan, instructor at John A. Logan College, will present a lecture and demonstration on the solar system.

BRIEF'S POLICY — The deadline for the Campus Briefs has been moved to 9 a.m. each Monday. Briefs should be handed to the Daily Egyptian office before noon each Monday. Entry typewritten and double spaced, with space for name of student, brief, name of sponsor and deadline. The deadline for publications is Nov. 11.

DETA Health Club, intersection of Routes 13 and 146, is starting new sessions of aerobics, martial arts, scuba diving, lifesaving and swimming classes beginning Tuesday.

SINGLE PARENT Support Group will meet at 7 tonight at the Wesley Foundation.

STUDENTS FOR THE Arts Chub Lunch meeting will be at noon today on the first floor of Allyn Building.

CHRISTIANITY AND New Age Discussion Group will meet at 8 tonight at the Wesley Foundation, 616 S. Illinois Ave.

ALCOHOL, SUBSTANCE Abuse and the Professions' panel discussion on Legal and Medical perspectives will be at 6:30 Wednesday in 162 Lower Law Building. Sponsored by the Law and Medicine Society.

SOCIETY FOR The Advancement of Management will meet at 6:30 tonight in the Student Center Illinois Room. Membership and business trip fees are due.

ALPHA KAPPA Psi, a professional business fraternity, will meet at 7 tonight in the Student Center.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS Club will meet at 7:30 tonight and every Monday night in the School of Foreign Languages. A panel discussion on the 1984 Summer Olympic Games will be held. The meeting is open to the public.

EQUESTRIAN TEAM mandatory emergency meeting at 6:30 tonight in the Student Center Ohio Room. For details, call 536-7926.

STUDENT ALUMNI Council will meet at 6 tonight in the Student Center Mississipi Room. Executive Council will meet at 6.

JEWISH-CHRISTIAN CO-NATIONALISTS "Jewish Identity" at 7:30 tonight at St. Andrews Episcopal Church, 402 W. Mill St.

APPLICATIONS MUST be received by Nov. 7 for the Dec. 9 Test of English as a Foreign Language. To register, contact Testing Services at Woody Hall Box, 536-8933.

Technology school seeks sticker design

The Department of Technology will award $200 to any person who can design the department sticker.

All entries must include the SIUC emblem, SIUC enclosed in a maroon circle, the words "Department of Technology. Creative graphics or a slogan line are encouraged.

The deadline for entries is Nov. 19. The price will be awarded Nov. 19.

Entries must be submitted to Bill Eichfeld, associate professor, Department of Technology, Tech A 319-C.

The contest is sponsored by the Student Chapters of the Illinois Registered L.I. Surveyors and Associated General Contractors. It is open to all members of the campus community.

For details, call 536-7926.

Students of the game

Congratualations to the GTE Academic All-Americans.

They are the leaders of the team. But what makes them even more special is their outstanding academic records. They are the GTE Academic All-Americans, selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) for being high achievers — in the game as well as the classroom. GTE is proud to be the official sponsor of this 36-year-old program and congratulates these student-athletes on their Academic All-American achievements.

GTE Academic All-America Team Selected by CoSIDA

Announcing — for your convenience

We will be open 6 Days a week
Starting Oct. 31, 1988

Varsity South

Barbershop & Hairstyling for Men & Women

704 S. Illinois
457-6564

New Hours:

Mon thru Fri 8:30-5pm
Sat 8:00-4pm

611 Deep Pan Pizza

NOW DELIVERS!

611 Deep Pan Pizza

611 S. Illinois Ave "On the Strip"

549-8178

611 Deep Pan Pizza

NOW DELIVERS!
DISCOUNT DEN'S
DAYLIGHT TO MOONLIGHT
MADNESS SALE
811 S. Illinois
Sale Good Only Mon. 10/31/88 8:30am to MIDNIGHT

COKE
Diet Coke, Mellow Yellow, Cherry Coke, Diet Cherry Coke Sprite & Diet Sprite 12 oz. cans 12-pack
2.55

100's of Titles
COMPACT DISC
11.95

MAXELL XL II
90 Min. Blank Cassette 10 Pack
19.45

PEPSI
Diet Pepsi, Crush, Dr. Pepper & Diet Dr. Pepper 12 oz. Cans 12-Pack
2.55

CASSETTES
New Releases & Regular Catalog
100's of Titles
6.45

JERSEY
Crew Neck Sweat Shirt SIU Imprinted
11.95

COMPACT DISC
100's Of Titles
9.75

MAXELL XL II-S
90 Min. Blank Cassette 10 Pack
22.45

TANK TOPS T-SHIRTS
SIU Imprinted
5.45

TDK SA 90
90 Min. Blank Cassette 8 Pack w/Free Storage Case
14.95

Reg. 3.29 No Limit Reg. 13.89
Reg. 25.99 No Limit Reg. 3.29
Reg. 8.49 & 7.99
Reg. 15.99 No Limit Reg. 10.88
Reg. 30.99 No Limit Reg. 7.99
Reg. 17.49
Pollee estimated 7,000 people were on the Strip Friday and 15,000 were there on Saturday.

Staff Photo by Alan Haw

Earl Snook, of Champaign, partied to the bone Friday.

A road sign outside McDonald's was one of the casualties of Halloween weekend.

Den Thielen, senior in visual communications, and Eugene Chaney Jr., sophomore in psychology, v

Police made 192 arrests this year, an 18 percent decrease from last year.
Halloween festivity gets mixed reviews

A Staff Report

"People were drunk - not threatening but drunk." This is only one of the mixed impressions from Halloween '88 celebrators.

This response, from Lenny Baumann, a student from the University of Illinois at Chicago, signifies the excuse for many to join in the fun.

"It's a good way for people to blow off steam," Baumann did. "It's a nice way to get away from school."

However, some partiers felt the celebration is losing its Halloween theme.

"There's too many drunken people and not enough costumes," Pete Schrader, an SIU-C graduate from Belleville, said.

Some celebrators have been attending the festivities for years. Layton, who moved to Carbondale from Washington, D.C., said he has been coming to Halloween for the last six years.

"It's free," he said. "Another good thing about it is it's nationally known."

I've seen a lot of wild costumes and heard a lot of vulgar language," Monica Whittenberg, who handed out religious pamphlets, said.

Whittenberg represented one of the many religious groups from the local area and other universities that handed out religious paraphernalia.

"An outrageous amount of people. That's what the reputation is all about," Baumann concluded.

Mark Clarke, 1987 alumnus from Nashville, Tenn., looks like she jumped off an adult shirt.
Hispanic businessman argues for Republicans

Durazo tells voters their future lies with George Bush

Editor's note: The St. Louis Post-Dispatch recently sent reporters around the country to talk to ordinary voters who will choose presidential candidates.

By Patrick E. Gauen

SAN DIEGO — Poor Mexican children, many of them barely toddlers, sing mournful lines of Americans waiting to enter the United States at the Tijuana checkpoint.

Their begging is as much a part of the scenery as the high ridges that one sees when a border courier looks to the border on each side — barren on the Mexican horizon, flush with life north of the American.

Beyond the American ridge, in a sizable but obscure California city called Chula Vista, lives Guadalupe Durazo Jr., a proud Hispanic-American who knows about those songs, and about the poverty and prejudice that trail the international boundary.

DURAZO — WILLIE to his friends — used to work the border as a U.S. Customs Service inspector. He also has been a deputized soldier, a prison guard, and even a private eye.

Earlier that month, he took on what may be the most difficult challenge yet — representing the San Diego member local chapter of the Republican National Hispanic Assembly.

Durazo, 36, a volunteering to try to convince the San Diego area's half-million Mexican-Americans that despite the economic inequalities that are their chief concern, their future lies with the Republicans.

They were endorsed by John F. Kennedy's social programs, Durazo said. "We brought them in, and he locked them in. Many are with the Democrats because the mentality of their parents is still with Kennedy. Kennedy's used it to time for a change."
Dukakis invites Bush to election-eve debate

United Press International

Democrat Michael Dukakis challenged President-elect George H.W. Bush Sunday to an hour-long, election-eve, televised debate to discuss Bush's charges that Dukakis' positions would divide the nation.

"If he really thinks I'm trying to divide the country, let's have a discussion on that," Dukakis told a news conference after a campaign rally in Fresno, Calif.

"There's an hour available Monday night (Nov. 7), if he wants to do it," he said.

Dukakis was referring to two consecutive 30-minute spots that both sides have bought on network television for campaign advertisements on the eve of the Nov. 8 election.

Dukakis said, "I'd be perfectly willing to throw that away, if Bush would agree to a debate with only a moderator to preside."

"I'd be happy to meet in person to face to face," Dukakis said of his challenge to Bush, who maintains a lead in the polls that the Massachusetts governor says is "shrinking.

Adding more fuel to his gone-for-broke populist campaign, Dukakis described himself Sunday for the first time this year as a liberal in the tradition of Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman and John Kennedy.

"That's the tradition I grew up with," he said. "I'm not going to let the Republican Party pervert that word (liberal) or give it a meaning it doesn't have," he said in Fresno.

With a scant 10 days before the Nov. 8 election, Dukakis stormed California on a five-stop train trip from Chicago, where both campaigns reportedly indicated over the weekend that, while he still trails Bush, the Massachusetts governor is picking up steam in key states — including California.

At the same time, the Bush campaign has been stepping up an attack line from last week, with a flier that portrays Bush as the "tax collector." The flier states, "You, your spouse, your children, your parents and your friends can have the opportunity to receive a visit from someone like Willie Horton if Mike Dukakis becomes president."

"Dukakis immediately called on Bush to repudiate the flier and "The responsibility for what people do in his campaign," he said. The flier was "even worse than that pamphlet in Illinois," which he described as a week ago as "garbage.

Bush campaign Chairman James Baker, appearing on CBS's "Face the Nation," disowned the Maryland party's flier as "totally out of bounds. Totally unacceptable. This was not authorized by our campaign at all.

Since the summer, the Bush forces have launched a harsh attack on Dukakis using the Horton case among other issues — and tried to spin the inad in public opinion polls.

A Time magazine poll released Sunday indicated the Bush lead may be solidifying.

The weekend that, while he still trails Bush, the Massachusetts governor is picking up steam in key states — including California.
Fringed Area Rugs Wholesale prices

3x5 - 8.95

5x8 - 25.95

much more

Nieman Flooring 867-7231

TRICK or TREAT

---

TRICK or TREAT A FRIEND

---

ROYAL RENTALS

Apartments & Efficiencies

This is no trick! Royal Rentals will treat you to your choice of a T.V. or microwave. To qualify, you must sign now through spring semester.

457-4422 Office at 501 E. College
Five runners set personal bests

By Robert Baxter
Staff Writer

Senior Jane Schumacher ended her career as a cross country runner for the women's team Saturday by running a personal best time of 19:14 in leading the Salukis to a sixth place finish at the Gateway Conference Championships in Peoria.

Schumacher's sixth place finish put her in eighth place on SUU's all-time list and also highlighted a day in which four other Salukis set personal bests.

"We ran tough and did well overall," DeNoon said. "We just had a beat. We thought we would be able to get by Northern Iowa, but even they slipped by us."

Wichita State won the meet, finishing with 83 points. Drake finished second with 59, Illinois State third with 93, Indiana State fourth with 93, Northern Iowa fifth with 121, and SUU sixth with 135.

Freshmen Amie Padgett and Tracy Guerin both had career bests. Guerin turned in a time of 19:56/1:09.01 Pikes on 6-ra. and set personal bests. Guerin turned in a time of 19:56/1:09.01 Pikes on 6-ra.

KENTUCKY, from Page 20

half as they managed only 86 yards of offense after racking up 163 yards in the first two quarters.

"We were not able to move the ball consistently in the second half," Rhodes said. "We were able to capitalize on some turnovers and penalties and get some big plays earlier, but in the second half we just ran out of real estate."

The Salukis seldom passed in the first half, and Rhodes said that was part of the game plan. "We are a wash, well team, and we start every game with the run. We used it especially in the first half since things worked out the way we want." We felt with the ability of Katie's defense, especially in the front, we couldn't afford to drop back and throw all over the top."

Saluki punter Troy Gutterridge, forced to play with a cast on his right hand to protect a broken finger, had trouble punting much of the evening. Shortly after the start of the third quarter, Gutterridge punted short from the Saluki 40-yard line, but hit the Wildcat left tackle Jim Graves in the head and Saluki punt and Chasit Brown caught the ball in midair.

With about 6 minutes left in the third quarter, Gutterridge kicked a punt from the Saluki 24 that went only 12 yards before landing out of bounds. "I've had problems all week with the punting," said Gutterridge of his cast. "I think I looked up and saw a rush and ended up shanking it. I hoped it would be like that fresh kick that hit the guy in the head, but it went out of bounds too fast."

Rhoades said he wasn't going to blame the kicking game for the loss. "I hate to say our kicking game caused it because he was kicking with a broken finger. But I hate to use that as an excuse either,"

A focus of concern by the Salukis most of the week in preparing for the Wildcats was the crowd. But Rhodes said the 50,693 fans in attendance didn't play much of a factor. "I think I looked up and saw a rush and ended up shanking it. I hoped it would be like that fresh kick that hit the guy in the head."

--Troy Gutterridge

"I think one problem we had was a lack of sensors on our squad," DeNoon said. "The top teams all were running with much more maturity than us."

DeNoon said that since five out of the top 10 finishers were seniors, with Wichita State graduating four seniors and Drake three, it should change the conference drastically next season and give the Salukas a boast.

"Illinois State should be in good shape next season," DeNoon said. "They are graduating only one athlete. We'll have Lisa (Judacal) back next year along with Cathy (Brown) and freshmen Amie (Padgett) and Tracy Guerin will have a year's experience to run on."

In team scoring, Drake made a surprise run at Wichita State. The Bulldogs finished runners in the first, third and sixth slots. Wichita finished all five of their scorers in the top 15.
Comics

Doonesbury

By Garry Trudeau

There's No Clowning Around When You Advertise on the

Daily Egyptian

Cartoon Page call 536-3311 for more information

Daily Egyptian, October 31, 1981, Page 17
Freshman fills shoes at QB

By David Gallicanti
Saluki Times

LEXINGTON, Ky. — For Saluki freshman Scott Gabbert, it was like a dream come true. Not only was he starting his first college game at quarterback, but against Kentucky, no less. That's a lot for a 17-year-old to swallow.

"I had a lot of fun," said Gabbert with a big smile after the Salukis' 24-10 loss to the Wildcats Saturday. "They let me know I was going to start on Wednesday, and said not to say anything about it, so it wouldn't be a big deal. I was more or less overwhelmed." Gabbert, whose parents and brother were among the 50,000 people at Commonwealth Stadium, said the way things started off surprised him.

"The first half I was kind of surprised because in the first half sometimes I get going and start to stutter. Tonight, I went out there and said "We're going to run this," and we did." Offensive coordinator Fred Rhoades said the freshman performed well.

"He got a little rattled in the third quarter, but we are a young football team, and it has been a long time since this school has played a game like this."

Head coach Rick Rhoades said Gabbert came through with the job given him.

"Scott played a great football game, considering this was his first substantial action since Murray State, and he did a great job."

Rhoades said even though junior quarterback Reggie Edwards should have played some, the time was right for Gabbert.

"He did just so well, that we didn't want to change the tempo. We decided to go with the hot hand."

SCORE BY QUARTERS
Kentucky: 7 10 14 2
Saluki: 0 0 7 10

T-BIRDS
Gotta Love It!

40¢ Drafts

All Day All Nite
111 N. Washington

QUATROS ORIGINAL
Delicious & Nutritious
Whole Wheat Pizza
Mondays Only
Fast, FREE DELIVERY Anytime

549-5326

Puzzle answers

TO ALL FACULTY-
You are invited to attend the
ANNUAL FACULTY MEETING
Shryock Auditorium
Monday, October 31
3:30 pm

ADDRESS BY: Dr. George C. Kellar
Senior Fellow University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Education

The meeting will last no more than one hour

Refreshments will be served in the upstairs lounge following the meeting
Volleyball team contends for title

By Troy Taylor
Staff Writer

MACOMB — The women’s volleyball team at Western Illinois and the rest of the Gateway opponents that it is serious about contending for the conference title.

The Salukis have put a 6-10 start and a predicted fifth-place finish behind them, hitting fourth-rated Western Illinois 12-13, 15-4, 15-10 on Saturday night.

The three-game decision, coupled with a four-game victory over Bradley on Friday, puts the Salukis in a second-place tie with Southwestern Missouri.

Only Illinois State, undefeated in the Gateway, stand in the Salukis’ way.

“I’m not ready to claim that we’ve arrived by any means,” Saluki coach Debbie Hunter said. “But we’re making advances to the front side of the peak. We can sense it and feel it.

The Salukis (10-11 overall, 4-1 Gateway) played an emotionally-inspired 1 hour and 30 minutes, answering the across-the-net taunts by the Gateway team that had them with a season-high 310 attack points.

With people screaming in your face, you’re pretty well put on the spot, said Saluki captain Sue Sinclair. “Our hitting’s better,” said Hunter, who finished with 14 kills. “We have so many types of hitters, such versatility, that it’s hard for a defense to just play us one way.

Sophomore Lori Simpson came off the bench to lead the Salukis with 17 kills. Nine Brackins had 10 and freshman Debbie Brocso added 7. The team had 30 total kills.

“One of the highlights of this weekend is that the true team game is showing up again and again,” Hunter said.

Defensively, the Salukis shut Western Illinois down. Michelle Aulig’s 9 kills was a team-high for the Westerners.

“We can’t seem to put two matches together,” said Western Illinois coach Jill Karstel, whose team was coming off a five-game victory over Eastern Illinois on Friday. “No part of our game was good.”

The Salukis’ front line had 10 block assists and defense had a total 42 digs, with Noble, Brackins and Teri Shulteheinrich making 11 each.

“Right now,” Hunter said, “our team is responding better than any team I’ve had in a few years in its ability to make the little, fine adjustments that are needed defensively. It gives me confidence for the rest of the season.”

COCHRAN’S AMOCO

Rotate & Balance 4 tires
*16.00

Complete Checkover NO CHARGE
With Rotate & Balance
NO FLAT WHEELS.

Coupon

600 E. Main
Carbondale
Ph: 549-5733
Expires 11/15/88
Coupon Necessary

FREE SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED MONEY FOR COLLEGE

Every Student is Eligible for Some Type of Financial Aid Regardless of Grades or Parental Income.

We have a data bank of over 200,000 listings of scholarships, financial aid, grants, and loans, representing over $78 billion in private sector funding.

Many scholarships are given to students based on their academic interests, career plans, family heritage and place of residence.

There’s money available for students who have been newspaper carriers, grocery store chains, babysitters, non-smokers, etc.

RESULTS GUARANTEED

CALL ANYTIME
(800) 346-6401

Coupons

Great Shapes

Exclusively for Women
Special SIU Student Rate

Call for your

tickets & Tights Now 50% Off
3.529-4404
1 mile S. of SIU on Hwy 31

athletic ticket office

BRING ATHLETIC EVENT PASS AND VALID ID TO PICK UP YOUR SEASON TICKETS FREE!

A RICH TRADITION

KAI NURNBERGER
ALL-MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE

Daily Egyptian, October 31, 1988, Page 19
Dennis claims league championship

By Robert Baxter Staff Writer

Men's cross-country runner Jon Dennis made it two in a row over arch-rival Dave Wilson of Illinois State.

Dennis, a freshman, blew by Wilson in the last 50 meters of Saturday's race to win the Missouri Valley Conference Championships and lead SIU to a third-place finish overall.

Dennis won with a time of 24:19.5, which gives him the fourth-fastest time in Saluki cross-country history. He finished only 2.2 seconds ahead of Wilson (24:21.7), but in the last 30 seconds of the race he showed his superiority.

"I'm very happy with the outcome," Dennis said. "When I lost to Wilson at the Saluki Invite, it was really muddy. I'm just not built for running in mud."

It was Dennis' third first-place finish of the year, and his second victory over Wilson, the last one coming in the Illinois Strider Open two weeks ago.

"Going into the race today I had planned on looking it in a bit earlier," Dennis said. "But as it turned out, Dave (Wilson) was right there until the end. I knew it was close I could beat him because I have speed on him."

Coach Bill Cornell was standing in the sports press after the race, visibly chocked up and teary-eyed, feeling mixed emotions about the team's performance as both he and Dennis embraced.

"I am very happy for Jon Dennis," Cornell said. "I knew as a team we would have to run the perfect race to the meet. They (team) gave 110 percent, but it just didn't pan out as we wanted."

"Our sixth man Vaughan Weise was still having problems with a chest cold and he said he was having trouble breathing. He's just not as talented and the ability, but we just came up a little short."