knowledge, keyword and keynote, mutuality of spirituality, Divineness, whereof imagining and likening unto, man finds his needfulness, dutifulness, peacefulness, hopefulness, sureness as certainty unto destiny.

"As of these presentments, amidst dissolutions of faiths and hesitancies of philosophy. Man finds his belief in Divineness infinitely resourceful, consoling, ennobling and enabling, confirming faith and justifying expectation, realization of destiny, eternal evolutionary process. Thus, as Rationality, Manifestation of Divineness, sole source of Authority, man has his inspiration and revelation, confirming faithfulness, assuring hopefulness unto destiny.

ESH-SHĀM.

A woman by her last-born's side
Watched, at Damascus, heavy-eyed
With weeping lest the child should die;
While through the windows open wide

The plashing of the fountain's spray
Came with child-voices. At their play
Her other children but most loved
Was he who on his pillows lay;

And still she watched when ran a maid,
"Mistress, ill news!" the damsels said,
"The widow's son has sickened too
And for his life they are afraid."

Then bowed the woman on her face
And prayed that God would grant this grace:
"Spare, Thou, the widow's son, O God,
She has but one." But by the place

Where lived the widow, white-robed Death
Had passed and ta'en the weak child's breath.
Then God said, "Life and death are good
In My pure hands. He suffereth

"No more who much had suffered Reap
Thyself the grace; thine own child keep
Because in thy deep anguish thou
For others' greater pain could'st weep."

The woman rose and looked upon
Her child and knew the fever gone;
Straightway she called her maids round:
"Praise God who giveth back my son!"
